SUPPLY COMPANY SUED.

Mrs. Smith Thinks They Were Responsible for the Short Line Fire.

A damage suit was filed in the district court this morning by Mrs. T. G. M. Smith against the Mine & Smelter Supply company and Warren C. Bogue to recover a total of $1,999 as damages her househald goods caused by the fire which destroyed the Oregon Short Line building on Sept. 10, 1901. It is alleged that defendants were responsible for the fire because they kept powder, lynamite, explosive chemicals and in flammable oil in their store room in the said building and an explosion of the same started the fire which caused the damage to be done to plaintiff's proper-

Petition in Elmer Rose Case Will be Considered in Ten Days.

The matter of the adoption of little Elmer Rose, the child of Frank Rose, who is under sentence of death for the murder of his wife in this city on last Christmas day, was this morning con-tinued for 10 days by Judge Hall to give the Home Finding association time to appear in the matter. The petition for the adoption of the child was filed by Miss Page, to whom Rose gave the child.

Katie Wants a Divorce.

Katle Whelon this afternoon filed suit divorce in the district court against Thomas Whelon on the grounds of desertion and non-support. They were married at Farmington, June 17, 1902, and it is alleged that defendant desert-ed his wife March 1, 1903, and ever since the matriage has failed to sup port her. She asks $20 per month all port her. She asks $20 per month an-mony, $75 attorney's fees, and that her maideu name, Katie Burton, be restored to her.

COURT NOTES.

Judge Hall today granted May Con-tary a divorce from William H. Conary on the grounds of desertion and failure to support. Plaintiff was also awarded per month alimony and $35 attorhey's fees.

In the probate division of the district ourt this morning Morris Sommer was appointed administrator of the estate of James Reid, deceased, under bonds the sum of $12,000. There were two petitions for letters of administration in the estate, one filed by Joseph Brown and the other by Amos Apgar. Judge Hall decided to appoint a disinterested party as administrator of the estate and therefore denied both petitions which were filed and appointed Mr. sommer,

EMPTY HOUSES.

One Thousand in Denver Are Reported To be Tenantless.

A Denver real estate man recently in this city, stated that the association in Denver owned up to there being 1,000 imply houses in the city, due to the thrinkage of business on account of the ong continued labor troubles. It is argued that 500 may be added to the jumber acknowledged by the real estate men who desire to make it appear as small as possible. In addition to the abor troubles, Colorado citizens have of late been noting that the city of Denver was growing considerably be-rond the proportionate size of the surcounding or tributary country. The ocal papers are largely responsible for his, as a long and persistent effort has been made to boost the town in vain utempt to keep up with Kansas City

4. In the health department, if any of the proposed employes are such as do not perform any governmental, or official functions, it seems to me to in accord with the law defining the duties of the board of health and good government, that the selection and employment of such help should rest with the board of health and not simply with one of its members.

An ordinance creating the positions necessary deputies, assistants, etc. in the departments, fixing the compensation and defining the duties, I deem very urgent and important, but I consider it equally important that places be created and filled in conformity to the governing law. Very respectfully

Salt Lake Attorney Placed Under Re straint Charged With Insanity.

Wiley L. Brown, a well known Salt Lake attorney, was arrested at 12:40 this morning by Officers Johnson and Leaker, and lodged in the city jail on the charge of insanity. It is claimed by the police that Brown has been acting in a strange manner of late, and that last night his condition assumed alarming proportions. For fear that he would do himself or someone else harm, he was taken into custody and locked up. A complaint charging him with insan ity will be filed today.

PLEAD BANKRUPTCY.

Stephen Markham of Robinson, Juab ounty, today filed petition in bankruptcy in the federal court. His liabilities are set forth as being $1.895.42, with assets of $1,809, $1,601 of which he claims to be exempt, Olaf J. Carlson of Salt Lake, also filed a similar petition which set forth debts of $633.91, with no assets.

NO STAKE CONFERENCE.

It hould be understood that there will be no session of the Salt Lake stake onference, which was announced some ime ago for Sunday, March 13. The di. vision of the stake has rendered the conference unnecessary. Home mis-sionaries will visit the wards of the present stake on Sunday evening.

made a very good impression. Mr. Chambers, the basso, was thoroughly strong in the role of the president of the brigands, and Mr. Donald was amusing in the part of the broken down tenor. The chorus and orchestra again did excellent work, though Mr. Studley would do well to suppress one tenot voice that seems to sing with the sole alm of lifting the rafters. The beauti-ful "Dreaming" song by Barnabee, Frothingham and Miss Morrison had to many encores, owing to the interpolation of some clever local verses, that the final curtain did not ring down un. til well on towards midnight.

The recent announcement that William Winter, the distinguished critic and poet, was the author of the version of "Mary of Magdala," that Mrs. Fiske will present at the Grand theater on March 16 and 17, set at rest many spec. ulations as to the identity of the adap-tor of the Heyse play. At Mr. Winter's request, his name was kept a secret all last seaon, the fact of his authorship being known to not more than a dozen persons. . . .

How one as guiltless as innocence itself may stand convicted by courts of justice and public opinion alike, was dramatically portrayed at the Grand theater last night in the presentation of "Circumstantial Evidence. Cunningly, mercilessly was the web of adverse testimony woven about the accused hero even to the last mo-ment before the adjustment of the hangman's noose about his neck, when the telegraph clicked off the governor's order for his discharge and directed that the man who had pursued him like a blood hound for years and who had wooed but not won his sweet-heart, be placed under arrest. Here it was that the audience, upstairs and down, joined in tumultuous applause for the innocent and in hisses for the guilty. The hero of the play is Lieut. Arthur Cransford. His part is in the hands of Lawrence Evart, a handsome and really clever actor, whose work was of the quiet, repressed style, so seldom seen in melodramatic effort Louis Bourne as Sheriff Smudge provoked no little merriment by his Yan-kee quaintness and comicalities. Judged rom the disfavor provoked by Clinton E. Lloyd as Charles Ludlow, the villain he made a success of that despicable character. There were but two ladies in the production and both acquitted themselves satisfactorily. The play goes for the rest of the week including Saturday matinee

SENATE DISCUSSES SMITH WOOLLEY CASE.

It is Considered Behind Closed Doors and There His Fate Will be Decided,

Perhaps Today. (Special to the "News.")

Washington, D. C., March 11,-The senate went into executive session shortly before noon, and the doors had not been opened at 2 o'clock when the Smoot hearing was resumed. When the senate is considering executive business no one is allowed on the third floor of the senate wing of the Capitol except those having business on that floor. This accounts for the fact that at the beginning of the afternoon session only three ladies occupied seats in the room, while the male occupants were fined to members of committee, witnesses, attorneys, newspaper men and em-ployes of the committee. The discussion on the floor of the senate behind the closed doors of the chamber re-lated entirely to the nomination of Smith Woolley as assayer at Boise. Senator Heyburn is making a fight for the confirmation, and Woolley is op-posed by Senator Teller, Colo., and Carmack, Tenn. The latter attempted to secure a continuation of the discussion in open session but the proposition was voted down and Woolley's fate is to be decided behind closed doors. Senator Heyburn said this af-
