

BRANDENBURG IN NEW YORK JAIL

Asserts Immediate Future Will be Interesting for All
Hands.

VERY ANXIOUS TO EXPLAIN.

Just as Soon as He Could Get to it
Gave Out a Statement—
Cabanne Talks.

New York, May 16.—Broughton Brandenburg, the magazine writer whose troubles quickly followed the publication of a letter in the New York Times last fall purporting to have been written by the late Grover Cleveland, is a prisoner in New York tonight. He was locked up at the police headquarters after being brought from San Francisco by two detectives who were sent to the coast after Brandenburg's arrest there some weeks ago, following his disappearance from this city, where he was wanted for trial.

Brandenburg, despite his varied experiences, is as anxious to explain his actions as he was in San Francisco. Immediately he reached police headquarters tonight, he gave out a statement embodying not only an explanation of why he left New York, but a declaration of his intention of fixing unquestionably the legality of his marriage with his second wife, an incident which added interest to his career through his admitted abduction of the woman's son, James Sheppard Cabanne, third, of St. Louis, whom he carried away in true kidnaper style in a wicker basket.

The statement, which starts off with a reiteration of his lack of funds and his subsequent disappearance for the purpose of obtaining money to conduct his defense, declares that "all the same, the immediate future is going to be interesting for all hands."

He says that he is still without money and that he does not expect bail and perhaps may be forced to do without counsel. He sets forth his intentions as follows:

"First, to meet the charges in reference to the Cleveland letter; second, to come out of the bad tangle of this country's divorce laws in which we are involved; an unquestioned legality of the marriage between the second Mrs. Brandenburg and myself; third, the ultimate recovery of our boy."

In conclusion, he said, he had been charged with "charging various persons with a share in certain conspiracies, notably, Dist. Atty. Jerome." These statements he denies.

The Cabanne boy was taken back to St. Louis from San Francisco.

CABANNE TALKS.

St. Louis, May 16.—James S. Cabanne, Jr., declared tonight that Broughton Brandenburg's announced efforts to establish claims to the former's son are doomed to failure. He pointed out that a recent decree of divorce granted to him by the St. Louis circuit court gave him full custody of the boy. The present Mrs. Brandenburg did not contest the action.

When told of Brandenburg's determination to legalize, if possible, his marriage to the former Mrs. Cabanne, Cabanne exclaimed: "That's good."

He added that he never had been served with notice of the divorce which Mrs. Brandenburg claims to have obtained in British Honduras.

WAS THE MAN CRAZY?

J. D. Rosclair Cleft His Wife's Head
Because She Gave Him Skim Milk.

Portland, Ore., May 17.—Because, it is alleged, his girl wife gave him skim milk instead of cream, John D. Rosclair is stated to have cleft her head open with a heavy knife used for cutting salmon. Rosclair has surrendered to Sheriff Hancock at Hillsboro. The sheriff is authority for the statement that the man has confessed.

The tragedy occurred Saturday morning at the lonely mountain home of the couple 25 miles from Hillsboro. According to the alleged confession, after the woman was dead, Rosclair removed her body clothing and destroyed all traces of the affair. It is stated that after setting things to right about the house he waited until 10 o'clock at night and then came to Hillsboro, where he surrendered himself to the sheriff early Sunday morning.

According to the alleged confession, Rosclair and his wife had just seated themselves at the breakfast table. Rosclair asked for cream for his breakfast and found fault with his wife because she gave him skim milk. A quarrel ensued and Rosclair, according to the alleged confession, drew the knife and struck his wife several times. Rosclair, the sheriff states, feels much remorse for the tragedy.

A WOMAN'S LONG WALK.

Traverse City, Mich., May 17.—What is probably the longest walk ever taken by a woman since pioneer days is being planned by Mrs. Stella M. Champney, general reporter on the Traverse City Evening Record. In company with her 15 year old son, Dan Champney, who is attending school at Oberlin, she will walk from Oberlin to Traverse City in June. The distance is more than 400 miles. The mother will join her son at the close of the school year and the start home will be about June 15. No attempt will be made to make a record in time, their object being to see as much of the country as possible en route. It is estimated that the trip will consume about 21 days.

Very little in the way of baggage will be carried by the wayfarers. Each will carry a knapsack containing only the barest necessities and an umbrella and a camera will complete the equipment.

Mrs. Champney is one of the best known of Michigan's newspaper women. She is also a writer of juvenile stories.

JAPANESE ARE ALWAYS POLITE

Those on Strike on Hawaiian
Plantations Politely but Firmly
Standing Pat.

TROUBLE CONCERNS WAGES.

Discrimination Said to be Made in Favor of Portuguese Laborers—
Equality of Treatment Asked.

Honolulu, May 16.—With no prospect of receiving recognition from their employers, the 5,000 Japanese plantation hands on strike in the Hawaiian Islands are politely but firmly standing pat and today they are quietly awaiting developments.

The plantation strike in the islands, which was begun a week ago, was the result of a determined and long standing agitation on the part of the Japanese laborers on the sugar estates for an increase of wages from $10 to $22.50 a month.

The Sugar Planters' association unwittingly brought about the agitation by flooding the islands with Japanese workmen toward the close of last year. It was not long before these same workmen, whom the planters had imported in order to solve, as they believed, the labor problem, surprised their employers by beginning a spirited campaign for the improvement of their own condition.

Their discontent with existing wages took definite shape last December, when the Canfield workers held a mass meeting, having supplied themselves with statistics purporting to show that while the planters reaped enormous profits from the land and held down the price of labor, the cost of living was increasing steadily.

In their demands the Japanese workers were supported by the Nippon Jolo, a radical newspaper which added the discontented Nipponese by calling attention to the fact that Portuguese laborers were paid $22.50 a month in addition to being supplied with an acre of land and a house for each man.

FATHER LOUIS JOLIET.

Real Originator of "Lakes to the Gulf" Deep Waterway Project.

Chicago, May 17.—In unveiling a large bronze tablet erected at the base of the Marquette-Joliet memorial cross at the foot of Robey street and the Chicago River, credit has been given to Louis Joliet, the missionary-explorer, as the originator of the "lakes-to-the-gulf" deepwater project.

Part of the inscription on the tablet reads:
In crossing the site of Chicago, Joliet recommended it for its natural advantages as a place of first settlement and suggested a lakes-to-the-gulf waterway by cutting a canal through the "Portage" west of here, where begins the Chicago drainage ship canal."
