

BUYERS ARE VERY CAUTIOUS.

They Are Ordering Only Such Supplies as Are Needed Immediately.

TRADE REPORTS PESSIMISTIC.

In Some Parts of the Country Conditions Are Encouraging, in Others The Reverse.

New York, April 8.—Special dispatches from correspondents of the International Mercantile agency report general trade activity throughout western and southwestern territory. Advance business in some lines shows a decline from last year with buyers everywhere very cautious, ordering only such supplies as are actually needed.

Territory tributary to St. Louis is feeling the impetus of "exposition business" which has averaged large this week and promises to expand as the day for opening the fair approaches. Jobbers in most sections are doing better than a year ago. Textile manufacturing is quite generally depressed with 30 or 40 per cent of machinery idle in some sections.

New England advances report unsatisfactory trade conditions as a result of the partial shutdown of cotton mills and the decision of prominent Fall River manufacturers to curtail production from now on. Unless relief is forthcoming a general shutdown seems probable by July or August. Southern centers show falling off in drygoods compared with 1903 and 1902 figures. Boots, shoes and clothing are about normal. The Baltimore district shows good trade, with signs of fast recovery from fire disturbances.

St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth sections have not yet fully recovered from the effects of the severe weather encountered in years. Spring business is now fairly well under way and the large jobbing houses are handling relatively larger orders than they reported at this time a year ago. Crop conditions in that section are good. The flour mills are doing a heavy business, farmers receiving generally higher prices. These reports reflect conditions prevailing generally throughout the northwest where the outlook seems excellent for a prosperous year.

much ahead of last year. Shoe orders are considerably less than in 1903.

Conditions in iron and steel are generally stronger. The staple markets, while fluctuating sharply, have not moved sensationally and are somewhat improved.

Advices received by the International Mercantile agency indicate continued ease in money. There has been considerable inquiry at New York for "over the year loans." There has been little inquiry for six months loans which are ordinarily in demand because they would mature this year just before the presidential election.

Although gold exports have been resumed, $2,500,000 having been shipped to Paris this week, the outflow is not likely to create a stringency or cause banks to restrict accommodations to legitimate borrowers.

In spite of New York's billion dollar loan account, the banks of that city hold surplus reserves that have been exceeded only three times at a similar period of the year during the last quarter century.

Most of the activity in the stock market is still in the hands of very rich men. Millionaire operators have been chiefly instrumental in forcing prices to a higher level. The public in general has held aloof although sentiment has improved and the market possesses elements of undoubted strength.

Instructed for Roosevelt.

Nashville, Tenn., April 7.—The Republican state convention today instructed for Roosevelt for president and nominated Jesse Littleton of Franklin county for governor.

Delegates from the state at large to the national convention were chosen as follows:

W. P. Brownlow, H. Clay Evans, F. A. Raft, and L. W. Dutro.

THE BEST KNOWN AUTHOR IN AMERICA

President So Introduced at a Dinner Given Periodical Publishers' Association.

SPEAKS ON RESPONSIBILITY.

He Says There Must be More Good Laws to Make a Good People.

Washington, April 7.—A distinguished crowd attended the dinner given at the New Willard hotel tonight by the Periodical Publishers' Association of America.

President Roosevelt was present and made a speech. To his right sat Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, dean of the corps, and on either side of them were Mr. Hay, the secretary of state; M. Jusserand, the French ambassador; Baron von Sternberg, the German ambassador; Justice Peckham of the supreme court, Hamilton M. Mable, the toastmaster, and other distinguished members of the society.

The dinner was preceded and followed by a reception. The president arrived about 10:30 o'clock and remained throughout the reception, which followed the dinner. He was the first speaker.

Toastmaster Mable introduced him as "the best known author in America today, the author and illustrator of American ideals."

He spoke as follows:

"I think that we of the United States cannot keep too fresh in our minds the fact that the men responsible for the government are not the representatives of the people but the people themselves, and that therefore heavy is the responsibility that lies upon the people and upon all those who do more toward shaping the thoughts of the people. Now, in the days of my youth I was a literary man. I have recently, in reading a book, been immensely struck by the thought, uttered by one of our greatest scholars, who was speaking of freedom and of the fact that freedom could not exist unless there went with it a sense of responsibility, and he used a phrase somewhat like this: 'First among nobles, there must be a restraint; if there is no restraint, there is for an inevitable result anarchy, which is the negation of all government.'"

"Therefore, there must be restraint. There must be more than good laws to make a good people. A man whose morality is expressed merely in the non-infringement of the law is a pretty poor creature. Unless our average citizenship is based upon a good deal more than mere observance of the laws on the statute books, then our average citizenship can never produce the kind of government which it must and will produce.

"So far from liberty and the responsibilities of self-government being things which come easily and to any people, they are peculiarly things that can come only to the most highly developed people, capable not only of mastering others, but of mastering themselves, and who can achieve real self-government, real liberty.

"The man who writes, the writer who, month in and month out, week in and week out, day in and day out, furnishes the material which is to shape the thoughts of our people, is essentially the man who, more than any other, demonstrates the character of the people and the kind of government this people shall possess. I believe in the future of this people. I believe in the growth and the greatness of this country, because I believe that you and those like you approach their tasks in the proper spirit—not always, but as a rule.

"We have a very large field in warring against evil at home. When all is as it ought to be in nation and state the municipality here at home, we can then talk about reforming the rest of the mankind. Let us begin at home."

Work of Hoodlums in a Cemetery

New York, April 8.—Mischievous boys have caused great damage by fire to St. Mark's cemetery, a burial ground two hundred years old, at Orange, N. J.

The shrubbery had become unusually dry and a party of boys started a blaze which spread quickly to the cemetery, thickly planted with trees and shrubbery to protect the curious stones marking the resting places of many heroes of the revolutionary and civil wars. The firemen worked more than an hour to check the fire which, by the time they reached the scene had spread all over the grounds. Hundreds of the old headstones were cracked and ruined, while the more pretentious marble columns were seriously damaged, entailing a heavy loss.

A RECORD RUN.

To be Made in Carrying American Mails from Plymouth to London.

New York, April 8.—A record run, without a stop, from Plymouth to this city is about to be undertaken, says a Herald dispatch from London, by the Southwestern Railway company in connection with the conveyance of the American mails which began a few weeks ago with the Philadelphia, the first American liner to disembark passengers and mails at Plymouth.

The great Western mail was being run by the through mail train to Plymouth, with stoppages at Exeter and Bristol.

To meet this the Southwestern company has just completed a commodious ocean quay station on Plymouth sound for the accommodation of the American line passengers who will be brought ashore on the railway company's steamship Victoria.

The journey of 2200 miles from Plymouth to Waterloo, is to be accomplished without a stop, in four and one-half hours.

This, it is declared here, will rank as the longest regular railway run without a stop in the world.

A longer run on an isolated occasion was achieved by the Great Western company in conveying the Prince and Princess of Wales by a special train in July of last year from Paddington to Plymouth, a distance of 245 miles, in 23½ minutes without a stop.

Anti-Hearst Delegation.

Wichita, Kan., April 7.—The Democratic delegate convention has adjourned. The following list of delegates was chosen to attend the national convention at St. Louis:

At Large—W. A. Harris, H. T. Farrelly, David Overmeyer, J. G. Johnson, S. L. Hale and J. N. Haymaker.

Miss Nettie Blackmore, Minneapolis, tells how any young woman may be permanently cured of monthly pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"YOUNG WOMEN:—I had frequent headaches of a severe nature, dark spots before my eyes, and at my menstrual periods I suffered untold agony. A member of the lodge advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but I only scorned good advice and felt that my case was hopeless, but she kept at me until I bought a bottle and started taking it. I soon had the best reason in the world to change my opinion of the medicine, as each day my health improved, and finally I was entirely without pain at my menstruation periods. I am most grateful."—NETTIE BLACKMORE, 28 Central Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

Painful Periods

are quickly and permanently overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The above letter is only one of hundreds of thousands which prove this statement to be a fact. Menstruation is a severe strain on a woman's vitality,—if it is painful something is wrong. Don't take narcotics to deaden the pain, but remove the cause—perhaps it is caused by irregularity or womb displacements, or the development of a tumor. Whatever it is, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is guaranteed to cure it.

If there is anything about your case about which you would like special advice, write freely to Mrs. Pinkham. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. She can surely help you, for no person in America can speak from a wider experience in treating female ills. She has helped hundreds of thousands of women back to health. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free. You are very foolish if you do not accept her kind invitation.

Details of Another Case.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Ignorance and carelessness is the cause of most of the sufferings of women. I believe that if we properly understood the laws of health we would all be well, but if the sick women only knew the truth about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, they would be saved much suffering and would soon be cured.

"I used it for five months for a local difficulty which had troubled me for years, and for which I had spent hundreds of dollars in the vain endeavor to rectify. My life forces were being sapped, and I was daily losing my vitality.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me completely, and I am now enjoying the best of health, and am most grateful, and only too pleased to endorse such a great remedy."—MISS JENNIE L. EDWARDS, 604 H St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Pinkham, whose address is Lynn, Mass., will answer cheerfully and without cost all letters addressed to her by sick women.

LYNCHBAUN DISAPPEARS.

His Appeal on Extradition Pending Before U.S. Supreme Court.

Chicago, April 8.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Indianapolis, Ind., says:

James Lynchbaum, the Irish fugitive, whose extradition case is pending in the supreme court of the United States has disappeared from this city. He was supposed to be waiting the result of the appeal which the government took to the highest tribunal after U. S. Commissioner Moore ruled that his offense was political and not extraditable but it is said he has not been at his home since two days after his release.

Lynchbaum's wife is still here, but members of the committee of Irish-American citizens who conducted his defense say they do not know where Lynchbaum went to.

ATTEMPT ON ALFONSO'S LIFE

Consul Lay at Barcelona Says it Was a Gas Explosion.

London, April 7.—Julius C. Lay, United States consul general at Barcelona telegraphs to the Associated Press as follows:

"An explosion of gas occurred here last night, giving rise to a report that a 'petard' was exploded as King Alfonso was leaving the exhibition. The explosion, however, took place half a mile from where the king was."

A dispatch to Kenter's Telegram company from Barcelona says it has been definitely ascertained that the explosion which took place last night when King Alfonso was leaving the exhibition, was due to an escape of gas and that no importance is attached to the incident.

Russians Occupy Border Town.

Seoul, Korea, April 7.—(Noon)—Telegrams have been received here saying that the Russians are occupying six of the largest border towns on the Tumen river in northeastern Korea.

A Korean prefect has sent in a report that the Russians and Chinese who were at Yonampo, Korea, have withdrawn to An Tung across the Yalu river; only a few merchants remain at the former place.

The Japanese authorities have no confirmation of a reported engagement between Russians and Japanese at Kwi Sung.
