CONFERENCE.

THE YEAR OF JUBILEE.

THERE will be two days' meetings held at the Salt Lake Assembly Hall in this city, commencing on Sunday, April 4th, 1880, at 10 o'clock a.m.

The 6th day of April, 1880, will be the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints—the Year of Jubilee.

The General Annual Conference will convene, according to adjournment, at the Tabernacle in this city on Tuesday, April 6th, 1880, at 10 o'clock a.m.

JOHN TAYLOR,
In behalf of the Twelve Apostles.
Salt Lake City,
March 26, 1880.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A bride may wear a very plainly made dress at her wedding, but she wants to have it "puffed" in the newspaper.

True charity is easily distinguished from the counterfeit article. "If you saw a poor, half starved boy in the street wouldn't you give him a part of your luncheon?" said a little girl to her big brother of nine. "No, sis," was the reply, "but I should be willing, I think, to give him some of yours." That kind of charity abounds in these latter days.

The following figures show to what a marked extent within recent years iron has superseded wood in the building of ships in England. In 1850, 12,000 tons of iron ships were made; in 1860, 64,699 tons; in 1870, 272,000 tons of iron ships against 100,000 tons of wood; in 1878, 400,000 tons of iron ships, and scarcely any wooden ships, were constructed.

John Quinn, who committed suicide by hanging, in a police station in Buffalo, a few days ago, was the leader of the Fenian invasion of Canada in 1866, and was then captured and sentenced to be hanged, the sentence being commuted to 20 years imprisonment, of which six years were served in the Kingston prison.

A Philadelphia special to the Chicago Tribune says: "Catherine Carson was murdered to-night by her drunken husband. She was preparing some food for him, when he threw a coal oil lamp at her. It exploded and the woman was burned to death. While the woman was writhing in agony the fiend was dancing in glee. The deed was committed for the purpose of getting possession of money secreted on the woman's person." Now just suppose—if it were possible—that the drunken fiend had ever been a "Mormon." What a howl would go up all over the country about the "diabolical tendencies of the polygamic system"! But this case is under monogamic influence, and of course has no bearing on any principle or doctrine.

John Bull has put a block in the way of the transportation of American live stock to England for British consumption, by exaggerating the proportions of the cattle disease and procuring the passage of laws to obstruct the traffic. But Brother Jonathan has always a way out of a difficulty. The beef will go all the same. The favorite form of exportation will be that of dressed beef in refrigerator steamships. It is claimed that meat thus sent, because of its age, is more juicy and tender than that obtained from a fresh-killed animal. Then, too, the saving in freight is large, for dressed meat occupies but one-third of the space needed for cattle, which also are liable to meet with accident or contract disease on the way. So Johnny will be circumvented, and Jonathan will reap bigger profits than ever.

"LET US REASON TOGETHER."

WE publish to-day another communication on the canal question. There is one feature of the discussion on this subject to which we decidedly object; that is the vein of spite and ridicule which runs through some letters on the side of the opposition. A stranger in reading them would naturally conclude that the City Council was composed of men hostile to the public, and bent on forcing some obnoxious measure upon the people for private ends. This we consider most unfair to those gentlemen, who are only trying to carry into effect a scheme devised for the public benefit, one that is not of their own concocting, but which was left to them as a legacy from their predecessors in office, and which was last year peremptorily demanded by the citizens who elected the present City Fathers to office. The Council has given us as fair, frank and explicit a statement of the case as could reasonably be asked, and that is of course open to legitimate criticism.

We have published several letters opposed to the canal, and may publish more. But we give notice that we shall hereafter exclude communications on this subject that, instead of coming to the points involved, with argument and reasonable objections, attempt either jocularly or otherwise to cast reflections upon men who have no other end in view than the good of the public. The subject is of too serious a nature to be made a peg of, on which to hang the effusions of those who wish to air their small wit or indulge in the too prevalent disposition to find fault with public officers.

We desire that the people who are called upon to vote should exercise their best judgment in this matter, with a clear understanding of the needs of the City, the nature of the plan proposed to meet them, and the reasons that can be advanced for and against the measure, so that all ma[illegible] either "yes" or "no" without bias or prejudice, but with an intelligent and enlightened regard for the greatest good to the greatest number. In view of this we say, stop sarcasm, wordy war, and vague generalities and come straight to facts, figures and sound reason. These remarks will apply also to letters on opposing sides of any topic worthy of serious consideration.

A RUINOUS POLICY.

THE return of business prosperity to the United States, has been accompanied with the usual indulgence of the appetite for foreign luxuries. It is this that causes so much poverty in the midst of bustling trade and an abundance of money.

The official report of imports and exports for February will show a falling off of $3,000,000 in the exports of the United States as compared with the corresponding month of 1879, with an unprecedented increase in the imports. This causes some alarm among treasury officials, as it is expected that when the official returns for February are all in that the balance of trade will appear against the United States for the first time in five years.

Similar causes operate in Utah, in a smaller degree of course, with similar results. Increase of money creates a desire for display, and home-fashioned goods will not satisfy it. So the cash which should under a wise system of political economy be kept in circulation at home, flows out to enrich foreign traders and pay foreign artisans, while our own workmen wait with their hands in their pockets for better times. When will Israel learn wisdom and the general good be studied above individual enrichment, personal vanity and paltry self-interest?

RESERVOIR vs. CANAL.

Editors Deseret News:

"Deliver me from my friends" is a saying that is as applicable at the present day as when it was first spoken, and is especially true as applied to the canal as proposed from Utah Lake to supply Salt Lake City with water.

Before the manifesto of the City Fathers was published, we had some hope that a channel would be constructed that would at least have the capability to carry all the water of which the city could obtain the control.

But, alas for the mutability of mundane affairs. According to the description given we are to have a level canal from the Sugar House to this city, or in other words, an elongated duck pond. This might be well enough if the only object of the canal was to furnish navigation facilities, or to give the Salt Lake Yacht Club an opportunity for perfecting themselves in seamanship without braving the dangers of the briny lake. Or perhaps it might be made available by a future fish commissioner, but as a means of supply for irrigation it is simply an absurdity.

In another part of the address it is stated that "the three cañon streams now belonging to the city being all utilized and consumed, even in years when they are the largest!" This is about as correct as it would be for a man who had twelve dollars in his pocket, and after losing eight of it through holes in that pocket, to assert that he had "utilized and consumed" all his cash and was in need of more.

We are in this position, that for about eight months in the year, when the streams are at their highest, we let nearly all the water run to waste, and only utilize it during about four months, when they are not at their highest.

What is the remedy for this state of things? Why, take care of the water that belongs to us and to which we have an inalienable prior right before any other parties whatever.

Build impounding reservoirs at suitable locations, out of the line of the run of the creek channels, and hold the water that would otherwise run to waste, till it is wanted. But says the objector who of course knows all about it, even if he has never seen a reservoir, much less built one, "Reservoir banks have given way and caused much damage to property and loss of life." Granted that they have, what does that prove? Only that they were badly built by men who allowed themselves to take risks which if they had mastered their profession they they would not have done. As well might we use a tin pot for a steam boiler, and then, when that tin pot bursts, spreading death and destruction around, condemn steam boilers altogether.

There is another advantage connected with the reservoir system, that they can be begun at a comparatively small cost by building one or more at a time and adding to their number as occasion might require.

Now, after telling what might be done, I will say what I can do. I can build a reservoir at a reasonable cost, that shall be thoroughly efficient and stand anything short of an earthquake; and I can do further. I can find from ten to a dozen or more men in this city who can do the same, and if I have the building of one, I will stake all I own or expect to own on its success.

I will also offer a suggestion: Invite a number of the civil engineers located here to meet and discuss the plans and make a report giving their reasons, and then adopt their report and carry it out. This would give some guarantee to the taxpayers that the means that they might vote would be profitably expended, which is not the case now. I do not mean to canvass around and find which of the C. E's would favor the canal, and then select a majority with that bias, according to the most recently approved jury practice, but a fair, free and honorable discussion of all the points involved.

This much or something similar is I think due to the intelligent voters and taxpayers of this city, and no amount of forcing one particular plan to the exclusion of all others is likely to give satisfaction or build up that confidence which is so necessary to success in all public enterprises.

METROPOLITAN NEWS.

Our Trade With China.

NEW YORK, 30.—The Herald's Washington special says: That the English should be ready to help us out of China is natural but that we should shut ourselves out at the bidding of Dennis Kearney is preposterous. It begins to be seen here by congressmen that the Chinese question cannot be settled on the San Francisco sand lots, but that the industrious farmers and miners of California and the cotton spinners of the east will have something to say about it before they suffer themselves to be shut out from the important and growing markets.

Investigation of Contracts.

The House committee on Pacific railroads, at its meeting to-day, heard a report of the sub-committee in favor of investigating the contracts between the Union Pacific railroad and the Pacific Mail Company, and referred the report back to the sub-committee, with instructions to begin the inquiry by inviting the representatives of the leading interests involved to appear and explain those contracts. The following will be asked to appear: Jay Gould, James Keene, Mr. Hart and Messrs. Dillon and Huntington.

Rather Bad for Acklin.

The Times' Washington special says: The testimony taken by the House committee on judiciary, today, in reference to the Acklin case, presents further damaging facts against Acklin. In his personal explanation in the House, Acklin assigned as a reason for presenting the bogus report in which an old report on the same subject was made to the forty-fifth Congress was incorporated, that the supply of printed copies of the old report was exhausted. The superintendent of the document room was called to-day, and testified that there was still on hand at least 50 copies of the old report. This testimony disposes of the principal excuse offered by Acklin for his extraordinary conduct.

A Trick of Tilden's.

The Times' Syracuse special says: Much excitement was created in local democratic circles to-day, by an attempt by Alfred Wilkenson, a prominent banker, and guardian of Tilden's interests in this part of the State, to secure all the hotels in the city and thus shut out Jno. Kelly and Tammany Hall from Syracuse on the day of the democratic State convention. Wilkenson secured all the hotels except the Vanderbilt House, whose proprietor refused to accede to Wilkenson's terms. Wilkenson declared that unless the State committee failed to secure the hotels of the city, it would call the convention for Utica.

Fights.

CHARLOTTEVILLE, N. C., 30.—The holiday yesterday brought many colored people to town, and riotous fighting between them and students resulted in a number of arrests.

Pittsburg, 30.—A disgraceful row datween two factions of the Oak Alley Presbyterian Church occurred yesterday morning, at the house of the janitor, whither one faction had gone to avoid collision, but were met by the other party. A struggle ensued for the possession of the premises, in which vehement language and chair-throwing figured, and which finally was stopped by the police.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP.

Brief Notes.

WASHINGTON, 30.—The Senate has ratified the French claims treaty.

The Senate exodus committee heard A. Harris, of Fort Scott, Ks., a democrat, who testified that 100 colored men and 300 women and children, in destitute condition, had come to his section, complaining only of hard times in the south on account of bad crops. They had been misled by gorgeous pictures of plenty and ease obtainable in Kansas. The people generally in Kansas condemned the movement, which was not political but speculative.

The exports exceed the imports for the year ending February 29th by $212,296,963. The excess of the preceding year was $293,762,167.

Secretary Evarts' report on the Venezuelan claims, submitted to Congress to-day, opposes the abrogation of the Venezulan awards and the substitution of a commission to re-examine them, because justice to Venezuela does not demand it, and justice to the injured Americans demands that we hold Venezuela to the present agreement and compel the payment as fast as the financial resources of Venezuela will permit. Congress should determine whether to undertake coercive steps or decide which award it will insist upon and which give up.

The Senate has confirmed Bret Harte as Consul at Glasgow, Henry Collarston, of Illinois, at Malaga, W. P. Mangum, of N. C., at Tien Tsin, Paul Lauge, of Iowa, at Larochelle, H. A. Conant, of Michigan, at Naples; and supervisor census, A. L. Thomas, of Utah Territory. The census supervisors in the Eighth Illinois and Third Iowa districts were rejected.

The House coinage committee will report Claflin's substitute for Jones' coin and coinage bill. It provides for the recoinage of all half dollars of a weight of 192·9 grains into half dollars of 206¼ grains, receivable for all dues public and private.

Wells introduced a bill in the House to-day for steamship lines between New Orleans, Havana, Jamaica, Trinidad, Para, Pernambuco and Rio Janeiro semi-monthly, for ten years, under a contract of $25 per nautical mile, the compensation, however, not to exceed $135,000 per annum.

Dibrell's bill shuts off the per diem of members absent, except for sickness during the session of the House.

Thurman expects to be in the Senate to-morrow. His attack of sickness was not serious.

Secretary Sherman's Quarrel With a Newspaper Reporter.

CHICAGO, 30.—The Inter Ocean's Washington correspondent has interviewed Secretary Sherman respecting the published story that Hon. Joseph Medill, editor of the Chicago Tribune, had an interview with him in '78, and attempted to exact a promise that he would nullify the resumption act, giving that as a reason that otherwise he (Medill) would go to the wall on account of financial troubles. The secretary made to the Inter-Ocean correspondent a positive statement that such an interview did occur, that Medill left in a lowering passion, because the secretary refused to accede to his wishes, and immediately began a series of attacks on him (Secretary Sherman) in the Chicago Tribune, which have continued to the present time. This morning, Mr. Medill's paper, the Tribune, published an editorial denying the story in toto, suggesting that Secretary Sherman might have been mistaken in the identity of the conversation, and showing that there were many reasons why the story was false, the chief of which is the fact that the Tribune has been a strong consistent resumption paper throughout this administration. Last night, the Inter-Ocean had another Washington special, which says Secretary Sherman laughs at the logic and reasoning of the Tribune editor. It is understood, says the special, that Sherman proposes to carry the war into Africa, if the Tribune's assaults upon him continue by bringing forward some witnesses to the interview. Some of Mr. Medill's friends claim that the topic of the interview between him and Sherman was remonetization of silver and not resumption.

The Election in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, 30.—The election is proceeding with more than usual quietness, and at this hour it looks as though the vote would be light.

The Latest Report.

At 10.30 a. m. the total vote of the city was 14,685 against 19,614 the same hour of the State election last September. This indicates a light vote, which is generally to be considered favorable to the workingmen. On the other hand it is noticeable that as compared with the same hour of the last election, heavy citizens' wards, such as the 6th, 8th and 12th, have cast a larger relative vote than the 7th, 9th, 10th and 11th, which are workingmen's strongholds. The workingmen claim that between 12 and 1 o'clock they will swell their record materially.

Sothern.—Lord Dundreary will make his appearance at the Theatre Saturday night. See advertisement for cast of characters and the names of the company traveling with the celebrated actor.

Waiting on a Wash-out.—There are some 50 passengers at the depot waiting for passage over the Utah and Northern; they expect to get off this evening. The cause of detention is, as stated by Mr. F. W. Myers, of Salt Lake, a passenger who came down a day or two ago, a wash-out in Portneuf Cañon. He reports that passengers and baggage were transferred some seven miles by hand car, when he came down; but it is not expected the delay will extend over to-morrow at the furthest, as the track will be repaired with all possible speed.—Junction.

The Conference "Contributor."—The April number of the Contributor is out two days ahead of time, and if not ahead of its usual excellence, is at least fully up to the standard. The contents are as follows:
