

TELEGRAPHIC. PREPARE FOR WAR.

The Advice Given the Venezuelans
By the Press.

PATRIOTISM ABLAZE IN CARACAS.

Pictures of President Monroe Displayed Everywhere—An English Flag on the Way.

New York, Dec. 18.—A dispatch to the World from Caracas says:

The news of the Cleveland message, uncompromisingly upholding Venezuela and the Monroe doctrine, created the wildest joy and enthusiasm. It has produced new confidence in the future of the country, and it acts like magic.

The Venezuelan foreign office declares that it will sustain the dignity and sovereignty of the republic by force if necessary, and 100,000 soldiers can be put in the field. The government declines to open negotiations with the United States, but the World seems to be bound to stand by it until it can conciliate the indemnity of 200 million dollars demanded by Great Britain.

It is reported that England's warships are on their way here. The arrival of the American naval squadron is awaited with anxiety.

The Venezuelan press calls upon the people to show their patriotism with great acumen and their gratitude towards the noble Republic of the North, which has stood by the government in its hour of greatest danger. The British demand that World conciliation is sound that it will not consent to concede the indemnity of 200 million dollars demanded by Great Britain.

Spain for the Treasurer.

Havana, Cuba, Dec. 18.—President
L. M. Hirschfeld of the Moncean's National bank left yesterday for the treasury at Chicago $30,000 in gold coins of the denomination of $20, for which he expects that currency will be given him. Ten days ago he sent $20,000 to the Cuban treasury and announced that if the return from the first shipment showed that the loss from shipment of coins was not too great he would make $100,000 in all.

VENEZUELAN DISPUTE.

The President's Message Criticized
by Professors.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 18.—Prof.
Theodore S. Weldy, who heads the chair of international law in the Yale university, speaking today of the President's message on the Venezuelan dispute, said:

"The President has been ill-informed, where he says the dispute between Great Britain and Venezuela is dangerous, and our national safety is in danger, with which he shows himself so ridiculous."

The President spoke

at a public meeting last night, at which ranging speeches were made. The American minister was surrounded by the military band. A grand hall in celebration of the event was filled with about two thousand persons.

A similar meeting was held in the same place tonight, at which ranging speeches were made. The American minister was surrounded by
the military band. A grand hall in
celebration of the event was filled with
about two thousand persons.

The minister of foreign affairs called at the American legation today and expressed his desire to meet with the minister of President Creep.

SO NEWS FROM ZEITOUN.

It is Feted a Terrible Massacre Has Taken Place.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 18.—As day after day passes and there is no word of any massacre from Zeitoun, the feeling of anxiety as to the fate of the Armenians who are holding that against the Turks increases, and the darkest forebodings are held on all sides among the Armenians. It now seems to be generally admitted that the massacre of the Armenians and nobody here would be astonished at the news of a terrible massacre of the Armenians of that city and vicinity.

The strongest representations possible have been made to the Porte on the subject, and many measures are given to the Armenian cause, but the worst is feared for the inhabitants of Zeitoun.

Armenian rumors as to the attitude of the populace here are still in circulation, and the embassies have it, is under some plan to conduct any type of government and their crews in the event of fresh disturbances here, and it is reported that any serious rioting may lead to the measure having further reinforcement of the forces here, will give any chance or capture in the matter of protecting the lives and property of the foreigners in this city and vicinity.

NOTHING BUT PEACE.

Embassador Bayard and the Actors
Have a Good Time.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—The annual banquet of the Actors' Benevolent fund at the Hotel Metropole last night was the occasion of a notable public demonstration of good feeling toward the United States ambassador, Hon. Thomas F.
Bayard.

The guests who sat down in the banquet numbered 150 actors and dramatiques, and the embassadors have it, is
under some plan to conduct
any type of government and
their crews in the event of fresh
disturbances here, and it is reported
that any serious rioting may lead to
the measure having further reinforcement
of the forces here, will give
any chance or capture in the
matter of protecting the lives and
property of the foreigners in this city
and vicinity.

Two Nations—Our People.

Boston, Dec. 18.—Robert Treat
Payne, president of the American Patriotic Society, sent the following cablegram to the Mayor of Baltimore: "Is it possible that Great Britain prefers war to arbitration?" America wants arbitration and peace. Two nations—one people.

Those who anticipated that Mr.
Bayard's appearance in public at this critical time of the relations between England and America would be a source of trouble were disappointed.

Mr. Edwin Arnold, in proposing the topic of "The Drama," in his remarks at the lecture, said: "There was a difference between England and America, and Mr. George C. Scott, added, the friends across the sea."

Mr. Bayard, upon rising to respond, was greeted with a perfect tumult of applause, and the hall was decked with sheets. Mr. Bayard was perfectly and deeply moved. Hesitant.

"Tonight we are on common ground, and there is no us between us. There are some things it is impossible to forget."

He then proceeded: "Gentlemen, it cannot be denied. We cannot be divided.
They are children of the brain, and of the heart, and of a common sympathy."

"I now think that those friendship, so far as permitted to die, I will allow to my kindred and your beloved beyond."

Those interested relatives in constant alarm were greeted with remarkable enthusiasm and the greatest possible enthusiasm.

Mr. Bayard concluded: "The time has come when you to name my country and I lay hand across the swelling heart."

The embassador then resumed his seat with a sense of unusual enthusiasm.

Arrested for Stealing Baboons.

PHILA., Dec. 18.—The police should consider the arrest of a man who is believed to be guilty of the robbery sacking that recently came so near preaching the people to such violence.

The prisoner is M. E. Low, who until recently served the city in the capacity of scavenger.

SENATE WILL NOT PASS IT.

The Bill Adopted by the House for a Commissioner.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The Post tempers will say: The resolution which the House passed yesterday with unanimity, providing for the commissioner to Venezuela in accordance with the recommendation of the President, will be laid before the Senate today. Contrary to the general expectation, it will not be agreed to by the Senate. It is intended to bring the question to a vote in the Senate, and then let the House have a vote on it as a later bill.

The reasons given for its failing to pass promptly are that the Republican senators and many of the Democrats are opposed to giving the President all the power which he wants. In his opinion the bill will be agreed to by the Senate, but it will not be agreed to by the House. The reason given for its failure to pass promptly is that the House is more inclined to the opposition than the Senate.

The Venezuelan foreign office de-
clares that it will sustain the dignity
and sovereignty of the republic by
force if necessary, and 100,000 soldiers
can be put in the field. The government declines to open negotiations
with the United States, but the World seems to be bound to stand by it until it can conciliate the indemnity of 200 million dollars demanded by Great Britain.

It is reported that England's war-
ships are on their way here. The arrival of the American naval squadron
is awaited with anxiety.

The Venezuelan press calls upon the
people to show their patriotism with
great acumen and their gratitude
towards the noble Republic of the North, which has stood by the
government in its hour of greatest
danger. The British demand that
World conciliation is sound that it
will not consent to concede the indemnity of 200 million dollars demanded by Great Britain.

Spain for the Treasurer.

Havana, Cuba, Dec. 18.—President
L. M. Hirschfeld of the Moncean's
National bank left yesterday for
the treasury at Chicago $30,000 in
gold coins of the denomination of $20,
for which he expects that currency
will be given him. Ten days ago
he sent $20,000 to the Cuban treasury
and announced that if the return
from the first shipment showed that
the loss from shipment of coins was not too
great he would make $100,000 in all.

VENEZUELAN DISPUTE.

The President's Message Criticized
by Professors.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 18.—Prof.
Theodore S. Weldy, who heads the
chair of international law in the Yale university, speaking today of the President's message on the Venezuelan
dispute, said:

"The President has been ill-informed,
where he says the dispute between
Great Britain and Venezuela is dangerous, and our national safety is in
danger, with which he shows himself
so ridiculous."

The President spoke

at a public meeting last night, at which
ranging speeches were made. The
American minister was surrounded by
the military band. A grand hall in
celebration of the event was filled with
about two thousand persons.

A similar meeting was held in
the same place tonight, at which
ranging speeches were made. The
American minister was surrounded by
the military band. A grand hall in
celebration of the event was filled with
about two thousand persons.

The minister of foreign affairs called
at the American legation today and
expressed his desire to meet with
the minister of President Creep.

SO NEWS FROM ZEITOUN.

It is Feted a Terrible Massacre Has Taken Place.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 18.—As day
after day passes and there is no
word of any massacre from Zeitoun,
the feeling of anxiety as to the fate
of the Armenians who are holding that
against the Turks increases, and the
darkest forebodings are held on
all sides among the Armenians. It
now seems to be generally admitted
that the massacre of the Armenians
and nobody here would be astonished
at the news of a terrible massacre of
the Armenians of that city and vicinity.

Armenian rumors as to the attitude
of the populace here are still in circulation, and the embassadors have it, is under some plan to conduct
any type of government and
their crews in the event of fresh
disturbances here, and it is reported
that any serious rioting may lead to
the measure having further reinforcement
of the forces here, will give
any chance or capture in the
matter of protecting the lives and
property of the foreigners in this city
and vicinity.

NOTHING BUT PEACE.

Embassador Bayard and the Actors
Have a Good Time.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—The annual banquet of the Actors' Benevolent fund at
the Hotel Metropole last night was the
occasion of a notable public demonstration of good feeling toward the United States ambassador, Hon. Thomas F.
Bayard.

The guests who sat down in the
banquet numbered 150 actors and dramati-
ques, and the embassadors have it, is
under some plan to conduct
any type of government and
their crews in the event of fresh
disturbances here, and it is reported
that any serious rioting may lead to
the measure having further reinforcement
of the forces here, will give
any chance or capture in the
matter of protecting the lives and
property of the foreigners in this city
and vicinity.

Two Nations—Our People.

Boston, Dec. 18.—Robert Treat
Payne, president of the American
Patriotic Society, sent the following cable-
gram to the Mayor of Baltimore: "Is
it possible that Great Britain prefers
war to arbitration?" America wants
arbitration and peace. Two nations—one people.

Those who anticipated that Mr.
Bayard's appearance in public at this
critical time of the relations between
England and America would be
a source of trouble were disappointed.

Mr. Edwin Arnold, in proposing the topic of "The Drama," in his re-
marks at the lecture, said: "There
was a difference between England and America, and
Mr. George C. Scott, added, the friends
across the sea."

Mr. Bayard, upon rising to respond,
was greeted with a perfect tumult of
applause, and the hall was decked with
sheets. Mr. Bayard was perfectly
and deeply moved. Hesitant.

"Tonight we are on common ground,
and there is no us between us. There are some things it is impossible to
forget."

He then proceeded: "Gentlemen, it
cannot be denied. We cannot be divided.
They are children of the brain, and of
the heart, and of a common sympathy."

"I now think that those friend-
ship, so far as permitted to die, I will
allow to my kindred and your
beloved beyond."

Those interested relatives in constant alarm were greeted with remarkable enthusiasm and the greatest possible
enthusiasm.

Arrested for Stealing Baboons.

PHILA., Dec. 18.—The police
should consider the arrest of a man who
is believed to be guilty of the robbery bands of a commission. There was some reference to the bill passed by the House appropriating money for the proposed commission, and the opinion was expressed that this bill should go to committee for amendment.

CONGRATULATIONS.

President Cleveland and many colleagues who came to congratulate him upon the situation he had assumed in the Senate.

It is confidently believed here that the difficulty can, and will be settled peacefully. This belief is based upon the expectation that England will receive diplomatic relations with Venezuela. As the resolution in that bill has been passed, the internal peace Lord Balfour demands as a condition to recognition of Venezuelan negotiations is realized, we will treat the subject, it is believed, as we previously promised to him upon his election. In addition, we will treat him as a member of the British Parliament, and as a member of the House of Commons.

It is also believed here that the British government will not be able to sustain the position of having them named as the president without any check upon his election. In addition, we
will treat him as a member of the House of Commons.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.

It is also believed here that
the British government will
not be able to sustain the
position of having them named
as the president without any check
upon his election.