

CHURCH AD- NEW

CONFERENCE IN NEBRASKA.

Interesting Gathering of Mission Workers at Decatur.

From Omaha, Neb., under date of Nov. 1, 1904, Elder John W. Chambers, Jr., writes the "News":

The Elders and Saints of the north and eastern parts of the Nebraska conference met in conference assembly on the 22nd and 23rd of October in Decatur, Neb. President Joe A. Melius of the Colorado mission, and President Lewis A. Lee of the Nebraska conference were in attendance, besides the following traveling Elders: Jared A. Mercer, Oscar E. Bakelton, N. C. McRae, W. H. Cook, Jos. P. Stephens, Alma Radwell and John W. Chambers, Jr. A number of the Saints from other parts joined us in our conference, and all went home feeling well repaid.

The Elders have been laboring in Decatur and surrounding country a greater part of the summer with good success. We have a number of Saints, friends and investigators in that part and felt that by holding conference there it would encourage them in the work. We feel well repaid for our visit among these people, as it was one of the most enjoyable and successful conference held in this field for some time.

One Priesthood and five public meetings were held, one being an open air meeting. Our meetings were well attended, and we feel that the people present have a better understanding of "Mormonism" than they had before.

President Joe A. Melius spoke in two of the meetings, and his remarks were greatly enjoyed by all present. It was decided at conference that the Saints and friends should not be neglected; they are very scattered in this conference, and President Lee is going to spend the next few months in traveling, visiting the Elders in their fields and those members and friends who do not live in Elders' districts.

One baptism was performed at conference. The Elders gave encouraging reports of their past six months' work, and all leave for their new fields of labor well.

The work is progressing in this part of the Lord's vineyard, and those who have accepted the latter-day message are doing all in their power to help the work along.

IN SUNNY LOUISIANA.

A Live Conference Held in Hamburg—Saints Strengthened.

Elder J. H. Burnham has sent the "News" a report of a conference of the Louisiana Elders and Saints held at Hamburg, La., on Nov. 12-13:

President James G. Duffin of the Central States mission was in attendance, and gave the Elders and Saints an abundant of valuable advice and instructions.

There were in attendance the following Elders: Conference President David E. Stevens, S. B. Supt., John A. Forsyth, Elders R. B. Seely, Geo. P. Jackson, J. A. Woods, J. F. Burnham, Quince K. Kimball, Jos. M. Roundy, Warren Tenney and Daniel M. Cloward. The last four named having just arrived from Zion.

The meetings were well attended, considering that the people of this locality are mostly French and have little regard for any but Catholic faith.

At the first session of the Priesthood meeting a report from the Elders was heard by Pres. Duffin, which showed the work to be progressing and the conference to be in a prosperous condition; the work for the six months past having been directed toward new fields where the Elders had not been.

The speakers of the first public meeting were Elders Geo. P. Jackson, Quince K. Kimball, R. B. Seely, Jos. M. Roundy, Daniel M. Cloward, J. A. Woods, Warren M. Tenney and Pres. James G. Duffin, all of whom spoke with convincing power and earnestness.

The speakers at the second session were Elders Jno. A. Forsyth, J. F. Burnham, and Pres. David E. Stevens.

At the appointed time for the first public meeting Sunday morning, a good sized audience had assembled, and after the opening exercises, Pres. Duffin occupied the time. He delivered a powerful sermon upon the establishment of the Lord's work in this age of the world.

Conference Pres. Stevens also made a few remarks and meeting adjourned until 2 p. m.

Owing to other appointments Pres. Duffin was forced to leave before the close of the conference, and the afternoon meeting was continued without him. After the opening exercises, the sacrament was administered by Elders J. A. Woods and R. B. Seely, after which Jno. A. Forsyth and J. F. Burnham occupied the time preaching the principles of the Gospel and exhorting the people to repentance.

Pres. Stevens thanked the people for their hospitality and asked the blessings of God upon all and conference adjourned.

A short Priesthood meeting was held Monday, Nov. 14, at which the Elders were assigned their different fields of labor.

All felt much strengthened and encouraged by the good spirit that prevailed and left feeling stronger and with resolutions to prosecute the work with more determination.

MINNESOTA CONFERENCE.

An Enjoyable Session—Singing Good—Reports Excellent.

From a letter written by Elder Geo. T. Cobbley, the "News" learns that the Minnesota conference was held on Nov. 13th and 14th, the preliminary meeting being held at Minneapolis in the I. O. O. F. hall, which was largely attended and very much enjoyed. President Ellsworth of the Northern States mission was present.

On Sunday, services were held at the central hall in St. Paul. At the morning service, the time was taken up in testimony bearing and assignment work. At 2 p. m., the Saints and Elders met again and listened with interest to the remarks that were made by the Elders who spoke.

At 7 o'clock all met again at the hall feeling better after breaking the long fast, and the wholesome advice given by the brethren present.

The conference was honored with the presence of the "Branch Quartet," which rendered choice selections during the services, and all who attended the conference were loud in praise of the excellent advice given, the good spirit prevailing and singing rendered.

On Tuesday evening all were invited to again meet at the hall and enjoy themselves in a social entertainment, given under the direction of the Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement Association. The evening was spent

NEW CHURCH BUILDING.

Brisbane, Australia, the Place Selected—Conference Held.

Niel Stead, Toowoomba, Australia, Oct. 15, 1904.—A very successful conference was held in the Alliance hall, South Brisbane, on Sunday, Oct. 9, President James Duckworth and wife were in attendance, besides all the Elders who are now laboring in this conference, and each one helped to make it a success.

The first meeting was commenced at 2 p. m. and we had a fairly good attendance. The names of the general and local authorities were presented by President Duckworth and all were unanimously sustained.

Elders Hart Merrill and John B. Stephenson reported on the Toowoomba branch and the Pittsworth district respectively.

Conference President Humphreys and Elder Rounds reported on the Woolloomooloo district. Elders M. L. Reeder and Bert L. Robins, who took for his subject, "General and Individual Salvation." A quartet composed of Sisters Duckworth and Hurley, assisted by Brother Thomas Dean and Elder James Humphreys, sang "All Hail the Glorious Day."

President James Duckworth took up the remainder of the time and gave a vigorous and interesting discourse, taking for his subject, "Marriage Among the Latter-day Saints." There were a number of strangers present and all appeared to be pleased with the services.

Three of the Brisbane daily newspapers were kind enough to announce our conference for us, and also state that we have a new church building in course of construction, which we expect will be completed and ready for use about Dec. 1. The Saints and Elders in this conference are very proud of the fact that a building site in Brisbane was chosen on which will be erected the first Latter-day Saints' church building in Australia. It will be situated in Gibbon street, Woolloomooloo, and will cost about $300, including the lot, but house rent as well as a cottage will be connected at the back of the church, which will be headquarters for the Queensland conference Elders.

At the afternoon session a continuation of reports was made and an address by Counselor Hyrum Lemon on the Gospel in its plainness, the missionary work being done and the help to students by attending Church schools, and reading Church publications.

President Page also occupied a short time bearing a strong testimony of the Gospel. He also made some announcements.

At the Sunday morning meeting reports from the auxiliary organizations were made showing all to be in good condition.

The afternoon and final session was held at 2 p. m., and as the previous meetings were full of interest, particularly in the reports that were read and the remarks of Elder Frederick Ott who had recently returned from the European mission; remarks were also made by the presiding authorities.

At 11 p. m. classes reassembled and were addressed by Elders Jacob F. Gates and A. W. Davis, on their duties and blessings which they enjoyed. There was a full attendance at the afternoon meeting with the visiting brethren and local presiding officers on the stand.

A notable feature of the service was the excellent singing done by the choir, which rendered several selections during the meeting. The singing is in English, under the direction of Charlie James Halenmann with Annie Nimanau at the organ. The time was occupied principally by Elders M. E. Pack, John T. Giles and Jacob F. Gates, and their remarks were listened to by an attentive and appreciative audience.

The officers of the Church and local officers were sustained and there was every indication of a lively interest in the work of the Lord.

President Page announced a "harvest home" feast for Thanksgiving day and spoke of the bounteous harvest which had been gathered.

The year certainly has been a prosperous one with the colony, 1,000 tons of hay is stacked in numerous stacks in the yards. Two hundred and fifty beavers are being fed and there are besides several hundred stock cattle on the range.

Eighty beavers are being specially fattened for the market. Six hundred bushels of wheat and barley fill the bins; 800 bushels of potatoes on hand for local consumption and to supply sheep men who appreciate so close a market, and 10 tons of squash.

Six hundred bushels of corn will provide ample feed for the hogs. Besides this plenty of the finest fruit of all kinds was raised for local consumption.

All this will give an idea of how abundantly the colony is blessed and afford an idea of the desirability of same as a gathering place for the Hawaiian Islands.

Returned missionaries Elder Albert Green of Kanawville, Weber Co., Utah, returned Nov. 17, 1904, from the Northern States mission, for which he was set apart May 5, 1903, to labor in the state of Wisconsin. Of his labors he says: "My health for the past seventeen months has been very poor, and owing to this have had

The weather was all that could be desired, the roads were in good condition; this seemed to influence the attendance, for the attendance was an unusually large one from the first to the last meeting.

The visiting brethren enjoyed the Spirit of the Lord; for their remarks were full of instruction and encouragement. A great variety of subjects were spoken upon; the principal ones, however, were individual salvation, pure lives, respect for the Priesthood and the protection of our sons and daughters.

At the afternoon session on Monday Elders John W. Casperson, Nephel Johnson of Preston and James M. Ebert of Fairview and Lorin Mendenhall of Franklin all returned. Elders from foreign missions within the last three months, gave their report of their labors abroad and related some of their experience which was very interesting and encouraging to the Saints. Each Elder bore a strong testimony to the truth of the Gospel, and that Joseph Smith was a true Prophet of the Lord.

Encouraged the young men to take the advantage of the present opportunities for learning the Gospel. President Parkinson expressed his pleasure in the presence of the brethren, and the very timely instruction they had given.

He further spoke of the splendid program and the beautiful decoration of the house prepared for "Founders' day." The quarterly conference of the Latter-day Saints in this stake, in memory of the eventful day when the Church school system was inaugurated in the stake 17 years ago.

The conference through the people to rejoice. CHARLES D. GOASLIND, Clerk.

TETON STAKE CONFERENCE.
Tithing and Offering Reports Excellent—Visitors Present.

Stake Clerk Norman of the Teton stake has sent in a report of the late conference held Nov. 20 and 21 at Victor, Ida., showing an increase of tithing and offerings. The presence of Elder George Albert Smith of the Apostles' quorum and J. Golden Kimball of the First Presidents of Seventy lent additional interest to the proceedings, and their remarks were replete with exhortations to the great cause which will undoubtedly result in much good for the Saints of that locality.

NEBO STAKE CONFERENCE.
An Interesting Session—Reports Showing Excellent Progress.

Stake Clerk Moore of the Nebo stake has sent a full report of their recent stake conference held at Payson from which the "News" culls the following: The quarterly conference of the Nebo stake convened in the Payson pavilion at 10 a. m. on Nov. 19, 1904. There were present on the stand the presidency of the stake, 20 members of the High Council, Patriarchs and Bishops, President Jonathan S. Page, Jr., residing in the city of Salt Lake.

After hearing reports from the local officers President Page explained the reason for the non-appearance of Elder Rudger Clawson who was expected to be present, but was unable to do so on account of the death of his son.

At the afternoon session a continuation of reports was made and an address by Counselor Hyrum Lemon on the Gospel in its plainness, the missionary work being done and the help to students by attending Church schools, and reading Church publications.

President Page also occupied a short time bearing a strong testimony of the Gospel. He also made some announcements.

Returned missionaries Elder Albert Green of Kanawville, Weber Co., Utah, returned Nov. 17, 1904, from the Northern States mission, for which he was set apart May 5, 1903, to labor in the state of Wisconsin. Of his labors he says: "My health for the past seventeen months has been very poor, and owing to this have had to return earlier than I otherwise should have done. I have enjoyed my labors very much, was successful in making many friends and earnest investigators, assisted in organizing a Sunday school in the city of Oskosh, and labored as superintendent of the same from its organization until released. I also served as president of the Oskosh branch from its organization until released to return home.

Elder William A. Dahlquist of Oakley, Kas. Co., Idaho, passed through this city Nov. 23, 1904, on his return from the Scandinavian mission, for which he was set apart March 31, 1902. The conference of Gothenburg was his field of labor. He says the condition of the mission is good and meeting with success. Much prejudice exists. He had been greatly blessed during his mission, felt thankful for being an envoy for the glorious cause. Attended the dedication of the mission house in Norway and Sweden. Was released on account of ill health and death of his father.

Elder John W. Saunders of 13 Thirteenth East street, Salt Lake City, returned home Nov. 18, 1904, from last British mission, for which he was set apart Aug. 12, 1902. The conference of Manchester was his field of labor. He reports work in a progressive condition. The English mission is systematically arranged and well conducted by President Grant. Elder Saunders was president of Manchester conference for most of the time. It is a good field for missionary work. He says there are no rivals to be found to compete with the teachings of our Elders.

Elder Gustave Leonard Ohlson, of Sandy, passed through this city Nov. 23, 1904, on his return from the Scandinavian mission, for which he was set apart Aug. 12, 1902. The conference of Stockholm, Sweden, was his field of labor. Having labored in the Kaskaskia and Stockholm branches of Stockholm conference. Presided over last conference. The presence of Prospects named conference seems to brighten for the spread of the Gospel. The new meetinghouse having been erected, is making quite a change for the better of people's impressions of us as a people.

Elder Carl J. Peterson of Albion, Cassia Co., Idaho, passed through this city Nov. 21, 1904, on his return from the Scandinavian mission, for which he was set apart March 31, 1902. The conference of Stockholm, Sweden, was his field of labor. The work of the Lord is progressing some, but many people will not listen. But in spite of all resistance we have many friends and some investigators.

Elder Milton W. Snow of Salt Lake City, passed through this city Nov. 20, 1904, on his return from the British mission, for which he was set apart Sept. 26, 1902. The conferences of Liverpool and London, were his fields of labor. The first 10 months of my time was spent in the Liverpool and the remaining 15 in the London conference was called to preside over the London conference during the past 10 months. The Elders there are working faithfully to declare the Gospel message. Much prejudice is being removed, and many friends are being made. One feature of the work in London is the outdoor meetings held, over 750 meetings having been held during the season.

Elder Joseph W. Bull of Salt Lake City passed through this city Nov. 18, 1904, on his return from the British mission, for which he was set apart July 2, 1902. The conferences of Newcastle and London, were his fields of labor. He has had good health and greatly enjoyed his labors. Attended the dedication of the Christiana house on July 21, 1903. The conference is in good condition, and a corps of energetic Elders are laboring there.

Elder C. LeRoy Knight of Salt Lake City passed through this city Nov. 17, 1904, on his return from the Colorado mission, for which he was set apart March 18, 1902. The conferences of Colorado, Nebraska and South Dakota, were his fields of labor. The work is progressing nicely in Colorado and Nebraska. Several baptisms since last spring. In Dakota considerable indifference is manifested towards the Gospel. He had good health during the entire mission.

Elder Wm. G. Lambert of Salt Lake City, Utah, passed through this city Nov. 17, 1904, on his return from the British mission, for which he was set apart Sept. 29, 1902. The conference of Newcastle were his fields of labor. The work is progressing nicely. We have been able to make a number of friends and had a number of baptisms. All the branches are in good condition.
