AMONG SCENES OF BEAUTIFUL ART

Institute Continues to Attract Crowds of Admiring Spectators.

A SYMPATHIZING AUDIENCE

May Always be Seen Around "The Silent Partner"—Other Works Quat Attract Attention.

The exhibition of the Utah Art Institute is verifying the predictions of success made from the favorable omens of its opening night. Throngs of visitors have flocked to the hall since the beginning and through appreciation is manifested of the notable display prepared by the society of artists for the benefit of the public. The paintings, architectural drawings and china painting, have received unstinted praise, the collection being notable in all its features. The works of Culmer, Harwood, Hafen, Ottlinger and Evans elicit the greater interest among local efforts, though they by no means monopolize attention to the neglect of the other artists whose excellent contributions are a notable feature of the display. Browning has some most excellent pieces, notably a sunset scene, Mrs. Alice M. Hume has two charming flower bits—a fleur de lis and violet piece, both exquisitely done. Mrs. Edna W. Shanks displays her dainty handiwork in some charming flower pieces and there are two autumn scenes, with the dead leaves and generally desolate effects of winter's first touch, that are exceptionally striking. Besides these are a score of other paintings by local artists, which attract much attention, and worthy prolonged study.

The works of the outside artists come in for a great share of attention, the pitiful story told in the scene of the "Silent Partner" keeping a sympathetic audience in constant attendance within its radius of vision.

The exhibition, in fact, is receiving the patronage it deserves, and will undoubtedly reap success during its continuance.

DAMAGE SUIT VS SOUP.
Jailor Kimball Will Present Bill for the Latter—A Peculiar Case.

J. W. Att feels that his reputation has been greatly damaged and will very likely seek consolation in a damage suit. A few days ago he was arrested and charged with embezzlement. It was alleged that he traded a set of harness to some man at Murray for a wagon and then appropriated both wagon and harness to his own use. These allegations were made by some one connected with the Murray meat market, although no complaint was filed. Mr. Att was released from custody, and is now looking for some one to sue for his imprisonment. Jailor Sol Kimball says that if Att sues him, he will in turn present a bill against Att for soup, obtained under false pretenses, and the bill will be amply large to cover all expenses of the damage suit.

QUILTS FOR CITY PRISONERS.
Ladies of St. Marks Guild Have Commenced Work on Five Dozen.

Two ladies from the St. Mark's Guild called on Chief Hilton at police headquarters this morning for the purpose of coming to a better understanding regarding the quilts they are making for the city jail.

Said one of the ladies: "The statement that the quilts would weigh six pounds is a mistake. Those that we made weigh four or five pounds, and we would like to make up for a deficiency in some of the others."

The chief informed the ladies that if the quilts were as good as those made last year, and if they would agree to make them for the price formerly—$1.50 per quilt—all would be satisfactory. Having settled this point the ladies stated that work was commenced on the five dozen quilts last Tuesday and they would be finished as soon as possible.

THE ENGLISH VOCABULARY.

There are now over 250,000 words in the English language acknowledged by the best authorities, or about 70,000 more than in the German, French, Spanish and Italian combined.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN.

Club Members Meet and Elect Mrs. J. M. Cohen President.

The Woman's Democratic club of Salt Lake City, met in the Woman's club rooms in the city and county building yesterday afternoon, and elected a corps of officers for the ensuing year. In the absence of the president, Mrs. E. Rhodes, the chair was occupied by Mrs. Morris Sommer. The annual report of the treasurer showed cash on hand amounting to $115, from which is to be taken the cost of the souvenir pin to be presented to Mrs. William J. Bryan, also $25 to be donated to the city committee leaving a balance of $66. The officers elected were as follows: President, Mrs. Joseph M. Cohen; secretary, Mrs. Morris Sommer; assistant secretary, Mrs. Harry J. Hayward; corresponding secretary, Miss Anna Lynch; treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Davis Rounsey.

Vice presidents and members of the executive committee from the First and Second Municipal wards were chosen as follows: First precinct—Vice president, Mrs. Elizabeth McFarlane; member of executive committee, Mrs. E. Rhodes; Second precinct—Vice president, Mrs. Scipio A. Kenner; member of executive committee, Miss Phoebe Fletcher.

The vice presidents and executive committee members from the other three municipal wards will be named at the next meeting, Wednesday, Jan. 3rd.

SALE OF SCHOOL BONDS.

State Land Board Will Invest Another $50,000 in Such Securities.

At a meeting of the State land board held yesterday afternoon, a resolution was adopted providing for the purchase of $50,000 worth of Salt Lake City five percent school bonds, due in 1913. The members of the board expect to net about 4 1/2 per cent interest per annum on the investment. There is still quite a surplus of cash on hand, which the board is anxious to let go out on 6 per cent farm mortgages, or municipal county or district school bonds.

An informal discussion was held on the subject of the recent reported finds of coal and iron in Iron county, and it may result in an increase of the price of Utah lands down there from $1.50 to $10 an acre.

AGE AFFECTS FEET.

A London physician declares that a person in robust health walks with his toes pointed to the front, while one with his health on the wane gradually turns his toes to the inside, and a bend is perceptible in his knees.

GREATEST MATCH STRIKERS.

More matches are used in England than in any other country in the world. It has been estimated that English people use an average of eight matches each person per day, and annually over 1,700,000,000 are burned.

PROPER REMEDY IS APPEAL

Supreme Court Decision in the Bates Murder Case.

Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus Denied—Question as to How Defendant Should be Tried Unsettled.

An opinion was handed down by the Supreme court late yesterday afternoon in the case of the State vs John E. Booth, Judge of the Fourth judicial district, denying the former's petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

The State, by District Attorney Sam King of Utah county, petitioned the Supreme court for a writ of mandamus, directed against Judge Booth, to compel the proceeding with the trial of George Bates, charged with murder in the second degree for the murder of John Nordquist at Tooele, in September, 1895. The petition was denied by the Supreme court on the ground that mandamus was not a proper proceeding and that the remedy lies in an appeal.

Bates was indicted in September, 1895, while Utah was still a Territory. He was tried for the offense in April, 1896, after statehood, found guilty by a jury of eight, and sentenced to ten years in the State prison. In May, 1898, after the United States Supreme court had decided that persons accused of crimes committed before the Territory was admitted to the Union, were entitled to trial by a jury of twelve, Bates was released by order of the Federal court, on habeas corpus proceedings. Bates was rearrested and taken before Judge Booth for trial by a jury of twelve men. The case against him was dismissed on the ground that the State law provided a trial by a jury of eight only. For purpose of testing the point the petition for a writ of mandate was brought.

In ruling that mandamus was not petitioner's remedy, the Supreme court did not pass on the question as to how Bates should be tried, and to have it decided the State must take an appeal from Judge Booth's order of dismissal. The opinion was delivered by Chief Justice Barlow, and concurred in by Justices Miner and Baskin.

A SURE CURE FOR CROUP.

Twenty-five Years' Constant Use without a Failure.
The first indication of croup is hoarseness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land and never disappoints the anxious mother. We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it has not proved effectual. No other preparation can show such a record—twenty-five years' constant use without a failure.
