ject—News Briefs.

Ogden, April 28.—After a stormy voyage of many weeks upon a sea of uncertainty the amended liquor ordinance arrived at a port of safety last night when it passed its third and final reading by a vote of six to four. With the mayor's signature it becomes a law. With the exception of one or two sections there is but little difference between this ordinance and the law which has been in operation regulating the saloons of the city heretofore.

An effort was made by Councilmen Austin, Powers, Dana and Thomas to vote against the ordinance. Councilman Powers to have the ordinance laid over for another week but his motion was lost. City Atty. Devine then proceeded to read the voluminous epistle section by section. Almost every section was objected to by councilmen of the opposition, but the ordinance was finally passed as it stood. WORKING FOR HIGH SCHOOL.

That Ogden may yet see a new high school in the immediate future is given more assurance each day as the work of the Ogden Civic Improvement league is drawn into shape. The committee from the league which has been investigating the proposition of resubmitting the question of bonds to the people, submitted its report and resolutions to the league last night, urging the board of education to resubmit the question of bonds for a new high school to the people.

The report gave the assurance of the league to the board of education that every effort possible would be used to secure the passage of the bond proposition if resubmitted. The report also recommended the appointment of a committee of five by the president of the league to gain whatever information possible for the board of education in regard to the resubmitting of the question. The committee, which submitted the report, were J. C. Nye,

SUES FOR $6,025.

William Spielberg has filed a suit for $6,025 against the A. Kuhn & Bros. company. This amount, he asserts, will cover pay due him and the loss of one year's time. There is much more to the case, according to Spielberg, than appears. It is claimed that Spielberg was employed by Kuhn & Bros. as a clerk in the handling of a girl between Spielberg's money. Such is the explanation of Mr. Spielberg, at any rate.

CHARGED WITH CONTEMPT.

Judge Howell has called upon Carl Shurtliff to give reason why he should not be punished for contempt of court. Shurtliff and wife were charged a year ago, Shurtliff being asked to pay $15 a month as alimony. This, it is said, he has failed to do. Hence the contempt proceedings.

Ogden is a dry town on Sunday, but between 15 and 20 men were up before "his honor" Monday on charges of drunkenness. Each paid $5 for his Sunday spree and also in the barbers were the six Greeks caught while riding through town in a laundry wagon with several full cases and kegs aboard.

F. Demand and J. D. Wright, who fought with fists and many curse words were permitted to go upon promising to be human and decent hereafter.

Preliminary and excavation work on the viaduct was started yesterday morning. A present force of 15 men is to be increased as soon as possible. The children of Mary of St. Joseph's church gave a very pleasant performance at the Fifth ward amusement hall. The comedy, "The Troubles of Hymen Trouble," manager of a matrimonial bureau, was well rendered. The music was furnished by Miss Loreta Malone, organist of St. Joseph's choir, on the piano, and little Genevieve Malone on the violin. The house was crowded with an appreciative audience, and the comedy was all prepared and conceived by Miss Rae Keck, including the stage work.

FOUR BATTLESHIP PROGRAM FAILS

Senate by Overwhelming Vote
Refuses to Adopt the President's Naval Policy.

DISCUSSED FOR THREE DAYS.

At Times Debate Became Almost Acrimonious—Sharp Exchanges Between Aldrich and Beveridge.

Washington, April 27.—By an overwhelming vote, President Roosevelt's four-battleship program failed in the senate, just as it did in the house. The amendment for four battleships was introduced by Senator Piles, and the fight for its adoption was led by Senator Beveridge. Twenty-three votes were cast for the increased program, the number largely being made up of recently elected senators. Fifty senators voted to support the house and the recommendation of the senate naval committee in favor of building only two battleships.

The debate on the battleship amendment lasted three days to the exclusion of all other matters. It was begun by Senator Beveridge with an eloquent appeal for the support of the president and a suggestion that the larger navy might be needed for war. Members of the committee upbraided the Indiana senator for the violence of his war with another country, and sought to make him admit that he meant Japan. At times the discussion came near becoming acrimonious, especially sharp exchanges occurring between Senator Aldrich and Mr. Beveridge. The former's reference to Mr. Beveridge as Senator Smith of Michigan to protest against the senate chamber being made a "laughing stock" for the young senator from Indiana.

It was developed by Senator Allison during the debate that there is a well-defined understanding among the senate leaders for the authorization of two battleships each year until the American navy is regarded as sufficient to meet any demands that may be made upon it.

As finally passed the bill carries appropriations aggregating $128,115,669, and provides for the construction of two battleships and two colliers, and the purchase of three additional colliers, the construction of submarines, and other necessary craft; and increases the pay of officers and enlisted men, as well as increasing both the pay and the strength of the marine corps.

Two battleships a year is what President Roosevelt says he has accomplished through his fight for his naval program. Had he been victorious in having four such ships authorized at this session, the United States could have decided terms of disarmament to the nations of the world. This statement, made tonight following the passage by the senate today of the naval bill calling for two new battleships, is understood to reveal the president's source of strength in the naval fight which has been waged so strenuously. Furthermore, two ships this year, with the promise of two ships each year to follow, which the world has placed in the position of dictating a cessation of naval aggression.

DETAILED NOTE.

The rollcall on the Piles amendment follows:
Yea—Alden, Beveridge, Borah, Bourne, Briggs, Burdett, Dupont, Flint, Fulton, Hansbrough, Herburn, Lodge, McCready, Owen, Sawyer, Smith of Michigan, Smoot, Sutherland, Taylor, Warner.

Nay—Aldrich, Bacon, Bankhead, Brandegee, Bulkeley, Burnham, Burton, Carter, Clark, Clegg, Coker, Cramer, Clay, Crane, Culberson, Cullom, Curtis, Daniel, Davis, Dick, Dillingham, Dixon, Fournier, Foster, Frazer, Frye, Gallinger, Gary, Gore, Guggenheim, Hale, Hiramshaw, Johnson, Platt, Richardson, Simmons, Stephenson, Stewart, Stone, Tallaferro, Teller, Warner, Wetmore.

Now, April 27.—There seems to be little chance that Robert Caldwell, "the great American identifier," will ever face the English court to answer to the charge of perjury that has been made against him. He is in the city insane hospital on Ward's island, and is reported by the physicians as getting weaker daily, and he has but a short time to live. Caldwell went to England and testified in the famous Druse case. He said he knew Druse as the Duke of Portland, and that he arranged a false burial for Druse, placing a roll of lead in the coffin. When the grave was opened Caldwell's statement was proved untrue and he was accused of perjury. He was indicted and a demand was made for his extradition. Two months ago he was sent to the insane hospital.

CALL ON NATIONAL BANKS.

Washington, April 27.—The secretary of the treasury today announced a further call upon the national banks for approximately $45,000,000, of which $20,000,000 is to be paid on or before May 9, and the remaining $25,000,000 on or before May 23, 1908.

MURDERERS MUST HANG.

San Francisco, April 27.—The state supreme court today confirmed the judgment of the lower tribunal in the case of John Siemon and Louis Dabner, the gaspige thugs, who were sentenced to be hanged. Thirty days must pass before the execution is handed down, whereupon the two men will be resented to hang on whatever date the judge fixes.

Siemon and Dabner committed one of the most atrocious series of murders chronicled in any day. The most vicious of their crimes was that of the murder of M. Munakata, manager of the Kimmion Ghibli, the Japanese bank, who was attacked in his office and slain in broad daylight, while one of the robbers was also struck down by the robbers.
