Karoki and Oku Will Join Forces-How Karopatkin Proposes to Meet Their Plans is Guess Work.

St. Petersburg, July 7 .- In the absince of official news from the seat of war the rumor-mongers are busily at work. Reports of heavy fighting above Kal Chau have spread through the city but they propably had their origin in foreign telegrams, as the war office is without information on the subject. The situation in the zone of hostil-Ries is not clear. Unofficial reports seem the indicate a lack of decision on the part of the Japanese, some saying the Japanese are advancing and others that they are retreating. The slege of Port Arthur, the holding and fortifying of the mountain parses, the juncture of forces of Gen. Kuroki and Gen. Oku and possibly an extension of their lines to the west coast of Labo Tung. In order to force out the Russians from Newchwang so that they may secure a new base there, is sconservatively regarded as the Japanese program for the next two months. How then Kuropatkin intends to oppose this plan is largely guess-work, though his advance posts are extremely active. A current rumor is to the effect that Gen. Kuropatkin telegraphed though his advance posts are extremely active. A current runnor is to the ef-fect that Gen. Kuropatkin telegraphed to Czar Nicholas that he would not ac-cept a general engagement. Whether or not this is true, it is the view of the general staff that the postponement of a decisive battle until the end of the miny season by giving the commander-in-chief time to bring up many thous-ands of reinforcements will be almost us good as victory.

Attack Began in the Morning and The Close of Day Saw it

Gyangtse, Tibet, July 5 .- The pinnacle fort near here, held by 7,000 Tibetans, was captured by a mere handful of British and Indian soldiers today. The excitement of the long day culminated in the scaling of a breach in the walls of the fort by Lieut. Grant, who was followed by a mixed company of Gurkhas and fusileers. They climbed the cleft in the rock in the face of a hall of fire and a fusilade of stones which were hurled on their heads by the frantic Tibetans. A stone struck Lieut. Grant, sweeping him off his feet, but he recovered himself and was the first over the breach.

but he recovered himself and was the first over the breach. The fort is on a rugged rock, 300 feet in height. At dusk the battle was over and, though fitful bursts of musketry were still to be heard, the British held the fort which dominates the town and the monestery beyond. The plan of attack included three columns which were to rush the vil-lages fringing the base of the rock. At midnight last night British troops be-gan to move into position. The left and center columns were able to enter the village by sunrise, but so heavily was the fire directed on the right column that it was impossible to make any headway for several hours. By 7 o'clock, however, the whole fringe of villages was captured. Lieut. Gordon, who was leading a party of Sikhs, was killed. The house-tops were full of Tibetans who pelted the right column with builets for hours. The British lepounders made a breach in the wall between the towers on the face of the cliff, the wall falling down in great masses. Shortly after-ward an explosion occurred in the pow-der magazine of the Tibetans, by which many must have been killed. This, however, did not dismay the Tibetans. When the reserve companies of fusi-leers and Gurkhas advanced and re-opened a heavy fire, but only one man was hit, owing to the open formation of the British troops. By dusk the hel-mets of fusileers and Gurkhas were to be seen on the highest building of the fort. The men were cheering.

Judge Discourages Litigation.

Chicago, July 7 .- Litigation to the probable aggregate of $8,000,000 has Cheago, July 7.--Litigation to the probable aggregate of $5,000,000 has been discouraged by the ruling of Judge Holdom, in the superior court, to the effect that the city of Chicago was not liable in any degree for the Iroquois theater fire. A suit by Eva Catherine Gibson for $15,000 damages because of a broken arm and an injurd spine was the case decided. Sixty other suits are pending and had the decision been against the city hundreds of other ac-tions probably would hav ben filed. The opinion was on the city's demur-rer to the averment that the theater was a public nuisance and that the mu-nicipality was liable because of the de-reliction of its officers in issung a li-cense before the theater had compiled with the ordinances. But even had the play house been a nuisance in the le-gal meaning of the word the city still would not have been liable.
