Logan, Dec. 16.—Mrs. Rachel Burton, wife of W. W. Burton met with painful injuries Friday afternoon by falling down the cellar steps. Mrs. Burton was at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Isaac Cooley, attending the funeral of her little granddaughter. After the service she stepped into the kitchen to put on her rubbers preparatory to going to the cemetery. She leaned against the cellar door to support herself in putting on a rubber, the door was not securely fastened and opened, letting her fall head foremost down the stairs. Several of her children were at her side and carried her to the bedroom and summoned Dr. E. L. Clark who carefully examined her but found no bones broken. She received severe abrasions and bruises about the head. Mrs. Burton is upwards of 70 years of age and therefore such a severe shaking up from the fall is serious.

MURDERED FOR HIS MONEY.
The body of the man found a week ago in the sluice box of the Union Pacific roundhouse at Green River, Wyo., has been identified as that of James Gray. A coroner's inquest was held and a verdict rendered that he was murdered by parties unknown.

Mr. Gray was about 65 years of age and occupied a small house. It was known by friends he had upwards of $1000 in the house, and the supposition is that thugs learned of this and murdered him by crashing in his skull and threw his body into the sluice box. The authorities have been unable to get any clue as to who the murderers were.

The stranger said there was a pistol in the window that looked good to him, and after succeeding in getting Mr. Rolfsen to crawl into the state window for the gun, he stepped outside the door and ran down the street with the pistol first shown him. Mr. Rolfsen being a cripple was unable to give pursuit, and the fellow got away.

WEDDING BELLS.

The last few days cupid has been busy among the young people. Miss Geneva Campbell of this place and John H. Crain of Liberty, and William Storey, also of this place, and Miss Etta Montgomery of Liberty, were married in the Salt Lake temple Dec. 4. One week later Chas. A. Shaw of North Ogden and Miss Elvira Peterson of Brigham City, and William J. Francis and Priscilla E. Montgomery, were married in the temple, and on the 18th another couple of estimable young people will be united in marriage in the Salt Lake temple.

Two of North Ogden's young men have recently departed for Australia, Chas. Wm. Ellis, Dec. 1, to Australia, and Dec. 11, Thomas E. Orton for the Eastern States mission. A series of encampments were held for their friends, from which many donations were provided for their journeys.

Last Sunday, Wm. M. Alvord gave a very interesting account of his missionary labors in Australia, from which mission he has just returned.

After the meeting on Sunday the lesser priesthood was called together, and after ordaining 16 priests, 13 teachers and 14 deacons, they were organized into quorums.

The two seventies classes of the quorum are making commendable progress in the studies, as outlined by the first council of sevens.

KANOSH.

GEORGE TURNER FINED $250.

Special Correspondence.
Kanosh, Millard Co., Dec. 10.—In Justice William P. Hunter's court yesterday, George Turner entered a plea of guilty to the charge of selling liquor to Indians. He was fined $250, which he paid and was discharged.

Turner escaped the officers here and went to California. The father came home to Kanosh from San Diego, Cal., instead of advising his son to return and plead to the lighter charge, he became defiant and told the officers that they could not reach his son, that he, the father, would take care of the matter. This made it easy for the county sheriff to get on the same train, remain shaded until George Turner returned from California, and then catch him in Diego, Cal., to meet his young wife, when he was made a prisoner and brought back with the result stated.

GLEICHEN, CANADA.

PHENOMENAL CROP YIELDS.

Flattering Opportunities for Home-seekers in Alberta.

Special Correspondence.
Gleichen, Alberta, Canada, Dec. 6.—The agricultural possibilities of this particular section of Alberta, lying east of Calgary, is almost beyond belief. It lies along the line of the C. P. railway and is covered by one of the greatest irrigating systems on the American continent, irrigating the best prairie lands that this country ever saw. The land responds so readily to cultivation that it surprises even the most sanguine farmer. This fall the results of threshing show many crops of oats that average from 25 to 110 bushels to the acre, barley 11 bushels to the acre. Sugar beets shipped from three different farms have tested 13.2, 13.5 and 18.1 purity. It is thought that this will set be one of the greatest beet districts on the American continent. This will not seem impossible when it is considered that there are over 1,000,000 acres of just such land as this which will be covered by irrigation in the very near future.

The opportunities offered to home-seekers here are all that could be desired. The C. P. railway is giving every encouragement possible to home life home seekers.

At the date of this writing, farm work is still progressing, plowing, disking and harrowing. Providence favoring, the crops of 1908 will be the greatest yield of grain that Alberta has ever known.

BARNETT AND BROWN.

ARE CLOSELY WATCHED.

San Francisco, Dec. 15.—Closely watched in their respective cells, past which every few minutes a floorman walked, Walter J. Barnett and J. D. Barnett Brown spent their first Sunday in the city prison. It was Brown's seventh day behind the bars and Barnett's second.

The difference in the demeanor of the two, which has characterized them since their first arrest, was especially noticeable today. Barnett, usually imperturbable as ever, smoked and read incessantly. No sign had he finished one cigar than he lighted another, and newspapers and magazines went down in smoke in his hands, his voracious reading. His only visitor during the day was his son.

Barnett was nervous. He fumed over the darkness of his cell which prevented his reading with any degree of comfort, and held conference after conference with his attorneys. Despite the fact that he declared he had had a good night's sleep, he looked haggard beyond anything he had previously shown and seemed almost on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

Although he did not say so, it was evident today that Barnett looked out the lead of David F. Walker the late president of the bank, will try to throw upon the shoulders of Brown the burden of responsibility for the company's tangled affairs. This was brought out in his reply to questions regarding the $25,000, which was stated on the authority of Bank Commissioner John C. Lynch Barnett had drawn out three days before the bank closed its doors.

"If any such sum was drawn in my name," said Barnett, "I did not receive a cent of it. I know nothing about the matter. If I did not know, and my name appeared in the books as having received it somebody has committed a further crime. I draw no amount whatever from the bank at any such time as indicated in the statement."

Atty. Oscar Cooper representing Barnett will tomorrow demand that his preliminary examination be held forthwith and that he be brought out in the district attorney to produce one affidavit of evidence connecting him in any way with embezzlement.

Brown declined to say anything regarding his case today, declaring that he had nothing to add to previous interviews. He repeated his assertion that he still expects to obtain bail.
