Third District Court. This afternoon Messrs. Sheeks and Wil liams announced that they were ready, for the defense, to proceed with the case of the People vs. Jeter Clinton. Judge Van Zile, however, requested a postponement, and after argument the case was postponed until the April term of the court, with the assurance that as early as possible in that term it will be brought to trial. Judge Schaeffer released Dr. Clinton's sureties from their bonds, and he is placed under his own recognizance to appear. The indictment charges him with cutting John Banks in the back with a
