

O. R. & N. WASHOUTS ARE PATCHED UP.

O. S. L. Trains to Portland Going Through for First Time Since Thursday Last.

STEEL BRIDGE WASHED AWAY.

Solid Structure in Burnt River District Went by the Board Owning to Floods.

After routing all passengers to Portland, Pendleton and other Oregon points for the past two days, via the Southern Pacific and Sacramento, Calif., the Oregon Short Line tonight will send through trains via Pocatello and Huntington. This step is announced following a dispatch received at headquarters here this morning to the effect that the washouts in the Burnt River district had been overcome.

High water in Idaho and Oregon continues to give trouble to the operating departments of the O. R. & N. and the Oregon Short Line. Following the going by the board of the new steel bridge at Weatherly, 12 miles west of Huntington, on Friday several other bridges on this side of the Oregon State line are causing the officials some worry. For the past five days Supt. Manson has been out on the west end strengthening the piers and sealing the gaps kept the driftwood clear of the piers. Several work trains have been enlisted to haul rock from Shoshone to various points on the Snake river where the feed waters are booming. It is stated that the freshest water has been high before as they have been during the past 10 days. The cold snap on Saturday and Sunday however, has had the effect of making the water drop six inches and it is now thought that all danger of trains being held up has been passed. The bridge over the Boise river is being watched. The trains which were abandoned on Friday are now all running again on schedule time.

STUDENTS COMING.

Exploration Party from the Chicago University to Arrive in Utah. Chief Clerk W. M. Hunsberger of the passenger department of the Rio Grande has returned from a trip to Marysville, where he went last week partially for the purpose of arranging preliminaries for a trip down the Grand Canyon which is contemplated by a party of students and faculty of the Chicago University. As matters now stand Harvey Mills, the Marysville hotel keeper, will outfit the party and provide guides. The explorers expect to spend over a month camping out. They are due here during the first week in June.

SHEEP GO EAST.

First Trainload of the Season Leaves Payson for Kansas City. The first trainload of sheep this season to leave Utah for the eastern market was pulled out of Payson yesterday. The consignment of 3,000 head, newly shorn, was owned by Charles Cox and McBeth Bros. and was routed to Kansas City over the Rio Grande, Colorado Midland and the Rock Island. The star feature of the loading was the work of General Agent Harding of the Midland. It was his first experience in this direction—comments are superfluous.

SPIKE AND RAIL.

The San Pedro now has 14 men employed in the new repair shops at Milford. C. P. Lemprey manager of the Erie Dispatch, with headquarters in Chicago, is in Salt Lake today. General Superintendent J. H. Young of the Rio Grande Western went up the Park City branch on an inspection trip. During the storm on the lake on Friday night spray from the waves went clear over a freight train which was crossing at the time.

The Pennsylvania has fallen into line. Orders have been sent out to stop at once all the improvements that are in contemplation on the system. C. H. Markham, who was recently appointed general manager of the Southern Pacific, arrived in San Francisco from Texas on Saturday. There are still about 1,800 men employed on the Luch cut-off, about 1,250 of them are at Lakeside, 250 at Frontony Point, and the rest scattered along at intervals.

Traveling Freight Agent Burroughs of the Nickel Plate at Minneapolis, is expected to arrive today to take the place made vacant by the resignation of J. J. Plaisted. No. 504, one of the big engines recently received by the San Pedro, is now stationed at Milford. Owing to the tracks it is not permitted to run faster than 45 miles an hour. Rio Grande trains today, both east and west, are running in two sections. C. D. Dunnham, general passenger agent for the Pacific Coast Steamship company at San Francisco, is numbered among the visitors in Salt Lake today.

Western traffic officials have agreed to a general reduction of 25 cents a ton on all coal originating in Colorado, Wyoming and other western points and destined to Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Indian Territory. The rate went into effect on April 15 and holds good until July 31. The decrease in the movement of freight during the month of February as compared with the same period of 1903 is shown in the reports of 34 car service associations of the United States. In February of this year the movement was 1,984,883 cars, as against 2,068,385. For the two months ended with February the movement was 3,964,484 cars, as against 4,192,463 for the same period of 1903. A trade journal is responsible for the statement that railroad equipment orders have fallen off fully 75 per cent. During the last six months the railroads have ordered only 25,540 freight cars, whereas during the same period a year ago the orders amounted to 123,450. During the last six months the orders for locomotives amounted to 354, as compared with 2,459 a year ago. More freight cars and locomotives were ordered during the single month of October, 1902, than have been during the entire last six months.

CHURCH NOTICES.

A special conference of all members of the Ensign stake of Zion will be held in the Salt Lake Assembly hall on Thursday evening, April 21. The meeting is called for the purpose of considering recent appointments and was deemed necessary as the regular quarterly conference will not be held till June 26.

A full attendance of the Priesthood and stake and ward officers and all the Saints is earnestly desired. COUNSELORS TO BISHOP EMPY.

President Richard W. Young and Second Counselor John M. Knight of the Ensign stake, met last night with the Saints of the Thirteenth ward and effected certain changes in the ward hierarchy. On account of the removal from the ward of Elder George J. Cannon, first counselor to Bishop Nelson A. Empey he was honorably released and Elder Charles A. Johnson, second counselor, was chosen as his successor. The vacancy caused by the promotion of Elder Johnson was filled by the selection of Elder Samuel M. Taylor, who was ordained a High Priest and sustained as second counselor to the Bishop.

TRIED TO CONCEAL IT.

Case of Smallpox Discovered at Lucas Residence on Eighth South.

A startling case of an attempt to conceal from the board of health a case of smallpox of a week's standing was disclosed today by a neighbor of the person afflicted with the disease. The name of the victim is Mr. Luce, aged 50 years, who resides at 853 east Eighth South. A son of Mr. Luce had the smallpox about a month ago and the house was placed under quarantine, but was released from quarantine a little over a week ago. The father of the boy evidently contracted the disease and was taken down shortly after the flag was removed from the house. The case was not reported to the board of health at all until one of the man's neighbors reported it today. Quarantine Inspector Fowler was sent to the Lucas residence at once as he arrived Mr. Luce was just coming from the city and had just alighted from a street car. She refused to allow him to enter the house but the inspector told her he would go in if he had to crawl through the window. She finally consented to admit him and after a casual examination of Mr. Luce's condition, the inspector pronounced it a case of genuine smallpox and the family was again placed in quarantine.

During the week that it is supposed Mr. Luce has been afflicted with the disease, his wife and members of the family have been continually associating with other people and going from and to the house without any restriction and it is very probable that they have exposed a large number of people to the disease.

EIGHT YEARS FOR JACK FUREY.

Man Who Pleaded Guilty to Robbing the Zang Saloon Gets a Stiff Sentence.

JOHN QUINN GETS FIVE YEARS.

Case Against Mayor Glasman, Charged With Dereliction of Duty, is Dismissed.

(Special to the "News.")

Ogden, April 18.—John Furey appeared before Judge Hart this morning, having pleaded guilty to the charge of robbing the Zang saloon, Oct. 2. The court sentenced him to eight years in the state prison.

John Quinn, another of the same gang, who had also pleaded guilty to the charge, was sentenced to five years in the state prison. He stated that he was only twenty years of age and was not one of the principals in the hold-up. For this reason he received a lighter sentence.

James Hope withdrew his plea of not guilty to the charge of grand larceny and entered a plea of guilty, the offense being the robbery of an old man named Anderson of the sum of $1.65. District Attorney Halverson requested that he be given the minimum sentence of one year in the state prison and the court fixed 5 o'clock this evening for the time of sentence.

GLASMAN CASE DISMISSED.

Judge Hart this morning rendered his decision in the case brought against Mayor Glasman by J. J. Shepherd, asking for the removal of the mayor on account of alleged dereliction of duty in permitting gambling and other vices in the city limits. The court held that the allegations contained in the complaint were not sufficiently specific to constitute a cause of action, in that the accusation did not set forth the time the acts complained of were committed or the persons who committed them. The court therefore dismissed the case without prejudice.

LEAVE TO AMEND GIVEN.

Attorney Lessinger asked leave to amend the accusation as to time, etc., which was granted, one day being given him in which to make the amendment.

HABEAS CORPUS CASE.

The habeas corpus proceedings brought by J. J. Shepherd, who is now confined in the county jail awaiting trial on the charge of criminal libel and preferred against him by Detective Pender, were begun immediately after the court's decision in the other case. The arguments are being heard this afternoon.

ITALIAN BADLY BURNED.

HARRY M CLOUD PLAYS TO LUCK.

Lock Trick Man Released Because A Faulty Complaint Was Issued.

WRIT NEARLY WENT BY DEFAULT.

Habeas Corpus Proceeding Apparently Did Not Interest the County Attorney in the Least.

After serving over four months on a sentence of 200 days in the county jail for working the lock trick on a victim, Harry McCloud was this morning released by Judge Morse under a writ of habeas corpus on the ground that the complaint upon which he was convicted did not state a public offense. The petition for the writ was filed by Atty. Kinney & Christensen and was argued by the latter, attorney this morning.

The writ would have been granted by default had it not been for Judge Morse sending for the county attorney to appear in court. The complaint in the case was drawn up by Asst. County Atty. Smith and, after Asst. County Atty. Whitaker appeared in court in answer to the summons of Judge Morse, he read the complaint over and then allowed the petition to be granted without any argument.

CONFERENCE OF THE UTAH STAKE.

Meetings Held in the Provo Tabernacle on Saturday and Sunday.

CHURCH LEADERS PRESENT.

Interesting Addresses by Presidents Lund and Lyman, Elder George A. Smith and Others.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

After the usual opening exercises in the afternoon, the following Bishops reported their duties: Bishop Oliver B. Huntington, Jr., Springville First ward; Bishop John Johnson, Lake View; Bishop Lars L. Nelson, Provo Second ward; Bishop Otis L. Terry, Timpanogos ward; all giving favorable reports.

SUNDAY FORENOON.

Large congregations attended the services yesterday. The forenoon session opened by the reading of the scriptures singing "Redeemer of Israel," etc. Prayer was offered by Elder H. H. Cluff. The choir sang the anthem: "Not Ashamed of Jesus." Elder George A. Smith of the Council of the Apostles, congratulated the Saints of this stake upon having such a pleasant time in which to meet, and the privilege of listening to such a fine choir, whose singing, if in the right spirit, was as acceptable to the Lord as any sermon that could be preached. Elder Smith read from the Hebrew scriptures the commandments of the Lord relative to the observance of the Sabbath day. These commandments were for all people and for all times, but the spirit of iniquity had made such gains that, to a great extent, the people of the world disregarded these laws and made the Sabbath day a day of pleasure and not a day of worship. In addition to the Mosaic law the Latter-day Saints were under another commandment given to Joseph Smith the Prophet, requiring the Sabbath day to be kept holy. He read from a revelation given to the Prophet Joseph in Jackson county, Mo., in 1830; and from section 68 of the Doctrine and Covenants, commanding parents to teach their children the principles of the Gospel, and where the observance of the Sabbath is again enjoined as a duty upon the Saints. Now that the summer time had come the parents should see to it that their children do not visit places of amusement, and that they are kept at home and do not devote the Sabbath day to pleasure seeking. If they fail to keep the Sabbath they are sowing the seeds of apostasy in the hearts of their children. While the eyes of the world are upon the Latter-day Saints let them not be able to say that we fail to obey the commandments of the Lord in regard to the Sabbath day, and other commandments, that men may see our works and glorify our Father who is in heaven. Misses Florence Jepperson, Alice Orier, and Messrs. J. B. Boshard and H. S. Pyne sang, "Take Up Thy Cross and Follow Me." President Anthony H. Lund said he had greatly enjoyed the services of the morning. The Spirit of the Lord had been with us, and he could endorse the remarks of the brethren. There was an opinion among some people that if they observed the Sabbath day, it was not so essential to observe commandments which were looked upon as of less importance. Sin is the violation of the law of God, and we should not think of ourselves as such a state of mind that we believe some of the laws of God are not important. He urged the Saints to observe the commandment of the Lord relating to the Sabbath day, and keep the commandment in the spirit. It was given by the Lord for the benefit of His children. He forbade the doing any kind of work on that day; but in addition He commanded that we should meet together in worship and to obtain spiritual strength and therefore merely staying at home and resting does not comply with the commandment. President Lund earnestly urged the Saints not to fall into the habit of staying away from meetings. There were some in our midst who held that the first day in the week is not the day that should be observed as the Sabbath day. The Bible does not settle this question. The Bible has been accepted by the Christian world as containing all the word of God; but one of the Apostles had said that if all the words of the Savior were written the books of the world would not contain them. The speaker believed the Lord's day (Sunday) was observed as the Sabbath by the early Christians, but we should without doubt in the matter by the revelation given to the Prophet Joseph Smith, reading from the fifty-ninth section of the Doctrine and Covenants, which designates Sunday as the Sabbath day; the day in which we should rest from our labors and worship the Lord. President Lund closed by calling attention to the consistency of "Mormonism" with the Gospel taught by the Savior, which would not have been the case if the Prophet Joseph had established the Church by his own intelligence, but was an evidence of the divinity of the work. The choir sang, "Hail The Glorious Dawn." Benediction was offered by Patriarch Oliver B. Huntington.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON. The services opened by the choir singing "The Pilgrim's Chorus." Prayer was offered by Elder George S. Taylor. The choir rendered the anthem: "Lord of Heaven." After presenting and sustaining the general and stake authorities, the following home missionaries were presented: Ole E. Olsen, Seth Scott, James H. Frisley, J. W. Danegard, P. H. Cluff, L. O. Taft, M. L. Pratt, C. E. March, Joseph A. Buttle, W. D. Roberts, Jr., Simon P. Eggertsen, John V. Wadsworth, A. J. Southwick, Joshua Hodson, Frank Boyer, John Hoyer, Hugh Clayton, Albert Knudsen, R. President George H. Brimhall, reported the Brigham Young university in a good condition, as reported at the last conference he reported that President Cluff had left the university in splendid condition and the efforts had been to not fall behind. A new school had been added to the university, that of art and industries, of which he was very proud. Good progress had been made in woodwork and decorative arts, and the school intended to add instruction in iron work the coming year. He spoke of one feature that did not appear to be a good showing—many students leaving before they graduate. The reason for this, however, was gratifying, viz.: That there was such a great demand for the students, both of the normal and commercial departments that they could not remain to complete their work. He complimented the teachers for their loyalty to the university, which led them to remain in spite of better financial inducements offered them elsewhere. The students also were a splendid body of men and women. The great aim of the school was to produce earnest, conscientious Latter-day Saints; in that they had been blessed with success, and enjoyed the Spirit of God in their labors. Willard Andelin sang "Within those Sacred Walls."

President Francis M. Lyman read the 37th verse, Twentieth section of the Doctrine and Covenants in regard to baptism of those who had repented of their sins and showed faith in the principles of the Gospel. This condition can only be retained through humility and a diligent performance of duty; if such a condition is necessary in a person before he can become a member of the Church, how much more should it be the condition of those who had become members of the Church. There was sometimes a doubt in the minds of members of the Church as to whether the blessings of the Church were of God, and whether Joseph Smith was a Prophet; when this condition exists the person has not done the will of the Lord in all things for if we do the will of the Lord we will know of the truth of the doctrine, in a dangerous for men and women to be in doubt in these things, because if it is anything we should be certain about it is our salvation. Prophets and inspired men have looked forward to this time, when the Lord will bring success to the Church and Kingdom of God and we are looking forward to that time. To that end the Church has been established, and it has been guarded and protected from its infancy and will continue to be so guarded. Institutions and organizations have been established in the Church for the advancement of the people such as the university of which President Brimhall had spoken. This school and other Church schools had encountered difficulties of a financial nature. The loyalty to the teachers under those conditions was commended and a promise made that these schools would in the future be financially endowed and become measurably independent. The importance of teaching the principles of the Gospel at home, and the superior opportunities for doing this at home to doing it in the world, were pointed out, and the teachers of the schools, and all who are members of the Church have a great and a responsible work devolving upon them in this direction. As a result of the education which was given the young people, not only in the Church schools, but in the schools of the state, an intelligent, city-loving, God-fearing people will be produced; a people who are just and honorable and whose method and wisdom will demand recognition from the world. The choir sang, "Praise the Lord." The choir was offered by Elder James L. Brown.

M. I. A. CONFERENCE.

A conference of the young people was held in the evening attended by a large congregation. The following addresses were delivered: Dana, a member of the Stake, and Margaret Thurman, Elders B. H. Ballou, Alfred Ormrod, George H. Brimhall, George A. Smith and Francis M. Lyman. President Clayton, Albert Knudsen, R. L. McDonald, Rowell D. Bird, John Hineson, Wm. Wiscomb, Martin Clinger, Verne L. Bunnell, Daniel H. Thomas, George S. Taylor, Axel F. Anderson, John P. Madson, Elias A. Gee, John E. Booth, D. P. Thorsen, Asha G. Gee.
