

AMERICAN VIEW OF PEACE CONGRESS

U. S. Delegates to do All in Their Power to Enlarge the Powers of Permanent Hague Tribunal.

TO TAKE ADVANCED POSITION.

On Customs Governing War on Land Restricting Mines and Torpedo Zones and Other Matters.

Washington, D. C., June 9.—Naturally, having in a way fathered the second Hague conference, the Washington government has shown the deepest interest in every detail of the program of important subjects to be considered by that conference. Of the first order of importance, according to the American view, is the proposal that improvements be made in the provisions of the existing convention relative to a peaceful settlement of international disputes as regards the court of arbitration and the international commission of inquiry. Instructions of the American delegates on this point are known to be explicit. They are to do everything in their power to advance the conference to enlarge the powers of the permanent Hague tribunal in dealing with arbitration cases; and, above all, the effort is to be made to bring more business before the tribunal, to induce nations to have more frequent recourse to this tribunal for the settlement of their disputes.

PRESIDENT DISAPPOINTED.

The president and Secy. Root are disappointed at the very small issue from the august tribunal. Since its creation it has passed upon just four cases. First, was the Pius case, involving the disposition of the fund set apart by Mexico to satisfy the Catholic church in California for church property taken over by the state. Second, there was the settlement of the question growing out of the blockade of the Venezuela ports by the allied powers. Third, was the Alaskan boundary question between America and Great Britain. Fourth, was the decision of a question that had arisen between Japan and Great Britain over the exemption from taxation of foreign dwellers in Japan. All but the last of these cases were of American origin. In other words, although some international disputes have arisen and been adjusted diplomatically or by force of arms since the creation of the Hague tribunal, America and Great Britain have been the only parties to resort to arbitration.

The American delegates will also take an advanced position in the discussion and treatment of the second article in the Hague program, namely, the additions to the laws and customs of war on land. Details of these propositions relate to the opening of hostilities, the rights of neutrals on land, etc.

TREATMENT OF NEUTRALS.

No country has taken a more advanced position than America in the liberal treatment of neutrals on the high seas in time of war, therefore the American delegates will give strong support to the third article of the program which, in substance, proposes to minimize the exercise of the right of bombardment and the seizure of private property at sea. On the latter point it may be recalled that America was first among nations to propose that private property on the seas should be treated as it is properly treated in time of war, that it should be exempt from seizure, if not made up of contraband of war, and if seized to meet naval necessities, proper compensation should be made to the owner. America also takes a very liberal view of contraband of war, and her delegates will seek to limit the list by international agreement (something new, heretofore accomplished) so as to avoid unjust seizures of private property.

In the Spanish war America was particularly indulgent in its treatment of Spanish ships that were caught in foreign ports at the outbreak of the war, and, it may be added, Spain reciprocated in the same spirit. The effort will be made to give what was a mere courtesy at that time the force of international law by some appropriate enactment at the Hague conference.

DRAGO DOCTRINE.

Though not offering the same promise of satisfactory agreement, the four subjects on the regular program above referred to, of far greater interest to the public are two propositions, one relating to the limitation of armaments, and the other concerning the famous Drago doctrine, which may be discussed if the conference so wills.

The attitude of the American delegates toward these subjects is known and which there has been much speculation in after all, reasonably clear. A careful perusal of Secy. Root's public utterances, the attitude of the American delegates, though, of course, not the details of their instructions.

assembly to order. Ontario, British Columbia, Alaska and Mexico, as well as all the western states represented. A committee was appointed this morning to examine the credentials of the delegates and the time of adjournment of the convention. It is expected that the convention will be held for several days, after which the sessions will continue as usual.

One of the first questions which it is said the convention will discuss is the formation of the industrial organizations, which is meant the consolidation into one federation of all the unions engaged in the same branches of the same enterprise.

No opposition to continuing in office President Charles H. Meyer, and Secy. Treas. William D. Hayward, has been expressed by any of the delegates, and the convention is expected to go on record with a strong endorsement of the two officers, who are charged with conducting the convention at the Hotel Steubenberg of Idaho.

STEEL AND IRON EXPORTS.

New York, June 10.—While the exports of finished iron and steel last month were the smallest for any one month in the last decade, the present figures are the largest in any 24 days in the history of the trade. The May arrivals at New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore reached a total of nearly 25,000 tons.

MURDERED BY THUGS.

San Francisco, June 10.—A Mexican named Enrique, member of the steamer Sierra, was killed last night by thugs who struck him on the head with a blunt instrument. Enrique and Antonio Torrell, a freeman on the Sierra, when on Jackson street between Montgomery and Sansome were attacked by two men who fell them to the ground. Torrell was cut on the head and face and when he recovered consciousness found his companion stretched on the sidewalk motionless.

VICTORIA OPERATED ON.

Marid, June 10.—Queen Victoria, it has been learned, was somewhat indisposed for several days. A slight surgical operation performed on her was now well again. The court will leave on Thursday for La Granje.

S. F. TRACKMEN WILL STRIKE.

San Francisco, June 10.—The 1,500 members of the railway conductors' union, known as trackmen, employed by the United railroads, practically made up their minds at a meeting held yesterday afternoon to strike if the present plans are carried out the men will leave the service of California next Friday morning. They claim that the corporation has failed to make good on its promise to pay the strikers their full wages. The latter have been working on a strike basis for some time, and that the United railroads are seeking to make them work for less money and longer hours than heretofore.

VIRGINIA HOTEL BURNED.

Norfolk, Va., June 10.—The Princess Anne hotel at Virginia Beach, Va., was destroyed early today by fire originating in the kitchen. More than 50 guests had narrow escapes. Two negro chambermaids and a reporter were killed. The loss is estimated at over $100,000.

TO AID STRIKING UNIONS.

San Francisco, June 10.—A plan to aid the striking unions of the city was launched at the labor temple last night when a committee representing every labor union in the city gathered to discuss every union working man and woman working woman employed in San Francisco the sum of from 25 to 50 cents a week, the money to be used to pay their strikers' full wages. The leaders in this latest co-operative labor movement say that $25,000 a week will be realized in this way and that the strikers will be forthcoming till the strikes are won.

CONTRACTS FOR STEEL CARS.

Pittsburg, June 10.—Contracts for the construction of 6,000 steel cars, averaging in cost $5,500, have been placed within the past 35 hours by the United States Steel corporation. This is one of the largest orders for steel products and the largest for steel cars that has been placed since steel car construction has been at its height in the Pittsburg district. To fill the orders about 50,000 tons of steel plates will be required.

SCULPTOR CIFARELLO.

To Relieve Monotony of Prison Life, Allowed to Work on His Art.

Rome, June 10.—Filippo Cifarello, a noted Italian sculptor who was in prison in Naples for more than a year awaiting trial for the murder of his woman companion, who was a music hall star, has recently been permitted to work at his art in order to ease his mind of his mental troubles. He is now working on a statue of a woman who has been fitted up as a studio and here the sculptor, who is believed to be mad, passes the day making the statue. His latest work is a magnificent group of the royal family, which he has taken from a picture hanging in the prison.

RIGHT TO DEED PROPERTY.

Atty. Gen. Breeden Returns Opinion of Interest to County Officials.

Atty. Gen. Breeden has returned an opinion in the affirmative, to a query from Treasurer Alma D. Chambers of Weber county asking as to the right of county commissioners to sell property deeded to the county after the time of redemption has expired to the highest bidder. The attorney general in his opinion says: "I believe the legislature intended

PILGRIMAGE OF THE UTAH PIONEERS SIXTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 9, 1847.

At half past 4 o'clock a. m. the thermometer stood at 41° F. in the pioneer camp. There was a moderate west wind blowing, with a clear sky, which rendered the morning serene and pleasant. The pioneers started about sunrise and traveled about eight miles and better grass, and then stopped for breakfast. As they continued their journey about 20 miles they crossed a stream about 20 miles wide called Little Timber creek, and as they descended into the stream, they soon picked them with their spades, hoes and bick axes.

Some of the pioneers expressed the opinion that they fully worked their poll tax on the new road, as they had 10 or 12 men detailed daily to go in advance of the company with iron bars and other necessary implements measured the road with their mile machine, and placed the mile poles every 10 miles since they left Laramie. About one mile before they camped they crossed a small stream, they encamped at night on the right bank of a creek 24 feet wide, called "A in Paree" after traveling during the day 19½ miles. The ground on the bottom of this stream was very good. The river was about the same in quantity and kind as the river on former streams in this part of the country. Just above the point where the pioneers camped this stream runs through a mountainous region a natural bridge. The pioneer road this forenoon passed over a red clay formation.

to authorize the board of county commissioners to dispose of all property which has been decided upon by the county after the time of redemption has expired. That is to say, after the time of redemption has expired, the property is sold for taxes and undischarged property is transferred to the county, the commissioners may sell such property for the best price obtainable and deposit the amount this received to the proper fund. This sale may be made by the commissioners without reference to the amount of taxes, interest and costs charged on and against the property. The sale to be made prior to the expiration of the period of redemption and the amount of the taxes, interest and costs charged against the property, but after the time of redemption has expired and the property has been deeded to the county, a different principle will obtain under the statute and the commissioners are not limited to any particular amount and you are advised in accordance with these views."

"PURPLE DAY" COMING.

The committee named by Exalted Ruler Cooper is composed of the following: Thomas Homer, A. W. Raymond, G. R. Cleaveland, E. R. Wheelon and P. H. Irwin. The plans are to have a big parade on the evening of the 19th, and every Elks in Salt Lake is expected to turn out on that occasion. Some of theanders herd will be in line with the uniformed silk hats and face and when they recovered consciousness found his companion stretched on the sidewalk motionless.

The temperature of the water was 68 degrees, and the high water added materially to the delights of the salt sea bath. The swimmers also received a heavy patronage. Probably 3,000 people visited the lake during the day.

HUSLER'S FLOUR!

Makes good—by making Good! Bread and other good things to eat.

THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1847.

At 6 o'clock a. m. the thermometer stood at 57.8 degrees F. in the pioneer camp. The morning was calm, with a beautiful clear sky. Considerable snow deposited during the night. Eight miles and three quarters brought the pioneers to a stream about 20 feet wide, called "Poudre River" in latitude 42 degrees 51 minutes 5 seconds. This stream is now known as Boxelder creek. The pioneers halted here for a meal. A few miles to the west of the Boxelder bottoms, the river had brought the pioneers from their noon halt about 60 feet wide and two feet deep with coarse gravel or pebble stone banks on the right bank, and about three-quarters of a mile from the ford, there about an extensive bed of bituminous coal of a superior quality. There was a large cottonwood on this creek, the mouth of Deer creek is 42 degrees 52 minutes 50 seconds, as given by the aneroid altitude of Arcturus, taken by Orson Pratt.

War veterans of this state will hold their annual reunion at Lakewood on Tuesday next. Indian fighters from all over the state will be there and a highly enjoyable time is anticipated. The program will include an oration from the Exalted Ruler of Salt Lake, B. P. O. E., Secy. R. Young of Salt Lake, besides songs and dances. The speaker for which the Indian "Veto" are noted. This feature is usually led by George Harrison of Springfield.

HOODLUMS MOB SQUAW.

Skull Valley Ute Made the Target for Rocks and Abuse.

Down near the Oregon Short Line depot, where Indian camps have been pitched in decreasing numbers for over two decades, there is now the lone camp of an aged squaw, who seems to have been deserted and left without friends. Her wigwam has been standing there for several weeks, and now a mob of police officers, who seem to be on the lookout for trouble, have gathered around the old Indian, until yesterday there was almost a mob assault on her. She broke down under it, and lifted up her voice in loud wailing, which only seemed to incite increased jeering from the attacking youngsters. The case was so serious that it seems to call for some kind of action. The squaw goes by the name of Phoebe, and is a Skull Valley Ute.

WIFE BEATER FINED $120.

Charles Hansen is the man, who was arrested a day or two ago on the charge of assaulting and beating his wife, and who was convicted of the assault. He was before Judge Ditch on Saturday for sentence and was given to understand that his punishment would be all for a coward who will assault a woman. Hansen was charged with drunkenness in addition to the assault. He was discharged on the charge he was discharged and started to walk out when Judge Ditch stopped him and imposed a fine for wife beating. Hansen can produce $120 he will serve 15 days in labor in the city jail.
