HAD GOOD WEATHER.

Utah's Honored Old Folks Have a Splendid Time Today.

PROGRAM AT PLEASANT GROVE.

The Storm Passed Them By While They Were Engaged in Their Festivities.

Old Folk's day—July 11, 1895, dawned bright and beautiful. The showers of the previous day and evening brought a delightful coolness to the atmosphere, and the bright sunlight made all nature gay. The few fleecy clouds that floated over the hill tops gave no indication of storm such as broke the evening before. Everything was as favorable as could be wished for the annual occasion of special honors to the veterans.

The hour for the train to leave the Union Pacific depot at Salt Lake City for Pleasant Grove, Utah county, 35 miles south, was 8 o'clock a. m., but long before 7 o'clock the old folks were out, determined that on this occasion of all others they would not be behind time. The badges—red for those between 70 and 80 years of age, blue for between 80 and 90 and white for those who had passed the latter age—were honored by the streetcar companies as usual, and their wearers carried free. There were hundreds of red badges, quite a sprinkling of the blue, and still a goodly number of the white, though by comparison with the others these were few.

The Union Pacific had provided a magnificent train of eighteen new passenger coaches and one baggage car, drawn by two large locomotives, Nos. [illegible] and 1016, with two trusty engineers, Nat Johnson and Abe Hatch. "The [illegible] train that ever ran out of Salt Lake," said Conductor John A[illegible], and he knows for he has been with the railroads ever since their first advent here. Conductor Arnmo is the Old Folks' conductor. Whatever they go over the Union Pacific they want him—as popular today as years ago, when a young man, he filled the same position. Although he now has reached an age when he may be [illegible] years sufficient for a grandfather, he still is "Johnnie" Arnmo to the Old Folks who are a quarter of a century or more his seniors. Prompt, cheerful, smiling, he meets and is met by all with a smile.

The Old Folks' committee, from the veteran George Goddard, who wears a red badge and soon will wear the blue, "Charlie" Savage, and all the others, whose names are names of honor—every one was busy in giving all needed attention to the veterans. When the time for starting came, they had everything in apple pie order, and away to the south went the precious load of freight, gazed at by crowds of people assembled along the line bidding them Godspeed.

Arrive at Pleasant Grove.

Special Dispatch to the NEWS.

PLEASANT GROVE, July 11.—All the railway officials did their best to make the Old Folks comfortable and succeeded admirably. The Old Folks' choir was on hand under the leadership of William Foster, who has been a leader from the first. Just as the train pulled out the choir poured forth the merry strains of All Aboard, the selection being rendered with exquisite harmony, bringing tears of joy to many faces. The Old Folks were all aboard for a day of rejoicing. As the train moved on the choir went from car to car singing various selections.

OVER NINETY.

On the train, as it passed from Salt Lake to Utah counties, there were six persons over ninety years of age viz. —Janett Aird, infirmary, 95; Sarah Free, Seventeenth ward, 95; Mrs. S. L. Sprague, Thirteenth ward, 93; Mary Argent, West Jordan, 92; Louis Davis, Seventeenth ward, 90; Nannie Nowell, Twelfth ward, 93.

ARRIVE AT THE GROVE.

At 10:25 a.m. the train reached Pleasant Grove and the old folks were warmly welcomed and escorted to the grove. At the station was the Pleasant Grove band which played several airs. The old folks were conveyed in carriages and wagons while the younger people walked. The children of the [illegible] Pleasant Grove Sunday schools were drawn up on the street facing the station and made a most beautiful picture. The grove, at the First ward meeting house, giving a magnificent shade, was well provided with seats and tables. At the entrance was an arch over which were the words "Welcome and Honor to the Aged." There was a large committee of Pleasant Grove citizens to conduct the affairs. A host of young ladies attended to serving refreshments at the tables and young men distributed lemonade. On the platform there assembled the Old Folks' committees of Salt Lake and Pleasant Grove, the choirs and leading citizens of Salt Lake and Utah counties including Brigham Young, John Henry Smith, Francis M. Lyman, Heber J. Grant, Jonathan G. Kimball, Jos. E. Taylor, C. W. Penrose, Judge W. N. Dusenberry, Mayor Jas. D. Baileck, Pioneers John Brown, Henson Walker and others. Many people came from the surrounding settlements, about sixty wagon loads coming from Lehi, with the silver band. There were present about 1,200 persons over 70 from Salt Lake county and about 2,500 other people of all ages, including the oldest lady in Pleasant Grove, Mrs. Sproul, aged 94.

THE PROGRAM.

The program commenced at 11:25 by the Old Folks' choir singing "Auld Lang Syne," and prayer was offered by Elder Lyman.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME.

The choir then sang We Shall Know, and Mayor Baileck made a brief address of welcome and notified the old folks that luncheon was ready. This consisted of a bounteous repast served in splendid style in the grove by the waitresses. Then the guests had a short time for mingling in general conversation and indulging in reminiscences of early days, many interesting events being recalled.

About 1 o'clock clouds began to lower and a shower threatened. There was a rumbling of thunder, but the [illegible] swept the clouds to the southward and there was no downpour. At [illegible] all over 90 were called to the platform and those from Salt Lake who [illegible] were Mrs. Margaret Plouts, 94, Jacob E. Terry, 9[illegible], and Wm. Harrison, 93, also came. All were given front seats. While the company was assembling the Lehi band played and the Old Folks' choir sang, O My Father.

SAVAGE ORIGINATED IT.

The veteran George Goddard was received with applause. He said Charles R. Savage was the man who was the prime mover of the Old Folks day. He continued it twenty years ago. Brother Goddard called for those who attended the first excursion to Lake Point in 1875. About thirty-five stood up. Brother Goddard said he was thankful for the beautiful weather, and said: "All who are thankful to our Heavenly Father say I say aye." There was a loud chorus of ayes. "God bless you all," the veteran responded, after which the Lehi band played and Elder Brigham Young was called on. He addressed his remarks to the fathers and mothers in Israel, the Latter-day Saints and friends. He blessed the people present and wished them peace and the enjoyment of many occasions like this.

Agnes Olsen Thomas sang the Swanee River.

AT GARFIELD TEN YEARS AGO.

Elder Francis M. Lyman said he had been with the Old Folks only once before, ten years ago, at Garfield. He spoke of this pleasant grove and expressed a wish to meet here again. He agreed that for every one over 70 who died there were two or three coming in. The old folks were increasing. Those who pass away should be able to carry good news to the other side and tell how we love and cherish the old folks in Utah. He blessed the committee, the young people who were kind to the aged and the old folks. He believed Utah would become remarkable for love and respect for the old folks.

RECEIVED WITH CHEERS.

Mother Margaret Plouts, who was at Haun's Mill, is now 95 years old and does her own housework, was introduced and received with three cheers. Misses Frampton and Swenson, of Pleasant Grove, sang a duet. Those over 90 were asked to arise and eight did so. They were given three cheers. Mother Janett Aird, 95 last February, was announced the oldest person present. Patriarch John Brown, one of the Pioneers, expressed his delight at what existed here now compared with 1847. He was followed by Elder John Henry Smith and Chairman Thorne. The Doxology was sung, then prayer by Joseph E. Taylor, and the company went into the cars to avoid a prospective shower. The train leaves for Salt Lake at five; all well. The Pleasant Grove Old Folks' executive committee consists of James T. Thorne, A. B. Walker, M. D. Atwood, Joseph D. Wadley, H. B. Herrett, Joseph W. Ash, A. F. Sonberg, Wm. Cullimore, E. C. Builers, Annie Holman, Chas. Lina Walker, Mrs. Alex Ellis, Susan Lund, Emma Cobley, N. Elizabeth Thorne.

TERRIBLE MURDER.

Thomas Boynton, Keysville, Slain By His Stepson.

A MOST ATROCIOUS CRIME.

The Slayer, Nephi Elmmires, was Insane—Now in Jail—Funeral Tomorrow.

One of the most shocking and atrocious murders ever recorded in this section of the country, was committed yesterday at Keysville, and as a result the body of Thomas Boynton, aged 60 years, now lies ready to be placed in the grave. The particulars of the case are as follows:

In the house living with Mr. Boynton was his son and stepson, his wife having died about a year ago. His stepson, Nephi Elmmires, has been somewhat demented for years, but was never thought dangerous, until recently when he has made threats to do certain desperate things but afterwards would say that he did not mean what he said. On Tuesday evening Mr. Boynton and Nephi had some words which no doubt he brooded over and in the morning when he arose he went to Mr. Boynton's bed room and finding that he was alone took an ax and dashed out the brains of his stepfather. After doing this he went out on to the porch and coolly told Mr. Boynton's son that he had killed his father.

The son was terror-stricken, and rushing to his father's sleeping apartment was horrified to find that such was the case. The horrible event was soon heralded over the city, and many were the expressions of regret which went out from friends of the murdered man. The murderer was immediately arrested and placed in jail. An inquest was held and a verdict was returned in accordance with the facts of the case. Funeral will be held tomorrow.
