

COUNCIL REVOKES LIQUOR LICENSE

Case Where Sunday Law Was Violated Disposed of In Short Order.

McGINTY ASKS CITY TO PAY

Special Policemen Used On Election Day Should Draw Money from the Municipal Treasury, He Says.

By the vote of every member present, the city council last evening revoked the license of the California Wine company and the Broughton Bar, doing business at 146 west Second South. Going further, it was resolved that no permission be given for a license at the place for a period of at least six months. The action was taken because of the complaint made by the chief of police that liquor had been sold at the bar on Sunday, and the two officers who had raided the place testified before the council last night, after which the drastic measures were adopted.

It developed at the hearing that only one license had been taken out for the wholesale house and the retail next door, both being run in the name of Ike Wolf. In this way the city was being beaten to the amount of $400 a year, as the retail license was made to carry the wholesale business.

Councilman Stewart, chairman of the license committee, wanted the Broughton bar stopped from doing further business, but was of the opinion that Mr. Wolf was an innocent party and should not be severely dealt with. Other members, however, were not of like opinion, and the councilman from the Fourth had to give way.

Mr. Hall was in favor of rescinding the license, but contended that it would not be the proper thing to place the building under the proposed ban. Mr. Martin took the stand that landlords should be given to understand that if they rented their premises to men who persisted in breaking the law, the owner would have to suffer part of the consequences. In this way, he thought, more care would be exercised all around and saloons with questionable reputations could better be kept under control. The six months' restriction was then passed, with Mr. Hall voting in the negative.

McGINTY'S PLEA.

The council was petitioned by the "American" party committee, by its chairman, J. E. McGinty, to pay out of the public funds the men appointed special policemen on election day. The appointments were made by the chief of police, and the contention was made by Chairman McGinty that they should be paid from the city treasury the same as deputy sheriffs were paid with county funds. The finance committee will decide the matter.

No action was taken on the proposal to take out of the hands of the contractors the wooden pipe line in connection with the intercepting sewer, it being contended that the Campbell Construction company is engaged in repairing the leakages with a view of making the line serviceable in the near future. The matter went over for a week. There was a lively tilt between Mr. Ferry and Mr. McGinty, the latter saying that Chairman McMillan of the board of public works had assured him that everything at the pipe line was in order, to which Mr. Ferry made an answer as follows: "I don't want to work a hardship upon the contractor. Since this resolution was introduced he has shown signs that he doesn't look right yet to me. The contractor had the nerve to tell the board of works last week that he didn't know there was any need to hurry when the city has been waiting for the

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

No other medicine for Woman's ills in the world has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

No other medicine has such a record of success for woman's diseases, or such hosts of grateful friends as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been the standard remedy for feminine ills, inflammation, ulceration, and consequent Spinal Weakness.

It has relieved more cases of Backache and Local Weakness than any other one remedy. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development.

Irregularities and periodic pains, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility, quickly yield to it; also deranged organs, causing pain, dragging sensations and backache. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the female system.

It removes that wearing feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues." These are indications of feminine disorders, which this medicine overcomes as well as slight derangement of the kidneys of either sex.

Women who are sick and want to get well should refuse to accept any substitute for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

pipe for months. I understand it is the board's intention to put the pipe into use before final test and acceptance by the city, and I would like to have an opinion from the city attorney as to the advisability of doing this. And if this contractor thinks he can dilly-dally along this way and jeopardize one of the lives in the city, he is much mistaken. The chairman couldn't see any leaks in the pipe, although there were several large ones. I want to tell you there is something wrong when the chairman of the board of public works tries to shield a contractor. It needs investigation. But I am willing to give him another week. Then, if nothing has been done, I shall insist that the board of public works act in behalf of the contractor, but in behalf of the city."

DATES FOR 1909 FAIR.

The dates for the 1909 fair were set for Oct. 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9. The directors authorized the secretary to represent the association as delegate at the annual convention of the American Association of Fairs and Expositions, Dec. 3, in Chicago, and of which the Utah association has just become a member. A letter was read from A. J. Moritz, assistant secretary of the International Fair association of Idaho, showing that the good influence of the Utah fair was being felt in the northern state, and asking for the dates of the next Utah fair. The dates of the Idaho fair might be set to correspond. The net receipts from the Murray race meeting on the fair grounds track and grounds were reported at $2,500.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

This morning Miss Dessie Grant of this city and Ashby D. Boyle of Ogden were married in the temple, the bride's father, Apostle Heber J. Grant, presiding. The ceremony was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Augusta Grant, only members of the immediate families being present. The table was decorated in pink and white carnations and ferns, and made an effective picture. This afternoon at 3 o'clock a very informal reception is held for them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sloan. The bride is a daughter of Apostle and the late Emily Wells Grant, and the groom a well known and popular resident of Ogden. They will make their home in this city and will reside at the Cannon flats.

Tonight Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Beattie entertain the members of the Bible class and a few others at their home on West Temple street.

Mrs. E. S. Ellerbeck will be home from California to spend the holidays with her daughters, Mrs. Charles Reed, Mrs. Elmer Darling and Mrs. T. D. Lewis.

Mrs. Frank Platte, who has been visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Douglas in Los Angeles, will be home on Sunday.

The committee who had charge of the finances of the recent charity ball report that about $2,500 was taken at the ball, of which 2,300 will be clear. The committee and beneficiaries of the big bounty are delighted with their most satisfactory result of their labors.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Zane were guests of honor last night at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. William C. Jennings, the decorations being in yellow chrysanthemums and covers laid for about a dozen.

Tomorrow night Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Jennings entertain at a fancy dress ball.

Last night Miss Pearl Van Cott entertained the American Music society, and a delightful program was enjoyed, made up entirely of Indian music, with Mrs. C. G. Plummer, Mrs. C. S. Price and Mr. Fred Smith as the soloists, and Spencer Clawson, Jr., and Miss Lavonia Leary, accompanists. Another delightful feature was the instrumental selections, which were given by Spencer Clawson, Miss Minnie Baer and Miss Irma Watson.

The final meeting of the bridge tournament was held yesterday at the home of Miss Mary Moore, and the first prize was won by Miss Leslie Savage and Miss Mildred McMillan, and the second by Miss Mary Moore and Miss Elmer Stewart. A new tournament was formed and will begin the next contest next Monday, meeting with Miss Minnie Baer.

Mrs. G. S. Gamett entertained a few friends informally yesterday afternoon at tea.

The Woman's club meets this afternoon with Mrs. U. G. Moser, and Miss Tyler reads a paper on Bible history.

It is desired by the committee of women who have the Detention Home in charge to give the boys a Thanksgiving dinner, and contributions for this object either in the way of toys, or other edibles, will be gladly received. The Home is in the old Utah school building at Eighth South and Eleventh West, and there are about 20 housed there.

The Governor's club are making preparations for their next ball, which will be given at the Odeon hall on Friday, Dec. 4.

Miss Clara Hall, whose marriage takes place in December, will be guest of honor at a tea next Friday to be given by Miss Allen.

A number of boxes are already engaged for the Symphony orchestra concert to be given next Sunday afternoon at the new Colonial theater, among the prospective hosts being Samuel Newhouse, Mr. and Mrs. George Y. Wallace and Mrs. Bonhomme, Manager Spencer has invited the members of the Association of the Blind to complimentary guests of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brooks announce the marriage of their daughter, Regina, to John E. Butte, the event having taken place on Thursday, Nov. 19.

The bridge tournament met yesterday afternoon with Miss Mary Moore, the event being the final one in the contest.

The Reapers' Social club met yesterday afternoon at the Exponent office and the subject was Stephen A. Douglas.

Mrs. Fred Hornung entertains at a bridge party this afternoon.

Mrs. Henry C. Hoffman is one of this afternoon's hostesses, entertaining at a reception from 3 to 6 o'clock.

One of the largest affairs of the week will be the collation to be given at the post on Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Bittenger will entertain their bridge tournament to night.

CONVERTS ARE DETAINED.

Three Members of Party Arriving at Boston Are Held.

From Boston word has come to Salt Lake to the effect that the steamship Republic arrived at that port Nov. 23 bringing 103 members of the Church, including 33 elders on their way home from missionary service. The officials are declared to have detained Mrs. Alvia F. Seibert, a German woman, and Mrs. Lena Spong, with her daughter, Miss Margaret Spong, aged 12 years. The others of the party left for Utah, while Elder E. L. Roberts remained to look after the interests of those detained. In the baggage of Elder J. M. Thomas was found a violin, listed at nominal value which the customs officials believe has the value of a Stradivarius, as it is marked with a date of 1719 and the inscription "Joseph Guarnerius-Fecit."

THE ROUND OF THE THEATRES

For the first time in its history, Salt Lake underwent the experience last night of having four regular theaters in competition—the Theater, the Colonial, the Orpheum, and the Grand, with the New Lyric also out for business, and a dozen or more moving picture houses closing up the procession. Whether or not the city has arrived at that stage of "bigness" where it can stand such an array of amusement places is yet to be seen.

A representative of the "News" made the rounds of the four last night and found varying results: The Theater had a fair turnout, the Colonial was filled below and half filled above, the Orpheum had a good sized house without being crowded, and the attendance at the Grand was small. At the three last named places, however, it is an accepted fact that since Sunday theaters came into vogue, Monday and Tuesday's business is bound to show a falling off.

Theater—"The Isle of Spice" was on exhibition at the Salt Lake Theater, and the audience which beheld it, except the leading people, and they had good cause. Of the main characters, that of the King, which might have been a sort of "King Dodo," in capable hands was acted and sung by Mr. Sam Rose, the comedian, in a fashion anything but comic. The twin comedy parts, in the hands of Mr. Watson and Mr. Williams, kept the galleries in an uproar, but it must be said their dancing was better than their singing. Mr. Gunson, a pleasing tenor, did the leading part in acceptable fashion, and the duet work between him and the principal lady, Miss Wilson, was quite effective. This young lady presented a charming appearance and showed herself a fair singer. The main attraction of the evening, however, was the hard working chorus. Gowned in their attractive Japanese costumes, they presented a most attractive appearance, and their rapid work in dancing, singing and acting kept the audience on the qui vive. The same bill runs tonight, and will be followed tomorrow night by the popular "Alaskan" which runs out the remainder of the week with matinees Thursday and Saturday.

Orpheum—This week's offering is fairly well up to the average. There are some good things in it, some that are not so good, and some that it hurts to forget, but on the whole, the program is interesting and worth seeing.

Any drawback in the bill would be made up for in the presentation of the dramatic sketch entitled, "The Night of 'The Wedding'" by Miss Adeline Dunlap, little Viola Fegenthart and McCormack. It is without doubt one of the prettiest plays yet seen at the popular play house, and is presented in a charming manner. There is room for improvement in the dramatic talent and those presenting it lose none of the opportunities. Mr. McCormack as the rough working man, but tenderhearted father, Miss Dunlap as the wicked designing Irish woman, and little Viola as Dan Egan's daughter, are well high perfect in the parts they portray.

Ernie and Mildred Potts put on a bag punching and singing and dancing act which might be improved by the process of elimination. The bag punching is clever, but the degree of perfection, and the degree of the skillful work performed here some years ago by Walter Orr. A feature of the act is punching five bags at the same time. Mrs. Notta Costa, the singing ingenue, contributed several well rendered songs. Big applause greeted the Cadets de Gasconade, the voice of the wicked de Gasconade, and shows the effects of careful training. The other voices, with the exception of the tenor, are good.

"Hoe Haw Girl," of Miss Ida May Chadwick, keeps the audience in a titter. The sketch is something about the sale of a farm but it only interesting feature is the remarkable back and wing dancing of Miss Chadwick. She carries three people with her, just why, it is hard to imagine. Eugene and Willie Howard, the comic Hebeys, are here again with their mirth creating "stunts." McPhee and Hill are billed for an aerial performance and some funny stuff, but careful observation failed to reveal either to the degree of a thrill or a laugh.

The selection of "Lohengrin" by the Grand Opera, the voice of the orchestra is deserving of great praise, and the performance closes with the usual kinodrome pictures.

Colonial—"The Sunny Side of Broadway," as presented by those Hibernal perennials, Murray and Mack, was the bill last evening at the Colonial, and will be the offering for the balance of the week with the customary "slap-stick" comedy, lightness and popular music and hard-working choruses are given their opportunity to renew their acquaintance with these strenuous Thespians.

Taken as a whole, the offering presented differs but little from previous entertainments from the same source. The same old stage tricks capture a "hand," almost the same old specialties and songs are introduced, but one misses the screwally funny burlesque boxing bout between Murray and Mack which used to make the house howl—was it eight years ago? Another missing feature is the burlesque Hebrew who at one time shared the applause with the principals. In brief, the company strikes one as being, taken as a whole, less experienced than its predecessors. One thing in its favor, however, is that with the exception of two members, one and all are youngsters who bring freshness into evidence. All work hard and gallop through their lines in whirlwind fashion.

The three hits of the piece are the song of Clarence Backous, "In Those Good Old College Days," "Modern Nursery Rhymes," and the old burlesque on "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and the "War Drama" which has been a laugh promoter for three seasons.

The appointments of the handsome theater were again favorably commented upon last night, the only suggestion or improvement being the installation of a few more ushers.

The staff and attaches of the Colonial are as follows: Ernest Young, treasurer; F. W. Langtree, assistant treasurer; Con. Lyon, doorman; Walter Holcomb, head usher; Fred Arbogast, electrician; Henry Smith, stage carpenter; Tom Little, property man.

The orchestra, under the direction of Squire Coop, made its opening bow this week and gave a good account of itself. Sousa's new march and selection from the "Alaskan" being played last night, the latter in compliment to Mr. Cort, who manages the company which presents the attraction at the Salt Lake theater this week.

Among Mr. Coop's men are such veterans as Mr. Skelton, first violin, and Mr. Kellersberger, bass. The instrumentation consists of 11 instruments as follows: First violin, one viola, one cello, one bass, one trumpet, one trombone, one flute, one clarinet, one drummer, with Mr. Coop at the piano.

Grand—At the Grand last night, the bill "Parted on Her Bridal Tour," was enthusiastically received. The piece is a comedy drama; with a prologue, scenes being laid in Australia. It is an intensely interesting story and is played in a creditable manner. Miss Grace Hale and Mr. Armin have the leading roles, and their characters are the features of the evening's acting. Specialties by Armin being the first, second and third acts added much to the entertainment of the evening. Wednesday night will witness the close of "Parted on Her Bridal Tour," and the same company will present "A Gambler's Sweetheart" for the remainder of the week.

Lyric—Stella Mayhew, whose name carries with it a guarantee of enjoyment, heads the bill this week. She sings some of her latest song hits and pleases, too. The Cameraphone faithfully portrays other special attractions, principal among which are two farces of the side-splitting order. Woven between these are a number of songs and dances by artists who are engaged especially to pose for the Cameraphone company. Baker and Breen sing clever songs, and James Grady makes a hit with his song "Don't Take Me Home."

The silent pictures, too, are interesting and attractive, and those who, since Saturday afternoon have seen the bill, say that it is the best yet.

WEDGWOOD NOT A CANDIDATE.

Declares He Will Not Enter Race for Election to School Board.

E. A. Wedgwood will not permit the use of his name as an "American" party candidate for the school board. He has been prominently mentioned as a probable candidate in the coming effort of the "Americans" to capture the schools, and he stated this morning when asked if he would become a candidate that positively he would not. "I am not in politics," he said this morning, "and I don't want to get in. I was mentioned once before for this office, when I lived in the Fourth ward, now I live in the Third ward, near to Oscar W. Moyle, the board's president, and I favor his return to the board."

Adj. General Wedgwood has given a great deal of time to the rebuilding of the National guard for the past three years, and he said this morning that this position and his law business consumed all the time he could possibly find to devote to them.
