THE SEMI-WEEKLY NEWS

The Great Country Paper of the West.

Issued Mondays and Thursdays and Contains All the Cream of the Daily and Saturday News.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

King to Lecture—Murray King will lecture next Wednesday evening in Labor hall on "Socialism and the Sex Question."

Dr. Baldwin Convalescent—Dr. S. G. Baldwin is convalescent at the Groves L. D. S. hospital from a serious case of blood poisoning in the hand.

El Kalah Patrol to Dance—The first of the season's balls by the El Kalah Patrol of the Mystic Shrine will be given on the evening of May 5, next, at the Odeon.

Labor Meetings Tonight—The executive council and all of the state committees of the State Federation of Labor will meet this evening in Eagles' hall for a two day's session.

Miner is Injured—Thomas Balkus, a Greek employe at the Utah Copper mine, caught his foot yesterday under a steam shovel. Balkus was brought to St. Mark's hospital last night.

Archaeologists Meet—The Archaeological society met Saturday evening at Judge Henderson's residence where addresses were made by Prof. Byron Cummings and Attorney E. O. Leatherwood on the Navajo Indians. A musical program was given.

False Alarm—A false alarm turned in from Second South and Main streets early last evening gave the headquarters and No. 2 fire departments a hurried run. The alarm was given by a boy who thought he saw a blaze in the rear of the Finch restaurant.

Naylor Residence Robbed — The residence of W. E. Naylor, No. 577 east Sixth South street, was broken into Saturday night during the absence of the family, and a quantity of silverware and other articles of value were stolen. No arrests have yet been made.

Runaway Horse Wrecks Buggy—A runaway horse belonging to W. P. Holley, broke up several wagons and buggies Saturday, on First South street. R. C. Williams a teamster finally caught the horse and subdued him by throwing a blanket over his head.

Luncheon for Whittington — Vice President J. W. Whittington of the National Association of Life Underwriters of America was given a complimentary luncheon Saturday afternoon at the Commercial club, which was attended by quite a number of local life insurance men.

Victim of Scarlet Fever—The body of Helen Snyder, the 4-year old daughter of J. B. Snyder, train dispatcher for the Salt Lake Route, will be sent to Canon City, Colo. for interment. The little girl died at the Snyder home at 231 south Tenth East street, Saturday morning, from scarlet fever. Canon City is the former home of the family.

Disturbes Congregation—A. P. Stenvoln, a German and familar street scissor-grinder, was taken into custody by the police yesterday after he had created a disturbance during the afternoon services at the Assembly hall. Stenvoln is thought to be demented and he will be examined by an insanity commission.

Photographers Form Club—A number of Salt Lake photographers organized a local society for business and pleasure Saturday evening with the following officers: President, H. T. Hutchings; Vice President, F. S. Scott; Secretary and Treasurer, O. M. Olsen. The society will meet semi-monthly to enjoy social and art programs and institute photographic contests.

Five Thirsty Vagrants—The choice of Pioneer square by five members of the tribe of wanderers as a drinking place where they might satisfy their "beer thirst," was unfortunate for them, since they lost not only their supply of the thirst quencher but their liberty as well. Patrolmen Lyon and Pierce placed the men under arrest on a vagrancy charge.

Utah Commission Meets—The Utah commission of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition met Saturday night at the Commercial club. On account of the absence of Gov. William Spry and D. C. Jackling, members of the commission, no important business was transacted. The details of the work of collecting and arranging the exhibits were discussed in reference to the educational, mining and horticultural displays.

Mourner Meets Death—Joseph W. Davidson, aged 73 years, of Spencer, Idaho, died suddenly on Saturday night at No. 540 north Fourth West street. Mr. Davidson had come to Salt Lake to attend the funeral of his son-in-law, Mike Cannon, foreman in the Oregon Short Line yards, who died last Wednesday. Mr. Davidson took sick Friday with an unknown ailment. The remains were shipped to Spencer for interment.

Scottish Rite Reunion—The 13th annual reunion of the Scottish Rite of Free Masonry, Valley of Salt Lake, Orient of Utah, will begin this evening, in Masonic temple, continuing until Thursday night. Degrees, including the 8th, will be worked this evening, and the 9th to the 18th, tomorrow. Music will be furnished by a quartet composed of Fred C. Graham, Edna Evans, Edna Dwyer and Willard Squires, with A. M. Peabody as organist.

Damage to Crops Slight—J. Edward Taylor, state inspector of the state horticultural commission, has made a careful investigation into the damage done by the cold weather and recent frosts to the fruit crop. The damage is slight to what it was first reported. On the bench lands where most of the fruit orchards are located, the crops are safe, except in a few instances. There is no danger of a shortage in the crops, however. If there is much more wet weather, however, there will be a great deal of damage on account of the blossoms which are now fertilizing.

Consul Talbot Coming—Head Consul A. R. Talbot of the Modern Woodmen, and former law partner of W. J. Bryan will be in this city May 4, on an official visit. In his honor the local order will indulge in a street parade early in the evening, headed by a police escort and Held's band. The Ogden degree team will act as body guard, while other degree teams of the state are to be present and march. At the hall later, 200 candidates will be initiated under Mr. Talbot's personal direction, the Salt Lake and Ogden degree teams doing the work. There is to be a trip to Saltair the next day, with a special organ recital in the tabernacle.

SUMMER SCHOOL AT STATE UNIVERSITY

Term Opens June 14 to Continue Until July 23—Announcement Of Faculty.

This announcement is made that the University summer school will last from June 14 to July 23. A new feature of the work this year will be the co-operation with the state board of education in presenting courses that will allow teachers to meet the requirements of the state board for teacher certificates. A great number of the courses offered are especially designed for teachers and students, and, in addition to the regular instruction, which will be very full and complete, special arrangements have been made for a number of lectures and readings.

The school of physical education will also be held this year, and as it was very popular last year, an increased attendance is looked for. Among the instructors of the summer school this year are the following: William M. Stewart, D. Did., principal of the normal school and professor of education; George Montayne Marshall, A. M., professor of English language and literature; George Coray, A. M., professor of economics and sicology; Maud May Babcock, B. E., director of the gymnasium for women, professor of elocution; William C. Ebaugh, S. B., Ph. D., professor of chemistry; Edwin Evans, professor of art; James L. Gibson, S. B., A. M., professor of mathematics; Torlid Arnoldson, A. B., A. M., professor of modern languages; Joshua H. Paul, Ph. D., professor of nature study; Charles T. Vorhies, B. S., Ph. D., professor of zoology and botany; Joseph Peterson, Ph. D., professor of psychology, Brigham Young university; Frederick William Reynolds, A. M., associate professor of English; Leon Wilson Hartman, B. S., Ph. D., associate professor of physics; Robert Lindsay McGhie, A. M., assistant professor of ancient languages; Moziah Hall, Ph. M., assistant professor of education; Howard R. Driggs, A. M., supervisor of language and literature, normal school, with rank of assistant professor; George C. Wise, Ph. B., A. M., assistant professor of modern languages; John Z. Brown, assistant professor of physiology; N. Alvin Pederson, A. B., assistant professor of English, Agricultural college of Utah; Esther Nelson, A. B., B. L. S., librarian; George A. Hedger, A. B., instructor in music; Jacob B. Tipton, supervisor of manual training, normal school; Anna Youngberg, supervisor of geography and history in normal school; Althea Wheeler, director of domestic science, normal school; Madam Helen M. Root, domestic science department, normal school; Mary Moorhead, celtic teacher, normal school.

FLOWER COMMITTEE MEETS.

Women Continue Plans for Grand Army Encampment.

At the meeting of the flower committee of the Grand Army encampment held in the women's department headquarters Saturday, Miss Evelyn Reilly, chairman of the school flower committee, reported that pupils of the public schools had planted 1,283 flower beds with seeds furnished by the committee on Arbor day. Two new committees were named as follows: Accommodation committee, Mesdames J. L. Bowman, E. I. Thorne, Fisher Harris, C. W. Boyd and Rose Lambert. Auxiliary music committee, Mesdames W. D. Gaby, J. L. Meredith, Lou McCune, and Misses Emmeline F. Wells and Ina Smith. This committee will have charge of the 2,000 school children to be formed into an immense living flag on the day of the parade. The boys in the flag will be dressed in blue to form the background of stars, while the girls will wear red and white.
