

ENTHUSIASM

AT THE L. D. S. U.

When Official Announcement Was Made in Regard to the Building of Gym.

PRESIDENT LUND'S ADDRESS.

Tells Students of the Generous Gift From the Church Through the Trustee in Trust.

A very enthusiastic meeting was held at the L. D. S. university yesterday, when official announcement was made in regard to the building of a new gymnasium. Col. Willard Young, president of the faculty presided. The school sang: "We thank Thee O God for a prophet." Prayer was offered by La Roy Mulliner, followed by a quartet, Messrs. Kirkham, Jensen, Pratt and Summerhays, who sang a selection composed for the occasion, beginning: "The gym, we're now using will next year look queer, for then we'll have other arrangements."—The following lines containing appropriate sentiments to the board of trustees, and the cause of athletics.

The school sang the college song "Gold and Blue." Well Master Basil Anderson led the school in some spirited cheers for those who had taken the initiative in this movement. The trustee in trust, president Lund of the board, the Mutual Improvement board, Supt. Cummings, President Young and others. President Young read the article contained in the "News" announcing the action taken in regard to the new gymnasium.

PRESIDENT ANTHON H. LUND.

President Lund was the first speaker. He expressed his pleasure in the prospect of a suitable gymnasium for the school. He said the board had long felt the necessity of such a building, but it was quite an undertaking, as the large and well equipped building they had planned would cost a great deal of money, to say nothing of the building site, and ground in the vicinity of the L. D. S. university is very valuable. President Lund spoke of the generous gift from the Church, through the trustee in trust, and continuing said: "I was glad that you gave him (the trustee in trust) the first salute, today, for he is your best friend. He is very much interested in you all, and he will do all he can for us. We want a gymnasium that will be large enough so we can have everybody to come and see what our boys and girls can do, one that will accommodate all of you—for we believe in physical training not only for the basketball team but for you all. We want you all to have an opportunity to take physical culture. The intention is to commence the building right away. I heard President Smith tell the board that he did not care how soon they broke ground for the building. Of course there is a great deal of money involved, and I suppose you young men and young ladies have not much means at your disposal, but each of you can do something and use your influence with those who have means to help build this gymnasium. We want a good one. I suppose that before long you will give three cheers for the old gymnasium. In the new building we will have a swimming pool, and rooms and a gymnasium for both boys and girls—everything that is needed in a first class gymnasium."

I wish President Smith could have been here today to see how you appreciate what is being done for you. I hope that while we are doing all we can for you that you will pay us back, and the kind of pay we ask is that you will be faithful in your school work—that none of you shall go home with C-minus; the least you should show your parents is A-minus, but better still to have A. We believe all of you can get it. Your teachers are anxious to teach you if only you will try for yourselves.

DESIRE TO EXCEL.

President Lund urged the students to strive to be at the top and not be satisfied with only a passing mark. Students sometimes say they expect to do enough "some way," but such an expression should never enter their minds, they should desire to excel. The same enthusiasm should be shown in school work as in athletics. President Lund urged the students to take an interest in their school and surroundings, and each student feel that he is a part owner. In closing, he said: "We want this to be one of the finest schools in Zion. It is right here in the capital of the state, and at the headquarters of Zion. I think we can make this school what it ought to be: the true Latter-day Saints University. It will take time to reach this ideal. Let us all unite, do what we can in our studies, and do what we can to influence people to help us build this gymnasium, that we may have a nice place to meet not only in athletic contests and physical exercises but also in social gatherings, dances and so on. Young men and women like to see athletic contests, and like to take part in them. It has been so in all the ages."

SUPT. H. H. CUMMINGS.
Superintendent Homer H. Cummings spoke of the great future that lies before the young people and related a circumstance that was once referred to by the late Dr. Maeser. The story narrates two brothers, the days of the ancient Olympic athletic contests.

"I've Had Experience"

"With Hood's Sarsaparilla, and am convinced it is a great medicine,"—this is the substance of 40,000 letters by actual count received in two years. They tell of cure of all blood diseases, loss of appetite, rheumatism, after-fever weakness, that tired feeling, nervous weakness, dyspepsia, catarrh.

No Equal—"I can say from experience that Hood's Sarsaparilla is without an equal." EDNA L. BOWMAN, 11 Beacon St., Lowell, Mass.

Eczema—"I had eczema and tried everything I heard of, but nothing helped me until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla. Thanks to that medicine, I am now well." GEORGE VANALTYNE, South Bethlehem, N. Y.

Muscular Rheumatism—"My father had muscular rheumatism. Was confined to his bed. He took two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and was entirely cured." BERTIE PENNIN, Box 1026, Springfield, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold everywhere in the usual liquid, or in tablet form called "arstabs." 100 Doses One Dollar. Prepared only by C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

These brothers, with the aid of their father, trained long and faithfully for a certain event, in which the nations had entered their best and strongest men. In the contest the two brothers excelled all competitors and were given an ovation that a king might well envy. As was the custom a great procession was formed, and the victorious athletes were crowned with wreaths of olive, and as they marched triumphantly through the streets the people would bow before them. When the procession reached the old man, he knelt in the dust of the street before his own sons. When they saw their father in that attitude, they took the wreaths from their own heads and placed the double wreath on their fathers' heads, telling him that it was due to his training and care and perseverance that they had gained the victory, and it is said the old man died of joy. Superintendent Cummings emphasized the point that while these boys were contending for the greatest prize within their reach, they were still brothers, and the hope was expressed that this spirit would prevail in the athletic contests between the Church schools. These contests should not be the occasion of ill will. Even when the contestants feel that they have been mistreated in some way, they should maintain control of their feelings and return good for evil.

Bishop Sheets, chairman of the athletic committee, spoke along the same line as the preceding speakers, expressing his pleasure in the prospect of a new gymnasium for next year. He also spoke of the necessity of physical development, as well as intellectual and spiritual.

COLLEGE ROMANCE TAKES RUDE TURN

Chicago, Feb. 29.—The Tribune today says:

Paul Bernard Eckhart, the 20-year-old son of John W. Eckhart, a rich miller, left last night, it is supposed, for Oklahoma and there remained behind him in Chicago Miss Dorothea Healy, a young woman, who expected to be married to him a few minutes before he departed.

The parents of Mr. Eckhart opposed the match on account of the youth of the parties—for the girl also is under age.

By threats of dishonor, by entreaties and by a series of plots and counter-plots, they were separated, though the marriage license had been procured the day before and all the elaborate wedding arrangements affected.

John W. Eckhart, who was considerably excited over the affair, at first professed ignorance of the details. He asserted that his son was in Chicago, although he and Mrs. Eckhart went to a railroad station to see the boy safely started west.

ROMANCE AT SCHOOL.

Young Eckhart was graduated from the Culver military academy where he achieved a considerable reputation as an athlete, being a star football player and holding the record for shot putting.

It was at the Culver academy that Eckhart first met Miss Healy. She is the daughter of a New Yorker, it is said, who died recently. The young couple had become engaged a short time before Eckhart was graduated.

Four months ago, following the death of her father, Miss Healy came to Chicago to live and young Eckhart at once renewed his attentions to her.

DEATH OF WARD E. PACK.

Prominent Citizen of Roosevelt Passes Away After Long Illness.

Ward E. Pack of Roosevelt, Uintah county, died at the Groves L. D. S. hospital last evening. He had been ill for a number of months with intestinal trouble, but the immediate cause of his death was pneumonia.

Mr. Pack was a well known citizen of Utah, having lived here some years ago and officiated as clerk of the police court under Judge George D. Poyer. Of late years he had resided in Veranda, and later still he took up his residence in Roosevelt, where he was secretary of the Dry Gulch Irrigation company, and one of the men who organized the Roosevelt Mercantile company. His father, Ward E. Pack, Sr., one of the Utah pioneers, died Nov. 16 last. His son was one of the pallbearers, but took to his bed immediately after, with a complication of disorders and has never recovered since.

Mr. Pack was born at Bountiful, July

21, 1859, and was thus approaching his forty-ninth birthday. He married Elizabeth J. Atwood, by whom he had 10 children, four boys and four girls still surviving. The news of his death was broken to Mrs. Pack over the telephone to Roosevelt, where she now is with her children. She is expected in the city tomorrow night, when the funeral will be arranged for and a decision reached as to the place of interment. At present the remains are at the home of Mrs. Pack's mother, Mrs. Atwood, 305 Thirteenth East.

Mrs. Laura C. Pack, mother of the deceased, was at his bedside constantly during his last illness.

THE EMPIRE THEATER.

The high class productions at this new motion picture house are meeting with much approval by an ever increasing patronage. Mr. Charles Minor, manager, and his brother, William W. Minor, assistant manager and treasurer, are well known here, they having executed some skillful curtain designs in local play houses. All the fine tinting and decorating in the Empire was done by them personally. This new show house is located at 156 south State street, just below the Orpheum, and is said to be thoroughly equipped with exits, fire-proof operating room, and numerous ventilators. Then, too, the seating room, and opera chairs are found here. Both afternoon and evening performances are always wholesome and elevating.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

This afternoon a testimonial of esteem to one of Utah's notable women took place in the way of a large reception at the historic Lion House, celebrating the eightieth year and nineteenth birthday anniversary of Mrs. E. B. Wells. The latter occurring only once in every leap year. The rooms were beautifully decorated with a profusion of flowers in pink and white mingled with palms and ferns, and a large party of guests were present. Painted by Lee Greene Richards, was in the hall. The affair was given by the general board of the Woman's Relief society, and its various members were formed into committees, who tended to the separate details. From 2 to 5 o'clock the friends of the honored guest called at the house and extended greetings of felicitation, the event being in every way a most long to be remembered. During the afternoon the Relief society presented Mrs. Wells with a purse of $50.

Last night Mrs. Wells was guest of honor at a special joint meeting of the Utah Woman's Press and Readers' clubs, a program of sentiments from the officers' poems and addresses from the officers and members being among the features. Mrs. Wells was presented with a handsome silk dress pattern, as a token of esteem from both clubs, and was showered with beautiful bouquets. The rooms were beautifully decorated with festoons of hearts and cupid and a profusion of flowers.

The date of the marriage of Miss Jasmine Young and Lester D. Freed has been set for April 2, and among other weddings of the early spring will be those of Miss Nora Van Cott and John Crombie; Miss Edna Sailer and Mr. Jack Gilmer; Miss Gertrude McGrath and Mr. C. S. McDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Tracy entertained at a dinner last night in honor of their guests, Mrs. Payson Smith and Mrs. O'Brien of Minneapolis. The table was handsomely decorated with floral and American Beauty roses, and the guests to meet Mrs. Smith and Mrs. O'Brien were Col. and Mrs. Walter Scott of Fort Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. George Y. Vance, and Mrs. Henry La Motte, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Kriebel, Judge William H. King and George Y. Wallace, Jr.

Mrs. F. B. Stephens will give two card parties next week on Wednesday and Thursday respectively.

Mrs. F. J. Fabian will entertain next Thursday at bridge.

Mrs. Albert Pendleton gave a party at the Orpheum on Friday followed by a luncheon at Franklin's.

CARD OF THANKS.

We hereby desire to express our gratitude to all who so willingly came to our aid in the trying ordeal through which we have just passed in the sickness and death of our daughter, Annie, and our heartfelt thanks are extended to the employees of the Idaho Western Railway, and others, for their many kindly acts and beautiful floral tributes.
