

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.

Salt Lake City.—The announcements for the University Summer school will be issued about April 1. The management has secured Dr. H. Morris Stephens, who will deliver a course of five lectures on "A Modern View of the French Revolution." Dr. Stephens is professor of modern history in the University of California. Before going to California, he was professor of history at Cornell University. The doctor is an Englishman by birth and received his training in England. He will deliver one lecture on the public schools of England. There will be a faculty of 12 in the summer school. Special courses will be offered in Greek and Latin for those who are preparing to take the examinations for the Rhodes Oxford scholarships.

On Monday the University of Colorado Glee club gave the students a musical program in the assembly room. The club is made up of 18 men under the management of A. H. Morrison.

Instructor Beckstead and his class in steam engineering have received an invitation from the American Stoker company to go to Ringham canyon and see a test performance on a boiler plant. The purpose of the test is to compare hand firing with automatic firing for economy.

A new eight horse power gasoline engine has been ordered for the mechanical laboratory.

There was no Delta Phi on Wednesday. The boys went to hear Prof. Clark at Barratt hall.

On Tuesday the preliminary debate held for the purpose of choosing debaters for the coming Utah-Nevada debate took place in the library building. The speakers were N. G. Morgan, F. M. Reese, Frank Holman, J. M. Carlson, Dan Alexander, E. H. Burgess and Dale Parks. The successful ones are Frank Holman, E. H. Burgess and F. M. Reese. The alternates are J. M. Carlson and Dan Alexander. The judges of the debate were Profs. Roylance, Babcock and Cummings, Instructor Howell of the U. of U. and Brigham Clegg of the L. D. S. U. The decision was unanimously in favor of Holman and Burgess, but the judges were slightly divided between Reese and Carlson.

At the faculty meeting on Monday David P. Howells was chosen as valedictorian for the fourth year normals, and Miss Angeline E. Holbrook was selected to represent the college graduates in a similar capacity.

Mr. Howells is president of the graduating normal class. He was one of the 'Varsity speakers in the recent debate with the University of Idaho. Miss Holbrook is president of the 'Varsity Dramatic club.

Prof. Byron Cummings spoke at chapel on Wednesday. His subject was "Oxford University." Mrs. Elsie Barron Best sang "Love's Old Sweet Song."

Instructor McGhie is still quartered at home.

Elbert Thomas, manager of the 'Varsity Dramatic club, was a member of the cast of Frank Mattee's "The Wrong Mrs. Appleton," which was played at the Grand Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Capt. Horace Whitney of the track team had his men doing out door training this week.

Last night the Freshman Engineers gave a dance in the museum building.

Next Friday evening the Chronicle force, "The Last Coat" and the "hoe down" will be given in the assembly room.

Prospective candidates for Rhodes scholarship examinations are Fred Benson, Elbert Thomas, O. W. Carlson, George Snow Gibbs, and B. H. Jacobson.

Next Wednesday there will be a general meeting of the student body to consider the question of creating separate student body organizations for college and preparatory students. To make this change, the student body constitution will have to be amended. The student body will hear the report

FOR BOYS ONLY.

We want to be the friends of the boys and have for years prided ourselves on selling the best boys' shoes made at reasonable prices, for years we have sold the Bay State shoe for boys and have become famous amongst the boys.

Now boys to gain your good will and home influence. For a short time we will Boys, read how they are to be given away: With the $1.25 Boys' Shoes we give the pocket knife. With the $1.50 Boys' Shoes we give the baseball or small size bats. With the $1.75 and $2.00 Bay State shoe we give choice of bats balls or catching gloves. With the $2.25 grades and up we give choice of any, including masks.

See Them in Our Window.

Boys you can recommend our shoes to your mothers, they are good and will back you up.

Yours Shoely,

Hirschman's SHOE PEOPLE.

of the committee on athletics which consists of Messrs. Riser, Wade, Whitney and Mason. This committee was appointed to draft rules governing athletics. A manager for the track will be elected at that meeting.

Mrs. Eliza Johnson, grandmother of student Jay E. Johnson, died on Monday of heart disease.

SALT LAKE CITY SCHOOLS

Any person who may have imagined that the "institute" of last week was easier for the teachers than it would have been for them to have assembled on Saturday or that only the "teachers' convenience was consulted" is certainly laboring under a delusion. It was a long hard afternoon for the teachers, much harder than the regular work of the schoolroom would have been, but many of them said they did not mind the extra work and time spent, if something was to be gained and if they would hear something that would be a real practical benefit in their work.

They were not disappointed, already the results of the institute are being carried out in the city schools this week and much good will result therefrom. Mr. Thompson will always receive a warm welcome from the grade teachers, should he ever chance to again address them. The same may be said of the other sections of the institute and Salt Lake's first institute of this kind was certainly a great success and much good will be received eventually by the children for the inspirations given the teachers by the able leaders of the work given.

Some very fine specimens of handwriting from the Summer school are to be seen at the C. & C., these correct copy are the entire production of the pupils, under Miss Corlett and are beautifully done; several very fine skirts from the Webster are also there, these were drafted, sewed and finished by the pupils, who could not sew a straight seam in September last.

The Lincoln school is putting forth special efforts in order to bring up the punctuality record.

The pupils of the eighth grade, Quirk school, rendered a very fine program on Friday.

Miss Qualtrough of the Oquirrh and Miss Dyaart of the Emerson visited the training school this week.

A chorus of that beautiful selection, "Kentucky Babe," is being prepared at the Oquirrh.

In room 1, Webster, some very artistic weather records are being kept by the little ones. The designs are done by Miss Mayne.

A farewell luncheon was tendered Miss May Goodard at the Whittier on Friday by the teachers.

Miss Goldard leaves for California soon, where she will make her future home.

Mrs. Stevens has been substituting in the Lowell for two weeks.

Messames Jones, Clayton, Ray Wells, Morris and Rogers visited the Lowell during the week.

Miss Ottinger's pupils of room 6, Lowell, are very enthusiastically watching the germination of vegetables. Some very profitable nature study is being done.

The spring vacation begins on April 2, and continues till April 13.

The Willard Workers society in the Lowell rendered a very interesting program on Friday.

Roger Powers of room 12, Lowell, was presented with a silver brush by his fellow pupils for his untiring efforts in selling tickets for the entertainment last week. Ottinger Romney made the presentation speech.

Mrs. Geo. W. Reed and Mrs. Galle visited the Longfellow school this week.

A parents' meeting is to be held at the Longfellow for Friday, April 2, at 3 o'clock.

Miss Staunton visited Miss Larson's department at the Fremont.

Miss Lucie Jennings, who attended the Lowell eight years ago, visited her school this week and was pleased to note the many improvements.

Teacher of spelling—John, distinguish between a visit and a visitation. John—When my rich aunt comes to our house it's a visit, when Ma's mother comes, Pa says it's a visitation.

Mr. Koeler of the Webster, Mr. Neilson of the Fremont, and Miss Jones of the Willard, visited the Washington this week.

The following program was rendered by the Literary society of the Bryant eighth grade: Piano solo, Claire Foote; reading, Cora Gilson; vocal solo, Pearl Kimball; piano solo, Lillian Hudson; reading, Russell Sands; piano solo, Lillian Dark; recitation, Ivy Ensign; song, by the school.

The Parliamentary club at the East Side High school, debated on the question, "Resolved, That steam has been more beneficial to mankind than electricity." Julian Hamberger and Richard Young debated upon the affirmative and Thaddeus Hammond and Will Harris took the negative. It was decided in favor of the affirmative.

Rooms 3 and 4 had a very lively contest in grammar on Wednesday at the Bryant, room 4 came off victorious.

Messames U. G. Moser, Hickey, Butts, Viko, Kelsey, and Miss Kate Lawrence of Park City, visited the Webster this week.

Some particularly good work was seen in arithmetic in the Ogden this week under the direction of Miss Kate McKenle, who is at the head of that branch of the departmental work in the seventh and eighth grades. The ease, accuracy and neatness of the work were especially noted.

Miss Bishop of the Hamilton has returned from California.

Teacher and Principal Nelson of the Pleasant entertained the patrons of school at a "Tea," on Friday afternoon.

men to the first year students of the city who are studying that work.

Tuesday in Prof. Hinckley's Book of Mormon class, Bro. John Fairbanks gave a lecture on the geography and topography of Central America and the Magdalena river district in South America. Bro. Fairbanks, it will be remembered, recently traveled in those regions with the B. Y. A. expedition and his lecture was full of interest.

In anticipation of outdoor sports students have organized a baseball team and a track team. Roy Muller was elected manager of the baseball team, Joseph Stanton of the track team, Sidney Christy is captain of the baseball nine.

Monday forenoon the University of Colorado Glee and Mandolin clubs visited the university and entertained the students in the most delightful manner for nearly an hour. The bands were especially exquisite, and the glee songs were followed by storms of applause and repeatedly encored. The concert in the evening was only fairly well attended but those present felt more than repaid for coming. One of the best numbers was the singing of Richard Hovey's "Winter Song." Every number, however, was well received, and appreciated.

The Clark lectures, six in number, given in Barratt hall, were largely attended by our students, and were universally appreciated. These splendid interpretations of literature by one of the world's greatest scholars, cost our students only 25 cents for two lectures, and illustrate the advantages enjoyed by the students of the L. D. S. U. In another instance, our students heard the Colorado Mandolin and Glee club, for only 10 cents per ticket, while the public cheerfully paid 50 cents.

Last Monday morning, President Paul called attention to the fact that on Saturday evening a dozen students seated in the gallery had been guilty of a serious breach of courtesy to the visiting school, in jangling bells and beating tin pans during the playing of the valedictory band. This, the president said, was wholly inexcusable, and the students who engaged in it were guilty either of a thoughtless indiscretion or of a premeditated affront to the students of a sister institution. In either case, a reprimand was due, and a warning was given that any such conduct would be dealt with by the faculty in the future, even though it should occur, as in this instance, in an affair conducted entirely by the students.

The debate last Saturday evening conducted by the students of the L. D. S. U. and those of the B. Y. A. attracted a very large audience that was fully repaid for coming out to hear it. All the speeches were of high merit and disclosed a careful study of the question, by the debaters, John U. Hicks and Brigham Clegg, of the L. D. S. U., and Clarence Jarvis and Frank Day, of the B. Y. A. The speakers, the judges were Congressman George Sutherland, State Treasurer John D. Dixon and Dr. Seymour B. Young. The question was: "Resolved, That an income tax is a desirable part of a scheme of taxation." The decision of the judges was a unanimous vote for the negative—the side represented by the L. D. S. students.

The Rho Beta Pi, having been informed that some students tore off the streamers from the academy train last Saturday evening, promptly investigated the affair. It was found that this action was the deed of several small boys who were not students. One streamer only was so dishonored. Capt. Stanton of the L. D. S. saw the boy take hold of the white and blue streamer and shouted to him to desist, but the boy clung to it and tore the streamer off. Stanton cuffied the youth and shook him for this insult. So far as could be learned this was the incident that gave rise to the ugly story that the academy colors had been trailed in the dust by L. D. S. students.

BRIGHAM YOUNG ACADEMY

Provo.—Prof. J. E. Hickman addressed the students last Sunday evening on the scientific aspects of the Word of Wisdom.

Two hundred and fifty students accompanied the debaters to Salt Lake city last Saturday. And yet a prominent man is credited with having said that the academy is the only Church school lacking in patriotism and enthusiasm.

Prof. John T. Miller, a former teacher of the academy, and now teaching in the L. D. S. U., took his old place on the stand the other morning and the applause of the older students of the school who remembered him with kindness for his work here three years ago. The professor lectured last Wednesday evening before the parents' class.

The judges in our recent debate with the L. D. S. did not succeed in convincing a single member of the school. Indeed something strong might be said quite to the contrary, if the pulse of the students should be exactly recorded. They accept the result with stoicism, however, and bide their time.

Elders George Reynolds and Seymour B. Young of the First Council of Seventy, spent the greater part of Monday in the reception room, interviewing missionary students. Result: Twenty-four letters from Box B. Subsidiary results: Missionary letters circulating in groups of students here and there, as if they were rare and extraordinary curiosities, and 24 much-petted, often-congratulated young men.

The kindergarten girls are busy preparing a play, entitled the "National Husband Seekers' Society," which they expect soon to put on the boards. There is to be a single, solitary man in the cast, and that honor has been tendered to Mr. B. S. Young. It is to be seen whether he will come out sane from such a melange of dazling femininity.

Elder Paul Henning, of the academy, expedition to South America, who is still laboring in Central America, has transmitted to the president some valuable manuscript accompanied by a series of plates containing drawings of mural hieroglyphs on some of the ruins of Guatemala. pity that a new B-zetta stone has not been found to unlock these mysteries.

One of the incidents hard to heal, in the late meet of the two schools, was the way in which the L. D. S. tin-pan contingent sought to drown out the music of the academy band, especially as the numbers of the latter were made part of the official program. They fail to see in the incident the kindness and courtesy due to guests; they fail also to see in it any wit or brilliancy of contrivance; and by no stretch of charity do they feel it justifiable as school rivalry.

Supt. Tanner spent three days last week in an arduous visit to the classes of the institution. He addressed the students Friday morning during the theology hour, his theme being the supreme importance of a testimony of
