Boston capital is heavily interested.

Two colored girls named Edna Crise-mon and Maggie Hurd were arrested in a Franklin avenue resort early this morning by Sergt. Hempel and Officer Bush on the charge of grand larceny, Their arrest grew out of a complaint filed by Joseph Jones, a stranger in town, who declared that the women had robbed him of $100. When the of-ficers searched the place they found $70 of the money concealed under the car. pet.

The overturning of a beehive in the city yesterday, disclosed the fact that the bees were all dead. Inquiry devel-oped that the the same state of things obtained in other quarters, and the claim has been advanced that smelter fumes are responsible. However, J. W. Back, a local apiary expert, thinks this may be due to overcrowding in the hives. The bee is a tender insect, and calls for intelligent care and attention, as if overcrowding is allowed, the bees become diseased and die.
