

SPECIAL BUSINESS NOTICES.

If any of our readers should happen to visit Philadelphia, either on business or pleasure, a sojourn at the "Colonade Hotel," at the corner of Fifteenth and Chestnut, will make him about as happy and contented as he possibly can be away from Baltimore.

On account of their large and increasing business, have determined to remove to larger quarters, and have secured the premises known as the Stable Block, one door south of Wells, Fargo & Co., where they will open with a large and improved stock of Sporting Goods, consisting of Guns, Pistols, Ammunition, Fishing Tackle, Pocket Cutlery, and other requisites, too numerous to mention.

After an interval of half a year, I have resumed business, at the old stand, ready to supply my friends and the public with the choicest cuts of meats, of all kinds. W. PETERSON.

ARMY and NAVY officers make their headquarters at the Colomade Hotel, Philadelphia. So do leading business men from sections, while for families and large parties of travelers it also offers unequalled attractions.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Postal Affairs.—A postoffice has been established at Cub Hill, Cache County, with Wm. H. Lewis as postmaster. John T. Thurmond has been appointed postmaster at Diamond, Juab County.

Another Attack.—We regret to learn that President A. M. Cannon is confined to his room by another and rather severe attack of illness. We hope soon to see him around again.

Wanted.—Information of Abraham Halliday, who left Glasgow, Scotland, for Utah, in 1866, by his brother, Francis Halliday. Information to be sent to 42 Wellington, Liverpool, England.—Millennial Sign.

For Australia.—Elders Frederick J. May, and Thomas B. Shreeve, of the 20th and 19th Wards of this city respectively, will leave tomorrow for Australia, via San Francisco, from which port they will sail, having relinquished the intention of traveling by way of England.

Fearful Storm—Child Killed.—We received the following special, to-day, from L. A. Bailey, of Nephi, Juab County: "We had a fearful gale here last night, lasting from 9 till 11 o'clock. A 13-year-old boy, named Willie, was blown down, killing his little child, Maggie, and injuring another child and himself."

North Bench.—The people living on the "dry bench" are going to turn out, with Watermaster Caffall, tomorrow morning, to clean out and repair the upper ditch. The hour is 7 o'clock and the place of meeting the west side of the cemetery. The thirty north benches should make a note of this.

Black Mountain.—There was an error in the calculations, based upon observations taken last Saturday, in reference to Black Mountain. The altitude of the mountain, above the north-east corner of Temple Block, is 3,400 feet, and the distance between the two points, in a horizontal plane, is five miles and 72 feet.

Transit of Mercury.—This morning, on invitation of Dr. John K. Park, we were enabled to observe, through an instrument of the Denver University, adjusted on the grounds of that institution, the transit of Mercury. The planet was plainly visible, appearing like a small black speck on the sun's disc.

Friesthood Meeting.—The Priesthood of this Stake met on Saturday morning at 11 a. m. President Angus M. Cannon presiding. After the opening exercises the statistical reports from the various wards of the Stake were read.

President Joseph E. Taylor said it was especially desired that every ward in the Stake should be represented, that the instructions given might be carried to the people. As many of the brethren are out of employment it would be well for those engaged in the construction of canals to communicate with the Presidency of the Stake, who would endeavor to provide them with good Latter-day Saints to labor. He referred to the pleasure gardens surrounding the city as having great tendency to evil. He felt gratified that at least one Bishop was taking the action necessary to have the proprietor of a public garden in his ward close the gates and turn visitors out before dark.

Elder Geo. Goddard reported that the Stake Tabernacle was progressing finely. The committee require masses and stone-cutters, cash for purchasing lumber, and tithing stone orders to pay the indebtedness of the Church.

President Elias Smith spoke of the evil tendencies of pleasure gardens. He looked upon them as the nurseries of prostitution. He believed in allowing the young a reasonable amount of amusement, but thought there was too great a tendency to pleasure-seeking among them. He also spoke encouragingly of the efforts made in constructing canals.

President Joseph E. Taylor urged the brethren to a spirited and united effort in the building of the Tabernacle. If they would take the trouble to look up their stock, which was liable to die on the plains or in the city, and devote some of it to this purpose, they would not be any worse off and at the same time be doing good.

Bishop J. S. Rawlins, of South Cottonwood, said that the members of the wards in the south end of Jordan, were organizing into a company to convey the water out on this side of the river. They expected eventually to bring the water right to Salt Lake City. He thought those who wanted land and could not get any by pre-emption or homestead would do well to work for shares in this company. He was satisfied that such would be able to exchange their water rights for land, for the land without the water would be of no use to anyone. Where one could not afford to work out his water tax alone he recommended two or three to unite and send some one to work it for them.

Meeting adjourned to meet at the same place at 11 a. m. on Saturday, June 1st. W. W. TAYLOR, Clerk.

The European Mission.—The following is extracted from the Millennial Star of April 15th. Elder N. A. Empey writes from the Nottingham Conference: "I have been spending the last week in Coalville, Whitwick and Shepshed, holding meetings and having good times generally in laboring amongst the people. Our meetings are being well attended, and I find the strangers becoming more friendly disposed towards us. In Leicester, a gentleman came to our meeting a few Sundays ago, who kindly asked me to go to his home to see his Brother McInerney and myself went and were treated very kindly by him, his wife, and two other gentlemen whom he had invited to hear us talk. After tea he told me that he was ready for baptism, and furthermore his house was open for us to hold meetings in any time. I, in company with brother Carter, will go to Leicester tomorrow, and if all should be well expect to attend to this baptizing."

The Saints through the Conference generally feel well; we add a few by baptism, from month to month. Some half dozen new converts joined our ranks during the month of March. Brother Warren and I recently organized the Rotherham and Holbrook districts of the Sheffield branch into separate wards, both having of late increased their membership sufficiently to justify such a move. The former is six and the latter about nine miles from Sheffield. This will encourage the members thereof, besides relieving President Charles Parkin of no small responsibility.
