

the slough. The New State club opens the season under particularly favorable circumstances. It receives into its reserve about two sections of choice hunting grounds at the mouth of Jordan river, left by the ceceding waters of the lake. Added to the four sections already the club's possession the result is an ideal hunting territory. Since the scound came into he reserve by a recent decision of Judge Rolapp, men have been employed putting an an artificial been employed putchs, at a strain a lake, and flooding it for the opening of the season. It is now finished, and is being populated in the southward flights of the birds. It is not neces-sary to feed the ducks at these grounds because of the abundant feed in the river wash. Last year an experiment was made in feeding, but it was found that the mud hens appropriated the bulk of it, and the ducks found plenty in their river haunts.

Arother club which ought to bag large number of ducks is that at th the Church Farm. Five years ago the lake there had to be drained on account of the deprdations of hunters in destroy-ing adjacent fences to build fires and blinds. This year the club has flooded the lake again, and has men stationed on it to keep off trespassers and feed the ducks. The location is more fortunate than that of most clubs, because no cold stream of fresh water runs into the lake, and consequently it remains warmer than most bodies of water during the winter. There is fre-quently shooting to be had there when most other waters are frozen over.

Only 29 men will be allowed to use the lake this season. They are J. O. Young, L. B. McCormick, J. Sharp, R. K. Hardy, S. H. Love, Dr. A. McCurtain, Hardy, S. H. Love, Mr. A. arc Dian, Dr. L. E. Brown, D. J. Sharp, S. L. Moyle, Edward Best, George Derr, Ed-ward Wright, Thomas A. Williams, Joseph J. Daynes, Harry Green, A. and J. Higham, A. J. Asper, and M. Hyler. If any of these hunters return Saturday night with less than the limit of 40 ducks it will be confessing that they are pretty poor shots.

At the Balley Lake club 40 hunters are expected by Mr. Mitchell, of the Western Arms company, who is president of the vlub. At Silver Lake, near Hunter, a party of Riverton and Murray hunters are in control. Beek's Hot Springs lake is pre-empted by a club of about 20 Salt Lakers, with a clubhouse on the north shore. A few outsiders may be able to get a chance at shooting on the south shore of the lake and in swamps between the lake and the river. Another slight hope for outsiders comes from Smith's lake where the owner announces that any one can come and shoot upon payment of a fee of $1. Porter's and William * lakes are pre-empted and reserved for the select who have tickets.

The "gun club" is a new thing in the duck hunting hisiness. In gaining con-trol as they have of all available hunt-ing grounds there have ing grounds, they have done more than laws to preserve game from wan ton destruction. They have studied the planned to make everything work to successful raising of the young and protection of the old except from club Utah is known as one of best duck countries in America, and the clubs, especially those at Bear river. frequently entertain eastern guests who come west for two weeks' hunting.

MRS. REILLY PROTESTS.

Wants Police to Stop Work of Mrs. Wilson and Smith Girl.

Mrs. John Heilly, whose husband and son were drowned in river Jordan several weeks ago, called upon Chief of Police Lynch today and complained against Mrs. Wilson and Miss Smith, the two women who were arrested several days ago by Officer Brown on the charge of false pretenses.

When the officer arrested the Wilson woman she tried to bribe him by offering him $5. The police claimed that the two women collected various sums from citizens here, saying they were getting the money for the benefit of Mrs. Rellly. The matter was laid before the county attorney, but he said there was no case against the women. On the other hand, the police assert they had a good case and could easily prove that the women obtained money on the misrepresentation that it was for the widow.

No action looking to a prosecution was taken, and the police were forced to give the women their liberty. Mrs. Relly told Chief Lynch that the Wilson woman had been out to Bing-ham Junction and had collected considerable money by means of the graft imposed upon Salt Lake citizens. Mrs. Reilly stated that she had never re-ceived one cent of the money thus colected, and asked that something be one to stop the women in their disonest practise.

Yesterday afternoon the police gave to Mrs. Reilly's attorney, Gus Back-man, $199, the money taken in as re-ceipts for the ball game played between the police and firemen some time ago

He fired one shat at the officer before the latter shot. He died in a few minutes after declaring that he had no accomplices, but the officers bellove that another was implicated Another boy was arrested on suspicion this morning, but was released, having proven an alibl.

Inquiry at the police department and reference to the city directory failed to any information regarding the alleged Salt Lake boy.
