

WAR VETERANS MUSTERING IN

Minute Men of Early Indian Troubles in Utah Are Rallying.

OFFICE IN COUNTY BUILDING.

Three Thousand in State Move to Secure Pensions for Services in Pioneer Days.

For recognition of valor, the "minute-men" of the early Indian war are being mustered in again to preserve their deeds of bravery by the commissioners of Indian war records, who have opened an office in the city and county building. These Indian fighters are old men now and a great injustice has been done to them, to history and to fame, in failing to give them their standing in the making of the west. After the list is completed, it will be sent to Washington, D. C. where an effort will be made to secure pensions for those who deserve them under the laws. It is estimated that there are about 3,000 veterans in this state, who engaged in the Black Hawk war, the Walker war and the continuous campaigning from Cache valley to St. George during the '50's and '60's. Of this number, the commissioners have secured the records of 250 veterans in Utah county, which have been canvassed.

FIRST TEN REGISTER.

Ten veterans were registered yesterday who live in different parts of the state and came here during the G. A. R. encampment. Many of them had not seen each other for several years. They renewed acquaintances and talked over early days. There is connected with the registering of the veterans considerable "red tape." Several duplicates of the applications have to be made as well as the affidavits of the applicant and his witnesses. Asa S. Hawley of Central, Sevier county, was among the first who registered. Although he is 74 years old he is strong and active. He saw four months of active campaigning in the Walker Indian war. This was in 1856, when the hostile Indians were driven out of Utah county.

"For an year," Mr. Hawley said, "I was a 'minute man' in the southern part of the state. In that time I saw some active service against as treacherous a band of Indians as ever lived. They have been awakened many a time in the middle of the night by the roll of a drum, armed myself and saddling a horse, rode miles to help the settlers drive away a band of Indians making a night attack. We had a long line of settlements to protect and we had to help each other. It was never safe to leave the settlement unprotected, for the maneuvers of the Indians were cleverly executed. A band would set up a pow-wow near one settlement and another band would attack women and children in another settlement while the men were pursuing the first band."

WORK OF MINUTE MEN.

"The minute-men as they were called in those days saved this country, and saved the government thousands of dollars. Captain Connor with his regiment of Californians were here for 40 days. They were the only regular soldiers in these parts and they were gallant fighters. I feel that the old soldiers of the Indian wars should organize into a body and spend the remainder of our days in closer union."

James V. Standing of Salt Lake served under Capt. Orson P. Miles. He enlisted on April 22, 1867, in a company of cavalry and saw active service for nearly a year. He was in Sanpete and Sevier counties.

George Todd of American Falls served in the Sevier county campaign. He enlisted on July 3, 1866, for six months and was under command of Capt. Jonathan S. Page.

For four months Joseph A. Rees of Santaquin, served in Thistle Valley where he helped drive out a band of Indians who drove away herds of cattle and killed several settlers. He enlisted on June 1, 1866.

TYPICAL EXPERIENCES.

Joseph Fordham of Salina served six months under Capt. Orson P. Miles in the southern part of the state. He enlisted on April 22, 1867.

Christian Larsen was in Thistle Valley during the campaign there. He was a mere boy when he enlisted on June 2, 1866. He is now living in Mt. Pleasant. In this campaign he saw the greatest dangers. They were ambushed several times, while pursuing the Indians over rocky ridges and through almost impassable gorges.

Isaac R. Pierce of Salem, Utah, registered yesterday. He enlisted on June 1, 1866 under Capt. William W. Caper and remained four months with the volunteers. He was in the Thistle campaign.

Enoch Monk of Payson was with Captain Miles in Sevier county. He enlisted on April 22, 1867.

J. C. Nelson of Mayfield, was a member of the "Home Guard." He served a year under Capt. N. S. Beach enlisted on April 1, 1867.

Ezekiel Holman of Manti was one of the first to volunteer his services when the call was made. He enlisted on July 1863, and was with Capt. Charles Hancock. He rode the country from Salt Lake to Manti several times, pursuing the Indians who were committing depredations all along the line.

The commissioners' office will be open every day, and they are anxious to enroll all the veterans from this point that they can. They will probably register here for two months before they go into the northern part of the state.

MICHIGAN BEET SUGAR.

Its Manufacture Was Profitable Last Year.

The Michigan Sugar company, which held its annual meeting at Saginaw, July 13, declared a dividend of 4 per cent on its common stock. In addition to this, the company has set aside $200,000 to take care of preferred dividends and shows a surplus of about $1,000,000. The reports read the meeting gave details regarding the operations of the six plants owned by the company in Michigan, which were shown to be in first class shape for the coming campaign. Besides the dividend authorized on the common stock, which by the way is the first dividend declared on the common stock, the usual quarterly dividend was declared on the preferred. The reports stated also that the company had increased the capacity of each of its plants, built new sugar warehouses, and installed two new pulp mills. The improvements costing for this year in the neighborhood of $200,000.

The Michigan Sugar company has been in existence about three years and is capitalized at $12,500,000, divided into $7,500,000 common, and $5,000,000 preferred stock. The present financial conditions of the company have been brought about by able management and good beet crops. The outlook for a good beet yield and a successful campaign this year are very promising.—Beet Sugar Gazette.

ASSESSMENT ROLLS READY.

Big Task Now Confronts Deputies in County Treasurer's Office.

County Auditor Frank Heginbotham completed the assessment roll yesterday and turned his books over to County Treasurer John Groesbeck. Before Sept. 7, 60,000 tax notices will have to be mailed. There are now two forces of men and women at work and extra help will probably be needed to complete the work in time. The treasurer's deputies will collect $2,462,184.75 this year, which is $200,000 more than last year. The state will collect the taxes this year on railroad companies' property.

THE CRIME OF IDLENESS.

Idleness means trouble for any one. Its same with a lazy liver. It causes constipation, headache, jaundice, sallow complexion, pimples and blotches, loss of appetite, nausea, but Dr. King's New Life Pills soon banish liver troubles and build up your health. See at Z. C. M. F. Drug department, 112-114 Main street, Salt Lake City.

POWERS HELD FOR TRIAL.

Battered Burglar Beaten by Japs Could Not Deny Identity.

With his face still puffed and bruised, both eyes discolored, limbs stiffened and his whole appearance telling of a paltry body, William Powers, who while attempting to hold up a Japanese woman-Inghouse Saturday night, was almost beaten within an inch of his life, appeared in the court this morning and pleaded guilty to a charge of robbery. He was bound over to the district court under $200 bonds.

With his appearance Powers had little opportunity to deny his identity as the man who had attempted to hold up the Japanese in the house at 28 Pollard court. Accompanied by a negro, Powers appeared at the door of the house shortly after 11 o'clock Saturday night, and when a Jap appeared Powers drew a gun on him. The Jap was grumpy, and grabbing the barrel of the revolver, he began screaming for help. Before Powers could realize what was happening he had been dragged into the house and was being beaten, kicked and throttled by a dozen Japs, while others were trying him up with ropes. When taken to the police station Powers was still almost insensible and required a physician's attention.

The complaint against Powers was sworn to by G. Kuno, one of the Japs.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theater—The advance sale is going on today for the Dustin Farnum evening in "Cameo Kirby."

Orpheum—A real dancing oddity and clever all around performer is Master Laddie Cliff, who is the headliner at the Orpheum this week. Master Laddie is plainly in the "mister" class, but he is willing to continue with what he has for some time to come. Mr. Cliff is a clever English comedian and can do dancing stunts that put some of George M. Cohan's antics in the dark. Then he can sing some and talk more. But the ease with which he entertains is something that wins everywhere.

For variety the bill at the Orpheum this week is about the best that has been there in some time. Throughout it is good and there is something pleasing for everyone's taste.

Among the old faces on the bill this week is Frank Mostyn Kelly, who is well known here. He has the same old "sounds like a drink," with variations this time. But "Tom and Jerry," always was clever. This season Mr. Kelly has Albert Green assisting him.

Albert Green, the local violin soloist, was heartily applauded for some good work and Miss Grace Armond, "The Foolish Liz of Vaudeville," has a clever country creation as well as some catchy songs.

George W. Cooper and William Robinson, negroes, appear in "A Friend of Mine."

Some real Irish melody is the work of Max Witte's Shining Colleen, who appears in songs of the old and new world. They have a repertoire of excellent pieces and voices that go with them.

For a crowd of eight well trained, agile skiffs, muscular young women, the Right Original Madcaps best anything that has appeared at the theater in some time. They can dance, turn handsprings and do other specialties. Even in the most difficult acts they all work in unison.

Colonial—The second week of the presentation of "Corianton" is now going on. Especial interest is attached to the performance of this drama, when the house will be thronged with the old folks of the city. The play of "Corianton" was also rendered seven weeks ago for the benefit of the old folks, and they were specially interested in the treat afforded. No doubt they will be equally so this afternoon.

Bunelow—Miss Anna Cleveland's second production, "The New Allegation" is giving new evidences of her powers as an emotional actress. The play, while it is an oft told tale to Salt Lake theater goers, was always a popular one and its absorbing interest is well brought out by Miss Cleveland and her supporting players. The bill runs all week.

No matter how long you have suffered, Foley's Kidney Remedy will help you. Mrs. S. L. Bowen, of Wayne, Va., writes: "I was a sufferer from kidney disease, so that at times I could not stand straight. I took Foley's Kidney Remedy. One dollar bottle and part of the second cured me entirely." It will cure you. F. J. Hill Drug Co., ("The Never Substitutors.")

DR. SUNDWALL RETURNS.

Dr. John Sundwall, special agent of the state board of health, returned last evening from the south where he investigated the mysterious goat malady. The character of the disease has not been revealed up to date, but the doctor will investigate further with chemical apparatus in his laboratory. High temperature is a feature of the disease, running up to 105 degrees. The disease is affecting human beings as well as the goats, which makes it the more urgent that its exact nature should be discovered.

For indigestion and all stomach trouble take Foley's Orino Laxative as it stimulates the stomach and liver and regulates the bowels and positively cures habitual constipation. F. J. Hill Drug Co., ("The Never Substitutors.")

HELD FAST ON SAND SPIT.

Party of Four Spend Forty-Eight Hours as Castaways.

For thirty-six hours beginning at 8 o'clock Saturday night, a party of four young men, headed by George Bean of 72 Eighth East street, underwent all the rigors of a real castaway. From Saturday night until yesterday morning they were stranded in a small launch on a sand spit near the south point of Antelope island, lying there without food, they were until they were taken off by Capt. Dewey Davis of the Cambria II.

Bean, accompanied by Harry A. Wagner of 329 west Second South street, and two companions, left Saturday night in W. H. Parker's launch for a cruise on the lake. They were leaving Antelope island when they ran aground hard and fast.

The perilous situation was not discovered until yesterday morning when they were sighted by the steamer Vista. Owing to the shallowness of the water the steamer could not reach them, and they returned to Salt Lake, where the Cambria II was sent out and succeeded in reaching the stranded party.

None of the young men was much the worse for the experience and after food and rest all were able to laugh at their predicament.

PAT MORAN MAY STRIKE A SNAG

His Bid for Paving West Temple Draws Objection from Councilman Holley.

DIFFICULT TO COLLECT BILLS

Council Refers Matter Regarding Isolation Hospital to City Attorney for an Opinion.

P. J. Moran's contract for paving West Temple street between Fifth South and Ninth South streets was held up by Councilman Holley last night at the meeting of the city council because his prices were too high. Before Moran secured the contract at his own price, being the only bidder, he took steps to sub-let the excavating for 55 cents a cubic yard, it is charged. His price is 87 cents a cubic yard, which under the sub-contract would net him 22 cents a cubic yard without turning a shovel.

"I am sure that contractors will do the excavating for 70 cents a cubic yard, and that would give Moran a profit of 17 cents a yard. Without any work," Councilman Holley said, "there is no question but what Moran's bid is too high, and the matter ought to be investigated. For this reason I will now give notice for a reconsideration next Monday night."

Moran's bid was accepted by the board of public works yesterday at a special meeting called to consider it. His price was $100,101.84, which is $3,549.75 above the city engineer's estimate of the cost.

COST HIGHER THAN EVER.

From the report of the health department, it appears that the isolation hospital cost more this year than ever before, and the city is unable to collect bills from patients. In the last ten months, the hospital has cost $5,000 for maintenance. The city attorney has collected $168 out of an account of $1,800 which is outstanding. It is the opinion of several members of the city council that the charge of $2 a day cannot be collected and the matter was passed up to the city attorney for an opinion on the matter.

The slot vending machines of Mrs. Ora Brashere will be closed today by the order of the city council. Mrs. Brashere sought to operate about 200 machines here, but decided that the license of $10 a year was too high. The council offered to cut the license in two and make it $5 a year if the machines were installed, because the city needs the money. She failed to make application for the licenses, so her machines were ordered closed, which are now in operation without a license.

Chief of Police Barlow appointed the following special policemen who were confirmed by the council: George H. Voogd for the Orpheum, John Carlson, W. E. Garvin and Hyrum Turne for the Rio Grande, Max Florence for four moving picture theaters, E. B. Hendrickson for the Salt Palace in place of Frank Barnes, and C. H. Blomsterberg for the state capital grounds and vicinity. The resignation of Patrolman E. Foulson was received and accepted.

COST OF SECRET SERVICE.

Chief Barlow asked for $500 for his contingent fund. This amount, it is understood, was spent for his secret service during the G. A. R. encampment.

The board of public works was authorized to advertise for bids for a fire station near Eighth West and Eighth South street. It will cost about $5,000.

The payrolls for the half month ending Aug. 16 amounting to $19,288.94, were passed.

SALT LAKERS TO EXHIBIT.

D. F. Collett, secretary of the Manufacturers' association, was in Ogden today in connection with the exhibits of a number of Salt Lake manufacturers in the Fair county fair which will be held at Ogden in the near future. The names of some 15 manufacturers have been submitted to William Gasmann, manager of the fair, and he has given assurances that the exhibits will be taken care of, though it is not possible to give the different firms all the space they would like.

People with chronic bronchitis, asthma and lung trouble, will find real relief and comfort in the Polley's Lung and Tar, and can avoid suffering by commencing to take it at once. F. J. Hill Drug Co., ("The Never Substitutors.")

COMPANY TURNS TABLES ON AGENT

George S. Kimball is Now Defendant in Suit Brought by the Continental Life.

In a complaint filed yesterday in the Third district court, the Continental Life Insurance turned the tables on George S. Kimball, a stockholder in the company, and sued him for $37,376 for a breach of contract and $2,250.80 for premiums on insurance policies. Kimball has a suit now pending before the supreme court in which he seeks to secure permission to examine the books and accounts of the company.

According to the complaint Kimball entered into an agreement with the company to write $10,000,000 worth of insurance for the company in five years. The agreement was made on Feb. 24, 1904. When the contract expired Kimball had only written $5,064,500. It is figured that the company lost $37,376 in premiums on the balance of $4,935,500. The complaint also states that Kimball collected the premiums on policies which have not been accounted for. On this count, the company asks for judgment in the sum of $2,250.80.

LEAVE TO AMEND GRANTED.

In the United States district court yesterday Judge Marshall made an order permitting plaintiff to amend the complaint in the case of Cassidy vs. the Silver King Coalition Mines company.

MRS. SHEETS SEEKS DIVORCE.

Mrs. Annie L. Sheets seeks a divorce from her husband, Walter Sheets on the ground of cruelty in complaint filed yesterday in the Third district court. For the last two years, Mrs. Sheets alleges, her husband has been abusive toward her and in her complaint sets forth a number of instances when he struck her with his fist, knocking her down and injuring her. They were married in Aztec, New Mexico, Nov. 23, 1905. They have one son, Lawrence, two and one-half years old, of whom Mrs. Sheets asks the custody.

MINING DECISION.

In the United States district court yesterday Judge John A. Marshall handed down an opinion in the case of J. H. Tracey vs. W. B. MacSherry et al., which is a dispute over a mining stock claim, the property being located at Pioche. In his opinion Judge Marshall says: "There was issued to MacSherry as trustee, 750,000 shares of stock in the corporation 800,000 shares were sold for services rendered. 'It also appears,' says the opinion 'that many shares in excess of 300,000 were issued to him for the specific purpose of giving promotion expenses to the line, and had to capitulate to the enemy, evidence of the court is justified in finding that 300,000 shares were in payment for services, and the entire expense was otherwise reimbursed. The plaintiff is therefore entitled to one-half of the 300,000 shares.' It was held that the meager evidence showed that there was no contest over the stock, and that the plaintiff and MacSherry, and the latter was ordered to surrender to the company a certificate for 150,000 shares, and the corporation was ordered to issue a certificate for like amount to the plaintiff."

COURT LECTURES COUPLE.

Judge Lewis Seeks to Patch Up the Nuttall Family Differences.

Like two naughty children, Judge Thomas D. Lewis arraigned before him yesterday Mrs. Annie Irene Nuttall, young and pretty, and her handsome husband, John L. Nuttall, at court on a charge of a quarrel for alimony in a suit for separate maintenance, and gave them some fatherly advice. In reviewing the testimony in the case, Judge Lewis declared that he regretted nothing that would prevent them from living happily together. He called to their attention the seriousness of parents separating from each other. When he told them that they owed their child a beautiful boy 2 years old, their joint companionship, advice and affection, it impressed them and they stole rapid glances at each other across the court room.

In all the testimony that was introduced Judge Lewis said there were no charges of a serious nature. Mrs. Nuttall declared that her husband was a tease and jealous of her. In turn Nuttall asserted that his wife loved flattery and clothes and trifled with his affection. When he teased her about other men, who came to the store where she worked, she told him stories about compliments given her to upbraid him. All this led him to suspect her and then the break came. They quarreled for four months before Mrs. Nuttall began suit for separate maintenance. For the last three weeks, since the filing of the suit, they have lived apart and the husband has had the charge.

Judge Lewis granted Mrs. Nuttall temporary alimony in the sum of $30 a month. Out of this she is to pay the rent, $15 a month, and $4 a month in installments on the piano. The remainder, $11 a month, is for the support of the child which is to be in the custody of the mother. The court also granted $50 attorney's fees.

Mrs. Lena Krauss Smith was granted a divorce from William E. Smith on the grounds of cruelty yesterday by Judge Lewis. For two years, she testified, Smith had abused her and gave in detail several instances where he had struck her with his fists. They were married in Lincoln, Neb., on Sept. 17, 1896. The child, Clara, 2 years old, was awarded to the mother with $10 a month alimony and $50 attorney fees. Mrs. Clara Knadle, the mother of four children, whose divorced husband has failed to pay the alimony ordered by the court, secured judgment against him on a garnishment yesterday for $4. This amount of money, which was due him from the Garfield Smelter company, was ordered paid to Mrs. Knadle. According to the order Knadle is about $150 in arrears in his payments.

IN POLICE COURT.

Although protesting his ability to prove himself innocent, and pleading that he be given that opportunity immediately so that he might be able to go to work, Frank Smith will have to be in jail until August 31 before he can be given a chance to convince the court that he is not guilty of petty larceny. Smith is accused by W. M. Myers, a waiter, of the theft of some shirts, a pair of shoes and a ring from the waiter's room in the Brunswick hotel. Smith pleaded not guilty, and when Prosecutor Rogers set his case for hearing Aug. 31, and suggested that the amount of bail be fixed at $50, the defendant pleaded for an earlier hearing, saying that he had a position to go to, and that he was a stranger in the city and unable to furnish the bail. His plea was in vain, however.

S. McNamara and A. Landay, the well-dressed, genteel peddlers of furs, who were arrested yesterday on a charge of peddling without a city license, forfeited their $10 bail in court this morning.

Harry Stone, the boy who was caught yesterday shoplifting in the Chariton stores, pleaded guilty to petty larceny before Judge Bowman this morning, and was given over to the custody of the juvenile court officers.

Through his attorney, Charles Reynolds this morning entered a general demurrer to the complaint charging him with attempt to commit grand larceny. Reynolds was arrested at the Salt Palace a few nights ago on complaint of P. Taylor, who alleged that he had caught Reynolds trying to steal $25 from his pocket. The demurrer will be argued Monday.

Maggie Kinney, the colored woman alleged to have stolen $20 from Thomas Broff, a G. A. R. veteran aged 72 years, was arraigned before Judge Bowman this morning on a charge of grand larceny, and pleaded not guilty. Her hearing was set for Sept. 15, and in default of $200 bond she was remanded to the sheriff's custody.

Diamonds

The "spread" of a diamond is a great talking point with some salesmen and if a stone weighing 3/4 of a carat has the "spread" or extreme diameter that another has which weighs one carat, some customers are induced to buy because of its great show.

The "spread" of a diamond like all other extremes can be too much or too little and always if too much sacrifices brilliancy for mere surface.

The jeweler who can show one all kinds of diamonds but the proper kind and cannot sell a customer unless he can show a stone that looks like something it is not, is not to be trusted.

No house in America stands for a higher standard of integrity than does the J. H. Leyson Co., who for 30 years in Montana and 20 years in Utah have given fair goods at a fair price and we solicit more generously the diamond confidence of the public. Our diamonds are of a superior quality and the owner of one is always satisfied.
