

THE EVENING NEWS

Friday, November 26, 1909. LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THEATRE.—To-night Kate Denin, the popular and talented actress, takes her first benefit at the Theatre in this city.

THE SHOOTING OF A. D. RICHARDSON.—The telegrams to-day contain an account of the shooting of Mr. A. D. Richardson, of the New York Tribune, by a man named McFarland.

The difficulty between Richardson and McFarland originated in a suspected improper intimacy between the former and the wife of the latter, and led to a shooting scrape something over a year ago.

LIGHTING THE LAMPS.—On Wednesday evening, the 24th inst., the lamps which now adorn the fronts of most of our public institutions and the corners of many of the streets of the city, were lighted for the first time, and deserve a passing word of notice, as they form a sure evidence of progress.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—We received the following details of a railway accident, by Deseret Telegraph line, yesterday, too late for publication: "WILKINSON, a wagon, managed to escape from their owner, and started in the direction of the railroad. They ran till they came to the grade and while endeavoring to cross it, an engine and train came along the track, killing both males instantly and seriously wounding the others.

STATE OF TEXAS.—Received per Deseret Telegraph line, yesterday: Logan, cold and cloudy, looks like snow; Kayville, dismal and chilly; appearance like rain; Springville, been snowing all day, now about four inches deep.

PROMONTORY AND CORINNE.—From a gentleman who reached this city last evening we glean a few items of news pertaining to the infamous centres of "civilization," "progress," and "enlightenment," whose names disgrace the head of this paragraph.

In the early part of the present week, an unsophisticated Dutchman, who, with his wife and eight children, was en route to the Pacific, was swindled out of several hundred dollars, the savings of several years, by a gang of the elite, alias the gamblers, swindlers and scoundrels of the Promontory, leaving the poor folks utterly destitute, as they were unable to recover a cent.

The vile and nefarious transaction was the hair that broke the camel's back, for it incensed the railroad men that they determined to rid the place of all such characters infesting it. They accordingly armed themselves, and, with Mr. Edwards, agent of the U. P. road there, at their head, they gave the crowd a quarter of an hour to leave, placing an engine and car at their disposal to transport them to that boasted mart of commerce, that Chicago of the mountains, Corinne, with its low miserable huts and shanties and "dead-falls."

The recalls, thinking, doubts, that compliance was the only way to save themselves from the grasp of the gentlemen of their stamp, took their departure within the time prescribed. Mr. Edwards, we are informed, housed and fed the family they had robbed, and headed a subscription, which was made up to $150, to help them on their way westward. The conduct of Mr. Edwards and of the railroad employees, in ridding their neighborhood of a set of harpies and scoundrels, and for of the whole of their worthy work by them, is worthy of the greatest praise.

The decision, finally rendered by the court, is already, we are told, attracting a large influx of would-be-settlers to that place, among whom, our informant assured us, is quite a number of washes, "goodies" and other delectable places of a like kind, at Corinne and Promontory. With a keen eye to business these fellows had made their appearance there, in order if possible to purchase lots, upon which they might erect their "hotels" and "resorts" for the customed pursuists. But, we were pleased to learn that there are no more such prospects in the neighborhood of the railway, the employees of the roads, and others at the number of about seventy, having come to the determination to do all in their power to prevent the locality being settled by persons of this class. This is a capital determination, and if carried out will be a blessing to the community at large.

FLORENCE READ THIS!

THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT CORRESPONDENCE explains itself—

CHALLENGE TO SEWING MACHINE MEN.

LOUISVILLE, KY., August 21, 1899. Agents for all Sewing Machines, Louisville, Ky.—Gentlemen: We hereby challenge you to exhibit your Sewing Machines for premium at the Kentucky State Fair, commencing September 14, 1899.

The absence of any Sewing Machine with its representative, at the designated time and place, will be regarded as an acknowledgment of defeat and inability to compete.

Agents Singer Sewing Machine, 160 Fourth St. GEO. W. BOUVILLE, Agent Improved Howe Sewing Machine, 106 Fourth Street.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.

Messrs. Kennedy & Churchill, Agents Singer Machine, and Geo. W. Bouville, Agent Howe Machine.—In response to a challenge you published in the "Courier-Journal" of the 2nd inst., permit us to ACCEPT your challenge to exhibit our Sewing Machine for the FIRST PREMIUM at the coming Kentucky State Fair. As you have thrown down the gauntlet, we most cheerfully pick it up.

JNO. MCCONNELL & CO., Agents Florence Sewing Machine, No. 110 Fourth Street.

THE RESULT.

The FLORENCE FAMILY SEWING MACHINE was awarded the TWO HIGHEST PREMIUMS at the Kentucky State Fair over ALL THE COMPETITORS, and was declared by all who examined it to be THE BEST SEWING MACHINE on exhibition.

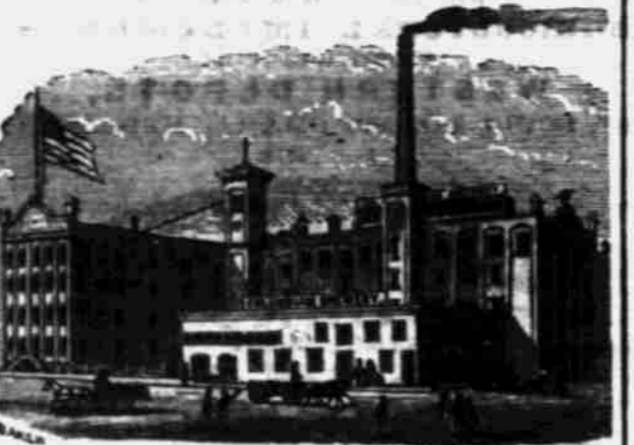

The following is a list of the ladies and gentlemen who composed the Committee, and by whom the premiums were awarded.

DR. BROWN, Chairman, Mrs. W. BENEDICT, Mrs. JUDGE LOGAN, Mrs. E. LOW, FRED. GEO. E. H. GRAY.

REASONS.

1—Simplicity and great range of work. 2—Its making four different stitches, knot stitch, and double lock stitch. 3—Its reversible feed motion, operated by simply turning a thumb screw, enabling the operator to run the work right or left, and convenience of self-lubricating the ends of seams. 4—The perfect finish and substantial manner in which the Machine is made. 5—The rapidity of its work, and the quality of the work done. 6—Its self-adjusting tension.
