

"We hold these truths to be self-evi-That all men are created equal.'

The state legislators seem at present to be grappling with educational problems as well as financial ones in considering the propriety of adding the Agricultural college to the University of Utah.

The old saying, "A fool and his money are soon parted" holds good with a nation, state, or an individual. The governor in his message to the legislature provides subject matter for wise and careful consideration. And being especially interested in the common schools, that part of his message appeals most to me. The governor's quotation from State Supt Nelson's report. "That it is not well to allow the primary schools to suf fer on account of too liberal support being given to the higher institutions. is worthy of investigation.

PROVO'S CONDITION

At the close of the half year of the Provo city schools, an announcement was made by Vice President J. W. Farrer of the board of education that on account of lack of funds the schools would run only eight months this year. While Provo city's condition is here quoted, hundreds of other school districts in the state are either in as depressed, or worse financial condition. And while it is gratifying to note that $21 per year is expended per capita for children of school age enrolled in the common schools; yet it is to be regretted that this amount varies in the different counties and cities of the state as two to one. Americans are proud of their splendid

Americans are proud of their spiendid educational growth. They have taken inspiration from the educational views of the immortal Jefferson, and are hop-ing and trusting in the intelligence of the voters, the common citizens. "Equal and exact justice to all and special privileges to none," is the mot-to. But when we find a condition con-fronting us where 50 per cent of the common school children of the state are prevneted from graduating from the elementary schools on account of early disadvantages, and an agricultur-al college is extravagantly maintained which is duplicating the work of other state institutions of learning, we must cry out, "Some one has blundered."

RATES PER CAPITA.

Let us look at this question: Ac-cording to the majority report of the college commission of 1906, the rate per capita for college students at the agriwhile at the University of Utah it was less than $300, and all the students of the college could have been educated at the university very much more eco-

The same is true of the industrial school: and the cost of maintaining a school for the feeble minded has been figured at $50,000 for establishing the school, and $600 per capita for maintaining the same per year. It is most likely that the present Jaw will be repealed entirely by the legislature and a new one passed, and in that event Judge Brown will be left out by the repealing of the present law. this spirit has made its appearance, in attempts to carry enactments that would infringe upon the rights of pri-mary education to confer benefits upon higher institutions of learning. To paraphrase Shakespeare, we should not love higher institutions less, but pri-mary education more. If in our normal institutions devotion to the real inter-ests of the people is strong enough to withstand the temptations to turn "pro-fessors" i.e. graduates who feel them. withstand the temptations to turn "pro-fessors" i. e., graduates who feel them-selves fitted for high positions, and instead thereof these schools will bring their influence to bear upon the im-provement and elevation of the schools of the primary grade, as the first and foremost consideration, and then follow up this course with such higher instruc-tions as may be called for, then higher education will be greatly benefitted; for it will have a sound foundation to build upcn and will become measurably free from certain aspirants to educational honors whose time and talents would be better employed in other spheres." The juvenile court commission has asked Judge Brown for his resignation, but he has refused to resign, so if the legislature does not fix the law so as to better employed in other sphere

Verdict for Defendant in Fire Damage Suit at Bingham.

Suit at Bingham. The jury in the case of the Bingham Coal & Lumber company against the Rio Grande Western Raliway com-pany, which was tried in Judge Ritchie's court today returned a ver-dict in favor of defendant. The action was brought to recover $5,000 damages for the loss of plaintiff's property by fire which was alleged to have been caused by sparks from a locomotive be-longing to defendant. The jury found that the fire was not due to the negli-gence of defendant and hence returned a verdict in its favor.

band of Neglecting Her. An amended complaint has been filed by Laura M. Atkinson against her hus-band. William J. Atkinson in which she charges him with cruelty. In her original complaint she asked for a di-vorce on the grounds of failure to sup-port and her husband filed an answer in which he alleged that she had a very bad disposition and refused to live in Sait Lake, and refused to cook his meals for him. Mrs. Atkinson in her amended complaint also charges failure to support, and in addition alleges cruelty in that her husband wrote to her while she was visiting in Nebraska and told her that he had lost his affec-tion for her and intended to such her for divorce. She returned to Sait Lake and immediately filed suit for divorce. She asks for $100 temporary alimony and $100 as attorney's fees, and for the custody of their children.

TWO DIVORCE SUITS.

TWO DIVORCE SUITS. Suit for divorce has been filed in the district court by Alma P. Baker against William W. Baker on the ground that the defendant was con-victed of a felony and is now serv-ing a term in the state prison. The partise were married on April 15, 1900, and it is alleged, that defendant was convicted of burglary on Jan. 15, 1906, and is now serving a term of three years in the state prison of this state. This is his second term in the state prison, and plaintiff is of the opinion that she should be divorced. She allow asks for the custody of their child. Josephine Senior has filed suit for divorce in the district court against Fred J. Senior on the grounds of de-sertion and failure to support. They were married on Sept. 1, 1905, and it is alleged that defendant deserted plain-tiff on Nov. $, 1905, just a little more than a month after their marriage, and that for more than a year past he has failed to support her.

COURT HOTES.

H. B. 68 is the title of the proposed new bounty law. The measure is by Westphal of Utah, and provides that the state shall pay for the destruction of wild animals as follows: For each mountain lion or bear, $5; for each coyote, lynx or wildcat, $1.50. These amounts are in addition to any amounts offered by the counties. To procure the bounty it is necessary to produce the skin with ears and tail attached, of the animal killed, together with affi-davit of applicant that he killed same.

Representative Westphal of Utah county will introduce a bill into the house relating to the fish and game laws of the state. The bill proposes to put a premium on the destruction of the fish known as carp from the lakes of the state, especially Utah lake, and restores permission to selne in this lake under certain conditions. Mr. Westphal said the carp are becoming so numer-ous in these waters that a boat can scarcely force its way through them. They are of an uncleanly nature, and root into the banks and bottom of the lake for moss and water vegetation, un-til none of this material remains at the present time. They stir up the mud and trout and bass fry cannot live in the dirty water. Altogether the carp are undesirable and an effort is to be made to get rid of them. The measure also fixes the time for hunting deer for on month in the year, between Oct. Is and No. 15 and places the amount of Representative Westphal of Utah on ; month in the year, between Oct. 15 and Nov. 15, and places the amount of fishing and hunting license at $1 for residents of the state and $10 for nonresidents.

After the session yesterday afternoon, Speaker Joseph held a little session and instructed the members in the intricacles of parliamentary law, a la Joseph. Among the interested attendants were noticed Robinson of Bingham and Jen-sen, Nephi U. S. C.

Speaker Joseph is becoming quite proficient as a mind reader. Yesterday when Kuchler made a motion for the adoption of a resolution for the ap-pointment of a committee of three to investigate alleged false publication of quotations by trade journals one of the investigate alleged raise publication of quotations by trade journals, one of the other members made the point that Kuchler had not specified that the com-mittee should be appointed by the speaker. Mr. Joseph arcse and solemn-ly remarked that Mr. Kuchler intended to incorporate that provision in his motion, whereupon the resolution was adonted.
