

MCGRAW TO RETIRE FROM BASEBALL

Report Circulated That He Will Quit at the End of the Year.

IN GAME FOURTEEN YEARS.

Muggy Says the Thing He Detests is Travelling—Has Made Considerable Money.

According to a New York dispatch, Muggy McGraw will give up baseball at the end of this season. It says: John J. McGraw does not have to play baseball any longer. He has been in the game 14 years; has made good money during most of this time and now he has commercial and property interests which make him independent of salary.

He asserts that what he most hates in the baseball life is traveling. To a close friend he said recently: "I detest, more than I can express in words, this moving from place to place throughout the playing season. I have been traveling from one part of this country to another so much, say nothing of my trips to foreign countries, that the very sight of a railroad train appeals to me. I want to stay at home, to have my own place, my own family, my own property, my own tastes and domestic life. I want to go to the Pullman and sleep in the tender mercies of the hotels in the next city."

Asked if his decision to give up baseball was irrevocable, he said: "Practically it is. Of course, I might be invited to sign a contract for a short time—say two seasons or something like that—for such an advantageous sum that I would be fairly tempted to sign. But I am a slave to my family. If I threw down the proposition, I am not fishing for such a contract. I do not want it. I will leave the national game as such, but I am tired of the traveling game, and as soon as I can I am going to stop around except to go where I shall go from personal choice."

ALWAYS A BREADWINNER.

John J. McGraw was born in Truxton, N. Y., and started out early in life to make his own living. He was devoted to baseball, and in his early youth he was engaged to go to various towns to fill up the roster of various professional clubs. He was regularly signed by the Bay City (Mich.) team.

In those old days the Baltimore Baseball club had varying fortunes, mostly bad, and Manager William Barrie got McGraw, with other young timber, for his club. McGraw played generally on the bench. He was only 19 years old at the time, and Barrie, when he did trust McGraw, sent him to shortstop. This was in 1882.

In 1883 Edward Hanlon became manager of the Baltimore Baseball club. He sent that season to studying his club and his players, and he, with unexampled baseball judgment, not only kept McGraw, but he also had him play ball, but had him play in the outfield. He had had the idea of McGraw, and he had audited the finer points of the game, even when he was on the bench. This year developed the Big Four. McGraw, Jennings, Kelley and Reeler. It should have been a big year for McGraw, but he was a tower of strength and in his position was the equal to the others in their, though it was the Big Four which got McGraw, extraordinary base running and an utter contempt for personal averages, made and he led in the runs which won pennants.

MCGRAW'S FINE OPPORTUNITY.

When two years before the expiration of the National agreement, it was seen that Baltimore was to be forced out of the big league, the Baltimore club owner, under the name of the Baltimore Orioles, was sold to the Brooklyn club, which was then owned by John T. Brush. This was McGraw's opportunity to show his managerial ability. He and Robinson, having business interests in Baltimore as well as homes and families here, asked to be left in the Orioles City. They were left.

John McGraw was appointed manager of the team of 1886, which the people derisively called "The Lotters." McGraw hustled for players, especially pitchers, and looked over the list of reserves named by Hanlon. One of those pitchers was Joe McGinnity. McGraw's team and Hanlon's Brooklyn trained, respectively, in Savannah and Augusta, Ga. In Augusta they came together and McGraw downed Hanlon in a majority of the games played and they Ned won pennants. That year McGraw struck other persons with wonder, for his team took fourth place, though the wise prophets had in advance predicted it nothing better than a low station in the second division. 12 clubs then forming the National League.

His joining the American league after the reduction of the National from 16 clubs to eight, his unfortunate quarrel with Barrie, Johnson, president of the American, and his outwitting of Johnson by becoming manager of the New York Giants, all matters of comparative recent history, as are his winning of two pennants for New York and the registering of world's record baseball attendance.

A Live Wire

Every nerve is a live wire connecting some part of the body with the brain. They are so numerous that if you penetrate the skin with the point of a needle you will touch a nerve and receive a shock—pain it is called. Aches and pains come from a pressure, strain or injury to a nerve; the more prominent the nerve the greater the pain. When the pain comes from a large nerve it is called Neuralgia.

whether it be the facial nerves, or the heart, stomach, sciatic or other prominent nerve branch. To stop pain, then, you must relieve the strain or pressure upon the nerves. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills do this.

I suffered intense pain, caused by a neuralgia of the face, and various medicines without getting relief until I began taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They never failed to cure my headache, and their use never leaves any bad after-effects.

W. M. BECKMAN, Elm St., Ind.

GREATEST EVENT IN THE TURF WORLD

Suburban Handicap to be Decided on Fine Track Today.

VALUE OF STAKE IS $20,000.

Will be Twenty-third Time This Rich Prize Has Been Raced For.

New York, June 20.—The Suburban handicap, the greatest of all the big events in the turf world of America will be decided today at the beautiful track of the Coney Island Jockey club at Sheepshead Bay.

The race has attracted 17 of the best horses in the country, and if the weather remains fair, between 20,000 and 30,000 persons will journey to the course to see the contest. The value of the stake is $20,000 and today will be the twenty-third time this rich prize has been raced for.

"Suburban Day" is somewhat of a holiday for lovers of the thoroughbred and in this respect the event resembles, in a way, the famous English Derby. Every man who has ever taken an interest in the running of horses, if it is at all possible to do so, makes the pilgrimage to the track by the sea on Suburban day and for many of them it is the only race track visit of the season in which they indulge. The social set has also given the Suburban its weighty approval and the presence, naturally, of many of society's leaders adds a brilliant feature to the picturesque scene of the prior racing. From the entries to the Suburban, turfmen predict that if the track remains fast a sensational race will be the result. Experts who have studied the complexion of the race with care are inclined to the belief that one of the three—Light or Dark—will be returned the winner. In all probability Elector will rule favorite. He has started well once this season, but on that occasion he forced his way to a drive to beat him in the standard stakes at a mile and a quarter in 2:30.34.

James R. Keene will have a strong hand in the three-year-olds, Superman, the winner of the Brooklyn handicap, and the Oregonian, who today with a total of 90 out of a possible 100 Lee Barkley of Chicago made the high score for professional jockeys with a total of 57. The entire purse amounted to $1,450 and went to amateurs only. W. Woodworth of Missoula, Mont., was twelfth man with 52.

Tommy Burns is backing his protegee, Jimmy Burns, to win a clean race in the light weight division in the west. He has offered to put up a $1,000 purse for the race, but he has not yet been able to get a match with him. He says he is willing to bet that much that Jimmy can beat either Britt or Nelson.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

New York, June 19.—Jockey Koerner had a narrow escape from being killed in the last race at Gravesend today, when his mount, Incasche, was in second place near the finish when Park Row, a 9 to 1 shot, in an endeavor to crowd through the rail, ran into him, causing him to fall. Koerner was thrown into the path of the thirteen on the course, and it seemed to the spectators that he must be trampled and killed. When poked up the boy was unconscious and bleeding freely and badly lacerated on the scalp, but emergency hospital doctors pronounced his injuries not serious. Park Row won by a nose placed second and Remis, the favorite, third.

"PENNY" GOSSIP.

The Saturday afternoon baseball league schedule begins on Saturday afternoon when games will be played between 2.

HUSLER'S FLOUR!

Makes the luxuriant necessities, of every meal, every day. Especially a maker of Good Bread.

There was a lively ball game at Murray yesterday afternoon between the Smelter Town team and the Slaggers. Husler did splendid work in the box for the Murrayites. The game ended with a score of 2 to 4 in favor of Murray.

Hey Lake, England, June 19.—In the second day's play of the qualifying competition of the international golf championship, Hutchinson of New York made the first round in 82 strokes. A. J. Lewis leads, with a score of 78.

Among the events to take place at Provo tomorrow afternoon will be a relay race between members of the Commercial club and traveling men. The Commercial club runners are: R. C. Watkins, H. C. Hicks, Bert Smith, F. A. Ford, Francis W. Kitcham, Henry W. Gease, J. William Knight and T. C. Teetzel.

Chicago, June 19.—For the Grand American handicap shooting tournament, 40 marksmen are eligible for the big event on Thursday. This is by far the largest entry received for any target event in this or any other country.

Ogden, Park City and Murray will likely make bids for boxing contests on July 4. Billy Funnage and Muggsy Sholes may be matched for a twenty-round affair at Ogden. If Sholes beats the Chicago boy he can get a match with Hyland. There is some talk of getting Robt Smith for Mantel at Murray or Park City.

John Dubei proposes to take his string of ball tossers up north for a series of games, and among the teams John proposes to beat is the Preston aggregation. Arrangements have been made for a game between the two teams on July 4. It will be played at Preston. On the 7th the locals will play Pocatello.

Tommy Burns is backing his protegee, Jimmy Burns, to win a clean race in the light weight division in the west. He has offered to put up a $1,000 purse for the race, but he has not yet been able to get a match with him. He says he is willing to bet that much that Jimmy can beat either Britt or Nelson.

THE MAYOR OF DAVENPORT HAS DECLARED AGAINST BOXING AND SAYS THERE SHALL BE NO MORE BOXING IN THAT CITY WHILE HE IS IN OFFICE. Packey McFarland and Dick Hyland were practically matched to box fifteen rounds there, but the mayor has been much squabbling over the articles the mayor decided to settle the whole thing by not allowing any boxing at all.
