Died of Hydrophobia.

PHILADELPHIA, 21.—John Kripple died of hydrophobia. He was bitten in the thumb by a dog three months ago.

Black Hills—Mass Meeting.

DEADWOOD, D. T., 21.—A mass meeting of the people of the Black Hills was held here, to-day. A memorial to Congress was adopted urging the formation of a new Territory, embracing the Black Hills region, to be called Lincoln. A resolution was adopted, accrediting Hon. J. B. Chaffee, senator from Colorado, as representative to urge their claims in the Senate.

Liberality of Gov. Nicholls.

NEW ORLEANS, 21.—A committee from the Packard legislature waited upon the commission, today, and requested their friendly offices in securing from the Nicholls government some compensation for the policemen and employees who have remained faithful to Packard. The commission assured them that they would endeavor to meet their wishes, and immediately requested an interview with Nicholls and a number of prominent democrats. The subject was favorably considered, and Nicholls, with the advice and consent of his associates, promptly offered to devote the Governors' contingent fund to this purpose. This fund amounts to between thirty and forty thousand dollars, and was appropriated to aid Nicholls in establishing his government. This prompt aid to the republican employees will provide for their immediate wants and remove much of the disaffection among them. The commission seemed highly gratified at the absence of resentment on the part of the Nicholls party. Long before these arrangements were consummated a number of the Packard members had taken seats in the Nicholls legislature. Subsequently a concurrent resolution was passed in the Nicholls legislature paying the republican members, who were not elected but returned by the returning board, their mileage and per diem as contestants.

A notable feature of the proceedings upon the floor of the Nicholls House was the withdrawal of the seven democratic members who had been seated subject to the contest, and who yielded their seats, introducing the colored republican members who claimed the seats on the face of the returns.

Before the House assembled this morning, Kenochan, the democratic member of Raquemine, who was unseated by the arrangement of admitting the republicans, called the House to order, informally, whereupon Kidd, democrat, in a feeling address, presented a handsome gold-headed cane to William Ridgeway, colored member from Concordia, who had been seated upon the contest, but who was one of the first to yield to a colored contestant in the interest of adjustment.

The Commission Finish Their Labors.

The Commission closed their labors, to-day, and left for Washington via Mobile. The results achieved by them are more complete than could have been anticipated. The special feeling, even among the intelligent republicans, is that these results will be of immense advantage to the State. The Commission have been more than ordinarily circumspect, and have devoted themselves in the most laborious manner to their work, and in their innumerable interviews with delegations and committees and individuals of both parties, they being cautious and patient. They understood that an ovation was tendered them by the people of this city, but this they declined with thanks.

Another Surrender of Hostile Indians.

CAMP ROBINSON, Neb. 21.—Eight lodges of Cheyennes, under Dull Knife and Standing Elk, surrendered to General Crook at eleven a.m. to-day. The village comprises about 550 persons, eighty-five of whom are fighting men. They turned in 600 ponies, sixty guns, about thirty pistols. They are completely destitute of all the necessaries of life, having lost everything when their village was destroyed in November last. They have no lodges, but simple shelters of old canvas and skins, very few blankets or robes, no cooking utensils. Many are still suffering from frozen limbs. It is surprising that they have been able to hold out so long under these circumstances, and their doing so proves the fortitude of the American Indian under privation and hardship. This makes 780 Cheyennes who have surrendered here since the first of January. The latest advices represent Crazy Horse still en route for this agency.

Branch of Trust.

NEW YORK, 21.—An order has been granted requiring ex-Mayor Lambert, of Brooklyn, to show cause why he should not be attached for breach of trust in the management of Rufus Cook's estate.

Turkish Officers Inspecting Arms, etc.

A number of Turkish army officers arrived, to-day. They come to inspect the arms, are ordered to learn the American method of manufacturing arms, and to witness the working of the machinery employed in their manufacture in the United States.

The Terrible Slaughter at Lancie.

Information has been received of the terrible slaughter of the Moravian missionary and family at the settlement of Lancie, on the Labrador Coast, during the absence of the younger ministers from the mission house, and while the only occupants were two feeble clergymen, the son of one of them, a paralytic, and his two sisters. The names of the victims were Rev. W. Bolfe, who has spent thirty years in Labrador, Ernand Bolfe, his son, and Charlotte and Annie, his daughters. The bodies were frightfully mangled, and a large quantity of English and Canadian money stolen. The murder is believed traceable to four Esquimaux who have been refused rum at the mission.

Particulars of the Burning of the Steamer "Leo."

Purser Wildman, of the steamer Leo, which was burned early on the morning of April 3rd, eighty miles south of Tybee Island, tells a graphic story of the disaster to the reporter of the Times. He says, about three o'clock, while a terrible sea was rolling, it was discovered that some freight between decks had got loose and was pitching about. The hatches were opened to secure the freight, when, to the horror of the crew, forked tongues of fire shot out. The hose was at once brought, but the fierceness of the gale, fanning the flames, which had already obtained considerable headway, rendered it useless, and Captain Daniels ordered the life boats lowered. The captain, with several officers, hurried to the forward deck to secure the life raft which was in the captain's cabin, and despatched aft another gang, under command of the chief engineer, to assist in lowering the boats. The fire had increased fearfully, and breaking out fiercely amid ships entirely cut off all communication between the two parties. In the cabin were two middle-aged ladies, the two Misses Farrington, natives of Nassau, and members of a wealthy and prominent family, on their way home after a visit to the north and Savannah. They were both in feeble health, and efforts were made to get them out, but owing to the sway and fearful rolling of the ship and rapidity with which the flames spread, all efforts were unavailing. It is almost certain that they perished. The other passenger was Ernest Pappendeck, of New York, who, aroused by the commotion on deck, came up and got into one of the life boats. Capt. Daniels, with his party, who were forward, managed to lower the raft, when twelve of the crew, besides himself, succeeded in getting aboard. The stewardess, who was on deck, was told to jump into the raft, and in attempting it, fell into the sea and was drowned. The persons on the raft were huddled together in a cramped position, nearly naked, and shivering. One heavy sea capsized the raft, throwing the occupants into the sea. They scrambled on it again, except Martin McQuade, who was lost.

After a most horrible time, drifting at the mercy of the waves, a vessel bore down upon them, and in a short time took them all off. Owing to the darkness and terrible surroundings, the rescued party saw nothing of those who got into the life boats. There is a possibility, however, that they may have been rescued, as the disaster occurred directly in the course of vessels coming to Savannah or Dobay.

The "Dauntless" Sold.

The World says it is reported, on good authority, that Mr. Bennett's yacht Dauntless has been sold to a gentleman in California, and will soon fit out for San Francisco via Cape Horn. The price paid is said to have been $10,000.

Wool Market.

BOSTON, 21.—Wool has been quiet and steady during the past week. The demand has been principally for California fall and spring, and superior and X pulled. Fleece wool has been comparatively quiet. Sales of Ohio and Pennsylvania 78,000 pounds, XXX Pennsylvania 50; XX Ohio 46; X Ohio 46 @ 46½; Michigan fleeces steady at 37 @ 38; 18,000 pounds were sold in this range. New York, New Hampshire and Western fleeces range from 35 @ 38; but sales have been in small lots. The transactions in combing and delaine fleeces are confined to small lots, but stocks are small. Pulled wools are in fair demand; sales 211,000 lbs for the week; Eastern and Maine superiors from 40 @ 46 down to 30; for low superior and X pulled 37½ @ 40; combing pulled in request and has been selling at 44 @ 46; in California there has been an increased trade, the sales of the week comprising 753,000 lbs. at from 15 to 25 for spring, and 22½ for fall, but mostly fall wool at 16 @ 18.

Juvenile Shooting.

Dudley Kimball, six years old, shot Stephen Cox, seven years old, this afternoon, while playing in the street on account of a juvenile quarrel. Both are the sons of prominent business men.

Speaker Randal Denies.

WASHINGTON, 21.—Speaker Randall denies the sensational stories of the President's propositions to him and others to avoid an extra session. He never heard of the thing except in the newspapers.

Important Decision by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The Secretary of the Treasury has given a decision concerning the use of appropriations for the payment of accrued claims, his attention having been drawn to the question of the use of appropriations, after the time for which they were made, upon claim for violation of a contract. As many cases depend upon the construction of the law, the Secretary gives the subject the most careful consideration. He concludes: "The statute cuts off the payment of the clearest claims two years after the expiration of the appropriation, such as the salary of the President or Supreme Judge or members of Congress, and much more a multitude of doubtful claims that grow by time. All proper claims are likely to be promptly made and paid. Some just claims may arise and be delayed by neglect or want of proof, but to provide for this and at the same time give the claimant the benefit of the finding by the auditor and comptroller, the Secretary of the Treasury is directed, at the beginning of each session, to report to Congress with his annual estimate and balance of the appropriations for specific objects, affected by this section, that may need to be re-appropriated. This is the precise reference required to secure the payment of judgments by the Supreme Court or Court of Claims; it follows, therefore, that the Secretary is not authorized to draw any money from the Treasury in payment of this claim, or in payment of any claims covered by either permanent or ordinary annual appropriations, that do not clearly fall within the limitation fixed by the act of June 20, 1874, or within the exceptions.

A Defaulter Arrested.

DENVER, Col., 22.—Christian Schotler, formerly a well known and influential citizen of Iowa City, whence he absconded last month, was arrested here yesterday by the Rocky Mountain Detective Association. A considerable amount of money was found in his possession, and will be returned to Iowa at once. Schotler has been traveling under the nom de plume or C. J. Schutler, and has married a young woman named Mary Schorr, who has been his companion for some time. He has a wife and twelve children in Iowa City. His defalcations there amount to $18,000.

Washington Items.

WASHINGTON, 22.—Cablegrams received by the State Department indicate that there is no possibility of averting war between Russia and Turkey.

Chief Justice Carter, yesterday, denied the writ of mandamus applied for against the Secretary of the Navy. The object of the petitioners was to compel that official to revise the action of the Department in the settlement of the prize money for the capture of the rebel ram Albemarle. The Judge held that the service on the previous Secretary of the Navy did not hold good as respected the present incumbent. That this money had already been distributed and paid out, and there was no reliable ground on which to found the application. The counsel for the petitioners gave notice of an appeal.

Ex-Congressman Long, colored, of Georgia, expresses himself as fully satisfied that the President's southern policy is needed to bring about good feeling among all the southern people without regard to politics or color. In Georgia, he says, the colored people have no cause of complaint. The feeling between the two races is friendly, and all are secured in their rights. He spoke of the liberality of the State in providing educational means for colored as well as white people. In his own city (Macon) the whites and blacks unite in selecting the best men to office without regard to politics.

Chief Justice Waite and Secretary Schurz were at the Executive Mansion this evening, and were a long time in consultation with the President.

Temperance Society.

A temperance organization was formed in this city, to-night, under the name of the Mrs. Rutherford B. Hayes Temperance Society. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the sentiments of Mrs. Hayes in regard to the use of intoxicating liquors at State dinners and similar occasions.

Boat Race.

At Constantinople, April 12, an interesting race was rowed between one of the Gettysburg's service cutters and a crack boat belonging to the English gunboat Cockatrice. The course was two miles up the Bosphorus and return. The Americans won by a third of a mile. The English crew were the challengers.
