On Wednesday at 2 o'clock, possibly earlier, Culion will ask the Senate to proceed to the consideration of the inter-State commerce bill, and there is a general impression that the measure will be taken up and will form the chief topic of discussion thereafter until it is disposed of.

THE UNFINISHED BUSINESS of the Senate is that providing for the establishment of agricultural experiment stations, while the bill to prohioit Members of Congress to act as attorneys for subsidized railroads these measures is likely to give rise to crease. extended debate, except possibly the Diplomatic and Consular bill. Owing to lits radical change, as compared with former bills and its increasing appropriations, this measure may become

OBJECT OF ATTACE. Nearly all the measures which have been made special orders, are likely to be pressed for action at the first op-portunity that may offer when the House is not engaged in the consideration of appropriation bilis in addition to the bill for the creation of a Department of Agriculture and Labor aiready meationed. The list includes the Dunn Free Shipping bill, the Pacific Railroad Funding bill, the Oklahoma bill, and the bill for the Reorganization of the Navy Department. Towards the latter part of the week it is expected that a conference on the Electoral Count bill will report an agreement and request the House to take final action, which will probably be granted.
Senator Aldrich, chairman of the Senate Committee on Transportation Routes to the Seaboard, authorizes the publication of the report of that com-mittee upon the subject of railroad freights in the United States and other countries, the study of which for the purpose of settling certain questions

INTER-STATE COMMERCE, has long been in progress by his committee. The appointment of the Senate Committee upon inter-State Commerce somewhat modified the work originally mapped out by the committee on transportation routes to the seaboards, and that committee decided not to take testimony as it was an thorized to do but to conduct a seconduct. thorized to do, but to conduct a spe-cial line of inquiry, to ascertain, if posible, the relative progress of the various grain-producing countries. The complete report makes 500 pages of printed matter and contains many valhe subject of transportation, gathered from nearly every country in the

The first table presented indicates the progress of the United States for a generation. Thirty-three years ago we produced 100,000,000 hushels of wheat and about 600,000,000 bushels of corn. Twice in recent years we have reached 500,000,000 bushels of whest, and in 1895 the corn crop reached 1,800-000,000, a five-fold increase in wheat and a three-fold increase in corn. The increase in other cereals has not been so rapid, nor are they regarded by the committee as so as in wheat and corn. In the export trade the committee says: "Wheat has already ranked first in value, and in a years has added $2,600,000,000 to the value of our national preduction, a sum equal to four times the value of the experted corn and corn meal dur-ing the same period. It is shown by the tables that during the ten years ending with 188, the average annual receipts of cercais of all kinds at these ports have been in round figures 200,

An attempt was made by the committee to ascertale the rates of freight from the principal intermediate points to the seaboard, and also from intermediate points to the principal cities of the various States. The investigation was conducted in the hope of ascertaining the facts in regard to the

For this purpose a table was prepared giving the summary of the wheat imported into the United Kingdom, Great Britain and Ireland from various countries during the period of seven years, from 1836 to 1842, inclusive, and the decades from 1843 to 1882, inclusive, showing the total importations of of the Treasury to-day directed the removal of A. The committee reproduces tables rom what is known as "The Windom Report," which is a summary state-ment of wheat (including wheat and flour) imported into the United Kingdom from 1800 to 1872 inclusive, and adds thereto a table of its own, showing the same facts from 1873 to 1883, inclusive. Commenting on this table, the committee says: "An examination of the table shows that Russia still retains the second position and Germany the third; but the rapid change in 11 years of British India, from the thirteenth position to the fourth is the most noticeable feature in the summary. Elsewhere in the report this phase of the question is discussed at length, and many important facts relative to the cost of producing wheat in India and other competing countries, the rate of freight charged, the prices at important points, the rates of ocean transportation etc., are referred to. It will also be observed that, comparing the two por-tions, the supply from Russia, Ger-many, and France has decreased actually and relatively, though of course it must be borne in mind that the Windom committee took a period of 13 years, and this committee a period of it years; but after due allowance for this difference there would still be a steady decrease. An important feature of the report is the showing in tabular form the prices of wheat for a series of years in the principal countries of the world. AGRICULTURAL BILLS.

Mr. Joseph H. Reali, of New York, President of the American Agricultural and Dairy Association, who is in Washington for the purpose of pro-moting agricultural interests in Congrees said to a reporter to-day that there are three bills now pending, which the association desires to have passed, namely, the Department of Agriculture bill, the Animal Industry bill and the Agricultural Experiment Station bill. They have been reported iavorably by the committee on agricul-ture and are in charge of Representa-tive liatch. They are all important measures, Mr. Reall says, and should pass without opposition. Upon being asked whether the tarmers and dairy men are satisfied with the oleomargarine law President Reall said: "Yes, it is growing in popularity every day. There was at first a disposition to complain of the tax not being high enough but it is found that the rate imposed affords the producers of butter a fair protection, and as long as their opponents comply with the law and butter of the economic changes that have can be produced at the present cost, I taken place in Europe. If this proves to be the case, the charges against Messenger Fotheringham cannot manifestly be sustained, for rob-bery in the first degree is highway robbery, and if the messenger was imlicated in the robbery the latter crime was not committed. On this point Messenger Weir said to-day: "Wit-

I didn't know what the evidence against him was, but it must have been sufficient, and the evidence that is sufficient for an indictment is sufficient for trial. The men under indictment, however, may be able to explain away what may have appeared to criminate him." It can be definitely stated to-night that the grand jury did not to-day in-dict Witrock, Haight and Weaver, the express robbers. The jury is examining their cases, however, and in all likelihood will find indictments against them in two or three days, but for what specific crime is scarcely more than conjectured. It is pretty well understood, however, in fact the men have said they will plead guilty to whatever charge is brought against them, and quietly take whatever penalty is meted out to them. Robert A. Pinkerton left for Chicago to-night, having been called back to that city by the illness of his mother.

Boach Failing. New York, Jan. 3—It is known that for some weeks John Roach, the great ship-builder, has been confined to his residence in gradually failing health. According to his own desire that his friends should not be needlessly alarmed and apprehensive of the effect upon him of learning the real nature of the disease from which he is suffering, his family and physicians have been reticent in regard to his condition. Mr. koach, however, now realizes fully the impossibility of recovering, and the reason for concealment no longer exists. In view of this fact,

A Gambling Contract. New York Jan. 3.—James R Keene, the New York millionaire, and Wassington Butcher's Sons, in December, 1880, formed a pool to advance the price of lard, and employed E. A. Kent & Company, of this city, and Pool, Kent & Company, of Chicago, Illinois, brokers, for the purchase and sale of lard. The members of the pool charged that their brokers had defranded them by making fictitious purchases and sales. Keene sued Kent and the others in the Supreme Court to recover his share of the profits of the pool. They interposed the defense that the transactions were gambling and that the law would not force them to account. Judge Danies, at the general term of the Supreme Court, has rendered his opinion in the matter, New York, Jan. 3.-James R K.

REVERSING THE OPINION of the court below, which directed the brokers to flie a hill of particulars of the pool transaction. He held that the defense interposed is valid and that the law does not sanction that form of gambling. Combinations to keep articles of food or other necessities of the market, with a view of getting higher prices, are unlawful conspiracies punishable as a crime. Where successifully carried out, the effect would be to impose an additional burden on the public little less than respectable robbery, unsanctioned by the law. There are no legal means to force a division of the plunder. They can't appeal to cessfully dependent.

Crimes and Criminals. ATRUCIOUS MURDER.

NEW ORLKANS, La., Jan., 3 .- A special to the Picayune from Donaldson-wille says: The most atrocious mur-der in the sunals of this place was perpetrated Saturday in the very heart of the town. Mrs. Boulanger, a wealthy old French resident, was murdered by an unknown tramp, who struck her on the head with some blunt instrument. Robbery was doubtless the incentive for the crime. Mrs. Bou-langer had no faith in banks, and it was generally known that she kept her money secreted in her house. The murderer has not yet been arrested. SUICIDE.

MURDERED FOR MONEY. DENVER, Jan. 3 .- A. E. Nicken, one f the most prominent colored men i the city was brutally assassinated in his barber shop some time last night His body, lying on the floor in the shoj in a great pool of blood, was discovered at an early hour this morning. The assassin had struck his victim back of the head with a beer bottle. knocking him senseless and producing fracture of the skull. He then tool a razor and cut his victim's throat from ear to car, severing the jugular vein and wind pire, leaving a gaping wound six inches long and two inches across, exposing the spinal column which had been partly severed by the blow from the razor. Nickens had $300 on his person late last night, and as only $6 was found on the body after the murder, it is supposed the crime was committed for robbery. Charles Green, employed by Nickens, and who rooms at the latter's house, was arrested on suspicion and over half the money was found hid under his bed. The siain man leaves a wife and three children.

Frequent but Fearful. Galveston, Jan. 3.—A special to the News from San Antonio says: The offi-cials and employes of the Southern Pacific Railroad refuse to give any information concerning the collision last Friday evening of the freight train and construction train in the deep cut near Devil's River. Twelve or fifteen lives were lost, nearly all the persons killed being Mexicans. The names of the killed could not be ascertained, as the men connected with the road retuse to give any information whatever Four or five dead bodies from the wreck were brought in last evening and several maimed passed through and several maimed passed through en route for Columbus for treatment at the railroad hospital.
