FAIR CONTINUES UNTIL MONDAY

Business Men Wanted Show Held Longer For Benefit of The City.

A SALT LAKER IS ROBBED.

J. W. Ross Found in Dazed Condition —Accident at the Orpheum—Funeral of Samuel Cole.

OGDEN, Sept. 10.—The Intermountain Fair-state fair will not close until Monday evening, Sept. 13. This decision was arrived at by the officers and managing directors on Thursday afternoon and was the result of a petition of the business men of the city. It is felt that the fair is doing much to stimulate an interest in the welfare of Ogden and by continuing the celebration for two days longer a further opportunity will be given to all visitors to more closely inspect the excellent exhibits. One or even two visits to the fair does not give one sufficient time to see everything and all visitors are unanimous in declaring it to be far in excess of any fair previously held in this locality.

The following awards have been made in the cattle department: Jerseys—Best bull 1 year under 2 years, W. S. Read, 1118 Washington avenue; best bull 1 year, W. S. Read, 1118 Washington avenue; best bull calf, first second and third, Peter E. Anderson, Roy; best cow, 3 years or over,
first second and third, Peter E. Anderson, Roy; best heifer, 2 years old, under 2 years, first second and third, Peter E. Anderson, Roy; best heifer, 1 year old, under 2 years, second, W. S. Read.
Holsteins—Best bull, 1 year old, under 2 years, first, Robert Coleman, second, D. C.
Walker, Eden; bull calf, J. M. Thomas, Warren.

Guerney—First, John Felt, Jr., Huntsville; second, Dr. R. A. Pearce, Brigham.
Grand Champions—Best bull calf, Peter E. Anderson, Roy; best heifer, Peter E. Anderson, Roy.

SALT LAKER ROBBED.

OGDEN, Sept. 10.—J. W. Ross, a resident of Salt Lake, was found in a half-dazed condition near the corner of Third street and Wall avenue by residents living in that vicinity shortly before 11 o'clock Thursday morning. The police station was notified and Detective Charles Pincock found the unfortunate man in a semi-conscious state.
He had completely lost his bearings and was wandering aimlessly. Ross stated that he had been struck on the back of the head with some blunt instrument and robbed of $8 in cash and a gold watch. The back of his head is badly cut and his right eye is severely bruised. He could give no description of his assailant.

sulted in the breaking of his right leg just above the knee. He was attended by Dr. Rich and taken to his home on a stretcher.

that Nick Vacos, the self-confessed murderer of John Contos, served 15

Minneapolis. Owing to good behavior, his term was cut short, but the fact yesterday morning, Cora Williams, colored, charged with vagrancy, to which she pleaded guilty, was given a suspended sentence of 90 days and allowed to leave town.

the peace, was discharged, the court finding insufficient evidence to convict him.

TAX NOTICES ISSUED.

OGDEN, Sept. 10.—Twelve thousand tax notices to Weber county taxpayers have been sent out by County Treasurer Alma D. Chambers. The treasurer will be glad to mail a second notice to any taxpayer who does not receive his notice, as it is very possible for a few to go astray out of so large a number. Comments are being made at the office at the prompt payments received this year, which is a good sign of improved conditions.

DISASTROUS FLOODS IN SOUTHERN UTAH.

(Special Correspondence.)
BLOOMINGTON, Washington Co., Sept. 1.—The recent storms in southern Utah have done much damage in various parts of the country. At this place there has been over 100 rods of the canal taken away by the floods that came down the Rio Virgin and Santa Clara.
The largest floods ever known here passed down the stream. On the Price side of the Rio Virgin, the river is cutting away the land and has taken many colonies of bees down stream, the losses being Mrs. Wulffenstein, W. A.
Fawcett, W. H. Miles, Samuel Milet, Willie Fawcett, W. A. Fawcett's son, found 10 hives down the river a long distance, some of them still having bees within them. Heavy rains have damaged the canal by filling it up in many places. It will cost the Bloomington civic from $100 to $200 to put their canal in repair again.

The route the Rio Virgin is now taking along its course in this vicinity is likely to still be a good deal of farming land that has stood the floods for years. The weather is still unsettled and more rain is threatened.

Notwithstanding so much dampness, the health of the people is very good.
Fruit prospects are good, as the people have plenty of many kinds, such as peaches, apples and pears.
