UNDER WHEELS OF TROLLEY CAR

Denny and Thomas Smythe Narrowly Escape Shocking Death—Latter Severely Injured.

REFORMERS AFTER GAMBLERS

Italian Car Reaches Ogden Saturday Afternoon—Tabernacle Services.—News in Brief.

Ogden, March 23.—Denny Smythe and his brother, Thomas Smythe, escaped death in a miraculous manner late Saturday afternoon from the wheels of a rapidly moving trolley car on Twenty-fifth street, just opposite the European hotel, of which the former is proprietor.

The two were seated in Denny Smythe's automobile and did not hear the approach of the car. While attempting to steer the machine across the street, the car struck the trolley car, and the occupants a distance of 40 feet.

When bystanders reached the two men, it was found that Thomas Smythe had been severely injured about the face and head. Although still conscious, it was seen that he was seriously injured, and he was hurried to the Ogden General hospital. Denny Smythe was only slightly injured on one of his legs.

At the hospital, surgeons operated on the wounded man, taking several stitches before the cuts and lacerations could be brought together.

Although Mr. Smythe is suffering considerably from his injuries, the attending surgeon stated at a late hour Saturday night that he would recover.

When the motorman brought his car to a stop, the front wheels were within a few inches of Mr. Smythe's head. One moment's revolution of the wheels and they would have crushed out his life, according to those who witnessed the accident.

Speaking of the accident Sunday, Denny Smythe said that it happened so quickly he really did not remember exactly what took place just prior to the collision. He remembered seeing the machine towards the tracks with the intention of turning around. The next thing he knew, the machine was struck with a fearful left. Although badly dazed by the force of the impact, he was not injured. Hurriedly recovering himself, he went to the assistance of his brother, extricating him from the debris of the machine. The automobile is almost a total wreck.

Reformers Want County Officials to Suppress Vice.

Ogden, March 23.—As a sequel to the reform movement which was inaugurated in Ogden about three weeks ago, County Attorney Harris and Sheriff Wilson have received letters signed by P. F. Sherwood and 23 citizens and taxpayers seeking their aid in closing up gambling in Ogden.

The petitioners, after naming the various places in the city and giving other evidence of where they claim gambling is being conducted, say in part:

"We submit that any investigation on your part will furnish you not only 'reasonable cause to believe,' but absolute proof that gambling is openly and notoriously carried on and conducted at the several places mentioned above, as well as other places in Ogden City, and for that reason, we, as citizens, respectfully ask that you will take such action in the discharge of your duties as such officer, as indicated in chapter 33 of the revised statutes of Utah, 1898, and cause the party or parties conducting such places, in violation of law, to be dealt with as provided therein.

"We again repeat that any reasonable

ITALIAN CAR ARRIVES.

New York to Paris Race Stops Over Saturday Night.

Ogden, March 23.—With crowds lined up and overflowing into Washington avenue and Twenty-fifth street, the Italian car in the New York-to-Paris race came dashing into Ogden amid a whirl of dust Saturday afternoon just as the hands of the city clock pointed to the hour of 4:30.

G. Sirtoni, a winner of many short and long distance races with the famous Zusta car, was at the wheel. In the car with him was a representative of the London Daily Mail, and an expert mechanic from the Italian automobile shops where the Zusta cars are turned out.

The natives of "Sunny Italy" who live in Ogden turned out in full force to welcome the arrival of their countrymen. Hardly had Sirtoni stepped from the car at the Beckett garage, before he was surrounded by a swarm of adoring countrymen who insisted on shaking his hand and wishing him all the luck possible.

After giving instructions regarding the repair of the machine, the Italian went over to the Reed hotel and retired early.

Bright and early Sunday morning the machine was overhauled and the body which had been loosened by the rough roads of Wyoming, was tightened up and everything was in readiness when the driver and his companions took their places to resume their flight to the Pacific coast.

At 11:30 the machine left the city, following the route taken by the American one week ago.

A record run was made to Hot Springs. At a late hour Sunday night the machine which was due to arrive at Kelton at 5 o'clock, had not been heard of. It is supposed that rough roads were encountered Sunday afternoon and the party decided to tie up until morning.

Sirtoni says that he believes that the American car will be overtaken when the smooth roads of the European countries are reached.

He is confident that he will win the race, expressing the opinion that the race will not even get interesting until the Siberian roads are traversed.
