James Stark Held Under $2,000 Bonds to Answer for Assaulting Albert Sudd.

Mrs. Lancaster Obtains Divorce—Boy Hurt in Play—Hand Crushed on the Railroad.

The preliminary hearing in the case of James Stark, charged with assault with intent to kill, upon the person of Albert Sudd, came up before Justice Breeden yesterday afternoon. The first witness called for the prosecution was Albert Sudd. He testified to his meeting Stark on Twenty-fifth street and to their conversation about work, that Stark gave him a severe beating, knocking him insensible, and to his having been compelled to keep his bed during the entire time since the fracas occurred until the last few days.

Dr. R. S. Joyce, the attending physician upon Sudd, told of the severe injury and the very critical condition in which Mr. Sudd had been.

James Taylor told of his finding Sudd lying on the sidewalk at about 12:25 the morning of the alleged assault, and to the care which had been taken of Mr. Sudd.

The defense introduced several witnesses, the principal witness being Mr. Stark, who denied most of the allegations set forth in the complaint. He stated that he had not assaulted Sudd as he had been alleged, and had no intent to injure him. The other witnesses corroborated Stark's statement, and told of old grievances which had existed between the two. At the conclusion of the hearing the justice held Stark to answer to the charge before the district court, under $2,000 bonds.

NEPHI.

Gigantic Reservoir and Canal Proposition Considered by Citizens. Special Correspondence.

Nephi, Juab Co., Oct. 2.—A mass meeting was held last night to consider the proposition of joining with citizens of Sanpete in building a reservoir in what is known as Gooseberry valley, and bringing the water to the west side of Sanpete valley, and thence down Salt Creek canyon to Nephi. Messrs. Christensen, Ivory and De Spain represented the company, which is now incorporated, and intend pushing the work to an early completion. After discussing the proposition thoroughly, a committee was appointed to look over the proposed reservoir site, and canal route, and report as early as possible. If the scheme is feasible, and there appears no doubt of it, it means the reclaiming of at least 25,000 acres of fine land and homes for hundreds of families.

Positively cures Backache, Nervousness, Loss of Appetite, all Kidney troubles. Only 50c at Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

REQUEST OF TEACHERS DENIED

School Board Refuses to Alter Clause in the Contracts.

CAN NOT AFFORD TO DO IT.

Not Enough Funds to Warrant a Guarantee of Nine Months' Pay, Schools Being Closed or Not.

The effort on the part of the teachers in the graded schools, to have the clause in their contracts that relates to half-pay when the schools are closed ten or more consecutive days, has fallen to the ground. So also has their effort to secure in their contracts a guarantee of nine months continuous employment. The school board claims that there is not enough funds at its disposal to warrant it in guaranteeing to the teachers nine months' full pay, whether school is held or not, and while the members expressed keen regret at not being able to accede to the request of the teachers, they were firm in the matter.

The reply of the board to the teachers is embraced in the following resolution, which was offered by Mr. Critchlow and was adopted:

"Resolved, That this board acknowledge the receipt through a committee of a resolution adopted at a meeting of the graded teachers requesting the board to frame its contract with teachers as to guarantee full pay for nine consecutive months; also of an oral request that the contract submitted be further amended by striking therefrom the provision stipulating that should the schools be temporarily closed on account of the prevalence of contagious disease for ten or more consecutive days, the teachers receive but half pay for the time during which the school are so closed."

"That the superintendent be instructed to convey to said committee and to the teachers the answer of the board, which is as follows:

"The board acknowledges the justice and fairness of the first request, and deplors the recognized fact that the salaries paid to grade teachers are not commensurate with the services expected and rendered. The failure to grant the request is due only to the fact that it is entirely beyond our power to do. There are now about 250 grade school teachers in our corps, whose salaries constitute by far the largest item of our expenditures. We are forbidden by law to incur any indebtedness beyond the amount of our annual income, and any attempt upon our part to bind the board of education to the payment of sums in excess of such income would not only render us liable, but would in our judgment be void and of no effect. We cannot at this time estimate with precision the length of the school year. We hope for relief through legislation which will enable us to continue the schools the full period of nine months, but we are not justified in relying upon this hope to the extent of incurring a liability or attempting to incur a liability which may be far beyond our means."

"We have no hesitation, however, in assuring the teachers and the public that schools will be kept open as long as the means committed to us will permit."

"As to the second request, we have to say that we think the teachers upon reflection will agree with us that the stipulation is just and fair."

"We do not anticipate a recurrence of conditions which will make this provision operative. Should any contagious disease appear we doubt if it would necessitate the closing of the schools for so long a period as this. But should such a calamity overtake us we think the teachers would not object, and the public would expect us as their representatives to so divide the loss so that the whole of it would not fall on the people. The provision for half-pay while not employed in the schools will enable the teachers to live, and the money so saved to the board would certainly be finally paid to the teachers, and the schools would thereby be kept open for a longer period."

"We have endeavored to submit, and believe we do submit, a contract as liberal and as fair as the limitations imposed by law and our duty to the public will permit, and trust it will upon reflection be accepted as such by those interested."

The following recommendations of the committee on teachers and school work were adopted by the board:

Accepting the resignations of Nora Gwin, Katherine Hawthorne, Rose Vi-mont, Maud Hardy, T. S. Pendergrass and E. E. Caldwell.

Assigning Althea Moreton, Gwendolyn Harmon and Lydia Smith, assistant teachers, to places in the regular corps.

Increasing the monthly salaries of Rachel Ure from $50 to $50, Nellie Pettit from $50 to $55, Clara Snyder from $40 to $45, to correct errors made in graduation at the time of their election.

Employing Ruby Armstrong at a monthly salary of $45, to do clerical work for the principal of the High school and to assist the instructor in the commercial department.

Allowing the teachers of the Bonneville, Lakeview and Jordan schools $3 a month each in addition to their salaries for car fare.

Employing the following teachers to fill vacancies: Eleanor McMaster, Katherine Wall, Winifred Hardy, Irene Emery, Etta Hazeltine, Martha Beeson, Mrs. I. D. Travis, Olive Thompson, Lois Miller and Martha Clay.

Electing S. D. Bradford principal of the Jordan school at a salary of $65 monthly, vice R. E. Caldwell, resigned.

A letter was read from President Kleberg and Superintendent Hopkins of the Galveston public schools in which the board is requested to give the public school children of Salt Lake an opportunity to assist in the rebuilding of the school houses that have all been destroyed; that the surviving school children of that stricken city pursue their education. The matter was referred to the committee on teachers and school work with power to act.

Mr. Bamberger offered a resolution which was adopted, directing the committee on buildings and grounds to have plans and specifications prepared for the new school building to be erected at the head of State street.

Treasurer Barrett submitted his report for the month of September and it was referred to the committee on finance. It showed receipts, $1,371.93; paid warrants, $15,112.22; due treasury September 1st, $20,215.64, leaving a balance of $43,561.23 due to the treasurer on September 30th. The revenues for the three months of the school year were set forth at $6,478.33 and the disbursements at $69,435.54.

Appropriations were made aggregating $6,223.91.
