HAMER-HOWELL
ELECTION CONTEST

Regular Campaign Work Thrashed Over in the Hearing Before Judge Morse Yesterday.

SESSION OF THE CITY COUNCIL.

Tree Inspector's Salary Held Back—Death of Henry Conant—Wedding Bells.

Ogden, Utah, Feb. 14.—On resuming hearing in the Hamer-Howell election contest case yesterday afternoon Dist.
Atty. George Halvorson was called as a witness for the contestant. He testified that he was the Republican candidate at the last election for district attorney, was running mate with Judge J. A. Howell on the judicial ticket. In response to questions put to him by Judge O. W. Powers he testified that, one day some time before the election he was on the street by John Hooper of Hooper, who told him of a general feeling of dissatisfaction in the southwestern part of the country because of not receiving representation on Republican ticket. While they were talking about this matter, Judge J. A.
Howell came along, and the discussion of the situation was joined in by him.
Mr. Hooper told the witness and Mr.
Howell that the residents of that part of the county wanted two deputys in the courthouse, and that he was selected for one of the positions, and Samuel G. Dye for the other. To this statement Judge J. A. Howell, witness testified Judge Howell said he could absolutely take care of one of them, and would appoint one of them to the position of assistant county stenographer.
He then said that he had been about as much for the salary of district judge, but wanted the position. Witness testified that he told Mr. Howell he could appoint an assistant stenographer, as the law does not provide for such an office, and on another occasion, while witness and Mr. Howell were going from Haines to Clinton to a political meeting, they again discussed the possibility of appointing an assistant county stenographer. The court then asked witness of "knocking" Mr. Howell, and said he could make his official stenographer agree to the appointment as an assistant. While on route to Clinton, witness testified that he had been given a new scheme to get the Snyder and Eastman votes, that he had agreed with Joseph Harberson to pay five to ten dollars to each of their wives, so that they would order this testimony as to Eastman and Shipley struck out, as their names did not appear in the complaint.
Witness then testified to a conversation he had with Judge Howell about the canvass for the different wards in the city. They agreed to canvass together, each to pay half, but just before the election Halvorson learned that Judge Howell had been instructed to work for him when they were employed by Will Howell. He took Judge Howell to task and explained that he did not personally employ them, his brother (Will Howell) had hired them and from them their instructions. Witness testified that Will Howell made a use to canvass in Davis county, in the interest of his brother, and was frequently together, but witness could not say whether Will Howell was manager of the judge's campaign.

Mr. Halvorson further testified that Judge Howell told him personally that he had promised to appoint E. G. Bur-ess as official court stenographer, without having written to him. Mr. Bur-ess had written to the county attorney at Peterson, urging him to use his influence with the Socialist vote of his election.

Samuel G. Dye, now bookkeeper for the Utah Construction company, testified that he was a resident of Henderson during September, October and November of last year.
That he knew of the dissatisfaction on the part of the disappointed count of having no representation on the Republican ticket. One day about the present county clerk met witness and told him Judge Howell was desirous of seeing him. Accordingly he met the judge, who went with him to the head of the staircases, where the judge said he had wanted to see witness relative to the dissatisfaction in the county districts, and that in his opinion, there could be the means of overcoming this. Judge Howell said he would work to that end and the judge appointed him assistant court stenographer. Witness asked him if he would testify for the position, to which he replied that he was not prepared to give an affirmative answer at that time. Mr. Howell said that if he accepted they might tell their friends and they would give witness until Monday, Oct. 31, to make reply on the proposition, and if he accepted they would work together for Howell's election.

John D. Hooper testified to the meeting of Judge Howell, and Mr. Halvorson on the street, and he told them that the county desired some recognition in the county offices, and he and Mr. Dye had been selected to be appointed to positions to which Judge Howell replied that he would do what he could to make things right, and if he could find the right kind of a man who was inclined to study law he could find a place for him as assistant in his office; but that there was no use talking to him about the position until he had seen Judge Howell, had seen Judge J. S. Burt of Liberty testified that he received $5 for his team and vehicle on election day, but that he only hauled one voter and only worked part of the day, the understanding being that he and his wife should vote for Mr. Howell and use their influence in his behalf.
That he was hired by Oliver Fenrod for that purpose.
J. L. Poyer, who had made affidavit of his having been promised money to vote for Judge Howell, on that witness stand denied part of the charges set out in the affidavit.
At this juncture the court adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock.

DEATH OF EDITH MAY PRICE.

Edith May Price, a bright little girl 11 years of age, daughter of William E. Price, the Southern Pacific watchman, died at 12:35 yesterday afternoon at her home, 233 Third Street.
The cause of death being heart weakness. She was born at North Platt, Nebraska Oct. 28, 1894, but has lived in Ogden with her parents for several years. The funeral services will be held at the residence Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

THREE COUPLES LICENSED TO WED.

Marriage licenses were granted by the county clerk to the following couples:

Cal. county, and Miss Rose McFarland, 21, of West Valley, Weber county.
Albert G. Brookbank, 21, of Spanish Fork, Utah, and Miss Jennie May Hughes, 18, of Ogden City, Utah.

Rouner, 20, both of Wilson, Weber of Kelton, died at 8 o'clock yesterday morning of diabetes at the Pacific hotel in Ogden. Mr. Conant was 66 years of age. He was taken ill with acute diabetes Sunday morning. Dr. E. C.

Rich of Ogden was summoned and went to Kelton on a special, which later brought Mr. Conant to this city. He was taken to the Pacific hotel and everything possible was done for him, but he passed away surrounded by his wife and a few friends. The deceased was 66 years of age and had been a resident of this state for many years, where he had been employed by Edward Conant, having been engaged in the cattle and sheep business. He was a stockholder in the Commercial National bank of this city. He also owned merchandise interests in Kelton, as well as his heavy stock interests there.
REFUSES TO PAY TREE IN-SPECTOR.

County Clerk David Mattson was responsible for considerable commotion yesterday when he submitted a bill to the board of county commissioners explaining his refusal to audit a certain bill of R. E. Wilson for $81, for services in January, and for refusing to draw the warrant for the bill, after the county board had certified to its correctness.
The matter had been developing for some time, and Mr. Mattson's reasons in brief are that the bill sought to collect for the performance of duties which the auditor is not authorized to perform, and that the bill was not a member of the Legislature. The bill as submitted some time ago was not itemized, but simply certified "so many days' work, $81."

Provo, Utah Co., Feb. 14.—Mrs. Julia D. Strong, widow of William J.
Strong (who died about four months ago), died at her home of heart failure of age. Her husband, who was the son 1832. She and her mother became mem-left his home, never to return, because his wife, Julia's mother, would not desert the faith which she had espoused.

The mother and daughter never saw him after, and never knew what became of him. They emigrated to America seven years later, remaining in St.
Louis for about a year, when William J. Strong, whom they had known in England, arrived. He and the subject of this sketch were married in St. Louis and soon after left for Utah, with Mrs.
Strong as mother-in-law. They lived in Provo, and after remaining about a year moved to Alpine, being among the first settlers. There the family made their home and reared their children. They had five sons and three daughters, about 50 grandchildren and several great-grandchild-tem, and to construct a municipal

PASSING OF JOHN S. SMITH.

Veteran of Kirtland and Nauvoo and Pioneer Days Dies at 95.

Special Correspondence.
Kayville, Davis Co., Feb. 13.—John S. Smith, the oldest man in Davis county, and perhaps the oldest man in Utah, died at an early hour this morning at his home in Kayville. He was a remarkable man in many respects, and was a resident of the state for over half a century.

John S. Smith was born in Worcestershire, England, March 10, 1809. On Feb.
18, 1838, he married Jane Wadley, of Gloucestershire, England, and of this marriage 11 children were born, eight of whom grew to maturity. Two and five sisters to mourn his demise.

The deceased was born at Mendon, Cache Co., March 27, 1835, where he has resided until the past year. He was bright, kind, and loving; gaining the respect of all who knew him. He knew him for his cheerful, sunny disposition and many qualities. He was a student of the Brigham Young college at Logan, where he showed his ability and hard work. He was intended to complete the course as soon as he could earn means therefor.

The funeral took place Wednesday, Feb. 8, at 2 p. m., under the direction of Bishop B. B. B. and given the comfortable and pleasant surroundings of sweet music. The speakers were Wilson A. M. Baker, Andrew Anderson, President Linford of the Brigham Young college, Elder John H. Anderson and Bishop B. B. B. Each eulogized the noble, upright life of the deceased, who fell at the post of duty while working for means to complete his education. A large procession followed the remains to the cemetery.

CAINEVILLE.

Peculiar Winter—Much Rain and Some Snow in Wayne.

Special Correspondence.
Caineville, Wayne Co., Feb. 7.—We have had the most peculiar weather here we have ever known. There have been 21 days that the sun has not shone but twice. Considerable rainfall and much snow. We are unable to plow and put in grain, as there is no frost in the ground.

A very enjoyable time was had at the weigh ball given last Friday night.

PANGUITCH.

SEVIER RIVER WILL BOOM

Plenty of Water Assured to All on That Stream—Hatch Reservoir.

Special Correspondence.
Panguitch, Garfield Co., Feb. 11.—We are having real winter weather. Not so much snow in the valley, but report says, on the ridge between here and Longvalley, snow is four feet deep and at the lake it is three feet, and in the Bour valleys snow is four feet deep. which will insure the farmers along the Sevier river all the water they can use this year.

The Hatch Reservoir company held its annual meeting in the courthouse last evening. The board presented its annual statement, showing that through the dam going out, the stock is only worth 23 cents. It was reduced this low to encourage capitalists to take hold of the enterprise, and place a dam in the river that will hold all the water they wish to store without danger of its again going out. This project will make it possible to store water for many of our young men, who otherwise will have to seek homes elsewhere at a much greater cost than they could be had for in this valley. We are anxious for the coming of the spring invest to come and take a hand with us. The company claims a loan of $10-600 by the reservoir dam going out, and it is determined that the next dam shall be reconstructed on a more substantial foundation.

There is much sickness here. A double funeral will be held today, both children, one the child of Ed. Richards, three years old, the other a two week old infant of S. E. Richards.
Wm. Tebb and S. E. Richards, bond-men of Joseph W. Myers, mail contractor from Marysville to Panguitch, have been ordered to take the mail and run it, relieving Mr. Myers of this labor.

Special Correspondence.
McCammon Idaho, Feb. 7.—We are divided in our interests here. All the town south of the depot is called South McCammon, and all north of the depot is called North McCammon. As a consequence there is much rivalry between the two sections. South Mc-Cammon built a fine dance hall, of course North McCammon, not to be outdone, built a fine opera house, which is a fine structure designed by Architect Joseph Monson of Logan. The opera house was built by Contractor W. Worley also of Logan. The house has a seating capacity of 300 people with a fine large stage on which some of the best plays can be produced.

Mon and Dixon's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was played here to a large audience last night.

We are having very mild weather here this winter with plenty of snow in the mountains but very little in the valley.

There has been considerable sickness here in the ward but it is about all over now and everybody is happy.

The Sunday school is going to give an entertainment on the 28th for the purpose of buying books.

DEATH OF HENRY FULLER.

Local and Government Propositions for Reclaiming the Desert.

Special Correspondence.
Emmett, Canyon Co., Ida., Feb. 9.— The long hoped for ditches that are to water the arid land around Emmett seem about to materialize. The Canyon Canal company will water the bench land of the north of Emmett, a stretch of land about 15 miles long and from 4 to 6 miles wide. The government ditch will water all the arid land on the south of Emmett, and extending about the same distance to Boise valley. The Canyon Canal company has already built a dam across the Payette river, near the Horsehoe Bend, and has built headgates and canals to carry the water to the work on the ditch which will start about April 1. The government ditch has as yet only had preliminary surveys, but the people owning land under this ditch are nearly all signed contracts to water.

A new alignment was given Tuesday of the children were born in England.

Of the children, Annie, the wife of N.
Brooks, lives in Draper, William C. lives in Canada, Ellen S., the widow of John Q. Knowlton, and Elizabeth W. reside in Kayville, Harriet E., wife of Jesse M. Smith, and Eliza N., wife of George W. Stevenson, live in Canyon.

Mr. Smith became converted to the teachings of "Mormonism" in his native land and was baptized there in 1840. The following year he emigrated, with his family, to America, settling in Kirtland, Ohio, where he remained for 16 months and then moved to Nauvoo, Ill., remaining there until the exodus of the "Mormons" people in 1846. Mr.
Smith was Nauvoo at the time of the killing of the Prophet Joseph Smith, and passed through all the sufferings and hardships which the "Mormons" were subjected to in those days. From Nauvoo the family went to Council Bluffs, Iowa, remaining there until 1850, when they started for Utah under the command of Capt. William Snow, arriving in Salt Lake City, Oct. 5, of the same year. They remained in the city until March, 1851, when they went to Draper, remaining there until the time of the Salmon river colonization in 1853.
In that year he bought what was known as the old Kayville place, where which the settlement of Kayville was named, and moved there in 1857, making it his home from that time until his death.

Mr. Smith was a prominent worker in civil and religious circles having been a member of the Nauvoo Legion, also participating in the Johnston army troubles and for a number of years was troubled to the Bishop of his ward, and in 1856 was ordained a Patriarch.
He leaves seven children, 33 grandchildren and 41 great-grandchildren.

Father Smith was very generous in his nature, and used the means that he had accumulated in the doing of good, both publicly and privately.
Some time before his death he made a bequest of $500 to the Latter-day Saints' university. This kindly act was much appreciated by all connected with the school and the money was used in the purchase of books for the library.

The funeral will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. in the Kayville neighborhood.
Friends are invited to attend.
