

IN THE WORLD OF WOMEN

NOTABLE UTAH WOMEN.

The social sphere during the past week has revolved chiefly upon the pivots of the inaugural and assembly balls. Few entertainments outside of them have taken place, and those occurring have been of a very quiet nature. The inaugural ball, both from its significance and its general elaborate details will take its place amongst the most brilliant social functions Salt Lake has ever known; and the Assembly was one of the pleasantest yet given of the season.

The events of next week to be given in honor of the visiting stockmen are occupying general attention, the various receptions tending to be amongst the brilliant affairs of the season. Aside from these a number of private affairs are to take place which promise to make the week's social record a notable one.

For the third time the Assembly Club made merry in a dance at Christensen's last Thursday evening. The affair was more largely attended than any previous dance given by that organization, filling the hall to its fullest comfortable capacity. During the evening punch was served in the reception room, and at 11 o'clock a dainty supper was served on the stage by Franklin. Special music was rendered by the orchestra. Selections from the operas of "The Merry Widow," "Singing Girl" and "Fortune Teller" were played for two-steps and waltzes, and the new waltz, "I Don't Know Why I Love You," but I don't meet with unanimous favor of all dancers, and had to be repeated. The event was a very pretty and fashionable one.

Miss Florence McEwan of this city and Mr. Robert Hogan of Richmond were married in the Temple on Thursday, Bishop Winder officiating. In the evening a quiet reception was held at the home of the bride, a pleasant feature of the evening being the music rendered by the mandolin and guitar club of the Twenty-first ward. Mr. and Mrs. Hogan will make their future home in Richmond and the best wishes of the many friends of Mrs. Hogan in this city will accompany them.

Amongst the many sleighing parties given during the week was one in honor of Mr. Frank Moyle, by several of his young friends on Friday night. Mr. Moyle expects to leave for Europe in the course of a week or so to engage in missionary work.

The party was driven around the city for several hours and then to the home of the Misses Winnie and Ethel Saville, where refreshments were served. The following made up the party: Misses Ethel and Winnie Saville, Maude Patrick, Grace Cannon, Tillie Barton, and Margaret Glade.

Misses Frank Moyle, Frank Young, Frank Derrick and Walter Alder. Miss Blanche McIntosh will leave on the 17th for Camden, New Jersey, the home of her uncle, Edmund R. Shubrick, where her marriage with Edmund Rykert of Paris will take place on the 21st. After the marriage they will visit Washington, New York, and Montreal—Mr. Rykert's old home—and at the end of February will sail for Paris. In the summer they will return to Salt Lake for a brief visit.

The dedication of the new home of Mrs. Elizabeth Stevenson was the occasion for a pleasant gathering at the lady's home on Monday afternoon. The dedication was made by Patriarch John Smith, and at 5:30 a delicious dinner was served, the table being tastefully decorated with flowers and ferns. The guests were Bishop and Mrs. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Angus M. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Fox, Mrs. E. H. Wells, Mrs. Zina D. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Wilcox, Mr. Ezra Stevenson, Mrs. Lucy A. Clark of Farmington.

Mrs. Daisy Center Walker left with her son on Wednesday for Chicago, where she will visit with her brother until her marriage with Dr. Bascom, which will take place about the end of the month. Dr. Bascom will leave shortly for Chicago, and after the wedding the couple will spend three months visiting Italy, France and Naples.

Misses Vera and Grace Cannon gave a delightful "boob-sleigh" party last Thursday, which was enjoyed by about a dozen of their young friends. The night was a perfect one for sleighing, and for several hours the merry company were hauled swiftly through the leading streets of the city. Later in the evening the company were driven to the home of Miss Grace Cannon, where refreshments were served by the hostesses, and an informal musical program was rendered.

Those who enjoyed the pleasant affair were Misses Alice Smith, Emily Cannon, Lucille Badger, Margie Young, Messrs. Geo. Badger, Tracy Cannon, Jas. Silver, Preston Cannon, King, Wiley and Clarence Neslen.

Mrs. Phoebe Kimball entertained a few friends informally on Thursday afternoon, her guests being Mrs. Little Owen, Mrs. G. D. Tyler, Mrs. H. G. Whitney, Mrs. J. D. Spencer.

The High school had charge of the art exhibit at the Ladies' Literary club today, and this evening the entertainment will have the added features of talks by Prof. Harwood and Mr. Baggar, the former giving an exhibition of modelling in clay and the latter an explanation of the process of the reproduction of original drawings in wax. Messrs. Shickell, Le Roy Browne and Bateman will be present to furnish information about the pictures. The arrangements of the High school exhibition are under the efficient management of Miss Carahan, Miss Buchanan and Prof. Hagar.

A banquet was enjoyed at Boardley's on Thursday night by the members of the Salt Lake Cattle and Stock Mills company, to celebrate the past successful business year. The officers and twenty-two employees of the company, with their wives, were present, and toast were responded to by Pres. Robert Burere and Vice President James B. Cecil, Manager Archibald and others.

One of the pleasantest events of the week was a progressive high-five party given at the house of Miss Edith Ford.

MRS. S. M. HEYWOOD.

Mrs. Sarapita M. Heywood, the subject of this sketch, will be long remembered by those who knew her as amongst the most noble of the pioneer women of Utah. With a nature of exceptional refinement were blended qualities of courage, patience and endurance sternly proven in the trials and hardships attending the early settlers of Utah; and with friends and strangers alike her name was a synonym for the charity that thinketh no evil, and for the tender helpfulness in sorrow and sickness that mark the quality of the true friend and actual Samaritan. Mrs. Heywood was of New England parentage, being the daughter of Caleb and Chloe Blodgett of Vermont. She was born in Monroe, Ash-tubulish county, Ohio, in 1822. At the age of eighteen she was married to Joseph D. Heywood, at Beloit, Wisconsin, and after her marriage lived some years in Quincy, Ill., with her husband. She accepted the principles of "Mormonism" and in 1849 came to Utah to cast her lot with the people of her Church.

When the Relief Society was organized in 1866 she was chosen first counselor to the president of the Seventeenth ward, and when the Stake organization was effected in 1877, she was appointed to the position of second counselor in the Stake, a position which she held up to the time of her death. She was the mother of six children, three of whom survive her. In 1881 she passed away regretted by a host of friends who still cherish her memory with love and esteem.

In honor of Miss Sadie Weingarten, Miss Grace Vincent won first prize, and Mrs. L. W. Lethbridge won the booby. Quite a large number were present. A dainty spread and sweet music by Prof. E. Ford's juvenile orchestra were two of the principal features which greatly added to the evening's pleasure.

Miss Emily Jessup, who made many friends during her residence in Salt Lake, is at present singing in the choir of St. Bartholomew's Episcopal church, where her marriage with Edmund Rykert of Paris will take place on the 21st. After the marriage they will visit Washington, New York, and Montreal—Mr. Rykert's old home—and at the end of February will sail for Paris. In the summer they will return to Salt Lake for a brief visit.

CLUB CHAT.

At the meeting of the Salt Lake City Parliamentary club last Tuesday afternoon, a constitution was adopted, and permanent organization effected by the election of the following officers: President, Mrs. Nelden; vice president, Mrs. J. Cohen; corresponding and recording secretary, Mrs. Elias Smith; treasurer, Mrs. Theresa Simon. It was decided that all persons signing the constitution at the first three meetings should be the charter members. Any one who is interested in parliamentary practice, whether club member or not, is eligible to membership. The next meeting will be held Monday afternoon, Jan. 21st, at 4 o'clock, at the club house.

The Daughters of the American Revolution met on Thursday at the home of Mrs. George A. Lowe. Miss Muncie read a paper on Irish and Colonial History, and the rest of the session was devoted to business. Arrangements were made for the usual celebration of Washington's birthday, and it was decided to offer two medals for the best essay on a patriotic subject, to be competed for by the girls of the senior class of the High school, the award to be made at the anniversary celebration.

The Mohegan Chapter at Sing Sing takes a lively interest in the needs of the hour, co-operating with existing societies in patriotic work. It raised nearly $700 for Red Cross work during the Spanish-American war, provided numerous cases of clothing made by the members of the sick soldiers, and since the cessation of hostilities has been steadily contributing to the relief of widows and orphans of those killed during that war. The Cuban orphans and the soldiers now in the Philippines particularly appeal to this Chapter, and the former are helped in the practical way of being given clothing, while cases of books are sent to the former. The Chapter recently contributed $100 to the Continental Hall fund, and also made contributions to five objects further by the parent society.

The Floating Hospital of St. John's Guild, which celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary on July 15th last, makes an urgent appeal for funds with which to continue its work during the remainder of the warm weather. Two boats making six trips each week, and tickets for those trips, including sailing, bathing, substantial dinner, pure milk for the children, are available at 500 places of distribution. Since 1875 the "Emma Abbott," which was the first boat fitted up by this Guild, has carried 82,612 mothers, sick babies, and children. This summer it has already carried for thousands of little ones, accompanied by their mothers, helping through the hot periods of infancy and young children, who might otherwise have died in the remnant of the summer, according to a statement of the health board.

The Colonial club of Keene, N. H., offers a prize of $100 for the best essays of the senior and junior classes of the high school of the town for essays on some topic connected with American history. The club is not a large one, numbering thirty-five active and fifteen associate members. This number the active members pay annual dues of $1 each, and the associate members $1.50. The Colonial grew out of a University Extension club, and follows a suggestion of Prof. John Fluke, that a closer study of colonial history would be wise for all, combined his work for a number of years to a study of that subject. For the current year, however, it has gone somewhat further afield and has taken the Netherlands as a subject, confining the year's work to consideration of this kingdom through the sixteenth century. Its outline is one of unusual excellence, and may be had for reference by any club interested in the same topic by addressing the secretary, Miss S. A. Webster, Keene, N. H.

The League of American Pen Women is a national association with headquarters at Washington. Its object is to band together in fraternal and helpful association the pen women of the country. It has been in existence several years, and its membership is steadily growing. Its first president was Mrs. Marian Longfellow O'Donoghue, who has been succeeded recently by Mrs. Arthur Louder Craig, whose articles on China have attracted attention. Mrs. Craig is the wife of Capt. Joseph E. Craig, U. S. N., now in command of the Albany, which is on its way to Manila. Mrs. Juliette M. Babbitt of Washington is the vice president of the club. Delegates at large are elected from each State, who act as vice presidents for the State which they represent.

THE VANDERBILT WEDDING BELLS READY TO RING.

Eastern society eagerly awaits the signal to wake Newport to life and make it bright with unaccustomed mid-winter gaiety at the wedding of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt to Miss Elsie French which will be celebrated at the Zabriskie Memorial Church, Newport, on January 14. A reception will follow at Harbourview, the home of the bride's parents. The Breakers, the Vanderbilt Newport residence, will be open to receive wedding guests as will be many of the prominent mansions of that fashionable seaside resort.
