Special Correspondence, Washington, Jan. 13 .- There has been a decided tendency within the past three years on the part of prohibition leaders to work for their ends within the Republican and Democratic parties. and this causes a widespread belief here that possibly no national Prohibition ticket will be placed in the field this year. It is conceded that more headway has been made within the past three years in eliminating saloons than in any decade since the prohibition movement was started. An effect has undoubtedly been produced upon Congress that has surprised the opponents of the liquor traffic, and this has caused the anti-saloon organizations to press their demands most vigorously in the senators and representatives. That Prohibitionists intend to make a desperate effort to abolish saloons in desperate effort to abolish saloons in the capital city of the nation is no longer doubted. They are hopeful of success, too, because southern con-gressmen are rapidly falling into line. A few years ago it was quite a thing for many of the erratic advocates of temperance to declare that no help ceuld be obtained in the south. The Democrats in their national and state platforms have in the past been relied upon by the liquor interests to de-nounce all attempts at sumptuary legis-ietten as it was expressed in the platas it was expressed in the platlation, as it was expressed in the plat-forms. Now the south is wheeling into line and abolishing the saloons more rapidly than any other section. Liquor dealers have charged that this move-ment is due to the desire of the south-ern people to prevent negroes from pur-chasing whisky and that it is not due to the fact that the south is any more emperate so far as the whites are concerned.

THE OUTCOME UNCERTAIN.

The proposition to shut up the sa-The proposition to shut up the sa-loons in Washington promises to be mighty embarrassing to the average Congressman. A large majority was opposed to abolishing the army can-teen, but it could not stand out against the demands of the temperance and church organizations. The canteen had to go. It remains to be seen how they out sets of the permeability to when out go. It remains to be seen now that ill vote if the proposition to wipe out a saloons here comes to a direct vote is session. A split has occurred in the Indiana commission appointed to arrange for the placing in statuary hall of the cap-itol a statue of the late Gen. Lew Wal-lace. Some of the commission want a bronze and others a marble statue. Of the statues now in the hall only three are bronze. Marble seems to be more suitable.

CASTELLANE IN COURT.

An animated light is going on over the nomination of Oscar R. Hu. liey, one of the federal judges in Alabama. He was appointed during the recess of the last Congress, although a bill was passed 14 days before that congress expired creating his position and the judicial district. Seven of the Ala-bama representatives have protested Paris, Jan. 14.—Count Boni de Castel-lane and Count Jean de Castellane, his brother, appeared in court today to an-swer jo the charge of assaut brought by Prince Hele de Sagan, their cousin. Count Boni admitted that he had spat in his cousin's face, but only after provo-cation. Owing to the absence of the count's attorney further hearing was postponed until Feb. 4. bama representatives have protested against his confirmation and filed new and serious charges against him. Two are neutral, and the Alabama senator

One Introduced by New Member from Oklahoma-Wu Ting Fang and His Popularity.

Special Correspondence. Washington, Jan. 6 .- An investigation of the clashes between heads of bureaus in the navy department is not unlikely. The row between Surgeon General Rixey and Admiral Brownson has set Senator Hale of Maine to thinking, and if he once gets started some lively things are expected to come to light. Mr. Hale has for years been chairman of the senate naval affairs committee. No keener or abler man sits in the halls of Congress. If, as alleged, it proves true that one bureau has attempted to usurp the pow-ers and prerogatives of another, it is going to be stormy for some going to be stormy for some people before Eugene Hale gets through look-ing into the squabble. Should an in-vestigation be staved off by the ma-jority members of the scenate and house committees, it is understood that the Democrats will be loaded with facts calculated to increase the feeling. FREIND OF TWO PRESIDENTS.

FREIND OF TWO PRESIDENTS. Surgeon General Rixey, who is a na-tive of the little town of Culpeper, Va., and son-in-law of the late Rear Ad-miral Ear? English, was the physician and chum of the late Presi-dent McKinley and is just as intim-ate with President Roosevelt, who pro-moted him to be head of the medical department of the navy over the heads of many seniors. Dr. Rixey accomp-anies the president on most of his hunting trips, whether for bears or rabbits. rabbits.

CAMPAIGN PUBLICITY BILL.

Rep. Fulton, Democrat, of Oklahoma and brother of Republican United States Senator Fulton of Oregon is pushing a bill in the house which will hardly receive as much consideration in the committee to which it was re-ferred as the national publicity bill which was sprung in the last Congress. The Fulton measure provides that here-after in every campaign prior to an election at which presidential electors are to be chosen the chairmen or sec-retaries of the national, state, congres-sional and county organizations of each of the pultical mariles that have made of the political parties that have made nominations for presidential electors shall keep a true and correct account of all receipts and expenditures, and the account at all reasonable hours

He was certainly what might be called a.mixer when here before, and his nu-merous acquaintances will be glad to have him back again. Mr. Wu, as he is usually called bas been of such a have him back again. Mr. Wu, as he is usually called, has been of such a progressive type that many predictions were made after his recall several years ago that he would sooner or later lose his head. On the contrary, he appears to be in better favor than ever with the home government. In an epicurean sense Mr. Wu has fallen right in with the Americans, and no fear is felt of setting before him dishes he is not likely to relish. His habits to try everythng that comes along. He is likewise a shrewd man at cards. Whist and progresive euchre he was best at during his stay here, and many valuable prizes were won by him at parties given in the mansions of the capital city. Bridge was not then all the rage. When Wu takes up that game the crack players at Washington had better look out.
