CHRIST THE LORD, WHITNEY'S THEME

Speaks Eloquently on "Christmas Thoughts" at Special Tabernacle Service.

FINE MUSIC PROGRAM GIVEN.

Large Audience Attends and Listens To Strong Address and Stirring Musical Selections.

A congregation that necessitated the opening of the galleries met at the Tabernacle yesterday forenoon and listened to Elder Orson F. Whitney in the special Christmas service, which commenced at 11 o'clock. The interior of the building presented precisely the same beautiful and imposing spectacle as on Sunday last, when a meeting was held there in commemoration of the birth of Jesus the Redeemer and of His servant the Prophet Joseph Smith. Upon the stand were many of the gen-eral and local Church authorities, and tai and local Church authorities, and the meeting was presided over by Pres-ident John R. Winder. The opening number of the program was the prelude of "Lohengrin" by projection of the program was the prelude of "Lohengrin" by prayer by Elder George Teasdale. Fred C. Graham sang "If, With All Your Hearts," from Elljah, and the organ se-lections that followed were "In Para-dise," "Pastorale," and "Old Melody." John Rohinson rendered the solo "Je-sus of Nazareth." Elder John Henry Smith pronounced the benediction, prior smith pronounced the benediction, prior to which Prof. McClellan played the

to which Prof. McClehan played the "Pilgrim's Chorus," from Tannhauser, Following is a synopsis of the ad-dress delivered by Elder Orson F. Whit-ney, of the council of apostles. He had been programmed to speak on the subject of "Christmas Thoughts," and been by saving." began by saying:

"The greatest of all Christmas thoughts is the thought of the Savior of mankind, and my thought today con-cerning him is twofold. I am thinking of the mortal advent of the Son of God, when He came to lay down His life redeem the world from the bondage sin and death. I am thinking also of his second coming, of the glorious advent of the King of kings, when He will complete His work, cleanse the earth from iniquity, and reign over it during a millenniai period of universal peace. These two events, one of them past, and the other yet to be, are the supreme events in the predestined his-tory of our planet.

God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosever should believe on Him should not per-should believe on Him should not per-ish, but have everlasting life." That was the greatest of all Christmas gifts. But it should not be forgotten that the Son of God was willing to be given for this purpose; that He was a conscious party in the case; that He was one with the Father in the giving was one with the Father in the giving of the gift; that it was God Himself who offered his life as a ransom for the human race, and made salvation a free gift to all who would put themin a position to profit by His sacrifice.

The custom of giving gifts is much older than the observance of Christ-mas day. From time immemorial mas day. From time initiation, gifts have been given from various mo-tives, both good and bad. Selfshness and sycophancy have played their part in the practise, as well as pity, gen-erosity and love. The true Christmas hallowed by its association with the idea of th world's Rede resents unselfish interest in the happi-ness of others. There are three prime essentials in every Christmas gift worthy of the name. In the first place, the gift should not impoverish or otherwise injure the giver. While intended to promote the happiness of the one who receives it, it should also give happiness to the one who bestows. give happiness to the one who bestows. It should be such a gift as the giver can afford to give, one that will bene-fit in the highest sense the bestower, one that will exemplify the truth of the divine declaration, "It is more blessed to give than to receive." In the next place, the gift should be ap-propriate, suited to the time, the place, the person and the condition: an examperson and the condition; an exam-in short, of 'the eternal fitness of the pawn-broker was death; and his claim upon earth and all it contained was two-fold. It was a spiritual as well as a temporal death, involving not only the dissolution of the body, but also eternal banishment from the presence of death and the body of presence of God. Nothing under the curse had power to lift it. Death had all. No part of what was held in pledge could be used as the means of redemption. Something above and in-dependent, something not under the penalty was measure. The life of a benalty, was necessary. The life of a God was the price of the world's freedom, and that price was paid when Jehovah the God of Israel, came to his own, as Jesus the Nazarene, and was crucified in the meridian of time." SALVATION THE GIFT OF GOD.

SALVATION THE GIFT OF GOD. Elder Whitney then proceeded to show that salvation, the gift of God, could only come to those who avalied themselves of the gracious offer and put themselves in a position to profit by the atonement of Christ. Men and women, however good and honest, however benevolent and pure, could not save themselves without assistance from God. Therefore, a Savior and a plan of salvation had been provided from before the foundation of the plan of salvation had been provided from before the foundation of the world. The speaker alsoursed trienty upon the first four principles of the gospel,-faith, repentance, baptism by immersion for the remission of sins. A most fitting incident was the formal opening of the new club rooms dediand the laying on of hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost,—showing how these principles had been taught by the Savior and His apostles, and how the gospel, everlasting and unchangeable, had been the same all down the dis-pensations. He available the minute cated and donated to the boys' clubs of Salt Lake City yesterday by Samuel Newhouse. WHOM WE WORSHIP.

"We do not worship Joseph Smith." said Elder Whitney in conclusion. "We worship God, and we serve the Savior, but we sing with our hearts in our volces:

"We thank Thee, O God, for a prophet, To guide us in these latter days; To guide us in these latter days; We thank Thee for sending the Gospel To lighten our minds with its rays; We thank Thee for every blessing. Bestowed by Thy bounteous hands; We feel it a pleasure to serve Thee, And love to obey thy commands."

Today we celebrate the birthday of the Son of God, the Savior of the world, just as we celebrated, two days ago, the birthday of His prophet, who stands at the head of the last gospel dispensation.

'Praise to the man who communed with Jehovah!

The Holidays.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 21 .- On a day like this, one may easily discover the identity of the really energetic members of Congress. With both houses adjourned and the Christmas spirit pervading the city from one end of the city to the other, there is little incentive and little necessity for work at the capitol. Yet some and is as yet only partially turnished. Later on a gymnasium, swimming pool and pool room will be added and also several bedrooms furnished row the benefit of working boys who have no senators and representatives are applying themselevs to business more assiduously than when the session was in full swing. They go to the Capitol home. As a Christmas gift to the boys of Salt Lake, nothing could have been better, and rully 200 boys assem-bled there yesterday and ate dinner and showed their appreciation of the regularly, read and answer their mail and spend hours every day in their committee rooms looking into matters which will require their attention after the holidays. In the meantime most of their colleagues from nearclub by deciding to present Mr. New-house with a gold-headed cane, and Mrs. Newhouse with a large box of by states have gone home for Christ-mas. The exodus is by no means as general as usual, however. The cut-ting off of railway passes makes the payment of cash fares necessary, and the congressman whose home is some distance from Washington or who has The presentations will be made upon the return of Mr. Newhouse from New The club building has 14 rooms, and is three stories high. It is well lo-cated near the business part of the city. According to the plans given out by Judge Willis Brown, who distance from Washington of who has to depend entirely on his official sal-ary, finds it much more convenient to remain in Washington throughout the holidays than give good money to the railroads for service which for so brought the matter to the attention of Mr. Newhouse and interested him in it, the club will deal with members of the various boys' clubs in the club and in order to be eligible to mem-bership a boy must be a member of some club. For years members of both houses have been furnished with books of telegraph starms which enabled them to send stamps which enabled them to send all their telegrams free. The franks were supposed to be used solely on personal and social messages, but only an infinitesimal number of the members heeded the provision to that ef-fect, which the companies printed in each book of stamps. They used the franks for business purposes, too, and as soon as the stamps in onebook were exhausted they applied for another. In this way the two companies carried an enormous amount of free business, and, while the "courtesy" did not cause legislators to be unduly biased in favor of the companies, perhaps, it assuredly did have some effect in the way of preventing any general move-ment on the part of Congress in the direction of lower rates for the trans-mission of telegrams and other similar reforms DATA ABOUT GOVERNMENT

CABINET OFFICERS' SALARIES.

"I am glad that the house accepts the amendment to the legislative ap-propriation bill increasing the salaries of members of the cabinet, the vice president and the speaker to $12,000," said Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, who is soon to retire from the list of President Roosevelt's advisers. "The raise will not affect me, so I may make this assertion with propriety. The present salary of $8,000 is altogether too small for a cabinet officer. I know I know some who spend as high as $40,000 a year.

Milking Cows by Machinery.

A test has been completed in the dairy department of the Kansas State Agricultural college which proves that milking machines are a success. The machines were installed and the test conducted by Professor O. Erf. in charge of the state dairy work. The machines operate by means of vacuum.

A three horse-power gasoline engine runs a vacuum pump which exhausts the air out of a system of pipes. These pipes run along the sides of the cows, and the milking machines are atand the milking machines are at-tached to these pipes by flexible hose. The vacuum created by the pump runs a pulsator on the top of the can and this produces an intermittent suc-tion in the cups attached to the teats of the cow. This suction draws the milk from the cow through the rub-ber tube and deposits it in a can. The milk is not exposed to the air, hence absolutely sanitary milk can be pro-duced.—Kansas City Star. duced .--- Kansas City Star.

Lastly, and firstly, and all the time, Lastly, and firstly, and all the time, it should be given ungrudgingly, not for policy's sake, nor to conform to a mere custom or fashion. Christmas gift is not the one that costs the most money, but the one that carries with it the most love." "In this light—this triple light—let us survey the great gift of God our Heavenly Father, in sending His Son Jesus into the world, to die that man might live. Depend upon it, that gift did not impoverish the Giver. The well of divine love is always deepest when most is drawn. Rather did the when most is drawn. Rather did the giving add to God's honor, and glory. The possession of all power, in heaven and on earth, came to the Savior Him-self as the result of His crucifixion on Calvary. And yet that offering was made unselfishly, ungrudgingly, with full foreknowledge, no doubt, of its hevitable fruits, but without sordid calculation, and with no thought save lo glorify the Father and to benefit and bless mankind.
