Special Correspondence.
Vernal, Utah Co., Nov. 5.—The political situation in Utah county is very special interest. The Democrats are more active than heretofore, having a full ticket in the field. The Republicans and Democrats have waged a friendly campaign. Both parties feel confident of victory. A charge of irregularity in registering at Moffat gives promise of some contest. There may be quite a number of Indian votes cast this year, as they are now citizens.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

The various committees on the charity hall to be given Thursday night are working strenuously for the event, and on the occasion of like nature has invited much warm response. Not only has the demand for tickets been unusual but the donors for the event have been flooding the several committees so that success in all ways is assured. The supplies for the supper, especially have been more than generous, the tables which will be spread on the stage, will grow with bounteous viands. Mrs. Sam Paul and Mrs. Edward Kimball have charge of this feature and the entire affair from present indications promises to eclipse all previous efforts.

Tendered Bishop Tanner and Wife—Political Rallyes—Mining Revival.

Special Correspondence.

Milford, Utah, Nov. 5.—A very pleasant evening, consisting of games, recitations and midnight supper will be long remembered by the members of the Milford ward, who met together and went in a body to surprise Bishop Tanner and wife before leaving this week for Beaver, Utah, where he will make their home. Bishop Tanner's church duties will not come to an end by this change, as he has been called upon to fill the office of counselor in the stake presidency, and his brother from that place will reside over Milford ward. While we regret the loss of the one, brother, a hearty welcome awaits the other.

The "Hill" has been greatly in demand this week. The Kempton Comedy Troupe, a traveling theater company, gave good satisfaction to crowded houses the forenoon of last week. "Rallies" by both political parties have been in vogue since, and the "Glee Clubs" and speakers were won over by the "rallies". The orchestra had a good effect here as the people as a rule are busily engaged in other interests. The party is holding "rallies" in Frisco and Newhouse now.

A good many people are becoming interested in mining in this district, and the mines are looking better than ever before. Old prospectors are out looking for new locations.

The railway company houses are going up fast. Some of them are nearing completion, which is good news here on account of the scarcity of houses and high rent.

SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY.

Estimating the physical conditions of the planets. Prof. T. J. J. See has calculated the conditions of gravity, with results that are certainly striking. At the earth's center the pressure is so enormous that figures give only a faint idea of it, and it may be stated to be as great as that of a column of mercury 258 times as high as the Eiffel Tower. At the sun's center, which can be conceived of as the probable pressure is nearly 32 billion atmospheres. To exert such a pressure under terrestrial gravitation, a column of mercury would have to be high enough to extend beyond the sun.

So important is the matter of a standard screw for gun fittings and other accurate work that a committee of the British war office has spent four years upon the problem. A special lathe, the only one of its kind in the world, has been constructed, and the screw at last produced is regarded as a marvel of scientific accuracy. It is three feet long, with a deviation in any part of more than one ten-thousandth part of an inch.

The spring motor of Dr. Becurt, a French surgeon dentist, rotates a flexible cable 24 to 1200 times per minute, running 12 minutes to an hour and a half according to the work performed, and is intended for dental and home-cutting operations, massaging, etc. It is wound by the help of a metallic cord. It has proven exceedingly useful where electric power is not available, and can be taken to patients' homes, or elsewhere.

Yagurt is the name given Xavier Dybovski's special kind of curdled milk. It looks like cream-cheese, but has a taste so disagreeable that an animal, for growing old it is declared to be worse than the disease.

Th art of keeping young, we are told by Prof. Goldschneider of Berlin, consists in keeping sound the blood-vessels, for we are only as old as the heart and the arteries. Long life is best ensured by early attention to the heart, though care begun in old age will often accomplish much. A great danger lies in abnormal demands on the organ, and little injuries accumulated, so that serious harm may come from frequent repetitions of the use of heart poison like alcohol or tobacco, or eating too much, or too great muscular effort, or even of mental overwork. Moderation in all things is required. Exercise should not be violent nor too little in amount. Elasticity of the blood-vessels should be promoted by frequent exposure of the skin to air and water, and work, food and sleep should be thoughtfully adjusted. Old people need constant movement, with not too much sleep.

The human body has been lately proven by Dr. Ferrier, a French investigator, to be something heavier and sometimes lighter than pure water. So that a person may float in salt water and sink in fresh. Abnormal lightness seems to occur in certain victims of hysteria and nervous disease, and in wretched cases the "trial by water" would have convicted such unfortunate as being in league with the devil.

The world's roses are estimated by G. Baker, F.R.S., to include 31 primary species. Of these 29 grow native in Europe, 26 in northern Asia, 18 in western Asia, 9 in India, 19 in western North America, 6 in eastern North America.

In considering that the planets produce tides in the sun's atmosphere, M. Emile Ancelet classifies such tides as binary, ternary and quaternary according to the number of planets acting together in opposition or conjunction. The tertiary tide due to the combined action of Jupiter, Venus and the earth is supposed to be the most important factor in regulating the appearance of spots, and a curve showing the fluctuations in the strength of this tide, as calculated from the planetary positions, agrees fairly well with the sun-spot curve for the years 1850 to 1900. This tertiary tide has a period of 11 years, its variations being due to the eccentricities, chiefly of those of Jupiter.

The table of the animals of Mr. Thomson seton, as calculated from actual times by stop watch, credits the greyhound with 34 miles an hour, the race horse with 32, the American prairie antelope with 28, the American "jack rabbit" with 24, the common fox with 20, the coyote or foxhound with 22, the American grey wolf with 21, a man's best speed is 12 miles an hour, the ordinary runner is 8 miles.
