Bingham this afternoon to watch the interests of their clients. Mr. Orem said before leaving for the train that an agreement was reached with the Bingham council something over a month ago in regard to the water con-troversy, whereby the interests of both the town of Bingham and the com-panies he represents would have been conserved. The council later backed down on the proposition and is now claiming all the water, instead of a portion of it as heretofore. No doubt the matter will eventually find its way into the courts for final adjustment.

restigate the coal deposits in Iron coun-ity, Utah. A bulletin just issued by the department says relative to this: "For a number of years high-grade bituminous and anthracite coals have been reported from that county. Pre-rious to the construction of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake rail-way, there was little hope of commer-cial development of this field, but since this road has been built the field can be reached by a short branch line, and it this road has been built the field can be reached by a short branch line, and it seems probable that in the near future it will be developed. The surveying party will begin work on the anthracite field near Cedur City and carry it east-ward into the bituminous field along the Colob platena as far as the sea-son will permit." A similar party will visit the Big Horn basin in Wyoning, on its west-

IDA MELTZER SUES CITY. Ida Meltzer has filed suit in the dia-triet court against Salt Lake City, the Utah Gas & Coke company and Han-ley & Ritchie, contractors, to recover damages in the sum of $5,000 for per-sonal injuries received by her on the night of Dec. 13, 1906, by failing into a trench on Third and F streets. She alleges that she attempted to cross the trench by a foot-path when the bank gave way and she fell to the bottom of the excavation, a distance of over five feet, and fractured her leg. She claims that the defendants were negli-gent in not having the trench guarded tions being made against this new way of doing things today, but the grocers and butchers are holding their own, and say they must do something to protect themselves. The banks ne protect themselves. The banks ne-longer honor an overdraft, and there longer honor an overdraft, and they dealings with the tradesmen, so the latter must settle their accounts promptly. A corresponding prompt-ness in customers settling with them in turn is therefore necessary. "What n turn is therefore necessary. LECTURE ON "GRAFT "

Judge Nielsen Talks of Swindling Methods of Modern Concerns.

ASKS FOR A RECEIVER. The appointment of a receiver, the dissolution of the partnership and an accounting of the property and pro-ceeds of the firm are asked in a com-plaint filed in the district court by Harry Landos against Peter Kanakaris and Angus Kossaris. It is alleged that plaintiff and the defendants entered in-to a partnership agreement on Jan. 28, 1907, for the purpose of conducting a bakery at the Newhouse copper plant near Garfield. They got along all right until June 26, when plaintiff alleges that Kanakaris drove him from the place, took possession of the books and business and refused to allow him to have anything to do with the business. He now asks for the relief mentioned above. By special request, Judge C. M. Niel-By special request, Judge C. M. Nill-sen delivered a lecture last evening at the Twenty-fourth ward meetinghouse on "graft." The speaker cited numer-ous instances where persons, especially those of foreign birth, had been swindl-ed recently by fakirs and smooth-ton-gued men. One hardworking woman had been induced to put a $1,000 into an irresponsible balding concern, and had lost every cent of her earnings. An aged couple had signed a paper for nursery slock, not knowing that they had signed an ironelad onte, for no val-ue received. Many persons had pur-chased neel estate, only to find that the property was covered by mortages, etc. Judge Niclsen's remarks were very timely. In view of the attempts that are made almost daily by men and women who live without work to enrich them, selves at the expense of the unwary and unsophisticated sen delivered a lecture last evening at William Mahoney and James Kline appeared before Justice of the Peace Holm of Murray today and pleaded guilty to petit larcency and each was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail. Charles Place, the third man in the proposition, pleaded not guilty and will be given a preliminary hearing on Wed-nesday. The men are charged wth steal-ing some merchandlse from the Murray Mercantile company on June 25.

the matter will eventually find its way into the courts for final adjustment. The Bingham council, it is claimed, has done almost everything in its pow-er to annoy the management of the Red Wing and associated companies which is believed to be due wholly to spite work on the part of some of its members and without any sense of instice justice.

DR. SILVER BACK FROM YALE. With Sons of Eli He Partook of 82 Kinds of Clam.

E. V. Silver returned Saturday night from attendance at New Haven, Conn., on the reunion of his class, 1882, at Vale. Of the 101 members living, 80 were present at the class dinner held at one of the New Haven Bay resorts. and old college days were gone over again in reminiscence and song. There was a very elaborate menu, including everything a shore dinner can offer. The class numeral was $2, and there were $2 varieties of clam condiments on the menu, to say nothing of lob-sters, crabs, and 1.001 other things of an affiliated nature in connection there-with. Dr. Silver says he never had such a dinner before in all his life. He sampled the whole cretaceous menu, and still lives to tell the tale. He re-ports the enthusiasm of the returning graduates as something great; which made him thankful that he was a Yale man. His class alone raised $18,000 at the reunion, of which the greater part was given to the university. Dr. Silver also attended the Columbia commencement, where he heard Goy. Hughes speak, and also heard Presi-dent Roeavelt speak at the College of Physicians & Surgeons commencement in New York. and old college days were gone over
