DENVER'S CONFIDENCE.

With a Condescending Tone Its Min-ing Magnates Take Notice.

For the first time in its history Salt Lake's upward progress as a city of magnificent buildings, has run counter to the ambitions of Denver, the nearest city on the east seriously enough to make Denver sit up to take notice. The point of first contact was the matter of a mining temple, for the grection of which Samuel Newhouse has Jackling has offered to contribute $50.-000 to start a fund for its erection. The reply of Denver to this Salt Lake movement is characteristic of one en-trenched in conceded rights to a small-er rival of discounted power. Denver proposes in an answer to build a tem-ple, the wealth of whose construction shall dazzle Salt Lake, and make this of the give up hone at once. Here is whereas, An effort is now being made to raise a sum of money to be used in the construction of a mining temple in Salt Lake, in accordance with which Mr. Samuel Newhouse has offered to donate a site valued at ap-proximately $85,000, and Mr. D. Relatives of young Kloman, who is employed at the Carnegie Steel com-pany, claim he was the victim of a highwayman and declare a sum of meney, his watch and several papers are missing from his pockets. The police are puzzled over the mys-terious shooting and are not ready to accept the theory that Kloman was held up, robed and shot. The place where Kloman was held up borders on a fashionable residen-tial section of the city and the affair has caused considerable excitement.

HOW THE TRIBUNE ADVERTISES UTAH.

The Tribune, finally, admits, what it at first violently denied, that it endorsed, editorially, the establishment of saloons and brothels as agencies of "liberty." Now for a sample of the kind of advertising the Tribune gives the City in which it maintains a parasitical

On the occasion of the visit of the members of the National Editorial Association to our city in 1905, the Tribune had an editorial of which the following are extracts:

"There are more young men and women in polygamy in the Mormon Church today than ever before in the history of that organization.

"The church dominates in all political life."

"At the April conference the church officially restored polygamy as a practice of the community.

"Free speech is denied to Mormons."

"We are a beleaguered garrison."

The article closed with a stab at the character of the man who holds the exalted position of President of the Church, referring to him as a "felon," "tyrant," and "robber of the helpless poor."

The article was published for the benefit of the Editorial Association that visited the City. It was copied in some papers; how many is not known.

Are the statements quoted true? Are they not of the class that can best be characterized by the shorter and uglier word?
