LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES

EASTERN.

An Official Circular.

WASHINGTON, 6.—The Secretary of War has issued circulars to the chiefs of the bureaus of the War Department, directing that, hereafter, all circulars, professional or scientific papers, digests of opinions, etc., which it is designed to issue from the bureau shall be submitted for his information and approval before being published.

A New Steamer to be Built.

Proposals for the construction of a new revenue steamer, for service on the Pacific coast, were opened at the Treasury Department on the 1st instant, and to-day an award was made to the Oregon Works, of Portland, Oregon, for $92,000 in currency, that being the lowest bid. The vessel is to be one of the staunchest in the service, and will be 145 feet long, 23 feet breadth of beam, and 11 feet depth of hold. Her draught of water will be 10 feet 10 inches; tonnage 227 tons custom house measurement. She is to be a propeller, with a vertical inverted engine, 34 inches diameter of cylinder by 34 inches stroke, and provided with a surface condenser.

"Virginius" Indemnity Paid.

The Spanish government, to-day, paid Minister Cushing the entire balance due on the Virginius indemnity, thus anticipating payment several months.

Dismissed.

The grand jury, to-day, dismissed the charge against Chas. A. Dana, for libelling Alex. Shepherd.

The Strike Continues.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., 6.—To-day was the time fixed by President Parrish for stopping the pumps and permitting the mines to fill up if the miners did not resume work; they refused to resume and the pumps and other machinery will be removed at once. There is no present prospect of the strike ending; the miners are as determined as ever, and are daily receiving assistance from other sections.

Outrages and Incendiarism.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., '6. — Reports from the upper coal region indicate constantly increasing outrages. At several places where the miners have shown a disposition to continue work threats and coffin warnings have been posted around, and attempts have been made to throw trains off the track and damage has been done to property. At a late hour last night the R. R. and telegraph office at Locust Summit was burned by incendiaries. Last night the house of Bernard McDade, a miner living in Kingston, who had been working, was attacked by a gang of men, women and boys, and McDade was beaten until his life is despaired of; his house was nearly demolished. A warrant was issued to-day for the arrest of the whole gang. Waterman and Bearn have ordered miners who occupy their houses in Kinpton to vacate them by the 15th; they mean to enforce the order, and trouble is anticipated.

Choked up with Ice.

BUFFALO, N. Y., 6.—There is no change in the prospects for lake navigation to open at this end of the harbor, as it is choked up with ice; clear water can be seen about fifteen miles out, and under the most favorable circumstances Buffalo harbor will not be open for ten days yet.

British Consols and U. S. Bonds.

NEW YORK, 6.—London advices say that British consols are ¼ @ ⅛ lower, with U. S. bonds also a shade easier. A dispatch from London says this is due to a collapse on the Paris Bourse, which is generally considered here, however, to be purely local.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Defenses to be Constructed.

LONDON, 6.—The Morning Post says that China has engaged the confederate General Ripley to construct works on an extensive scale for the defense of the coast and principal rivers; General Ripley sails for the east in a few days.

Christian Convention.

The Presbyterian Synod now sitting here adjourned, to-day, by a unanimous vote, to attend the Christian convention, which has been in session since yesterday, for the purpose of considering the best means of continuing the revival work in England; the convention is a great success.

A reduction of fifty per cent. in cable rates to America went into force May 1st.

Interesting Debate in Parliament—Convention Closed.

In the Commons, to-night, the Marquis of Hartington asked when the debate on the privileges of the House would be resumed and the budget discussed. Disraeli said there was no immediate prospect of resuming the debate, which was unexpectedly terminated on Tuesday night. He intended, however, when attention was again called to the presence of strangers, that a division be taken to decide whether the galleries should be closed. The government was charged with wasting time over the question of privilege, but the opposition to the Irish peace preservation bill was the real obstruction. The Irish members were justified in opposing it, and the government was equally justified in seeking to have it passed. At this point Disraeli was called to order for digressing from the subject of the inquiry put by the Marquis of Hartington. He resumed his remarks and said that allowing for a fair opposition, he believed that it would be possible to prorogue parliament in July. The government was determined to pass all its measures, even if in order to do so it should find it its duty to advise the Queen not to prorogue the session till all of them had received the royal sanction. He added that the government intended to open the discussion on the budget on Friday a.m.

Gladstone said he regretted the tone of Disraeli's remarks. The House was entitled to respectful treatment, even from premiers; never before had he heard such a statement as that relative to the passing of government measures. The Right Honorable gentleman threatened to keep the House sitting till a number of unspecified bills were passed. Was that a becoming method of procedure on the part of the head of Her Majesty's government? If such a tone was again adopted he (Gladstone) would feel it his duty to avail himself of his privilege as a member. He protested with emphasis against moving the discussion of the budget.

Disraeli consented to take up the budget in the evening session. The consideration of the Irish Peace Preservation Act, which had been nine days under debate, was then resumed in committee, and the bill was passed in committee, with important amendments, by which the penalty for the unlawful possession of arms was reduced, and the right to search houses for arms was limited to the day time. The house has yet to take action on the bill.

The Christian Convention brought its session to a close to-night. Mr. Sankey, Major Cole of Chicago, and many English and Scotch ministers made speeches. An interesting discussion was had on the value of Sunday Schools. The speakers strongly advocated lay agency as a means of conversion.

EAST INDIES.

The Cholera.

BOMBAY, 6.—The cholera prevails in the City of Baroda.

DIFFICULTY IN PHONETIZING THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE.—The spelling mania has caused the raising of the old question once more, "Why not make the English language phonetic?" The same question was widely and persistently advocated and agitated by eminent philologists some twenty years ago, both in Great Britain and in this country. Newspapers and school books were printed in phonetic type, and many persons were so sanguine as to believe the reform possible. But those who worked hardest and plead longest for it then are now satisfied that a radical reform in spelling is impossible. An extra letter can now and then be knocked out of a word, but the English language has too great a history, has too much literature in the old spelling, is too composite in its structure to permit the reform, valuable as it would seem to be, to become practical. The demands of etymology are great, and etymology depends rather upon visible form than upon sound. To reform the English language and place it upon a phonetic basis means phonetizing all the French, Spanish, Greek, Italian, Latin or other languages that form elements of it.—Northwestern Christian Advocate.
