STOCKS IRREGULAR, A Man May Eat Any Meal CLOSING DULL And Digest It Easily If He Will

New York, Dec. 5 .- Opening prices of stocks today disclosed some wide changes in prices from last week both ways, but these were in the minor securities. The general list moved irregularly but within a narrow range. Pacific Mail advanced 11/2.

Trading continued very unsettled, rallies and reactions occurring with frequency. A full in United States Steel to 54 affected other stocks, but a subsequent rise in Union Pacific, Read-ing and some of the low priced stocks ing and some of the low pitced stocks advanced the market. The extreme fluctuations showed a gain of 434 in Colorado & Southern, 214 in Consolidated Gas, 2 in Wabash pre-in Consolidated Gas, 2 in Wabash prein Consolidated Gas, 2 in Wabash pre-ferred, 1% in American Hide & Leath-er preferred, 1% in Westinghouse Elec-tric and 1 in Union. Pacific, Reading and Western Union. Reading second preferred dropped 3 points and recov-ered it. The market was advancing at 11 o'clock. In a rise in the New York public util-ities sustained elsewhere some selling presured. One or two low priced stocks also advanced and the market showed lack of decision and a wavering tendency. Bonds were firm. The volume of trading fell off great-ly in the afternoon and there was little interest manifested in the course of the leading stocks.

the leading stocks. The market closed easy and dull. The dullness of the demand let prices drop until American Smelting sold a point lower than Saturday's last price. Dealings were so small as to have little importance. Federal Mining preferred sold at a decline of 3.

foody and gattery for spectators. In front of the call room on the second floor will be eight or 10 office rooms. The basement, being high and with good light, will afford accommodations for various lines of business. It is the intention to make the building in every way worthy of the cause to which it will be devoted. The rooms will all have good light and good ventilation and there is to be nothing cheap in either material or construction.

NAT GOODWIN'S COMPANY, A Reno dispatch contains the infor-nation that Warren A. Miller, formerly vice president of the company, such and forced to sell his 5,000 shares of the company's stock through machina-tions of Goodwin and Rice, that he was kept in ignorance of negotiations relative to mining stocks and properties. The complaint says vast profits have been made from the Rawhide Coalition which has been freely distributed throughout the east, and in this he should have shared. The plaintiff avers that on or about Sept. 26, 1908, he was the possessor of 5,000 shares of the stock of the Nat C. Goodwin Brokerage stock of the Nat C. Goodwin Brokerage company, incorporated, and that Good-win and Rice each owned the same amount. Miller then states that by virtue of an option obtained by the company on 2,300,000 shares of Rawhide Coalition at 15 cents a share his 5,000 shares in the Goodwin company were worth not less than $100,000. He then states that Goodwin pervised with the states that Goodwin conspired with the defendant Rice and induced him to
