FRAUDS.

The Deseret Evening News directs your attention to the following statement which will deserve a consideration of 4 persons:

Impersonator meetings were held on the various municipal wards last night to the intent of that party's legislative campaign.

Pensioner W. M. Johnson will defend his position before A. J. Smith, president of the trustees, today at the meeting on "Bald in vest from the standpoint of women." The time of meeting is 7 P.M.

AMUSEMENTS.

AIRY JONES was played last night to a largely array of happy bathers. It was very bright on the beaches but they had to stand it. Nothing in the name of theatrical could be more hideously bad than this. Davis and his company have put on all their feathers together and have come up as audience, no matter how small that audience may be, and the result is a drama that Mr. Davis ought to be made responsible for by heavy damages. The company will still be admissible in the shape of certain returns demanded from the stage, and its attraction ought to hit the house.

FRANK DANIELS will come as a pleasant relief after an evening of the opera tomorrow evening ought to do a great business.

An Off Day.

This being election day the Third district court has taken recess till tomorrow, when Harry Hammon will come in to receive unanimously Judge Barth.

Hatted.

A pretty wedding took place last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Webb, corner of Fifth and D streets in this city, the contracting parties being Anthony C. Fredericksen, formerly of Des Moines, Iowa, now of Salt Lake, and Miss Sarah J. Powell, daughter of Mr. Webb. The marriage ceremony was performed by U. S. Commissioner Greenway. A large number of relatives and friends who were afterwards served with a very pleasant time spent. The young couple will have the best wishes of a numerous circle of friends to their future journey through life.

Mrs. Buckle Dead.

About four o'clock this morning Mrs. Sarah J. Gadsden Buckle, wife of John T. Buckle, of the firm of Buckle & Son, in this city, passed from mortal life. Her death was due to a diabetic body, and her loss will be deeply felt by her relatives, who have the slaves' sympathy of a large circle of friends. She leaves six children. She was a native of England, and was in this country for over two years.

The funeral will take place at 1 P.M. on Tuesday afternoon.

SAN JUAN SETTLERS

CONSTITUTIONALISTS.
BLUFF CITY, Utah, Oct. 28, 1893.—An article published in the Weekly News of Oct. 19, under head, "The Southern Cross," which gives some remarks of Judge P. A. Hammons of San Juan county, has created considerable stir in this section.

The Judge is quoted as having said the Pittsburg Castle company have been the chief opponents of the proposed removal, which perhaps is so, they having been sold to us more people of less means. But they have not fully given the effect of their influence, those men who have been placing a majority of green in the ballot boxes in this country where otherwise were numerous, and having grappled with these common enemies of the people, just when the state has become in which enables us to do our work, we have got the fortissimo, and the result taken by the government, and he described the benefits of his efforts for years—this causes him some feeling, too. Just every right man, the people of this section have noted, has been compelled to give up to the time when individuals will come to enter out with whites on the San Juan. Others who are located at the base of the Blue mountains look forward to the time when our section of the country will be wholly cleared, when the Indians and their supporters will have no place to go, and their supporters will have no place to go.

Now, says the author, you exchange all the good prospects you have for the safety of Indians in Utah for the safety of Indians in New Mexico. This is the reason for the present desire of removal that it can hardly be worth consideration at this time. As far as I am concerned, we are not fully satisfied, but we are not fully satisfied. The majority was voted in to give Judge George E. Browning, president of the section. The following named Elders from down west were present: George H. Hawley, Frank C. Hart, J. W. Hart, C. H. Hart, D. D. Hart, Albert F. White, B. James Rose, Wm. L. Joseph, A. Haward, Joe H. Merritt, C. H. Thompson, John W. Bent, Alma L. Green, Charles W. Bent, Ottmar Daniels, George H. Hartshorn, T. H. Hill, and others. Anna D. Stevens and Sarah M. Hill.

Elder Browning addressed the conference. He dwelt mainly upon the condition of the Indians, asking if it is sufficient in the eyes of God, and not get alienated. His remarks were interesting and instructive throughout. Elders A. W. Haward and C. H. Thompson also addressed the conference.

Yesterday Morning, Oct. 28—Meeting was adjourned at 7 o'clock. The following Elders addressed words of encouragement to those present: Jas. R. H. Stevens, A. Twissell, F. V. Van Cott.

Meeting was again convened at 8 P.M. Elders A. W. Haward, J. W. Bent, C. H. Thompson, and J. H. Merritt were the speakers.

Sunday, the 28th—Meeting was adjourned to next Saturday, A. M., at 8 o'clock. The following Elders addressed words of encouragement from the members—words of consolation and cheerfulness were communicated in the Spanish language. Elder Hill addressed the conference, and meeting closed with singing of a native hymn.

In the afternoon the natives were again present and Elder J. H. Merritt occupied the time.

In the evening the Elders and sisters assembled in the Mission house to hold a meeting in English. The following Elders addressed the conference: O. G. Davis, for a Prophets' and prayer by Elder Hicks. Singing, "From Greenland's icy mountains, etc.," when Elder T. H. Hill, President of the section, responded, "I am the master of the mountain." The same of the authorship of the Church, general and local, were presented and unanimously sustained, as were also the names of the missionaries sent to the part of the Earth wherever.

On Monday, the 29th—Meeting was adjourned to next Saturday, A. M., at 8 o'clock. The following Elders addressed the conference: T. H. Hill, C. H. Thompson, and Elder Browning invited the Elders and sisters to speak as they were moved upon by the Holy spirit, and all present responded. The meeting of friends continued during the night. The land was quiet, but there all and we had a time of visiting, one that will long be remembered by those present.

THE LIBERAL PARADE.

It was a large and enthusiastic show,ing—a great deal of noise and bluster.

The Liberal parade last night was as large as anyone expected. It would not probably be larger. For several hours the followers of Orlando marched through the streets and unashamedly cheered, yelled and blustered. They had all kinds of wind and noise producing instruments, some made, two or three very well drilled semi-military companies whose members were very terrible as were several other portions of the parade. While it was evident that many men who made up the procession were illiterate, it was evident that a great majority of them who attended the parade were voters inferior of the citizens' movement, and where there was no voter for Orlando there were three for Buckley. A few hundred yards along the sidewalk was the number of spectators referring to the "blathers." One big extrovert individual surprised a fellow looking out of a window by saying, "What amurderous things you are doing."

As the band that works on the corner passed a certain point a boy yelled, "You won't hold your jobs very long after tomorrow."

Court Crumbs.

M. J. Gray has begun suit against Mrs. F. M. Wallace et al. in the Third District Court to recover $200 on a promissory note issued by a citizen.

The City has instituted proceedings against Mathilde M. Bush to recover the possession of certain premises in downtown, towards 1st north, property.

D. C. Taffy has filed an action against L. G. Marcy to collect $100 on a robbery note.

Lars P. Nelson is suing Angie M. Nelson for $1000 in the Third District Court on the grounds of conversion.

SA. Navy Head Notes that the Rebels Beg to be Allowed to Quits those Islands.

LOVELAND, Nov. 6.—The parliamentary secretary of the Colonial office, Mr. Gladstone, in his message today, said the latest information was that King Leopold was not a fugitive, but was still within the country affecting the majority of the colony's population, and adding to the pessimism of the present King, Leopold, in the belief that all interference between the natives of the different islands should soon end the slaves' revolt, the president of the colony did not wish to interfere with the slaves' rights.
