Borne Heat and Burden of the Day. Special Correspondence.

Special Correspondence. Lehi, Utah Co., Jan. 18.-Yesterday was old folks' day in Lehi. About noon 200 veterans were brought from their homes in conveyances to the City pavilion, and were seated around ban-quet boards, spread with the good things of life. While the dinner was partaken of, the Old Folks' choir and the Kirkham orchestra furnished music, efter which the tables were cleared and after which the tables were cleared and a program was rendered, consisting of speaches, songs, instrumental music,

About thirty of the old people were not able to be present. Since their last gathering eleven have died. Ten have died. Ten who knew the last gathering eleven have died. Ten people were present who knew the Prophet Joceph Smith, and sixteen were present over 80, to whom different presents were given. In the evening a grand old folks ball was given in the dime perilian, which was largely at City Pavilion, which was largely at-tended and much enjoyed.

Plenty of Water.

Special Correspondence. Huntsville, Weber Co., Jan. 19 .-- Prof. L. H. Peterson wears a conspicuously happy smile since his wife presented him with a fine daughter yesterday. The relatives and friends of Mrs. C. H. Stone are alarmed because of her se-vere filness. Dr. Rich of Ogden is in attendance and it is hoped that she will soon recover.

The enrollment of the public school is 265. The class of first year high school students is doing excellent work this year. The school in general has an carnest, progresisve tone. The farmers are delighted with the splendid prospects for water next season. Reports from the mountains east of Huntsville indicate a much heavier fall of snow than has been seen for several years.

Police Swooped Down on Place Where Fight Occurred.

SULLIVAN CLEVER AND GAME. Sullivan was clever and game, but could not keep the aggressive colored man away from him. Gans' left eye closed easily in the fight, and Bullivan kept playing for it, but at no time did be have the Baltimore boy in distress. In the eighth round it looked as if the fight was over, Gans put in two lefts to the heart and a right to the jaw. Sullivan went down, but was on his feet in a moment, and Gans went after him swinging left and right. Sullivan went down again, but came up fighting. Ho was groggy, but game and cool. In the ninth Gans went at his man again. A right to the heart and a right to the jaw sent the white boy down, but he managed to last through the round. GANS PLAYED WITH MIKE. GANS PLAYED WITH MIKE.

ored man, and finally in the fifteenth round a series of lightning right hand lows to the jaw ended Sullivan's aspirations and put Gans once more at the top of the fighting heap. The fight was fast and furious from the start. Gans kept within striking distance of his man

all stages

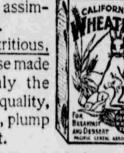

From this time on Gans forced the fighting, flercer than ever. In the elev-euth he apparently played with Sullivan and did no great damage. In the twelfth Sullivan beauch data and the twelfth and did no great damage. In the twelfth Sullivan braced up and sent some straight lefts to Gans' face. In the thirteenth he was still strong and played for the colored boy's eye. He landed a hard blow on the stomach that apparently hurt Gans. In the fourteenth Gans de-voted all his attention to Sullivan's mid-dle section and landed half a dozen hard rights. In the fifteenth came the fin ish. A right to the jaw staggered Su-livan and, quick as a flash, Gans was af-ter him with several more accurately placed blows. Finally a left swing struck the point and Sullivan went down and out with his head resting on the ropes.

JOE'S WORK PERFECT.

Gans impressed everybody by his splen-did air of confidence and his aggressive-ness. His boxing was protty nigh per-fect. Most of Sullivan's blows were blocked, and the way Gans used his right with short swings to the jaw and rip-ping punches to the stomach was a reve-lation. Sullivan phowed a great amount of eleveness and must gameness, but lation. Sullivan chowed a great amount of eleverness and much gameness, but at no stage of the game was he a match for the Baltimore negro. Sullivan, al-though punished severery, did not lose hig head. In many rounds he was in dis-tress, hut Gans, with all his eleverness and fierceness, could not land a finishing punch. Sullivan's failure to become rat-tled under punishment was one of the most remarkable features of the fight he put up. Gans was a favorite in the betting, with the odds 10 to 7 in his favor at ring time.

uates at Big Dinner. New York, Jan, 19.-More than 400 graduates of Yale university attended the New York alumi dinner at Sherry's to-night, at which President Arthur T. Hadley was one of the principal speakers. A letter of regret from secretary of War Taft was read, in it Mr. Taft ex-pressed the hope that such modifications would be made in the rules governing football that "one of the most health ful influences of college life" might be continued. President Hadley in his address said: "Football is a major sport, like hunt-ing or deep sea sailing. Like them, it involves much physical hardship and some physical danger. To understand why nearly a thread the standard standard ing or deep sea sailing. Like them, it involves much physical hardship and some physical danger. To understand, why people go through this hardship and danger a man must nave what is known as sporting blood. If he does not have this, all major sports as practised by their devotees will seem to him irriational and absurd. I shall not argue the ques-tion. But this I will say, that among all major sports football has for college students the double advantage.

Mr. Camp said that football was going to be "made opt"," but whether it was going to take on entirely new principles he could not tell. He declared that it was impossible to make rules that would entirely eliminate the mass play, as well as impossible to devise rules that would cimmate accidents.

Commute accidents. "The game is necessarily rough," he continued, "and there will always be accidents. However, I think the danger is greatly overnated. All last year there were at Yale but twenty-four accidents, of which seventeen were nothing worse than sprained ankles. The worst was where a man had several of his ribu fractured, and there was only one case of that nature."

The Stars Took Two Out of Three Games From Business Men.

The Stars and Business Men clashed on the league bowling alleys last evening, and the Business Men struck a snag. Their opponents carried off the honors by taking two out of the three games. The

"As for modifications of the rules, we will be content to leave that matter in the hands of Mr. Camp, and we are glad that the reforms looking toward open play, which he for the last year has been most strenuously advocating, are at length likely to be realized. There are a few who would like to see the game abol-ished, and there are many who would like to see it modified; but as far as I know there is not a single member of the Yale faculty who would take the work of modification out of trained hands. "The extravagant interest in football presents a harder problem to deal with than the extravagant use of football money. It is not the football players themselves who have the most exagger-ated estimate of the importance of the game. It is the spectators rather than the players, graduates rather than un-dergraduates, who make this difficulty worse. The trouble is not that football is too much played, but that it is too much talked about." "Walter Camp, head of the Yale Athletic association, followed President Hadley.

GIRL ATHLETES.

Gave an Exhibition to Nagai Michiakira, Japan's Representative.

kira, Japan's Representative. New York, Jan. D.-Nagai Michiakira, an accredited representative of the Japnese government, witnessed a special exhibition by the giri athietes of the girls' branch of the public schools athietic league. The Japanese has been to this country to study the methods of physical culture in the public schools, and also the workings of the athelite league, with the idea of adapting its best features to the physical upbuilding of the boys and girls of Japan. More than half a hundred girls took part in the relay rac-ing, running and other sports and Mr. Michiakira expressed himfelf as well pleased. pleased

BIG NINE MET.

Dr. King's New Discovery for Consump-tion, Coughs and Colds, which gave in-stant relief, and effected a permanent tion. But this I will say, that among all major sports football has for college students the double advantage of being the most democratic and the least dan-gerous. All too often we have had deaths from hunting or deaths from sailing, but during the thirty years we have played Rugby football at Yals there has been no death and to the best of my knowl-edge no grave case of permanent injury. This record is sufficient to show that hard football is not necessarily attended with overwheiming physical dangers. "The possibility of unfair play perhaps consultates a graver evil than the pos-sibility of accident. If an institution in-tends to play unfairly, do not play with that institution next year. If you are not prepared to adopt this remedy, then keep quiet. To say that a man means to play unfairly and then act of a gontle-man. "As for medifications of the rules, we cure."
