The evening's entertainment wound up with a fine luncheon served by the fair ladies.

The many Eureka friends of Owen Dunberry, formerly proprietor of the Eureka hotel, will be pleased to learn that he has taken the position as night clerk at the new Wilson hotel in the capital city.

The ladies of the "Mormon" church will give a grand ball in the new L. D. S. church on Wednesday evening, April 23, the proceeds to be devoted to the building fund of the edifice. Mozart's full orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion. Prizes will be awarded to the best lady and gentleman waltzers. During the evening the ladies will serve ice cream and cake.

The Eureka baseball team gave a dance at L. O. F. hall Wednesday.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

makes pale, thin children fat and chubby. Overcomes wasting tendencies and brings back rosy cheeks and bright eyes.

It's surprising how quickly children respond to Scott's Emulsion. It contains just the element of nourishment their little bodies need. They thrive on it.

Even a few drops in the baby's bottle have a noticeable effect for good. Nothing better than Scott's Emulsion for growing children.

We'll send you a sample free upon request. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

night, the proceeds of which will go towards purchasing uniforms for the team.

Mr. and Mrs. Brigham Snoot of Provo have moved to Eureka, where they will spend the summer months. Mrs. Snoot was formerly Miss Madge Nesbit of this city and the young people have a host of friends in Tintle.

The first dance excursion to Payson this season was well patronized by the young people of Tintle, and the events no doubt will grow in favor as the season progresses.

CLUB CHAT.

The daughters of Utah Pioneers met yesterday at the Bee Hive house and held an interesting meeting, the members bringing their papers verifying their claims to membership and subjects pertaining to pioneer matters being discussed.

At the Reviewers' club on Monday, Mrs. Elmer Jones gave a paper on "The Arthurian Legends."

The Clefian met with Mrs. Clara Clawson on Tuesday, and Mrs. Susie R. Wells gave a paper on Disraeli, Gladstone and Bright.

The Woman's club had for their topic this week "Juvenile courts," given by Mrs. P. N. Cook, the session being devoted to industrial subjects.

Mrs. Virginia D. McClurg of Colorado Springs, regent of the Colorado Cliff Dwelling association, has been lecturing in eastern cities on "The People of the Pueblos." While in Washington she called on President Roosevelt and reminded him that he had once promised, if he ever had any influence with the government, he would bring it to bear on the preservation of the Colorado cliff dwellings. She showed him a photograph of a tower which had been defaced by a huge hole by one of the government photographers. The hole, instead of ascending the tower by a rope and exploring within, gouged a hole four feet wide in its solid masonry. "Is that man in the employ of the government now?" asked the president. "If so, his head comes off tomorrow."

The association, which now numbers 75 members, mostly Colorado women, hopes to make the Mesa Verde a state park, well guarded against vandalism. The Mesa is a strip 29 by eight miles in the extreme southwestern corner of the state. In its canyons are situated from three to four hundred cliff dwellings, including the famous cliff palace of 350 rooms. The association leased the strip from the Vermilion Utes, to whom it belonged, and had it surveyed and a map made. The Indians themselves are afraid to approach the ruins, but a lease was necessary to protect them from "civilized" vandals. The canyons of the Indian landlords are described as rather trying. To them a lease represents an agreement to be cemented as often as possible by donations of watermelons, tobacco, candy, or Waterbury watches. The association hopes to purchase the strip outright, but will never require the Indians to move, as their tepes and picturesque dress add much to the landscape.

Arrangements are being perfected in New Orleans for the convention of the National Suffrage association, which is to be held from March 19 to March 25. Miss Jean Gordon, president of the New Orleans Era club, has charge of the work of placing delegates, many of whom will be entertained at private homes. The officers of the association will be entertained at the St. Charles hotel, this arrangement being considered necessary to facilitate the business work of the convention. The meeting will be held at the Athenaeum. A reception will be held on the opening night of the convention, which promises to be one of the most interesting ever held. Among the speakers will be Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, Mrs. Ida Husted Harper, Mrs. Margaret Haley, who did so much for the public schools of Chicago, helping to secure an appropriation of $2,000,000 a year for school purposes; Rachel Foster Avery, Mrs. Henry Blackwell and Miss Blackwell, Mrs. Elizabeth Perkins Gilman, and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt. Miss Anthony will be present and will probably speak.

A movement is on foot to federate the clubs of Alaska, and the undertaking, at first thought an impossibility, bids fair, it is said, to be accomplished. The Woman's club of Nome is the inspiration of the movement.

Oregon club women have introduced a bill into the legislature regulating child labor in the state. It is true that children are no great factor industrially in Oregon as yet, but the club women are determined that theirs shall be among the states that have satisfied the rights of every child to an unfettered childhood.

The Turkish government has recently made important concessions to the American government respecting the wives and children of naturalized Armenians. The Turkish government will no longer claim these women and children and deny them the right to join their husbands and fathers in the United States.

Vassar girls are planning a clubhouse for the benefit of the most unemployed around the college. They expect to spend $10,000 on the clubhouse and are working for an endowment of $30,000 to provide for its maintenance and to pay the salary of a matron. The object of the club will be educational, and the building will have class rooms as well as parlors.

Mrs. W. S. Penabody has been chosen president of the Public Improvement society of Denver, Colo., an association of men and women, and her election is regarded as a recognition of the efficiency which women have shown in managing civic improvement matters. The Denver society proposes to thoroughly clean the city and to greatly extend and beautify the public parks and driveways.
