DESERET EVENING NEWS: MONDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1900.

Resolutions adopted admit the difficulty of adequately characterizing the crime for which Porter was punished, but declare that however much the negro, by his crime, merited death, no crime can justify recourse to such barbarian methods, and while the ac-tion of the people of Lincoln county is attributed to excitement and passion. it is none the less condemned and discountenanced. Hope is expressed that a law will be speedily enacted in Colorado providing effective punishment for crimes such as incited the torture of Porter, and also that hereafter each and every one will be punished for tak-ing the law into their own hands. The remarks of Governor Thomas were, in part, as follows:

"I do not believe the people of this State are worse than people of any oth-er State. This is as civilized a commuer state. This is as civilized a commu-nity as any State in the Union, and in all of them we hear of occurrences like this, when the people have been sud-denly aroused to some such terrible act, deniy aroused to some such terrible act, when some such awful, horrible crime as this negro's cries to heaven for ven-geance. For the agonized parents and whatever they have done. I have no words of blame or censure. Put our-selves in their places and we can un-derstand their desire for vengeance. In addition Senator Davis has brought before the Senate from the committee on foreign relations

In round numbers, the total vote on the island was 58,000. Only 150 federal votes were counted. The leaders of the Federal party had ordered their followers not to appear at the polls, and the order was generally obeyed. It was an election in name merely, as only It one party voted. Considered by Congress. New York, Nov. 19 .- One of the first orders to be considered when Congress convenes, says a Tribune dispatch from Washington, will be the oleomargarine bill, reported to the House from the committee on agriculture by Mr. Henry of Connecticut. It was introduced by Grout of Vermont in December, 1899. It provides that all articles known as oleomargarine, butterine, imitation butter, or initation cheese or any sub-stance in the semblance of butter, or cheese not the usual product of the dairy and not made exclusively of pure and unadulterated milk or cream, transported into any State or Territory, and remaining therein for use, con-sumption, sale or storage therein, shall, upon the arrival within the limits of such State or Territory, be subject to the operation and effect of the laws of such State or Territory enacted in the exercise of its police powers, to the same extent and in the same manner as though such articles or substances and been reproduced in such State or Perritory and shall not be exempt therefrom by reason of being introduced herein in original packages or other

There is a provision "that nothing in this act shall be construed to permit any State to forbid the manufacture or sale of eleomargatine in a separate and distinct form and in such manner as will advise the consumer of its real character free from coloration or ingredient that causes it to look like butter," In the second section it is provided that the tax upon cleomargarine prescribed in section 8 of the act 1893 shall be one-fourth of a cent pound when the same is not colore aut when colored in imitation of butte he tax to be paid by the manufacture shall be ten cents a pound, to be levie or collected in accordance with the pro visions of said act. "I have used Chamberlain's Colle Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and find it to be a great medicine," says Mr. E. S. Phipps, of Poteau, Ark, "It cured me of bloody flux, I cannot speak too highly of it." This remedy always wins the good opinion, if not praise, of those who use it. The quick cures which it effects even in the most severe cases make it a favorite everywhere

With the arrival of the large and splendidly equipped force, there was almost im-mediately renewed talk of an expedi-tion against Pao Ting Fu. Reconnoisances in force became the order of the day and on every hand there vas apparently a renewal of the military activity.

VON WALDERSEE'S REMARK.

Field Marshal Count von Waldersee has been credited with a remark to the effect that Germany did not regard the lime as opportune for diplomatic set-lement, intimating that a further display of military power was regarded as wise. Subsequent developments have been practically corroborative of this reported statement. In this respect, so ar as can be judged, from movements here, the British are in full sympathy with the Germans. Practically the en-tire military situation is in the hands of these preponderating forces, for it is generally thought that Japan is not at all desirous of maintaining her pres-ent large army in China during the vinter, and that she will accept any solicy which looks to a reduction of troops. Russia's consent to a with-drawal of troops is felt here to be based on the necessity for a large Rus-sian force in Manchuria, where, according to reports which reach here, she has her hands full.

AMERICAN ACTION.

As cabled the Associated Press the American residents in Tien Tsin met at the announcement of the withdrawal of the larger part of the United States forces and adopted resolutions protesting against such action. The sontiment of the English here is expressed in an article in a local paper, which has resumed publication. The article in question attaches much im-portance to the probable effect the American action will have among the hinese and says:

"The reason for the withdrawal is erfectly understood, and allowance is apparently made in consequence by the powers. But the point which appealed most strongly to American traders and missionaries here is not what the powers will think, but what China will think

It is then pointed out that the masse of the people are led to believe that the Americans were afraid of the con-sequences of remaining in China. Continuing the editorial says: "America's action must inevitably bear an enormous crop of miscon-struction by which all will suffer and not enhance her prestige in China's eyes, while we should say it would tend to limit her votes in the coun-cil of nations in Pekin."

EFFECTS OF COLD WEATHER.

Tong Ku, China, Oct. 25.-[Corres-pondence of the Associated Press.]-The early advent of cold weather is sausing much concern among the alies over the question of winter supplies and communications. It is now practically assured that the rallway to Shan Hal Kwan from Tong Ku canot be put in running order for at least two months and this estimate is based the prompt delivery of necessary materials. A railway expert has been sent over the entire line on an investigation and his reports show that the oad is in much worse shape than was at first believed. In all it is said that about thirty-eight miles of track have been destroyed. The destruction has been wrought in various places, a few miles in some districts remaining prac-tically intact, while in others the whole line has been destroyed. It is alleged that in some localities even the roadbed has been torn up, the ballast re-

Brown's alleged shortage had been rumored for some time, but the bank officials and directors have repeatedly declared that his accounts re correct, and that everything was all right.
