

DECEPTION OF THE TRIBUNE.

Where it Stands With Reference to Republican Caucuses.

TWO YEARS AGO AND NOW.

Facts That Are Worth While Reading and Remembering—The Paper Self-Convicted.

The manner in which the Tribune is attempting to deceive the legislators and the public is shown abundantly each day in the files of that paper. Here is one of the additional instances in this morning's issue; it says editorially, as to a senatorial caucus:

The Legislature of two years ago had a U. S. senator to elect. It met on Monday, Jan. 14. It was a Republican Legislature. It was in no hurry to nominate a candidate for the U. S. senate. The joint caucus for the purpose was not held the first week of the session, but the members allowed themselves as much time as possible to study the situation and get acquainted. The caucus was held on the evening of Tuesday, Jan. 22, a day corresponding this year to Jan. 20 next Tuesday. Is there any greater hurry this year than then, and is not a Republican precedent a good thing to follow?

The files of the Tribune, Herald and "News" of two years ago all give indisputable evidence of every statement in the Tribune editorial referred to, regarding the caucus, is untrue. The facts are these:

Two years ago, a caucus committee, consisting of two senators and three representatives, was appointed at the joint Republican caucus held before the Legislature convened.

The Legislature met on Monday, Jan. 14, 1901. The call for a senatorial caucus was published the next day, Tuesday, Jan. 15. It was signed by Senators Hoyt Sherman and Joseph Howell, and by Representatives Deener, X. Smith, E. R. South and E. H. Anderson. It fixed the Republican senatorial caucus for Thursday, Jan. 17, the fourth day of the Legislature—all in the first week of the session.

The Republican senatorial caucus met on Thursday evening of the first week, as stated, and continued its meetings until a candidate was nominated. Owing to a vigorous caucus, the caucus was not held until the evening of the second Tuesday (Jan. 22), and as the Legislature had to vote that day, the Republicans had to caucus the day before the first day, because the caucus had not reached an agreement after several animated sessions.

Now as to this year: The Republicans in the house named a caucus committee at the meeting held prior to the convening of the Legislature, just as in 1901. The Republicans in the senate failed to name such a committee, thus deferring the arrangement to a later period than at the last session.

On Tuesday evening, this year, a majority of the Legislature agreed to caucus, and the public announcement of the holding of the caucus was not made until Wednesday, the third day of the legislative session, or one day later than on the former occasion.

This year the date of the caucus is fixed for Wednesday evening, just one day earlier than two years ago.

That is, the announcement or call for a caucus is one day later, and the date of the meeting one day earlier, than at the previous session. Now compare these facts with the Tribune's editorial statements. A Republican precedent doubtless is a good thing to follow as to Republican caucuses, and the Republican legislators this year have come about as close to following the precedent of two years ago, as to dates, as was possible for them to do. They got right midway between the former date, which was only two days apart. But the Tribune's statements of alleged facts, both as to the caucus and other important matters connected with the caucus, are, in fact, so far from a grain of truth, as to be a good thing to accept in the line of leadership.

GOING TO WASHINGTON.

Congressman Joseph Howell Will Soon Leave for the National Capital.

Congressman Joseph Howell is a former member of the senate, and has been visiting with his old colleagues every day since the Legislature convened. He is a welcome figure in the chamber and is always surrounded by friends and admirers. The new congressman said today that he thought the present Legislature was a very strong body of men, who had been broadened by practical experience and would no doubt make good practical laws. Mr. Howell was an attentive listener to the governor's message yesterday afternoon, and pronounced the message to be an able paper, so practical in its nature that the legislators will often find it the part of wisdom to refer to it.

Congressman Howell says he will leave for Washington, the latter part of the month, and remain there to the end of the present session.

BANK ELECTIONS.

Officers and Directors Chosen at Meetings Held Yesterday Afternoon.

The Utah National bank election yesterday afternoon resulted as follows: Directors—A. H. Lund, James Chipman, John Henry Smith, Henry Dinwoodey, William H. Smart, F. Y. Taylor, Geo. A. Smith, Thos. R. Cutler, O. P. Miller, Geo. Sutherland and Joseph Goodrich. At a meeting held later in the afternoon the following officers were chosen: A. H. Lund, president; James Chipman, first vice president; Henry Dinwoodey, second vice president; Joseph Nelson, cashier. The executive committee is composed of A. H. Lund, Vice President Chipman and Dinwoodey, Joseph Goodrich, F. Y. Taylor, Geo. A. Smith and O. P. Miller. Among the new stockholders, in addition to those above mentioned, are John E. Smith, Dr. E. S. Wright, Arthur Brown, Joseph Burrows, J. D. Dixon, Nephil Morris, the Cannon company and Richard Taylor.

The committee appointed to examine the books reported everything in perfect order, and paid a high compliment to the efficiency and faithfulness of Cashier E. C. Raybould.

The Commercial National directors closed yesterday afternoon at Geo. M. Downey, Worden P. Noble, O. J. Salisbury, John J. Daly, A. F. Holden.

All Humors

Are impure matters which the skin, liver, kidneys and other organs can not take care of without help, there is such an accumulation of them.

They litter the whole system.

Pimples, boils, eczema and other eruptions, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, biliousness, tinnitus, indigestion, dull headaches and many other troubles are due to them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove all humors, overcome all their effects, strengthen, tone and invigorate the whole system.

"I had salt on my hands so that I could not work. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it drove out the humor. I continued its use till the sores disappeared." Mrs. J. A. O. Wells, Rindford Falls, Mo.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

John W. Donnell, Moxley C. Fox, J. E. Coggriff, J. B. Coggriff, the last named in place of Thomas Marshall, and Theodore Meyer. The election of officers was postponed owing to the absence from the city of some of the directors.

The stockholders of the First National Bank of Murray elected these directors: J. B. Ellis, J. C. Cutler, Melvin M. Miller, Melvin M. Miller, D. A. McMillan, Richard Howe, Willis B. Powell. The election of officers will take place next Monday.

The stockholders of the National Bank of the Republic will meet on the 25th inst.

BUSINESS NOTES.

An agreement was filed for record today in the county recorder's office wherein Charles H. Lashbrook agrees to sell to J. A. Jacobson for a consideration of $30,000, the Centennial group of claims located in Markham Gulch, a group of claims belonging to the group are the Rhee, Rhee No. 2, Rhee No. 3, Centennial, Rhee and Gondola lake claims.

Today's local bank clearings amounted to $558,073.75, an increase of $42,733.06 for the same day last year.

H. S. Young banked for the Deseret Savings Bank for $3,500, 775x155 feet on Second South street, near Third East.

The Utah Liquor store on East Temple street has been located by the local agent of Senator Clark to move by Feb. 1, as the building is to be torn down to make way for the new building proposed to be erected there by the liquor people. The liquor people have secured a location elsewhere.

Coal dealers continue to say that the shortage in eastern coal is not likely to affect the intermountain market, and that the only coal difficult to secure is Rock Springs lump, which the Union Pacific is monopolizing until after the strike is settled.

Col. J. W. Donnell, cashier of the Commercial National bank, says relative to a statement published about him this morning: "The report in this morning's Herald that I intend to retire from the Commercial National bank is not true. Nobody is negotiating for the purchase of my stock. Mr. Donnell and myself have both been elected directors for the current year, and I expect to be re-elected cashier of the bank when the directors meet for organization and election of officers early next week. The control of the bank has not been changed. The change in the board of directors means simply that the two directors have sold their stock, which of course makes it necessary to fill their places on the board."

ANOTHER CONTINUANCE.

Drug Store Cases Go Over for Another Week or So.

"When, Oh, when, will the drug store liquor cases be tried?" has been asked many times by persons interested in the matter. This morning, Assistant City Attorney Schuller asked Judge Diehl to continue the cases against the drug store until the next week, which he did, and granted the request.

POULTRY SHOW OPENS.

Fine Display of Choice Birds at Utah's Annual Exhibition.

The annual exhibition of the Utah Poultry association opened this morning in the premises 207-208 State street. There are 350 entries in 30 varieties by 35 exhibitors. While there are not as many birds as in former displays, the general quality will range high. Plymouth Rocks are in the lead, especially the barred variety, that is, where the bars extend the full length of the feathers. There is a fine array of Leghorns, Black Langshans, White Cochins, Game, and Crested, a few game, Rhode Island Reds—said to be entirely new in this country and others. There is but one pen of Light Brahma, as it is claimed the variety is not now popular. The best exhibit is the Brook Ranch, which has 56 entries. William Oldfield of Greiner exhibits a hen turkey said to weigh 22 pounds, and a gobble weighing 31 pounds, also a brace of large geese. The duck exhibit is small but good. The display includes an incubator by an Oregon party, which is quite an attraction.

TWIN FALGINS SCHEME.

Big Irrigation Project Will Soon be Under Way.

Messrs. Ruhl and De Long of the Twin Falls irrigation scheme are at the Knutsford from Pennsylvania to complete the details relative to closing up the deal, so that an early start may begin. The plan includes the irrigation of 270,000 acres of land, the tract being 30 miles in length, and will be of incalculable good to the state of Idaho. The main facts of the enterprise have already been described at length in the public press, and all that remains to start it on its way successfully is the finishing touches to certain contracts. As soon as the canal is in condition to distribute water, the lands under the ditch will be disposed of to settlers, and the country gradually built up. Mr. Ruhl said this morning to a "News" representative that matters were at the moment in such a shape that nothing could be stated for publication beyond the fact that the situation was about as it had been for some weeks past. Messrs. Walter Filer and De Long, he said, would represent the company in this city where an office is to be opened.
