The Nicholls Government Will Support Hayes' Administration.

NEW ORLEANS, 12.—The Nicholls legislature adopted the following:

Whereas, The inaugural address of the present Executive of the nation indicates a fixed determination to restore harmony to the people of the South by establishing a policy of pacification for one of coercion, and by recognizing the right of said people to local self-government, free from federal interference; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we accept this declaration of the national Executive of non-intervention in the affairs of the State as a happy augury for the future, made in good faith and the true spirit of the Constitution, and that this General Assembly will earnestly co-operate with President Hayes in every effort to restore confidence and fraternal relations among the whole people of this great country, and to this end it pledges all the power and influence at its command to secure the great object for which governments were instituted, viz.: To guarantee protection to life, liberty, and property to every human being within its borders.

The indications are that the Nicholls legislature will not elect a United States senator during the present session.

Packard Heard from Again.

Packard remains constantly at the State House, attending such business as comes before him. He stated, to-day, to a reporter, that he had as full confidence as ever in the final success of his government, but he added, "I am amazed at the persistence with which the most glaring misstatements are repeated, even by journals usually well-informed. For instance it seems widely believed that my legal claims to office are based entirely upon the decision of the returning board and the constitutional provision requiring the canvass of votes by the General Assembly had not been strictly complied with in this respect, that there were less than a quorum of senators present when the canvass was made. The provision of the constitution upon the subject is this: 'The returns of every election shall be sealed up and transmitted by the proper returning officers to the Secretary of State, who shall deliver them to the Speaker of the House of Representatives on the second day of the session of the General Assembly, then to be holden. The members of the General Assembly shall meet in the House of Representatives to examine and count the votes, and the person having the greatest number for governor shall be declared duly elected.' This provision was complied with in every particular. On the second day's session, January 2nd, the General Assembly met in joint convention, with sixty-eight representatives and twenty-one senators present, make the canvass and declared the result. A quorum in the house is sixty-one and of the senate nineteen. Of the sixty-eight representatives present all were returned by the returning board and of the twenty-one senators nineteen were so returned, and two were seated on contest. Thus there was an undoubted quorum of the members of each branch of the legislature present and participated in the canvass, whose names appeared on the rolls of the Secretary of State as entitled to participate in the original organization. The impression that there was not a quorum present has probably arisen from the fact that the five senators present when the votes were counted for governor, and when Kellogg was elected senator, was subsequently induced to withdraw, and some are now acting with Nicholls' senate. Two have since returned. There was no legal quorum of either house present in the Nicholls legislature when the pretended canvass was made for governor and lieutenant governor. The house had but forty-two legal members, the senate but seventeen. Nor had they before them any returns, as provided by the constitution, on which to base their canvass. Deslonde, Kellogg's Secretary of State, then the undisputed Secretary of State, not only refused the returns when the committee from the Nicholls House formally requested them, but presented them, as directed by law, to the Speaker of the House, in whose presence the vote was canvassed as above stated."

Referring to President Hayes' southern policy Governor Packard said, "I do not understand it to be his desire to force the colored people from the republican party. On the other hand I understand that he will sustain, under the Constitution and laws, each State of the Union in a republican form of government, and will suppress insurrection and domestic violence. I understand him as wishing to avoid the constant use of troops in the Southern States at elections, and as a police force for States. The foundation for this desirable state of affairs has been laid here already. It has been my desire to facilitate the entrance into the republican party of the old line whigs and conservatives, and during the past canvass my efforts in that direction were crowned with gratifying success. The republican party will lose Pinchback and a small following of colored men, who will go to the democratic party. On the other hand the republicans will gain largely from the conservatives and old line whigs. If, however, the revolutionary Nicholls party, representing the extreme democratic element, were to succeed in supplanting the lawful State government, the color line may be expected to be drawn tighter than ever, and the persecution of colored men continue as in Mississippi, Texas, and other republican States which have been stolen by the White Leaguers until the last vestige of republicanism stamped out."

——Washington gossips say that Mr. Sartoris, Nellie Grant's husband, has neither money nor ambition. What of that, if Nellie likes him? Money is the root of much evil, and ambition wrought the fall of Lucifer.

would be faithfully and ably discharged.

Secretary Schurz said, "I think I am expressing the general opinion of the country when I say you have succeeded in placing the interior department in a far better condition than it had been for years, and the public is indebted to you for the very energetic and successful work which you have performed. I enter upon the arduous duties with which I have been entrusted with an earnest desire to discharge them conscientiously, and I shall be happy, when leaving the department, to have achieved as good a reputation for practical efficiency as you have won." Turning to the clerks and heads of bureaus, Secretary Schurz continued, "Gentlemen, I desire to say to you that I intend to conduct this department upon business principles, and you may be assured I will bring into my official relations with you the best possible personal feeling, and hope that you will serve the country as faithfully and effectually under me as under that of my predecessor."

Death to Straw Bids.

It is reported, on good authority, that Postmaster General Key intends to inaugurate an entirely new system of classifying and awarding bids for mail contracts. No bid will be entertained unless accompanied either by a guarantee of personal performance of the service by the bidder or by a sworn copy of the contract under which the service is to be performed by a third party. This means death to straw bidders.

The Kellogg Senatorship.

The general impression, to-night, is that the Senate, within a few days after receiving the report from the elections committee on the Louisiana case, will postpone any action concerning it until next December. Morton and the other friends of Kellogg will probably acquiesce in the postponement as the only means of avoiding an immediate defeat. The admission of Morgan and Grover to the Senate has given the democrats thirty-three members of that body exclusive of ex-Judge Davis, who is claimed by both parties, and although apparently coquetting with each will probably assume an independent attitude on political questions. The full Senate would comprise seventy-six members, but there are four vacancies from Louisiana, South Carolina and Ohio. Cameron, of Wisconsin, and Edmunds are ill. Ferry is absent on account of his brother's illness, and Sharon has gone home. The thirty-three democrats, therefore, now require the aid of only two republicans to defeat Kellogg or accomplish any other purpose in regard to the controverted Louisiana questions by a majority.

Postmaster-General Key Installed in office.

Key was formally inducted into the Post Office department this afternoon. Tyner introduced to his successor the chiefs of all the bureaus and divisions, and in a few brief remarks expressed his appreciation of their efficiency, and his personal regret at parting with them. Key remarked merely that he felt some embarrassment in coming among them as a stranger, but he wished them to know that he had no intention of making any changes, and he desired to discharge the duties of his office as his distinguished predecessor had done. All the clerks and employees then filed in, and were each in turn greeted by the new Postmaster-General with a cordial shake of the hand.

The Ohio Senatorial Contest.

COLUMBUS, O., 12.—The resignation of Senator Sherman was received by Governor Young, to-day, and sent to the general assembly. The first caucus to nominate his successor will be held to-morrow night. Stanley Matthews, ex-Attorney-General Taft, ex-Governor Dennison, Samuel Shellabarger, and Wm. Lawrence are candidates for the succession. It is conceded that the real contest is between Stanley Matthews and Judge Taft, both being urged confidentially by their friends, and Taft's friends vigorously deny that there is any special administration favorite in the contest.

The Extra Session, Etc.

CHICAGO, 12.—The Inter-Ocean's Washington special has the following: The President says no extra session of Congress will be called unless absolutely necessary to supply the army. The President will send a batch of minor nominations to the Senate to-morrow. He seems in no haste to bestow patronage. The diplomatic list will not be revised at present.

Ex-Governor Aiken, of South Carolina, an old line whig, who has been acting with the democrats for a few years, will be made collector of customs at Charleston as another olive branch to the old whig element of the South.

Another Mustang Ride.

NEW YORK, 12.—Francisco Peralto, the Mexican mustang rider, commenced a ride of 600 miles in fifty consecutive hours at the hippodrome, to-night. The first ten miles was made in 26 minutes 44 seconds; the second in 27 minutes 37 seconds; the third in 25 minutes 53 seconds; the fourth in 27 minutes 35 seconds; the fifth in 26 minutes 31 seconds; completing the first fifty miles in two hours thirteen minutes and sixteen seconds. He is still riding and expects to complete his task by Wednesday morning.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Turkey Quiet and Life and Property Safe.

LONDON, 12.—Admiral Hobart Pasha, of the Turkish navy, writes to the Times, from Constantinople, under date of March 2nd, contradicting the reports current about Turkey. He says the country is quiet, and life and property are as safe as in Europe. There is no panic anywhere. The Christians follow their vocations in safety. The Turks honestly admit the truth of the accusation of bad administration, and are most desirous to make radical changes; but the system is bad from beginning to end, in the vast empire, and full of conflicting elements, and cannot be changed immediately. They ask time, and help from without in the way of administration, and a little kindly and generous feeling in Europe.

GERMANY.

Sentenced for Violation of the Press Laws.

BERLIN, 12.—Herr Loe, formerly secretary of the German embassy at Paris, Count Herrman Von Arnim, and Dr. Gehlsin, editor of the Reichsglocke newspaper, have been tried and convicted in the municipal court of Berlin of violation of the press laws, in publishing certain articles in the Reichsglocke. Herrmann, who is the son of Count Von Arnim, was sentenced to imprisonment for three months; Loe, one year, and Gehlsin, five years.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Details of the Dugway Accident—Another Death—Health—Temple—Conference—Bloom and Flies.

ST. GEORGE, March 5, 1877.

Editor Deseret News.

On Saturday, the 3d, a terrible accident occurred on the dugway about two miles east of this place. Brother W. G. McMullin had just started home to Harrisburg, having with him in the wagon his daughter, Mary Jane Liston, and her grand-mother. The mules he was driving were very skittish and wild, and as they were going down the dugway to Middle Town, they met another team and wagon, driven by three young girls of this place. The two wagons came in collision and locked wheels. This caused Brother McMullin's mules to start to run. One of the wheels striking a rock caused Brother Mc. to be thrown out, breaking his collar bone. The team then dashed wildly over the dugway, rolling over and over, three rods down a steep declivity, covered with black volcanic rocks. This loosened a large rock weighing near one thousand lbs., which rolled 15ft. and lodged on the body of Mary Jane Liston, who was instantly killed. Her grandmother's head and body were seriously injured. She has been lying insensible ever since, and the physician says her recovery is apparently impossible. The other young lady was not seriously injured.

Miss Liston was nineteen years of age, of good character, and was a leading, faithful teacher in the Washington Sunday school. Her death causes much regret.

The coroner's jury acquitted all persons of blame.

Last night John Tout, who lately came to St. George from your city, died at the residence of President B. Young, in whose employ Bro. Tout was as a teamster.

The general health of the people here is good, and death visits us so seldom that the deaths named caused quite a sadness to spread over the minds of our citizens, though we mourn not as those who know not the Gospel.

The work goes on in the Temple, and the spirit of the Lord seems to increase among the people, who rejoice to be able to minister for their dead.

The President's health is good, and he seems cheerful and spirited in the midst of his multiplicity of care.

Conference time is approaching, when no doubt our city will be densely crowded with people from all parts of Utah. I think it would be wise for parties coming here to be well supplied with the necessaries of life, as well as good wagons to sleep in, as St. George will not house near as many people as Salt Lake City, and wheat does not thrive so well in this warm climate as it does in the north. Still all who come will find a warm-hearted people in the "Dixie" of Utah.

Farmers and gardeners are busy. Fruit trees are in bloom, the cottonwoods are becoming green, and our usual pests, the flies, are making their appearance, bespeaking summer near.
