

DESERET EVENING NEWS

WEATHER REPORT.

Record at the local weather bureau for the 24 hours ending at 8 a. m. today.

Barometer reading at 8 a. m., 25.65; maximum, 26; minimum, 25.65; mean, 25.73, which is 3 deg. below normal. Deficiency of the daily mean temperature since the first of the month, .38 inch, which is .05 inch below the normal.

Excess in precipitation since Jan. 1, 3.67 inches.

FORECASTS TILL 6 P. M. WEDNESDAY.

Local forecast for Salt Lake City and vicinity:

Fair tonight and Wednesday; warmer tomorrow.

Generally fair tonight and Wednesday, except possible showers south portion tonight; warmer Wednesday.

WYOMING:

Local showers tonight or Wednesday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The barometer is highest over the northern plateau, northern Rocky Mountain slope, British northwest territory, North Pacific and South Atlantic states; and lowest over the southern plateau and North Atlantic states.

Precipitation was very light and scattered, and occurred over portions of Nebraska, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Minnesota, Louisiana, Michigan, Manitoba and Assiniboia. It was raining this morning at Salt Lake City, Thunders, storms were reported at Santa Fe, El Paso, Galveston, Omaha, Elkins, Winnipeg and St. Louis.

The warm wave continues over the central valleys, lake region, southern plateau, gulf and Atlantic states.

R. J. HYATT, Local Forecaster.

TODAY'S TEMPERATURE.

8 a. m.	63
9 a. m.	65
10 a. m.	67
11 a. m.	68
12 noon	68
1 p. m.	68

THE Semi-Weekly News.

THE GREAT COUNTRY PAPER OF THE WEST.

Is issued Mondays and Thursdays and contains all the cream of the Daily and Saturday News.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The proposed Strawberry Valley reservoir will have an area of 9,135.5 acres, with a capacity of 263,125.3 acre-feet of water.

William Illingworth and Harold Nickelsby, formerly of England, have been admitted to citizenship by Judge Morris.

The entering of an automobile into the depot hack traffic has started up the city hackmen. The auto charges 25 cents per passenger, and promises to be well patronized.

Col. N. W. Clayton has concluded not to sell his State street property at 216 and 218 South State street, as he values it at a figure more than $25,000, the offer offered by the Montana people who wished to invest.

General Baldwin, commanding the department of the Colorado, notifies Adj.-Gen. Burton of this state that as large a force of regulars as can be spared from the Fort Douglas garrison will be detailed to go into camp with the national guard at the coming annual encampment.

Wm. Carroll, who has acquired the habit of going to his divorced wife's home and making it a habit, was convicted of misconduct towards her for the third time yesterday afternoon, and Judge Tanner sentenced him for 30 days, with an additional five days for drunkenness.

Stella McMann, a 15-year-old, was taken from a Commercial street house, in which she had lived for several days, by the police last night. Complaint was made to the officers by the girl's older sister. There is no charge against the girl, but she will be held until the wishes of her mother are known.

An enjoyable farewell party, in honor of Elder Julius Gertsch, who leaves tomorrow on a mission to Switzerland, was given last night in the Fifth ward assembly room. A host of the department's missionary friends were in attendance, and after the rendition of an excellent program, all indulged in the dance till a late hour.

The battery had a large attendance at its smoker last evening in the armory, where numerous stunts were performed by various members of the company. There was singing, vocal and instrumental music, dancing, boxing matches and light refreshments. The committee of arrangements consisted of E. Wood Davis, Fred Smith and George B. Thompson.

There is trouble in the new co-operative steam laundry, a distinctly union concern, and Manager Bird has resigned. He says the unions have not responded with their patronage as freely as the stockholders had expected. Complaints have been made that the clothes were dirty as they came from the laundry, and when the manager investigated, the washers quit work.

Beginning this fall, Prof. George M. Marshall of the University of Utah will temporarily retire from that institution to do post graduate work at Harvard. His place in the English department of the university will be filled by Fred W. Reynolds, a Salt Lake boy, who for four years past has been doing advanced work in Harvard university. Prof. Reynolds and his wife, Mabel Wallace Reynolds, are expected to arrive here the end of next month.

Major Reuben B. Turner of the Eighteenth infantry, and wife, are in town today, enroute to Boise barracks, the remodeling of which the major is to superintend. While here Major and Turner are visiting with A. J. Love, Mrs. Turner's brother. The major is known in this city, as he was a

LIVESTOCK MEN ON HOME MARKET IDEA

Those From Over the State Greatly Interested in Proposed Packing Plant.

ADVANTAGES ARE SET FORTH.

Altogether Prospects Look Decidedly Bright for Proposition Put on Foot by Realty Men.

The livestock men of the state are becoming very much interested in the proposed packing plant and home market idea, recently launched in new and tangible form by the Real Estate association of this city. The result is that the outlook is getting brighter each day. This is the way several cattlemen, now in the city, view it.

Speaking upon the question of supplies for a packing house in the event of its erection in Salt Lake, Jno. Y. Rich, a prominent cattleman of Boxelder said last night:

"There is no doubt of its adequacy at all times of the year in the case of cattle and sheep, and but little question that an abundance of hogs would be fed if the assurance of packing facilities would give them a ready market for them at all times of the year when the grunners are fattened and fit for the smoke house."

Mr. Rich, who has recently moved his family to Salt Lake to make the capital city his home hereafter, was formerly a banker in Brigham City, as well as an extensive cattleowner in Boxelder, and feeder in the Bear river valley. He had a couple of thousands of cattle on hand and pulp at the Garland factory last winter, which he has lately marketed in Denver, where the packers bought his steers, averaging 1,285 pounds, at $4.85 per 100 pounds.

Every animal in the shipment was bought by the killers, the speculators getting a lookin only, and Henry Gebhardt, of the Colorado company, declared the end he got to be as good as quality as any other.

These cattle were put on a good lucern pasture early in the winter, and carried later on alfalfa hay, until about the middle of March, when they were thrown into the feed lot at the factory, and the pulp shared to them, with the result stated.

Mr. Rich will feed 1,500 head of cattle and several thousand sheep at the Garland plant the coming season, as he is abundantly satisfied with last year's results, and has a contract for the pulp with the factory people for ten years to come. He hopes, however, that the best straw he finishes will be killed in a Salt Lake abattoir, and declared yesterday that if such a plant is built it will expand Utah feeding amazingly, and make Salt Lake a great big live stock market within five years.

DAVIS COUNTY DEALER.

James A. Eldredge, of Woods Cross, one of the well known cattlemen of the state, and a director in the Deseret National, sells the bulk of his Utah product to local killers, and believes that while their inability to handle large bunches at a time entails inconvenience and extra expense in making deliveries, the losses are compensated for in the long run by the average good weights and values received locally as against the heavy shrinkage and shipping cost of eastern marketing. Like every other owner interviewed on the subject, he is acutely interested in the present movement to build up a home market for Utah live stock, and expressed a full measure of confidence in the success of the project.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

ADVOCATES THE PROJECT.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

LIVESTOCK MEN ON HOME MARKET IDEA

Those From Over the State Greatly Interested in Proposed Packing Plant.

ADVANTAGES ARE SET FORTH.

Altogether Prospects Look Decidedly Bright for Proposition Put on Foot by Realty Men.

The livestock men of the state are becoming very much interested in the proposed packing plant and home market idea, recently launched in new and tangible form by the Real Estate association of this city. The result is that the outlook is getting brighter each day. This is the way several cattlemen, now in the city, view it.

Speaking upon the question of supplies for a packing house in the event of its erection in Salt Lake, Jno. Y. Rich, a prominent cattleman of Boxelder said last night:

"There is no doubt of its adequacy at all times of the year in the case of cattle and sheep, and but little question that an abundance of hogs would be fed if the assurance of packing facilities would give them a ready market for them at all times of the year when the grunners are fattened and fit for the smoke house."

Mr. Rich, who has recently moved his family to Salt Lake to make the capital city his home hereafter, was formerly a banker in Brigham City, as well as an extensive cattleowner in Boxelder, and feeder in the Bear river valley. He had a couple of thousands of cattle on hand and pulp at the Garland factory last winter, which he has lately marketed in Denver, where the packers bought his steers, averaging 1,285 pounds, at $4.85 per 100 pounds.

Every animal in the shipment was bought by the killers, the speculators getting a lookin only, and Henry Gebhardt, of the Colorado company, declared the end he got to be as good as quality as any other.

These cattle were put on a good lucern pasture early in the winter, and carried later on alfalfa hay, until about the middle of March, when they were thrown into the feed lot at the factory, and the pulp shared to them, with the result stated.

Mr. Rich will feed 1,500 head of cattle and several thousand sheep at the Garland plant the coming season, as he is abundantly satisfied with last year's results, and has a contract for the pulp with the factory people for ten years to come. He hopes, however, that the best straw he finishes will be killed in a Salt Lake abattoir, and declared yesterday that if such a plant is built it will expand Utah feeding amazingly, and make Salt Lake a great big live stock market within five years.

DAVIS COUNTY DEALER.

James A. Eldredge, of Woods Cross, one of the well known cattlemen of the state, and a director in the Deseret National, sells the bulk of his Utah product to local killers, and believes that while their inability to handle large bunches at a time entails inconvenience and extra expense in making deliveries, the losses are compensated for in the long run by the average good weights and values received locally as against the heavy shrinkage and shipping cost of eastern marketing. Like every other owner interviewed on the subject, he is acutely interested in the present movement to build up a home market for Utah live stock, and expressed a full measure of confidence in the success of the project.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

ADVOCATES THE PROJECT.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

John W. Thornley of Layton, who was in the city during the day, put in a part of the afternoon in supplementing the efforts of the Real Estate association's committee on the erection of a packing house in Salt Lake. He is an enthusiastic advocate of the project on behalf of Utah producers, and points to the fact that the farmers and livestock men who fill the valleys of Utah and states on the north and west from which favorable shipping rates to this center are made.

ALL OVER THE PLACE

Can Truly be Said of Those Busy Official Exposition Photographers.

AT THE WORLD'S FAIR

Every Nook and Corner of the Grounds Are Searched for the Best Views.

The advent of the Kodak gave a wonderful impetus to amateur picture taking, and it can now be said that every man is his own photographer.

However, the highest artistic results cannot be attained with a kodak, for, as a matter of fact, it is not so much the camera as the artist.

There are so many factors which enter into photographic problems that it requires an artist to work out a satisfactory solution.

It many times takes several exposures before the proper result is obtained, and high class photography is, therefore, expensive.

At the very beginning of the World's Fair project at St. Louis—which has developed into such magnificent proportions, it was decided by the management to make the very best and highest effort to transfer the Fair to the printed page—thus preserving it for all time.

And so it happens that the official photographer and his aids have passport and right of entry into every nook and corner within and without the big buildings.

Nothing escapes them, and, as a consequence, the views which they secure are simply incomparable.

The very best of the results they have obtained, and will continue to obtain are chosen to make up "The Forest City" series that is now offered to our readers.

The 480 views presented will be the cream of the whole collection; they are selected from many thousands of negatives, secured at the expense of much time, labor and money.

It should be remembered that the views are supplemented by carefully written descriptions, thus making the portfolios a rare memento for personal possession and study.

The public has been quick to perceive this fact, and, as a consequence, the distribution has been exceedingly large.

To secure the "Forest City" portfolios it is only necessary to send ten cents to cover the cost of wrapping, addressing, mailing.

The opportunity is exceptional and is fully appreciated by our readers who are securing each portfolio as issued.

Strick & Zedler Pianos.

Are still the admiration of all beholders. BEESLEY MUSIC CO. sole agents.

EXCURSION RATES

Via Oregon Short Line.

St. Louis and return $42.50

Chicago and return $47.50

Chicago and return via St. Louis, 50.00

St. Louis and return via Chicago, 50.00

Through Pullman sleeper every day via the Union Pacific and Wabash lines.

Limit 60 days. Transit limit ten days in each direction.

Tickets on sale Tuesdays and Fridays each week. Stop overs allowed.

Properly fitted glasses have cured hundreds when medicine has failed. Let us tell you about it; no charge. Examination free. John Daynes & Sons, 26 Main St. M. J. Mitchell, Refracting Optician.

WORLD'S FAIR EXCURSIONS.

Via Denver & Rio Grande.

To St. Louis and return $42.50

To Chicago and return $47.50

To St. Louis and return via Chicago, 50.00

or vice versa, 50.00.

Selling dates Tuesday and Friday of each week.

Stopovers allowed. Final limit 60 days from date of sale. Pullman and tourist sleepers through to St. Louis without change.

Choice of routes.

See any D. & R. G. Agent.

EXCURSION RATES

Via Oregon Short Line.

St. Louis and return