

THE POPULISTS WILL GO IT ALONE

So Declares Its National Chairman, Sen. Marior, Butler.

WILL POLL MORE VOTES.

Main Issue Will Be Public Ownership of Natural Monopolies—Silver Question Dead Temporarily.

St. Paul, July 1.—This city today entertained a distinguished excursion party, consisting of Senator Jones of Nevada and his son Roy, former Senator Marion Butler of North Carolina, former Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota, Congressman Sulzer of New York, former Senator Stephen W. Dorr of New York, Major Robert M. Carr of San Francisco and a number of mining experts. The party left for the Pacific coast this evening. From Seattle they will go to Alaska on a revenue cutter. Senator Butler, chairman of the Populist national committee, said: "The Populist party will go it alone next time, and we will poll more votes than we ever did. The main issue will be public ownership—not of everything, understand, but of the natural monopolies. We are not socialists. Let the public own natural monopolies. Let the people, for the rest, let it be every man for himself, and the devil take the hindmost. All we ask is that there be equality of opportunity."

"The silver question is dead, for the time being at least, and, for one, I never favored the use of that word silver. All the true Populists contend for money enough to transact business and maintain the equilibrium of the market, but they do not believe that the supply of money should be regulated by law."

"The Populist party is the progressive party of the South. Our state it enacted the legislation to encourage manufacturing which brought so much prosperity to that section. We are protectionists, of course."

Senator J. H. Kyle Dead.
Aberdeen, S. D., July 1.—James Henderson Kyle, senator from South Dakota, died at his home here at 5 o'clock this evening.

About ten days ago he was stricken. His trouble was of malarial origin, and it resulted in a functional affection of the heart which caused the greatest alarm. A consultation of physicians was held and his case took a turn for the better. The heart action growing stronger and the general condition much more encouraging. One of the latest bulletins from his bedside last week was to the effect that he had passed the danger point and that recovery would be certain, though slow.

"The senator had a similar attack in the East some time ago, and was liable to a recurrence of the troubles. His health has not been robust for a year or so. His release and death today was not expected, however."

Gold from the Klondike.

Seattle, Wash., July 1.—The steamship Victoria arrived this morning from Skagway with seventy-five tons of gold and between $800,000 and $1,000,000 in gold, part of the spring clean-up in the Klondike district.

The Victoria left Skagway on June 25th. Of the gold $100,000 was consigned to the Canadian Bank of Commerce, $50,000 direct to the United States assay office. The remainder was divided among the passengers.

H. I. Miller, the well-known cattleman of this city, is reported to have brought $100,000.

ENGLISH LIBERALS' DUTY.

Herbert H. Asquith Will Make a Speech Telling What It Is.

London, July 2.—Herbert H. Asquith, former liberal home secretary, has consented after considerable hesitation to attend the banquet tendered him by the imperialist liberals. In a letter accepting the honor he promises to deliver a speech at dinner, setting forth the claims and duties of the liberal party, and his view that "there is an alternative to the existing government."

The banquet is regarded as a severe reflection upon the policy of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman and Mr. Asquith's action is looked upon as a bid for the liberal leadership. The greatest efforts have been made to prevent the project being carried out, but these have failed, and a complete split in the liberal party appears to be inevitable. Great irritation is observed in the liberal ranks.

HOSPITAL SHIP MAINE.

London Papers Express Appreciation of Mr. Baker's Gift.

London, July 2.—The editorials in the morning papers express keen appreciation of Mr. Baker's gift of the hospital ship Maine. The Daily Chronicle, after recalling the fact that it was a ship in Roston harbor which caused the first quarrel between Britons and Americans, and the further fact that the Alabama nearly brought the two nations to blows again, says: "It is a ship which, in Mr. Baker's graceful phrase, is 'an emblem of the cordial relations existing between the United States and those of the mother country.'"

Great Britain and America will have to cultivate the art of forgetting, but Great Britain will "remember the Maine."

THE AMERICAN SOLDIERS' MERITS

For Fighting Equal to Any but Slovenly Off Duty.

PILLAGING AT TIEN TSIN.

Was Done Mostly by Natives—Japanese Did the Least of Any International Troops.

New York, July 2.—This extract is made by the Washington correspondent of the World from a review of the military operations in China, now being prepared by the bureau of military information at the war department: "Looting and pillaging of the city (Tien Tsin) mostly by natives but joined in by many Europeans, was on the first day entirely unrestricted; later the allied commanders as soon as attention could be given to it, adopted severe repressive measures to put a stop to it, and the scandal was soon discontinued."

"The Japanese, on account of the admirable discipline under which their soldiers are held, are said to have done the least looting. Strict orders from our officers and American training and instinct prevented our men from engaging in this orgy of thieving and outrage."

"The foregoing reference is based upon reports from American officers. The American soldier is criticised freely in the review. For efficiency and fighting he is held to be the equal of any and superior to many. The fault found with the American soldiers is their 'slovenly appearance off duty.'"

An interesting, yet gruesome feature of the volume treats of outrages on missionaries. Capt. Hutchison of the Sixth cavalry, in reporting on the Pao Ting Pu expedition, recites the experience of Miss Gould and Miss Morrill of the American mission board. They were taken from the compound, the shock to Miss Gould causing her to sink into a comatose condition.

"She was accordingly bound hand and foot and strung to a pole or lance as pigs are carried in China, says the captain's report and taken to the city. Miss Morrill, being a fearless woman of considerable strength, was able to walk and did so. In this manner Miss Gould being carried and Miss Morrill walking, but being led by the hair, they were taken to Chieshan temple. En route the street was thronged with people, many of whom clutched and tore the clothing off the women."

A pathetic incident is told by the captain in connection with the conduct of a party of missionaries taken out of the city of Boxers. Their hands were bound. A little child belonging to one of the women, was not bound, but ran alongside, clinging to its mother's clothing. All except the child were beheaded, while it was spared to death by Boxers."

AFTER THE CARPET CLEANERS

People in Vicinity of the Plant Complain of the Dust.

LICENSE FOR STREET FAIR.

Hammer Wants Franchise for Telephone Line, but Will Not Put Up Bond to Secure One.

Attorney C. W. Collins, representing Elmer B. Jones, appeared before the laws committee of the council last night. He read a letter from E. W. Hammer of Chicago, the head of the committee, denying that he sought a franchise merely to force concessions from the Bell company, and was requested to communicate with the council through the usual channels if he wanted that body to take any action in the matter. Mr. Collins stated that Mr. Hammer and City Attorney Stephens had agreed on a form of franchise which would be submitted to the council next week.

The carpet cleaning question was threshed thoroughly, but no conclusion was reached. Mr. and Mrs. Luff and their son testified that the plant near their home was a public nuisance and the dust filtered through every crack and opening and even got into their food. Hammer & Ness, who run the plant, testified that every reasonable precaution was taken to prevent the dust from escaping from their cleaners. W. W. Salmon, C. A. Ernest and G. Jones of the Eynon cleaning works all protested against the compulsory removal of their establishments without the city limits.

The streets committee heard a petition of a delegation of hackmen, who ask that the four corners of East Temple and Second South streets be declared public hack stands. The city attorney will determine the council's authority in the matter.

The Merchant's street fair association was granted free licenses for all its attractions, and filed a $5,000 bond with Clarence McCormick and Brigham Young as sureties.

The passage of the new plumbing inspection ordinance introduced by Dr. Beatty was recommended by the sanitary committee. It calls for the examination and licensing of plumbers. The laws committee heard some more arguments for and against colicium caride. No action was taken in regard to fixing a limit to the amount which might be stored in any one place.

DID NOT DUCK A BARON.

Elsie Reasoner Denies the Story About a French Nobleman.

Miss Elsie Reasoner emphatically denies the story recently cable from Paris to the effect that she had thrown an offensive baron into a French lake. She returned to the United States on June 29th, and in answer to inquisitive friends said:

"If I had known a Russian baron, if I had strolled by a cascade and he had offended me, I might have been tempted to give him a bath. 'I am willing to admit that I am sometimes thoughtless, but I emphatically deny that I am ever wilfully cruel and am one who has made a study of barons knows that under no conditions should they ever be subjected to water.' Miss Reasoner wrote to one of her Omaha friends, 'Instead, they should be carefully dusted now and then and kept in a dry sunny place.'"

Miss Reasoner has many friends in Salt Lake, where she formerly lived. For the past few years she has engaged in the newspaper business in which she has achieved considerable success. Last year she was connected with the department of promotion of the Paris exposition, and has traveled quite extensively in Europe.

STREET CARS COLLIDE.

Two New Cars Smashed on the Waterloo Line.

A rather serious collision occurred on the Waterloo line of the Salt Lake City Railroad company at 5 o'clock last evening, between two new cars, Nos. 52 and 53, with the result that the front of car 52 was demolished.

The accident occurred on the corner of Ninth South and Fifth East, and was the result of an effort to make up lost time. The power had been off for fifteen minutes when it came on the motorman of both cars, John Stutz, neeger, of 52 and Frank Collett of 53 put on full speed. The latter had just passed one car and supposing that the track was clear, he continued at a high rate of speed, and turning the corner both motormen were startled to see that they were so dangerously near to each other. They reversed the power but it was too late. The cars came together with a terrible crash, and the vestibule of car 52 was smashed completely. The other car was damaged to some extent. Motorman Collett leaped from his car in time to avoid being crushed, but his hand was hurt. Several of the passengers were given a severe shock and one lady who refused to give her name, was bruised rather severely about the head and arms.

THE HENLEY REGATTA.

W. C. Woodgate, a Rowing Expert, Says Leander Will Win.

London, July 2.—W. C. Woodgate, a rowing expert, sums up the Henley regatta in the St. James Gazette. He thinks Leander will win and says the Pennsylvanians "go fast enough to win trial heats; but we hold to the view that their style should be out-stayed by the more orthodox style of Leander."

Woodgate, like the Times, which says the trained crews like prize money, comments on the severe record of the Americans, who "seem to be under lock and key, like Derby favorites." "He admits that they 'seem to go as hard as nails' during the hour and far ahead of all the English crews in the matter of conditions."

SUBSTITUTE THE KARIAD.

In Place of Shamrock II, for International Races.

London, July 2.—Kenneth Clark's proposal to substitute the Kariad for Shamrock II in the international yacht races, provided the Kariad proves to be the better boat, has been accepted by the Royal Ulster Yacht club. Most of the authorities thus far consulted are agreed that the conditions arranged between the Royal Ulster Yacht club and the New York Yacht club include a substitution, as the Belfast committee's challenge expressly designated the Shamrock II as its representative. Altogether the proposal raises so many difficulties to its execution that it is not very popular. Yachtsmen argue that as the Kariad is spared for British weather, while the Shamrock II is over-spurred for this side, no trial will be conclusive elsewhere and that in fact any trials here would be virtually valueless as an indication of a yacht's probable behavior on the American course.

Both the Shamrocks remained at their moorings yesterday, the weather being too heavy for trials. The latter will be resumed today.
