CLUB CHAT

The D. A. R. society met Thursday at the residence of Mrs. George A. Lowe, and a delightful program was given. Mrs. Breslin was chairman and the early history of the south was the topic of the afternoon. Mrs. Day of Ogden gave a sketch of the history of her family in Virginia and Kentucky, and Mrs. Hurst read two charming original stories that had been published in eastern magazines. Miss Williamson sang, and after the program a pleasant social hour was passed, light refreshments being served.

The Clef club will meet next Tuesday with Mrs. Julia Taylor. Mrs. John McVicker will give a paper on "The Columbian Question and Irish National Movement."

The Art committee of the General Federation, in its report in the department of ceramics, points out that 99 per cent of the members of the Ceramics league, one of the largest art associations in the country, are women. Women succeed not only as art potters, but along commercial lines. The purpose of the committee is to recognize and assist the development of this national art in every way in its power. It recommends the use of clay native to the locality; the motives for form and decoration to be derived from local suggestions and plant forms; the use of architectural embellishments of pottery, both as building and accessories and as park, lawn and garden decorations. For decorators the use of American wares is urged. The porcelains of this country are often very beautiful in form and of excellent body and glaze, entirely worthy of encouragement and appreciation.

The Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston offers a prize of $50 for the best household labor-saving device designed by a woman. The saving of labor may be effected either by mechanical means or by some arrangement of ordinary household equipment, which will insure the greatest economy of effort in housework. Designs may be submitted between Sept. 15 and Oct. 15. The number submitted by one person is not limited. Further particulars may be had on application to the Home Economics committee, No. 264 Boylston street, Boston. The prize will be awarded by these judges: Helen H. Richards, instructor in sanitary chemistry, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Mary J. Lincoln, of the American Kitchen Magazine; and Dwight Porter, professor of hydraulic engineering, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The register of all the women's clubs in the United States which Miss Helen M. Winslow of Massachusetts has been preparing, is said to be well under way, and its early publication is promised. It should be a valuable reference volume.

Illinois club women have a lively convention in prospect next month. It is anticipated that fully 25 candidates for the presidency of the federation will be in the field, and as all these nominations will have to be made from the floor, members of the federation are beginning to wonder if the convention will be able to transact any other business.

Miss Jane Addams will speak before the convention on the "Child Labor Bill," which is to be presented to the next general assembly by the industrial committee.

An appeal will be made to the convention for the support of the modified "Equal Suffrage" bill which is also to come before the assembly.

A part of the summer work of the Women in Council of Roxbury, Mass., is the circulation of good pictures among the boys of the fifth grade of the grammar schools. Neatly framed photographs of masterpieces are lent for a fortnight to each of the boys, for the purpose of beautifying their homes. It is hoped in this way not only to educate them somewhat in art, but to arouse an interest in making their homes attractive.

The club woman has made her appearance in Japan. A Woman's Auxiliary of the Red Cross society has been organized in Yamaguchi. It is a most exclusive society. Some of the women of the mission schools asked permission to join but the wives of the army officials declared that if the foreigners were to come, they would stay at home. "This Red Cross society is a Japanese affair," they protested. "It has nothing to do with foreigners or their religion." The missionary women took their exclusion good-naturedly, and even lent their aid in fitting dresses, etc., for the club members wear a uniform, consisting of a black skirt, long jacket, and a black straw bonnet. Their meetings are usually addressed by some physician or surgeon, who gives talks on hygiene and first aid to the injured.

B&O STORAGE MOVING. Tel. 355. Office, 15 W. 2nd St.

WALKER'S STORE.

The Fall and Winter Shoes for Women and Children are All Here.

MORE KINDS THAN EVER BEFORE. BETTER QUALITIES.

SHOE-TIME! Everybody wants Shoes; everybody requires now to be comfortably shod against the approaching cold weather, and these just gone into stock are the fulfillments of everybody's needs. The goodness of every pair, the correctness, the cheapness will make its own appeal to all knowing Walker Store methods of shoe exploitation, and so simple announcement of new arrivals is really all-sufficient; however, a specious word of emphasis never comes amiss with contemplating purchasers. The new lines for women are uncountable, almost—patent kid and calf with stout welted soles, enamel leather with welted half double soles, kidskin with light welted soles or turned, with tipped toes and heels or toes alone tipped; and all the variations of heels from flatest common sense to extreme of arch, made on shapely lasts to give comfort as well as style. $2.50 to $6.00.

Then the children's shoes. The extraordinary effort we make in gathering these lines is fully appreciated by thousands of parents who, through practical test of years have learned their superiority. Every pair here is from a maker who studies scientific shaping and comfort for growing feet—whose specialty is children's shoe making. Style from baby's first shoes to those for young men and women. Good wearing—fashionable. 50c to $3.50.

Hundreds Of Pretty Brooches, Chatelaines And Belt Pins—Near To Half Price Or Way Below It.
