

This beer-powder, it is said, can be sold at five-pence (ten cents) an ounce, and an ounce is sufficient for a gallon of water, thus making a glass of beer for half or two thirds of a cent. This is the way it is done—take pure, cold water, put the powder into it, stir it well, and the beer is ready for use.

The inventor declares that by a slight change in the ingredients of the powder he can change the quality of the beer, and produce any kind desired. Thus all you have to do, to have good beer is to take the powder to the pump, spring, or creek, make your mixture, partake of it, and go on your way rejoicing. Wonderful if true.

GENERAL GARFIELD.—“Emma Jones” writes from Washington, D. C., Aug. 3, to the Cleveland Herald—

“One word before I close regarding General Garfield, who, as you doubtless know by this time, left Washington for Ohio, with his family, yesterday morning. He has really been very ill. Last Friday was the first day for weeks that he had been able to walk even so far as the Treasury, a distance of but three or four blocks. His physician prescribes perfect rest, and the family have abandoned the idea of a sojourn at Chautauqua Lake for the greater quiet of Little Mountain. Do not, in your zeal for his help in the impending campaign, induce him to break over medical orders. Much as you may value his strength in the present crisis, the Republican party at large will value it just as much, and need it more in his seat in the House next winter. We want him to come back spoiling for a fight, thoroughly rested, and like a giant refreshed with new wine.”

WILL ROT BEFORE HE PAYS.—The Brooklyn Eagle says James Wild, is confined in Raymond St. jail for contempt in refusing to pay $150, and he declares he will rot there before any judge can compel him to pay that claim. Perhaps few people have the courage to declare their intentions, but many people do rot before they pay their debts.

Local and Other Matters.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, AUG. 17.

Arrived.—Elder John Henry Smith, son of President George A. Smith, arrived from England on Sunday evening.

Bathrick.—Brother O. B. Shaw has exhibited to us some specimens of bathrick, of excellent quality, equal to any imported, and he is acquainted with a deposit of the article that is the next thing to inexhaustible.

University of Deseret.—The Fall term of this popular institution begins on Monday, August 23rd. All persons desirous of obtaining for their children a first-class education, can do so by placing them under the tuition of the professors at this institution, which is without doubt the best in the Rocky Mountain region.

Provo Valley.—Elder Abram Hatch, of Heber City, Wasatch Co., called yesterday afternoon. He reported a general time of peace, health, prosperity, good order, and kind feeling in that part of the Territory. The grain, hay, and agricultural prospects generally were unsurpassed. They had just commenced the finest harvest ever had in Wasatch County.

The Same.—In reading the description, in the News, of the soundings of the Great Salt Lake, by the educational excursion party, a resident of Brighton, over Jordan, discovers that the different strata found in digging down forty feet in that locality correspond with the nature of the bottom found in the Lake when the soundings were taken—white, gray and black sand. The water in wells in the vicinity of Brighton, is also brackish, all of which may be considered as another evidence that this entire valley was at one time an inland sea.

Prompt Response.—We learn from Elder Daniel W. Jones that many of the people of the various wards and settlements who promised donations to aid in the publication of a portion of the “Book of Mormon” in Spanish are responding with commendable promptness, according to agreement, which facilitates the work. The printing of the selected portions of the book is now in progress, and will probably be finished by the beginning of next month. Those who intend subscribing to the object named, who have not already done so, should not fail to send along their donations as soon as possible, and those who have promised to do so, and have not yet sent in the amounts, should not lose any more time in complying with their agreements.

From the South.—This morning we were called upon by Elder John L. Smith, of Beaver, who arrived from the south last evening. Immediately after the holding of the St. George Conference, in the beginning of last May, Elder Smith, accompanied by Elder Charles Pulpipher, started from that place on a mission through the southern settlements, preaching to the people and collecting means to be applied to the building of the St. George Temple. In their travels they visited Pine Valley, Pinto, Hamblin, Hebron, Clover (Nev.), Panaca (Nev.), Spring Valley, and Eagle Valley, holding meetings each way going from and returning to St. George. From the latter point they took a fresh start and visited Washington, Toquerville, Kanarra, Harmony, Summit, Parowan, Paragonah, Fillmore, Cove Creek, Kanosh, Meadow Creek, Holden and Scipio, holding from one to four meetings in all the places visited. Their discourses were mostly of a practical character, and they had the spirit of their mission that enabled them to comfort and instruct the people, and the latter responded as liberally as the nature of the times would admit with means for the building of the Temple.

From Elder Smith we learn that in Beaver County at least one half the crops have been destroyed by rabbits, so that the people thereabout will probably scarcely raise sufficient breadstuffs to last till another harvest, and in many of the settlements south of there the crops have been greatly injured from the same cause.

The main reason of Brother Smith's present visit to the City was his anxiety to see his brother, President Geo. A. Smith, whose health, as is generally known, has been feeble for some time.

Chief Justice Lowe Resigned.—In all probability another Chief Justice will have to be appointed for Utah, the present incumbent of that position having forwarded his resignation to head quarters.

Judge Lowe, who is now at Fort Scott, Kansas, with his family, writes to Judge Hemingway, of this City, that he has done so, assigning as his reason, that the pecuniary consideration pertaining to the office is inadequate to induce him to remove his family to this Territory, and that he consequently prefers to stay in Fort Scott, and practise his profession, which situation, whether or not it prove more lucrative than the one he is about to vacate will, we should imagine, be at least, one of much more comfort for any Chief Justice or Judge hereabout, who will not go hand in hand with the “ring” in their nefarious schemes, is bound to be annoyed by the howlings and ravings of that contemptible clique. Such has been the lot heretofore of officials who preferred being guided by the law in their movements; and because Judge Lowe's decisions have been, so far as we are aware, in accordance with his conscientious convictions of the law, he by no means escaped the abusive and unjustifiable epithets which constitute the chief stock in trade of the “ring.”

During his brief stay here we believe that socially the course of Chief Justice Lowe was somewhat reserved, and he appeared to lend himself to no particular party, but to attend strictly to the business that came legitimately before him as Chief Judge of Utah and Judge of the Third District Court, and his rulings and decisions showed him to be a sound lawyer, of fine attainments, probably one of the best judges of law that ever sat on the bench in Utah, and we believe that, though his stay here has been brief, the course he has taken has won for him the respect of many thousands of the citizens of Utah.

Ogden Junction, Aug. 16—

Two car loads of soldiers arrived yesterday from Fort Sanders. They go, not to fight peaceful Indians at Corinne, but to Fort Ellis, Montana.

The U. P. Government Directors who went west two weeks ago, returned this morning in the U. P. Directors' car. Supt. John Sharp came up to meet them. They proceeded on their journey eastward and Supt. Sharp returned to Salt Lake City.

News was brought in on the U. P. train, Saturday evening, of a fatal case of shooting, in which the notorious Ed. Frodsham was the chief actor. A dispute occurred between him and Charles Peasley, in the Alhambra Saloon, Evanston, about two o'clock Saturday morning, when Peasley threw a glass tumbler at Frodsham. Both drew their pistols and blazed away. Peasley was shot through the leg and through the body, just below the heart, and died soon after. Two other men were shot in the melee, but are expected to recover. It is not yet determined who fired the shots which struck them, but one of them stated that he believed it was Peasley. Frodsham was arrested. He is the man who got into trouble at Corinne about his niece, daughter of Mrs. Barnard, and finally ran away with her, eluding pursuit by coming to Ogden, going across the country to Uintah, and taking the train at that place to Evanston.

At Banbury, in England, the other night, there was a great demonstration against the Compulsory Vaccination act, the occasion being the release from Northampton prison of a man who suffered fourteen days' imprisonment rather than have his child vaccinated. He was met at the railway station by a great number of persons, some of whom carried banners denouncing the Vaccination act, and bands of music played. Speeches were made by the Rev. Hume Rothery, and others connected with the National Anti-Vaccination League. White, the released man, received a purse of gold, and resolutions were passed against the act.

The Beaver Monster Arrived at Last 60 feet in Length!!!

Dr. E. L. Plant, Market Row, S. L. C.

Having attempted the capture of this fearful worm in calling to the rescue three eminent physicians during the last four years, but each failed to deliver me from the excruciating tortures of the ugly brute. But thank God for being directed to Doctor E. L. Plant, of Salt Lake City. Oh, good Heavens! to describe the agonies endured from the monster during the four years past would be impossible.

And, Dear Doctor, I am grateful, nay, doubly grateful, for having struck on the right path at last. I shall feel it a duty, after the above miracle, to direct sufferers to you. Kindly consider me your admirer and true friend,

LEWIS D. PURDY.
