

FRONT ELEVATION OF UTAH'S BUILDING AT THE PORTLAND FAIR.

The accompanying half-tone shows the front elevation of the Utah building at the Portland exposition, which has been accepted by the Utah commission, and for which the contract was approved at Thursday's meeting.

The interior dimensions are 90x55 feet, with a large light well, or sort of a patio in the center. The walls will be covered with tinted burlap, the interior decorations will be neat, but inexpensive, and all the conveniences necessary are to be provided for.

The concentrating plant will be located at the rear of the building, while the ore exhibit will be with the other exhibits in the main structure. The total cost of the building will be under $10,000, and the contract calls for the completion of the structure by May 25. Director General Spencer Clawson leaves for Portland this evening for a hurried trip. While there he will talk matters over with the fair commissioners and attend to the transaction of such preliminary business as will be deemed necessary. His stay will be cut short by the fact that he must return to Salt Lake to testify before the federal court on the 25th inst., in the Alentraz Paving company's case.

Lyons has the reputation of being one of the shrewdest financiers in the country. When asked if he did not think that the west was becoming financially independ-

NEW DIRECTOR OF METROPOLITAN MUSEUM OF ART.

Sir Caspar Purdon Clarke, whose picture is herewith shown, is a distinguished Irish authority on matters pertaining to art who has been director of the Kensington Art museum in London for several years. Sir Caspar was born in Dublin in 1846 and became so famous in art criticism that he was knighted in 1902. He is reputed to be the most competent art connoisseur who has ever been connected with the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and the managers of that institution are jubilant over the fact that they have been able to persuade Sir Caspar to leave his London position and come to New York.

PECULIAR MANCHURIAN WEDDING CUSTOM.

The picture illustrates a unique wedding custom which prevails in Manchuria. The bride and her attendants, all mounted on stilts, proceed through the main streets of the village to the domicile of the groom, who meets the procession and conducts it to the place where the ceremony is to be performed. Hoarseness of voice, but by the height of the stilts worn by the assembled guests, the higher the rank of the wedded pair the better the stilts they wear. If, as sometimes happens, the contracting parties are of differing social standing the effect is more than usually ludicrous.

TICKET OFFICE HAS BUSY DAY.

Partial List of Those Who Take Their Departure for Los Angeles Tonight.

From a casual glance at the ticket office of the Salt Lake Route on Second South street this morning there are indications that the first excursion over the new road will be a hummer. Ticket Agent Scott and his assistant have been on the jump since early morning selling tickets as fast as they could land them out.

The Woodmen's special is due to pull out of the Oregon Short Line depot at 8 o'clock tonight and will in all probability be made up of a couple of chair cars, a diner, six sleepers and a baggage car. It will leave Salt Lake via Garfield and the Leamington cut-off and will be in charge of Division Freight and Passenger Agent Moore who accompanies the excursion in order to insure that everything will be in good shape.

Owing to the rush it was impossible to get a complete list of those who are making the initial excursion over the Salt Lake Route to Los Angeles. Among those who have bought tickets, however, are the following:

WESTERN PACIFIC.

Final Location of the Line Filled in U. S. Land Office.

Carson, Nev., April 14.—The surveyors of the Western Pacific route have been notified in the United States land office in this city. The road will come in from Beckwith pass and run through Honey Lake valley to the Pyramid Lake reservation, nearly 50 miles north of Reno. This will be something of a disappointment to the Reno people, who have been expecting that the road would go through that city.

P. C. Stohr, assistant traffic director of the Harriman lines, with headquarters at Chicago, arrived in this city this morning from Butte accompanied by Traffic Manager T. M. Schumacher of the Oregon Short Line. Mr. Stohr has been on the coast for some weeks studying the situation with J. C. Stubbs. CHIDESTER'S CONDITION.

Wounded Deputy Sheriff Was in Bad Shape Yesterday Afternoon.

The condition of Deputy Sheriff Chidester, who was shot in the leg while attempting to quell a disturbance at Bingham three weeks ago, was such yesterday afternoon that his friends became somewhat apprehensive. Shortly after being shot Mr. Chidester was removed to the Keogh-Wright hospital in this city, where an incision was made for the purpose of draining the wound. Since then the gentleman has been doing well, but yesterday he suffered a hemorrhage and for a time his life was almost despaired of. However, he was given prompt medical attention and this morning his condition was very much improved, and hopes are now entertained for his complete recovery.

The last of the unused wool in the vicinity of Shoshone has been secured by the B. Harris company of St. Louis. The clip consists of about 100,000 pounds from the McClain-Rogerson flock.

Trainmen employed on the Sacramento division of the Southern Pacific have sent a delegation to headquarters asking that Reno and Sparks be cut out as division points and the points be established at Oakland, Truckee and Hazen.

The tight between the Rio Grande and Short Line in the Ogden yards has taken a new lease of life. For some days past a Short Line car has been ditched at a point where the Rio Grande wants to run a spur to the Simmons Hardware company's new warehouse. This car has been replaced on the rails and now a gang of men is at work elevating the O. & L. track.
